

SUPPLEMENT
NEW ZEALAND GAZETTE
OF
THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1887.

Published by Authority.

WELLINGTON, THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1887.

Regulations under "The Education Act, 1877."

WM. F. DRUMMOND JERVOIS,
Governor.

ORDER IN COUNCIL.

At the Government House, at Wellington, this fifth day of July, 1887.

Present:

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

IN exercise and pursuance of the powers and authorities vested in the Governor in Council by "The Education Act, 1877," all regulations heretofore made by Order in Council under the authority of the said Act are hereby cancelled, and the following regulations are hereby made in lieu thereof, and shall come into force on the date of this order:—

I.—ATTENDANCE-REGISTERS AND RETURNS.

1. The head-teacher of each school shall keep a register of attendance in a form which shall be furnished by the Minister of Education; and all the teachers in the school shall assist in making up weekly and quarterly summaries of attendance.

2. The attendance of the scholars in each school shall be registered every morning and every afternoon at a convenient time within the school hours.

3. The attendance of a child at morning school shall be reckoned as one attendance, and the attendance of a child at afternoon school shall be reckoned as one attendance, and a school open in the morning and open in the afternoon shall be deemed to have been open twice. The school shall be held to be open any morning or afternoon if one child be present before the first half-hour of the ordinary school time has passed. The average daily attendance for any period shall be ascertained by dividing the total number of attendances for the period by the number of half-days on which the school has been open during the period. The average daily attendance so ascertained shall be known as the strict average. But, in order that the capitation allowance may not be unduly affected by bad weather, epidemics, or any unusual occurrence, a second computation shall be made by throwing out of account every morning and every afternoon on which the attendances have numbered less than one-half of the number of pupils belonging to the school, and by throwing out of account the attendances also of every such morning and every such afternoon; and the capitation payments to Boards under "The Education Act, 1877," shall be made according to the average daily attendance as ascertained by this second computation, which average daily attendance shall be known as the working average.

4. It shall be the duty of the head-teacher of every school to remove the name of any pupil from the school roll on the day on which such teacher first knows that such pupil has been definitely removed from the school; and if at the end of any quarter ending with the last day of March, June, September, or December the school roll contains the name of any pupil that has not been in attendance at some time or other during such quarter, the head-teacher shall then remove the name of such pupil from the roll.

5. The Chairman of every School Committee shall, as soon as possible after the end of each quarter, cause to be transmitted to the Education Board of the district a return exhibiting, in the form hereinafter prescribed, the state of the school roll and of the attendance for such quarter.

6. The form of quarterly return of attendance from each school shall be as follows :—

RETURN of ATTENDANCE for Quarter ending , 18 .
(N.B.—This return should be sent into the Board within five days after the end of the quarter.)

II.—PAYMENTS TO BOARDS.

1. The capitation allowance for the maintenance of schools shall be paid to the Boards in monthly instalments, and the payment for any month shall be made according to the working average stated in the Boards' summary statements of attendance for the immediately preceding quarter.

2. Any money appropriated by the General Assembly as a capitation allowance for the maintaining of scholarships established by the Boards in accordance with the provisions of the Act shall be paid to the Boards in quarterly instalments according to the amounts shown by the Boards to be required for the purposes of such scholarships, but the payments so made to any Board in any financial year shall not exceed a capitation allowance at the rate determined by the Appropriation Act, and in accordance with the working average of the calendar year.

3. Any other moneys appropriated by the General Assembly to the service of the Boards shall be paid to the Boards in such proportions and at such times as shall be determined by the Minister of Education.

4. Grants for special purposes shall be applied by Boards solely and exclusively to those purposes for which such grants have respectively been made; and the Minister may from time to time require from Boards statements showing in detail the application of any such special grants.

5. In the months of April, July, October, and January respectively an account shall be taken of the amount of rents or profits received by each Board during the previous quarter in respect of lands or other property vested in the School Commissioners under "The Education Reserves Act, 1877;" and the amount in each case of such rents or profits shall be deducted from the grants thereafter payable to the Board.

III.—AUDIT OF ACCOUNTS.

