TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME, GREETING:

WHEREAS by "The Municipal Corporations Act, 1867," it is enacted that for the first election of Councillors under the said Act in every borough in which no Councillors shall as yet have been in office, those persons enrolled on any electoral roll which, under the provisions of "The Registration of Electors Act, 1866," shall for the time being be in force, whose qualifications are in respect of lands and tenements situate within the borough, and none other, shall, on such day as the Governor shall appoint, not being less than forty days after the same shall have become such borough, and in the manner therein mentioned, elect the whole number of Councillors by the said Act assigned to such borough; and by the said Act it is also provided that every election of Councillors for any borough not divided into wards shall be held by and before the Mayor of the borough, and that if at any time there shall be no Mayor the Council of the borough, or if there be no such Council the Governor, may and shall appoint some person by and before whom such election shall be conducted:

And whereas the Town of New Plymouth was, by Proclamation bearing date the eleventh day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, and published in the New Zealand Gazette of this day's date, constituted a borough under the said Act:

And whereas it has been made to appear to me that there is no Mayor of the said borough, nor any Council of the said borough, and that the said borough is not divided into wards:

Now know ye that I, George Augustus Constantine, Marquis of Normanby, Governor of the Colony of New Zealand, in exercise and pursuance of the powers vested in me by the said Act, do hereby appoint the twenty-second day of September, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, to be the day whereon the first election of Councillors for the Borough of New Plymouth shall take place; and in further exercise of the powers and authorities vested in me by the said Act, I do hereby appoint of New Plymouth, to be the person by and before whom the said election shall be held.

Given under the hand of His Excellency the Most Honorable George Augustus Constantine, Marquis of Normanby, Earl of Mulgrave, Viscount Normanby, and Baron Mulgrave of Mulgrave, all in the County of York, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom; and Baron Mulgrave of New Ross, in the County of Wexford, in the Peerage of Ireland; a Member of Her Majesty's Most Honorable Privy Council; Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George; Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over Her Majesty's Colony of New Zealand and its Dependencies, and Vice-Admiral of the same; at the Government House, at Wellington, this seventeenth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

[CIRCULAR.]

Downing Street, 21st February, 1876.

SIR,—I have the honor to transmit to you, for publication in the colony under your Government, a copy of a Treaty between Her Majesty and the President of the Republic of Honduras for the mutual surrender of fugitive criminals, as well as a copy of the Order in Council of the 5th instant, for carrying that Treaty into effect.

I have, &c.,

The Officer Administering the Government of New Zealand. CARNARVON.

[Extract from the London Gazette of Tuesday, Feb. 8, 1876.]
At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 5th day of February, 1876.

Present:

THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the Session of Parliament holden in the thirty-third and thirty-fourth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for amending the Law relating to the Extradition of Criminals," and also by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the Session of Parliament holden in the thirty-sixth and thirty-seventh years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the Extradition Act, 1870," it was, amongst other things, enacted, that where an arrangement has been made with any foreign State with respect to the surrender to such State of any fugitive criminals, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, direct that the said Acts shall apply in the case of such foreign State; and that Her Majesty may, by the same or any subsequent Order, limit the operation of the Order, and restrict the same to fugitive criminals who are in or suspected of being in the part of Her Majesty's dominions specified in the Order, and render the operation thereof subject to such conditions, exceptions, and qualifications as may be deemed expedient:

And whereas a Treaty was concluded on the sixth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, between Her Majesty and the President of the Republic of Honduras, for the Mutual Extradition of Fugitive Criminals, which Treaty is in the terms following:—

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and his Excellency the President of the Republic of Honduras, having judged it expedient, with a view to the better administration of justice and to the prevention of crime within the two countries and their jurisdictions, that persons charged with or convicted of the crimes hereinafter enumerated, and being fugitives from justice, should, under certain circumstances, be rereciprocally delivered up, have named as their Plenipotentiaries, to conclude a Treaty for this purpose that is to say,—

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Edwin Corbett, Esq., Her Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires and Consul-General to said Republic of Honduras, &c.;

And his Excellency the President of the Republic of Honduras, the Señor Don Augustin Gomez Carrillo, Deputy to the present Legislature of Guatemala, &c.;

Who, having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles:—

ARTICLE I.

The High Contracting Parties engage to deliver up to each other those persons who, being accused or convicted of a crime committed in the territory of the one Party, shall be found within the territory of the other Party, under the circumstances and conditions stated in the present Treaty.

ARTICLE II.

