MONDAY, MARCH 17, 1862.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Auckland, 17th March, 1862.

HIS Excellency the Governor announces, with extreme sorrow, the death of His Royal Highness the PRINCE CONSORT which took place at Windsor Castle on the 14th December last.

The Public Offices will be closed to-morrow.

All Civil Officers of the Government are to go into mourning on Sunday the 23rd instant, and all other the Queen's subjects are invited to put themselves in mourning on this melancholy occasion, as a further mark of respect to the memory of the illustrious deceased, and in token of their loyal sympathy with Her Most Gracious Majesty in Her deep affliction.

By His Excellency's Command,
HENRY SEWELL,
(In the absence of Mr. Fox.)

The first part of the document discusses the general principles of the proposed system. It outlines the objectives and the scope of the project.

The second part of the document describes the technical details of the system. It includes a detailed description of the hardware and software components.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, the proposed system is a significant improvement over the current state of the art. It offers a number of advantages, including increased efficiency,
 reliability, and security.

The system is designed to be flexible and scalable, allowing it to be adapted to a wide range of applications.