1. Every Education Board shall, during the month of January in every year, cause its accounts to be made up for the year ending the thirty-first day of December previous, and shall submit the same for audit to the Auditor appointed for the purposes of the said Act, in or for the district for which such Board is constituted.

2. Every such Auditor shall have access to all the books and accounts of the Board, and of its officers, and shall examine the general statement of the receipts and expenditure of the Board, and compare the same with the accounts and vouchers relating thereto, and shall either certify under his hand that he has found the same to be correct, duly vouched, and in accordance with law, or specially report to the Minister of Education holding office for the time being under "The Education Act, 1877," in what respect he finds it incorrect, unvouched, or not in accordance with law.

3. The Board of each Education District shall, in the month of December in every year, appoint an Auditor or Auditors to audit the accounts of the School Committees within the district, and shall in the same month notify to each School Committee the name of the Auditor who is appointed to audit the accounts of such Committee for the year in which such appointment is made.

4. Every School Committee shall, not later than the fifteenth day of January in every year, make up its accounts for the year ending the thirty-first day of December previous, and shall immediately thereafter submit the same to an Auditor appointed by the Board of the Education District within which the school or schools under the jurisdiction of the Committee are situated.

5. The Auditor appointed to audit the accounts of any School Committee shall have access to all the books and accounts of the Committee and of its officers, and shall examine the general statement of the receipts and expenditure of the Committee, and compare the same with the accounts and vouchers relating thereto, and shall either certify under his hand that he has found the same to be correct, duly vouched, and in accordance with law, or specially report to the Education Board of the district in what respect he finds it incorrect, unvouched, or not in accordance with law.

IV.—INSPECTION OF SCHOOLS AND STANDARDS OF EXAMINATION.

1. Once in every year every public school shall be both inspected and examined by a Public School Inspector. If possible, there shall be an interval of time between the inspection and the examination. As soon as possible after the inspection the Inspector shall present an "inspection report," and as soon as possible after the examination an "examination report." In these regulations a year means a year counted from the 1st of January.

2. The inspection report shall relate to such topics as the following:—

I. List of standard classes and teachers; II. Remarks on the organization, as shown under Topic I.; III. Suitability of time-tables; IV. Remarks on the methods and quality of the instruction in general or in detail; V. Order and discipline, and the tone of the school with respect to diligence, alacrity, and obedience; VI. Supervision in recess; VII. Manners and general behaviour of the pupils; VIII. State of buildings, ground, and fences; IX. Sufficiency of school accommodation; X. Cleanliness and tidiness of rooms and premises, including outside offices; ventilation and warming; XI., &c. Other topics.

The report shall be divided into sections, and the section relating to any topic in the foregoing list shall bear the number assigned to that topic in the list. The omission of any number shall be sufficient to indicate that the Inspector does not deem it necessary to report on the topic corresponding to that number. Section I. shall in no case be omitted from the report: it shall show what "standard classes" within the meaning of Regulation 4 there are in the school, whether the standard classes are grouped in classes for instruction, and, if so, how they are grouped, and by what teacher each class is taught, describing each teacher by his position in the school as "sole teacher," "head master," "first assistant," "third-year pupil-teacher," or as the case may be. Any section except section I. may, if the Inspector so choose, consist of the appropriate number and of a single word, such as "satisfactory."

3. The examination report shall show the number of pupils presented in each standard class, the number of "passes" in each standard, of failures in each class, of "exceptions" in each class, and of pupils absent from each class, the "percentage of passes," the "percentage on class-subjects," the "additional marks," and the character of the work done in classes P and S7. The terms used in this regulation shall be used in the examination report in the sense in which they are used in these regulations.

4. For the purposes of inspection and examination, but not necessarily for purposes of instruction, the pupils of every public school shall be divided into standard classes, as follows: The preparatory class shall include all pupils below Class I., and may be called class P. Class I. shall include all the children preparing for or presented for Standard I., and may be called S1; Class II. shall include all the children preparing for or presented for Standard II., and may be called S2; and so on to Class VI. Class VII. shall include all pupils that have passed the Sixth Standard, and may be called S7. If necessary, Class P may be divided, the lower part being called P1, and the next P2. Every pupil in the school must be considered to belong to one of the classes as here defined.