It is agreed that Her Britannic Majesty and His Excellency the President of Honduras shall, on requisition made in their name by their respective Diplomatic Agents, deliver up to each other reciprocally any persons, except native subjects or citizens of the Party upon whom the requisition may be made, who, being accused or convicted, whether as a principal or an accessory, either before or after the fact, of any of the crimes hereinafter specified, committed within the jurisdiction of the requiring Party, shall be found within the territories of the other Party:—

1. Murder, or attempt or conspiracy to murder.
 2. Manslaughter.
 3. Counterfeiting or altering money, or uttering counterfeit or altered money.
 4. Forgery, counterfeiting or altering or uttering what is forged or counterfeited or altered.
 5. Embezzlement or larceny.
 6. Obtaining money or goods by false pretences.
 7. Malicious injury to property, if the offence be indictable.
 8. Crimes against bankruptcy law.
 9. Fraud by a bailee, banker, agent, factor, trustee or director or member or public officer of any company made criminal by any law for the time being in force.
 10. Perjury or subornation of perjury.
 11. Rape.
 12. Abduction.
 13. Child-stealing.
 14. False imprisonment.
 15. Burglary or housebreaking.
 16. Arson.
 17. Robbery with violence.
 18. Threats by letter or otherwise, with intent to extort.
 19. Piracy by law of nations.
 20. Sinking or destroying a vessel at sea, or attempting or conspiring to do so.
 21. Assaults on board a ship on the high seas with intent to destroy life or to do grievous bodily harm.
 22. Revolt, or conspiracy to revolt, by two or more persons on board a ship on the high seas against the authority of the master.
- Provided that the surrender shall be made only when, in the case of a person accused, the commission of the crime shall be so established as that the laws of the country where the fugitive or person so accused shall be found would justify his apprehension and commitment for trial if the crime had been there committed; and, in the case of a person alleged to have been convicted on such evidence as according to the laws of the country where he is found, would prove that he had been convicted.

ARTICLE III.

No Honduran as above stated shall be delivered up by the Government of Honduras to the Government of the United Kingdom, and no subject of the United Kingdom shall be delivered up by the Government thereof to the Government of Honduras.

ARTICLE IV.

The extradition shall not take place if the person claimed on the part of the Government of the United Kingdom, or the person claimed on the part of the Government of Honduras, has already been tried and discharged or punished, or is still under trial in the territory of the United Kingdom or of Honduras respectively for the crime for which his extradition is demanded.

If the person claimed on the part of the Government of the United Kingdom, or if the person claimed on the part of the Government of Honduras, should be under examination for any other crime in the territory of the United Kingdom or in the Republic of Honduras respectively, his extradition shall be deferred until the conclusion of the trial and the full execution of any punishment awarded to him.

ARTICLE V.

The extradition shall not take place if, subsequently to the commission of the crime, or the institution of the penal prosecution, or the conviction thereon, exemption from prosecution or punishment has been acquired by lapse of time, according to the laws of the State applied to.

ARTICLE VI.

A fugitive criminal shall not be surrendered if the offence in respect of which his surrender is demanded is one of a political character, or if he prove that the requisition for his surrender has, in fact, been made with a view to try or punish him for an offence of a political character.

ARTICLE VII.

A person surrendered can in no case be kept in prison or be brought to trial in the State to which the surrender has been made, for any other crime, or on account of any other matters, than those for which the extradition shall have taken place. This stipulation does not apply to crimes committed after the extradition.

ARTICLE VIII.

The requisition for extradition shall be made through the Diplomatic Agents of the High Contracting Parties respectively.

The requisition for the extradition of an accused person must be accompanied by a warrant of arrest issued by the competent authority of the State requiring the extradition, and by such evidence as, according to the laws of the place where the accused is found, would justify his arrest if the crime had been committed there.

If the requisition relates to a person already convicted, it must be accompanied by the sentence of condemnation passed against the convicted person by the competent Court of the State that makes the requisition for extradition.

A requisition for extradition cannot be founded on sentences passed in contumaciam.

ARTICLE IX.

If the requisition for extradition be in accordance with the foregoing stipulations, the competent authorities of the State applied to shall proceed to the arrest of the fugitive.

The prisoner is then to be brought before a competent Magistrate, who is to examine him and to conduct the preliminary investigation of the case, just as if the apprehension had taken place for a crime committed in the same country.

ARTICLE X.

The extradition shall not take place before the expiration of fifteen days from the apprehension, and then only if the evidence be found sufficient, according to the laws of the State applied to, either to justify the committal of the prisoner for trial, in case the crime had been committed in the territory of the said State, or to prove that the prisoner is the identical person convicted by the Courts of the State which makes the requisition.

ARTICLE XI.

In the examination which they have to make in accordance with the foregoing stipulations, the authorities of the State applied to shall admit as entirely valid evidence the sworn depositions or statements of witnesses taken in the other State, or copies thereof, and likewise the warrants and sentences issued therein; provided such documents are signed or certified by a Judge, Magistrate, or officer of such State, and are authenticated by the oath of some witness, or by being sealed with the official seal of the Minister of Justice or some other Minister of State.

ARTICLE XII.

If sufficient evidence for extradition be not produced within two months from the date of the apprehension of the fugitive, he shall be set at liberty.

ARTICLE XIII.

All articles seized which were in the possession of the person to be surrendered at the time of his apprehension shall, if the competent authority of the State applied to for the extradition has ordered the delivery thereof, be given up when the extradition takes place; and the said delivery shall extend, not merely to the stolen articles, but to everything that may serve as a proof of the crime.

ARTICLE XIV.

The High Contracting Parties renounce any claim for the reimbursement of the expenses incurred by them in the arrest and maintenance of the person to be surrendered and his conveyance till placed on board ship; they reciprocally agree to bear such expenses themselves.

