5. If such Declaration, or any part thereof, shall not be true, or if any person shall at any time have or hold or be possessed of any deposit or funds in more than one Post Office Savings Bank within the Colony, every such person shall be liable, at the option of the Postmaster-General, to forfeit and lose all right and title to any deposit in or to any funds of any and every such Savings Bank.

6. A copy of the above Declaration and of this Rule shall be printed within the cover of every Depositor's Book.

7. On making the Declaration, and in all cases in which the signature of the Depositor is required, if the Depositor cannot write, his mark must be affixed in the presence of a witness, and attested by the signature of that witness. The witness must be known to the Officer of the Postmaster-General, and it is desirable (though not imperative) that he be not connected with the office. It is not necessary that the witness should be known to the Depositor.

8. Every deposit received by any Officer of the Postmaster-General, appointed for that purpose, shall be entered by him at the time in a numbered book, and the entry shall be attested by him, and by the dated stamp of his office. The Depositor shall sign his name in a place to be provided for his signature in the Depositor's Book. As soon as possible after the commencement of each month, the amount placed to the credit of each Depositor in the books of the Postmaster-General during the preceding month shall be acknowledged in the following form by the Officer whom the Postmaster-General shall appoint for the purpose, and the acknowledgment shall be forthwith transmitted by post to the Depositor.

The said acknowledgment shall be conclusive evidence of the claim of the Depositor to the repayment of such deposit, with the interest thereon, upon demand made by him in the manner hereinafter provided; and in order to allow a reasonable time for the receipt of such acknowledgment, the entry in the Depositor's Book shall also be conclusive evidence of title for six weeks from the lodgment of the deposit; and if such acknowledgment shall not have been received by the Depositor through the Post within one month from the date of his deposit, and the Depositor shall before or upon the expiry thereof demand the said acknowledgment from the Postmaster-General, then the entry in his Book shall be conclusive evidence of title during another term of one month and toties quoties.

10. Interest, calculated yearly, at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum on sums not exceeding Two hundred

11. Interest shall be computed from the first day of the calendar month next following the day on which a complete pound shall have been deposited, or on which deposits of a less amount shall have made up a complete pound, up to the first day of the calendar month in which moneys are withdrawn. When, however, deposits are made on the first day of a month, interest shall be allowed from the date of deposit.

12. The interest will be calculated to the 31st December in every year, and will then be added to and become part of the principal money.

13. Deposits may be made by a Trustee on behalf of another person, in the joint names of such Trustee and the person on whose account such money shall be so deposited; but repayment of the same, or any part thereof, shall not be made without the receipt of the said parties, or the survivors or survivor of them, or the executors or administrators of such survivor, whose receipt shall be a valid discharge.

The following Declaration must be made in such cases:—

14. Nothing in the last preceding clause shall be taken to limit or affect the provisions herein contained enabling the Postmaster-General to make payments of deposits to persons other than the depositor in certain cases.

15. Deposits may be made by or for the benefit of any person under twenty-one years of age, and repayment shall be made to such minor after he shall have attained the age of seven years in the same manner as if he were of full age. In case of minors under the age of seven years, the Declaration must be made by one of the parents, or by a friend on behalf of the minor.

16. Postmasters are instructed to explain to intending Depositors, that until minors attain to the age of seven years withdrawals from their accounts cannot be permitted.

17. Applications in writing from persons residing at distance from any Post Office who may be desirous of opening an account, but are unable to attend personally to make the usual declaration before a Postmaster, may be received and acted upon. In such cases the Postmaster will forward a blank form of Declaration, which must be filled up and signed by the intending Depositor in the presence of and attested by a Justice of the Peace or by any respectable person known to the Postmaster. The Postmaster will also forward a Depositor's Book, in which the signature of the intending Depositor is to be affixed in the place assigned for it, and be similarly attested. Both documents, with the money to be deposited, must be returned to the Postmaster without delay. On their receipt the Postmaster will enter the sum in the book in the usual manner, and return the book to the Depositor.

18. Intending Depositors are not to enter the sum in the book themselves, nor make any entry in it whatever, except their signature.

19. The Postmaster-General will not be responsible for any money which may be lost in the course of its transmission to a Postmaster for deposit in a Post Office Savings Bank.

20. All Books thus forwarded to intending Depositors are to have their proper numerical places in the Chief Post Office Ledger kept unoccupied until they are returned by the Depositor.

21. If a Depositor loses his book, a duplicate thereof shall be supplied to him on payment of two shillings.

22. Deposits may be made by married women, and deposits so made, or made by women who afterwards marry, will be repaid to the original Depositor, unless her husband shall give notice in writing of such marriage to the Postmaster-General, and shall require payment to be made to him.