5. At every standard examination the head-teacher shall present all the pupils on the school-roll, by giving the Inspector a list for each standard class, containing the names of all the pupils belonging to the class, and a schedule showing that the sum of the numbers of names in all the lists is identical with the number of the pupils on the school roll. Against the name of every pupil who has already passed a standard the head-teacher shall enter in the class list the number of the highest standard which the pupil has passed.

6. Against the name of any pupil who, during the three quarters preceding the quarter in which the examination takes place, has been present at the school less than half the number of times of assembling of the school, the head-teacher may write the number of the attendances of such pupil during the three quarters; and, if such pupil do not pass for the standard for which he is presented, the pupil shall not be deemed to have failed, but shall be considered "excepted," and shall be included by the Inspector in the number of "exceptions" reported.

7. In order to obtain a pass, a pupil must be present in class during the examination in the class-subjects for a standard which he has not already passed, and must satisfy the Inspector in all the pass-subjects for the same standard; except that failure in one subject (unless very serious) may be overlooked if in the judgment of the Inspector it is due to some individual peculiarity, and is not the result of the pupil's negligence or of ineffective teaching.

8. As soon as possible after the examination of a school the head-teacher shall be furnished with the names of the pupils who have passed the several standards, and shall record the passes in the Admission Register, and issue to every pupil who has passed a standard a certificate of pass in that standard; and every pupil removing from one public school to another shall be required on entering to exhibit his latest certificate to the head-teacher, who shall make a record of the certificate in the Admission Register, and shall not present such pupil for examination for the standard to which such certificate relates.

9. The "percentage of passes" at every examination shall be ascertained by dividing the total number of passes by the number of pupils on the school roll, and multiplying by 100.

10. The "percentage of failures" at every examination shall be ascertained by dividing the number of failures by the number of passes and failures taken together and multiplying by 100.

11. The Inspector shall ascertain "the percentage on class-subjects" by assigning marks for each class-subject, according to a scale ranging from 0 to 100, to express his judgment upon the quality of work done in that subject, and then calculating for all the class-subjects the mean of the marks so assigned. For the purpose of this regulation, elementary science, together with object-lessons and lessons in natural history, manufactures, and common things, shall be counted as one subject; history as one subject; geography, so far as it is a class-subject, as one subject; and drawing, so far and so long as it is a class-subject, as one. In assigning marks for any class-subject, the Inspector shall consider whether the subject is attended to in all the classes for which it is prescribed, and also whether it is efficiently treated.

12. The "additional marks" shall be ascertained by the Inspector, by assigning marks on a scale ranging from 0 to 20, to express his judgment of the value of the work done by the school in each of the "additional subjects," and in needlework and drill, and then adding together the marks so assigned. For the purposes of this regulation, repetition and recitation shall be reckoned as one subject, disciplinary exercises and drill as one, singing as one, needlework as one, knowledge of the subject-matter of reading-books as one, and extra drawing as one. In assigning marks for any "additional subject" the Inspector shall consider whether the subject is attended to in all the classes for which it is prescribed, and also whether it is efficiently treated.

13. Each Inspector shall make an annual return, showing with respect to each public school subject to his inspection the number of pupils presented, the number passed, the percentage of passes, the percentage of failures, the percentage on class-subjects, and the additional marks, and stating in brief, with respect to each school, its condition as to order and discipline, and as to the manners of the pupils. The Inspector shall at the same time make a return relating to the same schools and the same pupils, showing the total number of pupils presented in each of the standard classes, as defined in Regulation 4, the total number passed in each standard, the total number of failures in each standard, and the total number of exceptions for each standard. If possible, the return shall include a statement of the average age of the pupils on passing each standard.