ARTICLE XV.

The stipulations of the present Treaty shall be applicable to the colonies and foreign possessions of Her Britannic Majesty.

The requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal who has taken refuge in any of such colonies or foreign possessions shall be made to the Governor or chief authority of such colony or possession by the Chief Consular Officer of the Republic of Honduras in such colony or possession.

Such requisition may be disposed of (subject always, as nearly as may be, to the provisions of this Treaty) by the said Governor or chief authority, who, however, shall be at liberty either to grant the surrender or to refer the matter to his Government.

Her Britannic Majesty shall, however, be at liberty to make special arrangements in the British colonies and foreign possessions for the surrender of Honduran criminals who may take refuge within such colonies and foreign possessions, on the basis, as nearly as may be, of the provisions of the present Treaty.

The requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal from any colony or foreign possession of Her Britannic Majesty shall be governed by the rules laid down in the preceding Articles of the present Treaty.

ARTICLE XVI.

The present Treaty shall come into force ten days after its publication, in conformity with the forms prescribed by the laws of the High Contracting Parties. It may be terminated by either of the High Contracting Parties, but shall remain in force for six months after notice has been given for its termination.

The Treaty shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Guatemala, in twelve months counted from this day.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seal of their arms.

Done at Guatemala, the sixth day of the month of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

And whereas the ratifications of the Treaty were exchanged at Guatemala on the twelfth day of October last:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, and in virtue of the authority committed to Her by the said recited Acts, doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the twenty-first day of February, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, the said Acts shall apply in the case of the said Treaty with the President of the Republic of Honduras.

The Cape Foulwind Lighthouse is situated on the Cape of that name on the West Coast of the Middle Island of New Zealand. The tower is 53 feet in height from the base to the top of the lantern, and is constructed of timber and painted white; the upper part being close boarded, and the lower part of open framed work.

GEO. McLEAN.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

No. 21 of 1876.

Customs Department (Marine Branch),
Wellington, 15th August, 1876.

THE following Notices to Mariners, received from the Harbour Authorities of South Australia and Queensland, are published for general information.

GEO. McLEAN.

SOUTH-EAST COAST, PORT MACDONNELL.

NOTICE is hereby given, that, in consequence of several vessels having been wrecked between Cape Northumberland Lighthouse and the south end of Rivoli Bay, the following marks should be carefully attended to:—

In the Australian Directory, 1868, published by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, the directions are that vessels approaching Cape Northumberland from the north-westward should never sight the red or white light on a bearing more southerly than east half south, and on seeing the green light should immediately alter the course more southward, so as to give a good berth to the outlying reefs westward of the Cape which run parallel with and extend one mile from the shore.

Vessels from the eastward should not bring the white or red light to bear to the westward of west-north-west; and when the green light becomes visible on that bearing should steer more southerly, in order to give a wide berth to the reef which stretches to the eastward from Cape Northumberland.

In bad weather, with the wind hanging from the southward, it will be advisable to keep Cape Northumberland at such a distance as will enable a vessel to pass the lighthouse without seeing the green light; and, should the weather be thick or it be blowing hard, it will be prudent not to sight the red light, which under such circumstance will not be seen at the former distance.

The coast north-westward of Cape Northumberland is low, and, owing to the heavy ocean swell which sets directly on shore, should be very carefully avoided.

An eddy current to the northward has sometimes been experienced within ten or twelve miles of the land, between Cape Northumberland and Lacedpede Bay, apparently occasioned by a current which Captain Flinders found in the middle of April setting toward the Cape from the W.S.W. at the rate of half ($\frac{1}{2}$) a knot.

Captain Douglas in his survey of this part of the coast does not mention the existence of a current, but cautions navigators to give the coast a wide berth, owing to the heavy ocean swell which sets directly in shore, and should be carefully avoided.

In the report of the Commissioners appointed by His Excellency the Governor-in-Chief to inquire into the circumstances connected with the wreck of the steamship "Admella," it is stated that the loss of the "Admella" is to be attributed chiefly to the effects of a current which appears to have been setting towards the coast between Capes Willoughby and Northumberland, on the 5th and 6th August, 1859.

Captain King, of the P. and O. steamer "Bombay," on or about the same date, in a letter to the Commissioners, states that between Cape Jaffa and Cape Northumberland he found a current setting strong towards the land, and he considered it as much as fifteen miles in an easterly direction in the run between the two Capes.

On one occasion, in the Government schooner "Flinders," after taking shelter from a S.S.W. gale in the south end of Rivoli Bay, in August, 1872, the wind falling light and veering to the eastward, tripped the anchor and stood out to the W.S.W. for five or six miles, when it fell calm; found a current setting the schooner E.N.E. nearly one and a half miles an hour. Fortunately the wind freshened, and he got away from this dangerous coast. The master of the schooner informed me that he often felt a current setting towards the land.

A vessel off the coast between Cape Jaffa and Cape Northumberland, when in soundings of forty-five fathoms and upwards, is in a position of safety. It is therefore recommended that masters of vessels during night in thick weather, or in doubt, should verify their position by sounding.