23. When a female Depositor marries, she shall submit a certificate of such marriage to the Chief Postmaster, or where such certificate is not readily obtained she shall furnish evidence of her marriage by statutory declaration. The Chief Postmaster will record the change of name over her account in the books of his office, and return the certificate, if any. She is also required to sign her married name in her Deposit Book. No withdrawals from her account will be allowed until the above requirements have been complied with.

24. If the husband of a female Depositor shall require payment of her account to be made to him he must make a written application to that effect, accompanied by a certificate of his marriage and a statutory declaration identifying the depositor as his wife. If these documents are found satisfactory, and if the request be acceded to by the Postmaster-General, payment will be made to the husband on his producing the Depositor's Book and granting the usual receipt.

25. The Trustees of any legally established Friendly Society, or of any Charitable or Provident Society, or Savings Bank, when duly approved, may deposit their funds, without restriction as to amount, in the Post Office Savings Bank, and interest on such accounts will not be restricted but will be allowed on every complete pound in deposit: provided always that such deposits shall not be of less amount than One Shilling, nor of any sum not a multiple thereof, and that a copy of the Rules of the Society or Bank be forwarded by post to the Postmaster-General, with the names and addresses of the Trustees, who will then be furnished with the necessary instructions.

26. The following Declaration must be made in cases of Friendly Societies:—

27. Every Depositor shall, during the months of January or February in each year, forward his Book to the Postmaster at the Chief Post Office in the Province in a cover to be obtained at any Post Office Savings Bank, in order that the entries in the said Book may be examined, and that the interest due to the Depositor may be inserted in his Book.

28. No charge for Postage will be made upon the Depositors for the transmission of their Books to the principal Office in the Province, or for the return thereof to them, or for any applications they may have to make for acknowledgments of deposits, or for any application or necessary letter of inquiry respecting the sums deposited by them, or for the replies thereto. Such letters should be handed open to the nearest Postmaster, who, after satisfying himself that they refer only to matters of the nature named, will frank and forward them to the Chief Postmaster, or to the Controller, as the case may require.

29. Any Depositor at the principal Office in the Province can make withdrawals thereat without the necessity in all cases of making application in writing; but any Depositor at a sub Office of the Province, &c. wishing to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited by him, must make application for the same to the Chief Postmaster of the Province, in the following Form, a printed copy of which may be obtained at any Post Office Savings Bank:—

30. In this form the Depositor must specify the number of his book, the name of the Office at which his first deposit was made, the sum he wishes to withdraw, his occupation and residence, and the Post Office within the Province or Postal District at which he wishes to receive his money.

31. When a Warrant for the repayment is issued, it will be forwarded to the Depositor, and by the same post, the Postmaster at whose Office the Warrant is made payable shall be advised of the issue thereof. This Warrant must be presented by the Depositor at the Post Office named thereon, together with the Depositor's Book, in which the Postmaster shall enter the amount repaid, and attest the entry with his signature and the dated stamp of his Office. Interest on the portion withdrawn ceases on the first day of the calendar month in which the Warrant was issued. The Postmaster shall in all cases take a receipt from the Depositor for the amount repaid to him.

32. The receipts given by persons withdrawing money from the Post Office Savings Bank are not liable to stamp duty.

33. The Postmaster will endeavour to prevent fraud, and to identify every Depositor transacting business with the Post Office Savings Bank; but if any person shall wrongfully obtain any sum of money belonging to any Depositor, the Postmaster will not be responsible for the loss thereof.

34. When a Warrant is lost in its transit through the Post Office, and is not delivered to the Depositor, a duplicate of the same will be issued by the Postmaster, free of cost; but if it is lost by the Depositor, after due delivery by post or otherwise, a charge of One Shilling will be made for the duplicate.

35. In all cases of application for duplicate Warrants, reasonable proof of the loss of the original must be given; and when a duplicate has been granted, notice thereof must be sent by first post to the paying officer, who will adopt the requisite precautions for guarding against future payment of the lost Warrant.

36. If after payment of a duplicate the original Warrant shall be presented for payment, the Postmaster will keep possession of it, and write across it, in red ink, "Cancelled by payment of Duplicate on the day of 18."

37. If a Depositor has applied for a Warrant, and before its return from the Chief Post Office has left the place at which it is made payable, the Postmaster may, if required, and on receipt of one shilling, transfer payment of such Warrant to any Post Office Savings Bank within the Province most convenient to the Depositor.

38. A Warrant cannot be cancelled, except in the case of payment of a duplicate, but the Postmaster may take it as a reinvestment by passing the amount through the Depositor's Book, first as a withdrawal, and afterwards as a deposit.