14. The standard syllabus shall not be understood to prescribe to the teacher the precise order in which the different parts of any subject shall be taught, nor to prohibit the teacher from giving instruction not prescribed by the syllabus, but shall be taken to represent only the attainments of which the Inspector may expect full proof at the several stages of a pupil's progress; also it is to be understood that the examination report and inspection report, taken together, and not either of them alone, will express the Inspector's full judgment on the character and efficiency of the school.

15. In judging of the work both of individual pupils and of classes, the Inspectors shall consider the degree of intelligence displayed in the performance of the work. No reading that is not intelligent shall be allowed to count towards a pass. Knowledge of arithmetic shall be tested both by set sums and by problems, set sums being employed as a test of skill in manipulating figures, and problems as a test of the power of applying arithmetical rules to practical uses; but, except in the two highest standards, the problems must be such as to require the application of only one principle and involve only short processes. And generally Inspectors shall, in assigning marks, in awarding praise or blame, and in giving advice to teachers, bear always in mind the importance of discouraging what is merely mechanical and superficial, and fostering all that shows enthusiasm for real education and tends to the increase of mental activity.

16. The syllabus of pass-subjects, class-subjects, and additional subjects for each of the standards shall be the following:—

STANDARD I.

1. PASS-SUBJECTS.

Reading.—Sentences composed of words of one syllable, and common words of two syllables, to be read intelligently.

Spelling.—Easy words of one syllable.

Writing.—The small letters and the ten figures, on slate, at dictation.

Arithmetic.—Counting, and oral addition by twos, threes, fours, and fives, up to 100; numeration and notation to 999; addition sums of not more than three columns; multiplication of numbers not exceeding 999 by 2, 3, 4, and 5; relative values and chief aliquot parts of current English coins; and relative lengths of the yard, foot, and inch. [Note.—The numeration must be applied to the addition and multiplication, and the multiplication known to be a compendious method of addition.]

Drawing.—As defined in Regulation 18.

2. CLASS-SUBJECTS.

Object and Natural History Lessons.—A syllabus of the year's work done to be given to the Inspector, who will examine the class upon some object selected from the syllabus.

3. ADDITIONAL SUBJECTS.

Knowledge of the Subject-matter of the Reading Lessons.

Repetition of Easy Verses.—Syllabus and test as for object-lessons.

Singing.—A sufficient number of easy and suitable songs in correct time and tune, and at a proper pitch.

Needlework and Drill.—See Regulations 22 and 12.

STANDARD II.

1. PASS-SUBJECTS.

Reading.—Sentences containing words of two syllables, and easy words of more than two syllables, to be read intelligently, and the meanings (not necessarily strict definitions) of the words to be known.

Spelling.—Easy words of two syllables.

Writing.—Short words, in copy-books, not larger than round-hand. On slate: Capital letters and transcription from reading-book of Standard II.

Arithmetic.—Numeration and notation of not more than six figures; addition of not more than six lines, with six figures in a line; short multiplication, and multiplication by factors not greater than 12; subtraction; division by numbers not exceeding 12, by the method of long division, and by the method of short division; mental problems adapted to this stage of progress; multiplication tables to 12 times 12; relative values and chief aliquot parts of the ton, hundredweight, quarter, stone, and pound; relative lengths of the mile, furlong, chain, and rod.

Drawing.—As defined in Regulation 18.

2. CLASS-SUBJECTS.

Geography.—Knowledge of the meaning of a map; of the principal geographical terms; and of the positions of the continents, oceans, and larger seas.

Object-lessons, and Lessons in Natural History and on Manufactures.—A syllabus, as in Standard I.

3. ADDITIONAL SUBJECTS.

Knowledge of Subject-matter of Reading Lessons.

Repetition of Verses.—Syllabus showing progress.

Singing.—Songs as before; the places of the notes on the stave, or the symbol used for each note in the notation adopted; to sing the major diatonic scale and the successive notes of the common chord in all keys.

Needlework and Drill.—See Regulations 22 and 12.

STANDARD III.

1. PASS-SUBJECTS.

Reading.—Easy reading book, to be read fluently and intelligently, with knowledge of the meanings of the words, and with due regard to the distinction of paragraphs as well as of sentences.

