Despatch.—Tinned Provisions.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Wellington, 31st May, 1882.

THE following despatch, received from Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies, is republished for general information.

THOMAS DICK.

(Circular.)

Downing Street, 15th August, 1881.

SIR,—I have the honor to transmit to you, for publication in the colony under your Government, a copy of a circular issued by the French Government, containing regulations with regard to the importation into France of provisions in soldered tins.

I have thought it advisable to send copies of this circular to all colonies, so that those colonies which do not export, but may import provisions in tins, may be aware of the opinion expressed by the French Government with regard to tins soldered in the manner described.

I have, &c.,

KIMBERLEY.

The Officer Administering the Government of New Zealand.

[TRANSLATION.]

Paris, 28th August, 1880.

THE attention of the Department of Commerce has been called to the dangers which consumers may incur from the use of food-substances enclosed in tins the soldering of which has been effected on the inside, and which are made of metals not coated with pure tin.

The Consulting Committee on Public Health, to whom the question has been submitted, has recognized that there is, in fact, serious inconvenience to the public health in allowing to be used as food substances which, owing to their contact with solders, or with surfaces covered with alloys containing lead, may cause poisoning of a more or less grave nature. The Committee has, in consequence, expressed its opinion that there is sufficient ground for prohibiting manufacturers of preserved-food tins from soldering them inside, and from employing in their fabrication any metals which have not been lined with pure tin. The Committee added that, if manufacturers still persisted in having recourse to soldering the lids from the inside, they ought to be restricted to the use of pure tin only. This opinion has been adopted by the Minister of Commerce, and instructions have been issued to Prefects of departments accordingly.

Similar action appeared necessary as regards provision tins from foreign sources, as much for sanitary reasons as not to place French manufacturers in a position less favourable than that of their foreign rivals. The Minister of Finance has consequently decided, under date the 2nd April last, that there was room for requiring that imported tins should be made in accordance with the conditions above mentioned. Those which are found not to comply with the regulations shall be provisionally retained by the authorities, whose duty it will be to immediately inform the Attorney of the Republic for the district.

In order to permit French manufacturers to dispose of the tins which they may have on stock, it has been determined that the new regulations shall come into force only on the 1st August, 1881, at which date they will also rigidly apply to foreign importations.

The Directors are requested to make these regulations known both to the authorities and the public interested.

AMBAUD,
Councillor of State, Director-General.