39. A Depositor who is about to remove from one Province to another should give a written authority to the Chief Postmaster of the Province which he is leaving to transfer the balance of deposits standing to his credit to the office of the Chief Postmaster of the Province to which he is about to remove. The Postmaster will thereupon transmit a Certificate to the Post Office Savings Bank to which the balance of deposits is to be transferred, and will at once close the Depositor's account. But unless the account shall be so transferred, the Depositor shall not be entitled to withdraw any deposit except from a Post Office within the Province in which the same shall have been deposited.

In every case of transfer the transaction must be indorsed on the back of the Monthly Account, and the Depositor's written authority for the transfer forwarded in support thereof.

40. The authority for transfer shall be in the following form:—

41. Applications by Telegram for the transfer of accounts will not be attended to.

42. The certificate of the amount due to the Depositor, when received at the office of the Chief Postmaster to which an account is thus transferred, will be shown in an account to be opened with the said Depositor. The transaction will also be indorsed on the back of the Monthly Account.

43. The certificate shall be in the following form, and the transferring Postmaster must give a transcript of the account on the back of the certificate, naming any deposits that have been made on the first day of a month:—

(Signature of Postmaster)

44. Except in the cases herein specially provided for, repayments shall be made only to the Depositor in person, or to the bearer of an order under his hand, signed in the presence of, and attested by, a person known to the Postmaster, a Justice of the Peace, or, in case of sickness, of the Medical Attendant, or a Minister of Religion. If the Depositor be resident abroad, his signature must be verified by some Governor, Judge, Mayor, Notary, or British Consul, or other constituted authority of the place in which he resides. Printed forms of orders can be obtained at any Post Office Savings Bank.

45. Applications to withdraw money deposited by any Friendly, Charitable, or Provident Society, or Savings Bank, must be signed by the sole Trustee, or two of the Trustees of any such Society or Savings Bank, or when there is no Trustee, then by the Treasurer, or some officer performing the duty of Treasurer; and the names of the Trustee or Treasurer, or other Officer of the Society authorized to receive the amount to be withdrawn, shall be stated in the notice of withdrawal. The Warrant for payment of the amount shall be made out in the name of such Trustee, Treasurer, or Officer, and the receipt of such person apparently authorized shall be a sufficient discharge for the same.

46. In the event of the death, removal, or resignation of a Trustee of a Friendly, Charitable, or Provident Society, or Savings Bank, or the alteration of the persons named as Trustees on opening its account in a Post Office Savings Bank, such Society, or Savings Bank, or the persons having the management thereof shall furnish the Chief Postmaster with a note of such death, removal, or resignation, and (on the appointment of every new Trustee) a certified extract from the Minute Book of the Society or certified copy of the Resolution by which he has been appointed, shall in like manner be forwarded to the Chief Postmaster.

ACCOUNTS.

47. Chief Postmasters of Provinces and other Accounting Postmasters will render Monthly Accounts to the Controller of Money Orders and Saving Banks, and Sub-Postmasters to their respective Head Offices. The Sub-Postmasters will remit their surplus receipts to the respective Chief or Accounting Post Offices to which they are accountable, in sufficient time to reach that Office, not later than the last business day of each month, when required to remit monthly only; but if the Chief Postmaster thinks it necessary or desirable that they should remit oftener, he may require them to do so.

48. Accounting Postmasters will supply their sub-officers with money when the receipts of these officers are insufficient to meet the demands on them for payment of Savings Bank Withdrawals, and the Interest on closed accounts.

49. When Chief and other Accounting Postmasters require funds to meet demands on their own or their sub-offices on account of Savings Banks, they are authorized to obtain such funds by draft on the Postmaster-General through the Bank, in the manner and on the form supplied to them for that purpose.

50. Chief and other Accounting Postmasters will pay their surplus receipts from Savings Bank Deposits into the Bank of New Zealand, from time to time, to the Postmaster-General's Account; and all receipts for duplicate Deposit Books sold, duplicate Warrants issued, and from Fines for Accounts opened and closed again within the period of one month, to Public Account monthly or oftener, along with the Commissions received for Money Orders.

51. Accounting Postmasters will, on the 9th, 16th, 23rd, and last day of each month, furnish the Controller of Money Orders and Savings Banks with a Statement of Receipts and Disbursements on account of Savings Bank transactions, on the form supplied for that purpose.

RETURNS.

52. Every Chief Postmaster and Accounting Postmaster must transmit to the Controller the following periodical Returns:—

Quarterly.

Of the number, amount, &c., of Deposits and Withdrawals in his Province or District by months, as per form supplied.

A similar Return showing the same information for each Office in the Province, as per form supplied.

Annually.

Returns comprising the four Quarters of the Year, for each Month and for each Office as above.

A Return showing the Balance of Deposits at credit of each account remaining open on the 31st December, with the interest accrued thereon.