Spelling.—From the same book; knowledge of words having the same or nearly the same sound, but differing in meaning; dictation of easy sentences from the reading-book of a lower standard.

Writing.—Longer words and sentences, not larger than round-hand; transcription from the reading-book of Standard III., with due regard to punctuation and quotation marks.

Arithmetic.—Numeration and notation generally (one billion being taken as the second power of one million, one trillion the third power, and so on); long multiplication and long division; the four money rules, excepting long multiplication of money; tables of money, avoirdupois weight, and long measure; and easy money problems in mental arithmetic.

Grammar and Composition.—The distinguishing of the nouns, verbs, adjectives, articles, and pronouns in easy sentences; and very simple exercises in composition, to test the pupil's power of putting his own thoughts on familiar subjects into words. The more difficult pronouns (as the indefinite and distributive) are not to be used as tests of knowledge in this standard, but the children should be able to recognise as a pronoun any personal, possessive, or demonstrative pronoun, whether used as a substantive or as an adjective.

Geography.—The names and positions of the chief towns of New Zealand; the principal features of the district in which the school is situated; names and positions of Australian Colonies and their capitals; of the countries and capitals of Europe; of mountains forming the watersheds of continental areas; and of celebrated rivers.

Drawing.—As defined in Regulation 18, but not to be required before the 1st January, 1888.

2. CLASS-SUBJECTS.

Drawing.—As defined in Regulation 18, but not to be a class-subject after the 31st December, 1887.

English History.—Knowledge of the chronological order in which the following periods stand: Roman, Saxon, Norman, Plantagenet, Tudor, Stuart, Brunswick; and of a few of the most striking facts and incidents illustrating the life of the several periods. The selection of facts and incidents will be left to the teacher; and the Inspector will adapt the examination as far as possible to the teacher's programme of lessons or other indication of the work done.

Knowledge of Common Things.—A syllabus as for object-lessons in the former standards.

3. ADDITIONAL SUBJECTS.

The Subject-matter of the Reading Lessons.

Repetition of Verses.—Syllabus showing progress.

Singing.—Easy exercises on the common chord and the interval of a second, in common time and in  $\frac{2}{4}$  time, not involving the use of dotted notes; use of the signs p., f., cres., dim., rall., and their equivalents; songs as before, or in common with the upper part of the school.

Needlework and Drill.—See Regulations 22 and 12.

STANDARD IV.

1. PASS-SUBJECTS.

Reading and Definition.—An easy book of prose and verse.

Spelling and Dictation suited to this stage, as represented by the reading book in use; the dictation to exhibit a knowledge of the use of capitals and punctuation, but (at inspection) to be confined to prose.

Writing.—Good copies in a hand not larger than round-hand, and transcription of poetry.

Arithmetic.—Long multiplication of money; reduction of money, weights, and measures; the compound rules applied to problems in weights and measures; practice, and the making out of bills of accounts and receipts; tables of money, weights, and measures; mental arithmetic to correspond. The weights and measures for this standard are: avoirdupois weight, troy weight, long measure, square measure, measures of capacity and time, and angular measure.

Grammar and Composition.—The distinguishing of all the parts of speech in easy sentences; the inflexions of the noun, adjective, and pronoun; letter-writing on prescribed subjects; the addressing of letters and envelopes.

Drawing.—As defined in Regulation 18, but not to be required before the 1st January, 1889.

2. CLASS-SUBJECTS.

Drawing.—As defined in Regulation 18, but not to be a class-subject after the 31st December, 1888.

Geography.—Names and positions of the countries of the world, with their capitals, and of the principal seas, gulfs, mountains, rivers, lakes, capes, straits, islands, and peninsulas on the map of the world; geography of Australia in outline; and the drawing of rough maps of New Zealand, with such one set of principal features (as capes, or towns, or rivers) as the Inspector may require. [In this and the subsequent standards, scholars will be expected to know the situation of places mentioned in their reading-books.]

English History.—The succession of Houses and Sovereigns from 1066 A.D. to 1485 A.D., and the leading events of the period known in connection with the reigns and centuries to which they belong, and in their own character. [Precise dates will not be required, though a knowledge of them may assist in referring each event to the proper reign.]

