New Zealand Industrial Exhibition, 1885.

PRIZE ESSAYS.

Wellington, 29th December, 1884.

ONE gold medal and twenty guineas, one silver medal and ten guineas, and one bronze medal and five guineas will be awarded for essays on the present condition and future prospects of the industrial resources of New Zealand, and the best means for fostering their development.

In judging of the merits of the essays preference will be given to those which are of a practical character, rather than to mere abstract or theoretical disquisitions. The essays must be sent in to the Secretary of the Exhibition, signed with a motto and accompanied by a sealed envelope containing the author's name and address, on or before the 1st day of December, 1885. This late date is fixed to enable the essayists, if they desire to do so, to utilize the information which the Exhibition itself will supply.

The essays will be submitted to a Board of three persons, to be hereafter appointed, on whose decision respecting the merits of the essays the above prizes will be awarded; provided the essays reach a sufficiently-deserving standard of excellence.

Notice to Mariners, No. 32 of 1885.

EAST CAPE ISLET, NORTH ISLAND.

Marine Department,
Wellington, N.Z., 3rd September, 1885.

OWING to several casualties to vessels having occurred in the vicinity of East Cape, the attention of masters of vessels is specially called to the under-mentioned directions in "The New Zealand Pilot," viz. :-

"There is a channel nearly one mile wide between the cape and the islet, but, as the winds here are liable to die away suddenly, leaving a vessel at the mercy of the tides and swell, it cannot be recommended. There are several shoal patches off East Cape, which, together with the strong tides, make the passage between the cape and the islet not a desirable one. A shoal patch, with $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms water on it, on which the sea would break in heavy weather, lies off the north-east point of the cape, about two-thirds of a mile: this is the line of breakers reported by H.M.S. 'Eclipse' in 1864. There is another patch, nearly a mile S.E. $\frac{3}{4}$ S. of the former, with $2\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms water on it, at the entrance to the passage between East Cape and the islet."

Masters are advised to avoid the passage between the islet and the mainland as unsafe.

Report of Court of Inquiry into Stranding of s.s. "Ino" confirmed.

Marine Department,
Wellington, 7th September, 1885.

HIS Excellency the Governor has been pleased to confirm the following report of the Court of Inquiry into the stranding of the s.s. "Ino," whereby the New Zealand Certificate of Competency as Master Ordinary, No. 312, held by James Anderson, the mate of the vessel, is suspended for two months from the 25th August, 1885. The casualty occurred at Waikawa Bay on the 18th July last.

W. J. M. LARNACH.

1. THAT the mate, James Anderson, who holds a certificate of competency, issued at Wellington, New Zealand, and numbered 312, was ignorant of the vessel's position long previous to the vessel stranding.

2. That he showed ignorance of, or a neglect of due consideration of, the action of the tide on the vessel when he altered the course from west-south-west to west by north.

3. That he neglected the ordinary precaution of examining the compass from time to time to ascertain whether the vessel was steered the course he gave to the helmsman; and when the fog came on, and he ordered the course to be changed, to keep the vessel off the land and thus out of danger, from west by north to west-south-west, he was especially negligent in not looking at the compass to see whether the new course was made and kept.

4. The evidence leaves no doubt in our minds that the course last given was not kept, and this was the direct cause of the vessel being stranded. If the mate had observed the common precaution of checking the vessel's steering, it is doubtless she would have kept out of the danger she was actually steered into.

5. The evidence shows that the vessel's reckoning was kept by the master in a very unskilled and careless manner, that is, by observation of the land when practicable, and the estimated speed of the engines when not so. No log was used to ascertain the distance run, and no chart appears to have been consulted when the mate found himself uncertain of the vessel's position, and no lead was used when the fog set in.

This appears to have been the ordinary manner of navigating the vessel, and, although not the direct cause of the vessel stranding, careless navigation by the master would tend to careless navigation by those under him. We are of opinion that the master, Peter Andrew Lyders, is deserving of censure for not navigating his vessel with more care.

The certificate of the mate, James Anderson, to whose negligence and careless performance of his duties the stranding of the vessel is directly attributable, is suspended for two calendar months.

Given under my hand this twenty-fifth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, at Dunedin, New Zealand.

E. H. CAREW,
Resident Magistrate.

I concur in the above report.