DEATH AND INSANITY.

53. In case any Depositor shall die leaving any sum of money not exceeding £20, inclusive of interest, deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank, and Probate of his Will or Letters of Administration be not produced to the Chief Postmaster of the Province, or if notice in writing of the existence of a Will, and intention to prove the same, or to take out Letters of Administration, be not given to the Chief Postmaster of the Province, at his Chief Office, within the period of one month from the death of the Depositor; or if such notice be given, but such Will be not proved, or Letters of Administration be not taken out, and the Probate or Letters of Administration (as the case may be) produced to the Chief Postmaster of the Province within the period of two months from the death of the Depositor, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General, after such period of one or two months, as the case may be, to pay all just debts due or owing by such deceased Depositor, and to defray the expenses of his funeral, so far as the said sum of money shall extend, and divide the surplus, if any, at his discretion, to or amongst the widow, or relatives of the deceased Depositor, or any one or more of them; or, if he shall think proper, according to the Statute of Distribution.

54. When there is no Will nor Letters of Administration, the claimant of the deceased Depositor's account must make a statutory declaration before a Magistrate, setting forth the grounds on which he claims it, and forward the declaration to the Chief Postmaster, together with certificates, or other satisfactory evidence, of the death of the Depositor, and of his identity. A statement showing, as far as may be, where deceased was born, what relatives he had in New Zealand or elsewhere, and what debts he left, if any, must also be produced.

55. In case any Depositor shall die leaving any sum of money in the Post Office Savings Bank which (inclusive of interest) shall exceed the sum of Twenty pounds, the same shall only be paid to the Executor or Administrator on the production of the Probate of the Will, or Letters of Administration of the estate or effects of the deceased Depositor, or of a rule or order to administer made under "The Intestate Estates Act, 1865," to the Chief Postmaster of the Province, who, after satisfying himself as to their authenticity, will forward an attested copy, or extract, with the usual application, to the Controller, Money Orders and Savings Banks, for the decision of the Postmaster-General. Provided that in cases where the estate of the deceased depositor is being administered under the provisions of "The Intestate Estates Act, 1865," without any rule or order to administer, the Curator shall forward to the Chief Postmaster a statutory declaration, signed by himself, showing that the assets of the estate to be administered are under the value of fifty pounds, and that he is lawfully administering the same, and thereupon the deposit and interest may be paid to such Curator.

56. If any Depositor, being illegitimate, shall die intestate, leaving any person or persons who, but for the illegitimacy of such Depositor, or of such person or persons, would be entitled to the money due to such deceased Depositor, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General, with the advice in writing of the Attorney-General or Law Adviser of the Crown, to pay the money of such deceased Depositor to any one or more of the persons who in his opinion would have been entitled to the same according to the Statute of Distributions, if the said Depositor or such person or persons, or all or both of them, had been legitimate.

57. If any Depositor shall become insane, or otherwise incapacitated to act, and the same shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General, and if the Postmaster-General shall be satisfied of the urgency of the case, he may authorize payment from time to time, out of the funds of such Depositor, to any person whom he shall judge proper, and the receipt of such person, shall be a good discharge for the same.

MISCELLANEOUS.

58. If any dispute shall arise between the Postmaster-General and any individual Depositor, or any executor, administrator, next of kin, or creditor or assignee of a Depositor who may become bankrupt or insolvent, or any person claiming to be such executor, administrator, next of kin, creditor or assignee, or to be entitled to any money deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank, then and in every such case the matter in dispute shall be referred to arbitration, as provided in "The Savings Bank Act, 1858,"—one arbitrator to be chosen and appointed by the Postmaster-General, and the other by the party with whom the dispute arose.

59. When a Depositor applies for payment of the balance of money deposited, and of interest, and desires the account to be closed, the Deposit Book must be given up. Should a new account be afterwards opened, it will be necessary that a new Deposit Book be issued, and that the other regulations should be strictly conformed to.

But if a Depositor opens an account and closes it again within the period of one month from the date on which he opened it, he will be charged One Shilling for the books, forms, and ledger-space thus occupied.

60. The Officers of the Postmaster-General engaged in the receipt or payment of deposits shall not disclose the name of any Depositor, nor the amount deposited or withdrawn by him, except to the Postmaster-General or to such of his Officers as may be appointed to assist in carrying out the provisions of the Post Office Savings Bank Act.

61. In the construction of these Regulations, unless there is something in the subject or context repugnant thereto, every word importing the singular number only shall mean and include several persons or things, as well as one person or thing, and the converse; and every word importing the masculine gender only shall mean and include a female as well as a male; the word "month" shall mean a calendar month. The word "Province" shall include the County of Westland, and every district or part of the Colony which shall not for the time being be within any Province.