Elementary Science.—As prescribed in Regulation 19.

3. ADDITIONAL SUBJECTS.

Recitation.—A list of pieces learnt, and one piece (or more) specially prepared for the examination.

Singing.—Easy exercise on the chords of the dominant and sub-dominant, and in the intervals prescribed for Standard III.; exercises in triple time; use of dotted notes; melodies, rounds, and part songs in common with the higher standards. [Note.—It will suffice if this class take the air of the songs, while the other parts are sung by the more advanced classes, and it may be useful to let older scholars lead the parts in a round.]

Needlework and Drill.—See Regulations 22 and 12.

Extra Drawing.—See Regulation 18.

STANDARD V.

1. PASS-SUBJECTS.

Reading and Definition.—A book of general information, not necessarily excluding matter such as that prescribed for Standard IV.

Spelling and Dictation suited to this stage.

Writing.—Small-hand copies in a strict formal style, and text hand; transcription of verse in complicated metres, and of prose exhibiting the niceties of punctuation.

Arithmetic.—Proportion; simple interest; the easier cases of vulgar fractions, and problems involving them; mental arithmetic.

Grammar and Composition.—Inflexions of the verb; the parsing (with inflexions) of all the words in any easy sentence; a short essay or letter on a familiar subject, or the rendering of the sense of a passage of easy verse into good prose; analysis of a simple sentence.

Geography.—Names and positions of places of political, historical, and commercial importance in New Zealand, in Great Britain and Ireland, and on the European Continent; and the drawing of outline maps of New Zealand, Great Britain, and Ireland. Physical Geography: Distribution of land and water; mountain and river systems. Mathematical Geography: The form of the earth, day and night, the seasons, the zones, meridians, and parallels, and climate in this connection.

Drawing.—As defined in Regulation 18, but not to be required before the 1st January, 1890.

2. CLASS-SUBJECTS.

Drawing.—As defined in Regulation 18, but not to be a class-subject after the 31st December, 1889.

English History.—The period from 1485 A.D. to 1714 A.D. treated as the former period is treated in Standard IV.

Elementary Science.—See Regulation 19.

3. ADDITIONAL SUBJECTS.

Recitation.—Of a higher order than for Standard IV.

Singing.—More difficult exercises in time and tune; strict attention to expression marks.

Needlework and Drill.—See Regulations 22 and 12.

Extra Drawing.—See Regulation 19.

STANDARD VI.

1. PASS-SUBJECTS.

Reading.—A book containing extracts from general literature.

Spelling and Dictation suited to this stage.

Writing.—The copying of tabulated matter, showing bold head-lines, and marking distinctions, such as in letterpress require varieties of type (e.g., the copying of these printed standards, or of a catalogue showing division into groups).

Arithmetic.—Vulgar and decimal fractions; interest and other commercial rules, such as discount, stocks, partnership, and exchange; the metric system of weights and measures, and calculations with pound, florin, cent, and mil; square root, and simple cases of mensuration of surfaces; mental arithmetic generally.

Grammar and Composition.—Complete parsing (including syntax) of simple and compound sentences; prefixes and affixes, and a few of the more important Latin and Greek roots, illustrated by a part of the reading-book; essay or letter; analysis of easy complex sentences.

Geography.—Names and positions of places of political, historical, and commercial importance in Asia, North America, and the British possessions. Physical Geography: Atmospheric phenomena, winds, rain, ice; climate as affected by mountain, plain, and sea; distribution of the animals and plants of greatest value to man.

Drawing.—As defined in Regulation 18, but not to be required before the 1st January, 1891.

2. CLASS-SUBJECTS.

Drawing.—As defined in Regulation 18, but not to be a class-subject after the 31st December, 1890.

English History.—The succession of Houses and Sovereigns, and the leading events of each reign, from 1485 A.D. to the present (precise dates not required); also the elements of social economy, that is to say, very elementary knowledge of such subjects as government, law, citizenship, labour, capital, money, and banking.

Elementary Science.—See Regulation 19.

