*Decision of Court of Inquiry into Wreck of s.s.
"Rangatira" confirmed.*

Marine Department,
Wellington, N.Z., 7th October, 1880.

HIS Excellency the Administrator of the Government has been pleased to confirm the following decision of the Court of Inquiry into the wreck of the steamer "Rangatira," of Wellington, N.Z., official No. 45951, 196 tons register; Edward Harvey, Master, holding a New Zealand Home-Trade Certificate of Competency, No. 5058; and Thomas Swede, Chief Officer, holding a New Zealand Home-Trade Certificate as Master, No. 5145.

The vessel was wrecked on a reef about four miles north of New Plymouth, at 3 a.m. on the 7th ultimo.

H. A. ATKINSON.

THAT the Chief and Second Engineers and the Second Officer are entirely free from blame.

That the Master was, to a certain extent, culpable, in not keeping a more efficient look-out than appeared to be the practice on board the said steamship, and in not using the deep-sea log; but as the night was clear and the water calm, and the Chief Officer having neglected to call him as requested, I considered a reprimand would be sufficient, there not being in my opinion sufficient culpability to warrant a suspension of his certificate.

That the Chief Officer was guilty of gross carelessness in first of all altering the ship's course half a point without communication with the Master, and in not calling the Master at the time he was requested so to do.

That the said Chief Officer, being a comparative stranger on the coast, was further guilty of gross carelessness, almost amounting to incompetency, in mistaking the shore light at Bell Block for the New Plymouth light, more particularly as the light of the "Hinemoa," then lying in the roadstead, was also visible; and, further, that on immediately seeing the light which led him astray he was guilty of extreme neglect in not calling the Master, who would at once have rectified the error.

I, therefore, am of opinion that the certificate of the Chief Officer should be suspended, and have accordingly suspended it for six calendar months.

Given under my hand this fifteenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, at New Plymouth, New Zealand.

THOS. A. MANSFORD,
Resident Magistrate.

We concur in the above report.

POPULATION.—In the case of Nelson the population is given according to the estimate for January, 1879, as the local authorities have not yet supplied the information necessary to enable the estimate to be corrected. In the other cases the estimates are for the 1st January, 1880.

The total births in the above boroughs amounted to 485, against 514 in August, being a decrease of 29. The deaths amounted to 164 in September, a decrease of 3 on the number for August.

Of the above deaths, males contributed 96; females, 68. 67 of the deaths were of children under five years of age, being 40.85 per cent. of the whole number; 46 of these were of children under one year of age.

THE following Table shows the Causes of the Deaths of Persons of both Sexes under 5 years of age and 5 years and upwards, and the Proportions per Cent. of Deaths from each cause in the Boroughs of Auckland, Wellington, Christchurch, and Dunedin that were registered during the Month of September, 1880.

The following remarks apply only to the above four principal boroughs:—

The births were 270 in September, against 284 in August, a decrease of 14.

The deaths in September were 90, against 103 in August, a decrease of 13.

There were 12 deaths of persons of 65 years and upwards, viz., 1 male of 70 and 1 female of 77 at Auckland; 1 male of 74 and 1 male of 92, 1 female of 70, 1 of 79, and 1 of 80 at Wellington; 1 male of 73, 1 of 79, and 1 female of 67 at Christchurch; and 1 male of 74 and 1 of 78 at Dunedin.

Zymotic Diseases.—The deaths from these causes were 14 in September, against 18 in August; the deaths from whooping cough having been 4 less in number than in the previous month.

Constitutional Diseases.—These diseases caused 10 deaths in September (of which 7 were from phthisis), against 8 in August and 23 in July.

Local Diseases.—The deaths from these diseases were 41 in September, against 64 in August. Of these, the deaths from diseases of the nervous system were 9 in September, against 25 in August; and deaths from diseases of the respiratory system were 14 in September, against 24 in August.

The subjoined table shows the mortality for the last two months at each of these four boroughs from six principal Zymotic diseases of the Miasmatic order, and also the deaths from certain inflammatory diseases of the lungs. These causes of death have been distinguished from the others of the classes to which they belong, as being the most important special diseases which give rise to sudden increases in the death-rates of towns, and the prevalence of which is closely connected with sanitary condition and climatic influence of the season on health.
