WHEREAS by "The Provincial Compulsory Land Taking Act, 1866," it is enacted that Standing Rules and Orders shall be prepared and adopted by every Provincial Council, regulating the proceedings on Bills authorizing the taking of land compulsorily, but that the same shall have no force or effect until they have been approved of by the Governor in Council, and been published in the New Zealand Gazette: And whereas the Standing Rules and Orders contained in the Schedule hereto have been prepared and adopted by the Provincial Council of the Province of Marlborough, and it is expedient that effect should be given to the same:

Now therefore I, Sir George Ferguson Bowen, the Governor of New Zealand, in pursuance and in exercise of the power and authority vested in me by the said Act, do hereby approve of the Rules and Orders contained in the Schedule hereto, as adopted by the said Provincial Council of Marlborough, for regulating the proceedings in the said Council on Bills authorizing the taking of land compulsorily.

FORSTER GORING,
 Clerk of the Executive Council.

STANDING ORDERS framed in accordance with the provisions of "The Compulsory Land Taking Act, 1866." Adopted by the Marlborough Provincial Council, Friday, 21st May, 1869.

1. No Bill intended to authorize the taking or land compulsorily shall be brought into Council unless public notice of the object of such Bill shall have been given at least four weeks previous in the Gazette of the Province, and once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper in general circulation within the Province.

2. Such notice shall contain the names of the townships, districts, or other territorial divisions from, in, through, or into which the work for which such land is required is intended to be made, and shall state the place of deposit of the plans and books of reference and the persons with whom deposited, as hereinafter specified.

3. At or before the time of the first publication of the notice above required, plans and books of reference containing the names of owners, lessees, and occupiers (so far as they can be ascertained), of all lands and tenements proposed to be taken, or within the limits of deviation, shall be deposited with the Speaker of the Council, and with the Commissioner of Crown Lands.

4. At the time mentioned in section three, copies of such plan and books of reference shall be deposited within some convenient place in each district or township, so far as such district or township is affected thereby.

5. A copy of such plan and book of reference shall, so far as his ownership or occupation extends, be delivered to the owner or occupier of the lands through which such works as aforesaid is intended to pass, when such owner and occupier shall be known, and shall reside in the Province.

6. Every plan required to be deposited shall be drawn to a scale of not less than four inches to a mile, and shall describe the line or situation of the work, and the lands in or through which it is to be made, together with the proposed limits of deviation.

7. Before such Bill be read a first time, it shall be referred to a Select Committee of five Members (three to be a quorum), to be determined by ballot; which Committee shall first inquire as to the compliance or otherwise with the Standing Orders relative to Bills authorizing the taking of land compulsorily; and if such Committee report to the Council that the Standing Orders have not been complied with, all further proceedings relative to such Bill shall be stayed: Provided always that no person shall be a member of such Committee who shall have any direct pecuniary interest in the proposed undertaking.

8. Before it shall be read a first time, printed copies of such Bill shall be laid on the table three clear days for the use of each member of the Council.

9. When such Bill shall have been read a first time, it shall be again referred to the Select Committee before appointed, to whom every petition against such Bill shall be referred, and who shall require proof of the allegations contained in the preamble.

10. The Select Committee may have counsel, if desired by any parties, before them, and may also hear such evidence as may be tendered, whether written or oral. If, after hearing the whole evidence they shall decide that the preamble is not proved, no further proceedings shall be taken with reference to such Bill.

11. If the committee shall declare the preamble to be proved, then the Committee shall proceed to consider the clauses of the Bill, and any amendments or new clauses that may be submitted to it: Provided that no clause be submitted to form part of the said Bill, or amendments added, which shall be foreign to the import of the notices hereinbefore required.

12. After such Bill has been brought up and reported to the Select Committee, due notice shall be given of its second reading, after which it shall go through Committee of the whole Council.

13. Any solicitor, agent, or party interested in the passing of such Bill, may be heard at the bar of the Council prior to the second reading, or on going into Committee of the Council on the Bill, on motion or notice.