3. ADDITIONAL SUBJECTS.

Recitation.—As for Standard V.

Singing.—As for Standard V.

Needlework and Drill.—See Regulations 22 and 12.

Extra Drawing.—See Regulation 18.

17. In any one year Classes S4 and S5 may be taught and examined together in the history prescribed for Standard V., but, in that case, in the next year S4 and S5 must be taught and examined in the history prescribed for Standard IV. Similarly in any year S4 may be taught and examined, with S5 in the geography prescribed for Standard V., except that S4 will not have to pass in mathematical and physical geography, nor to draw other maps than those prescribed for Standard IV.; but, in that case, in the next year S5 must substitute, for geography of New Zealand, Great Britain, and the European Continent, the general geography of the world and Australia prescribed for Standard IV.

18. The drawing required as a pass-subject or temporarily as a class-subject for the several standards shall be as follows:—

Standard I. Straight lines of different lengths and in different positions, such lines joined at different angles, and connected to form simple figures and designs. This work is to be done without ruler.

Standard II. Similar work of a more advanced character.

Standard III. Freehand drawing of regular forms and curved figures from the flat.

Standard IV. Freehand drawing from the flat, and from simple rectangular and circular models. Drawing to scale. Simple geometrical figures with rulers and instruments.

Standard V. The same as IV., with the addition of easy common objects. Plans and elevations of plane figures and rectangular solids in simple positions. Simple scales.

Standard VI. The same as V., but of greater difficulty and including sections.

The series of drawing-books issued by authority of the Minister of Education show the kind of work required by this regulation.

[Note.—The pupils should be taught as early as possible to draw from actual objects, such as the doors, windows, furniture, and apparatus of the schoolroom.]

Drawing may be taught as an "additional subject" for any standard higher than Standard III. Such drawing for any standard may be the drawing prescribed for a higher standard, or some drawing not prescribed as a pass-subject.

19. The instruction in elementary science for Standards IV., V., and VI. shall be based on a programme, which shall be prepared by the head-teacher, to show the distribution of the subject over a three-years' course of lessons. The programme must include such elementary knowledge of physics and such a conception of chemical action as may be imparted by the proper use of Professor Bickerton's "Materials for Lessons in Elementary Science," and must also include instruction in elementary mechanics, or in such elementary physiology as may be learnt from Mrs. Buckton's "Health in the House," or in botany, or some other subject recognised by the Inspector as equivalent to one of these: provided, however, that, if agricultural chemistry be efficiently taught, no other elementary science shall be required for these standards.

20. The object-lessons, and lessons on natural history, manufactures, and common things, for Standards I., II., and III., are intended as an introduction to the elementary-science lessons for the higher standards. Classes S1 and S2, or S1, S2, and S3, may be taught and examined together in these subjects if the programme of lessons is varied from year to year so that on the whole the work prescribed for two or three classes shall be done in two or three years as the case may be; or S3 may be instructed in elementary science with any higher class, and even S1 and S2 may, instead of receiving lessons on objects, &c., be instructed in the elementary science prescribed for the higher standards, if the instruction in elementary science is oral, illustrative, and experimental, and is, in the teacher's judgment, adapted to the capacity of the lower classes and fitted to promote the development of their faculties.

21. Any order of instruction in singing other than that prescribed in the standards will be recognised as of equivalent value if the result be good singing, sufficient theoretical knowledge, and careful training of the lower classes as well as the higher.

22. All the girls in any public school in which there is a mistress or assistant mistress shall learn needlework, and, if the Inspector is satisfied that the instruction in this subject is thoroughly systematic and efficient, he may judge all other work done by the girls more leniently than that done by the boys in such a degree as would be implied in reducing by 10 per cent. the minimum marks required for any examination pass. To secure full approval, the needlework of the several classes must be according to the following programme:—

S1. Threading needles and hemming. (Illustration of work: Strips of calico or a plain pocket-handkerchief.)

S2. The foregoing, and felling, and fixing a hem. (Illustration: A child's pinafore.)

S3. The foregoing and stitching, sewing on strings, and fixing all work up to this stage. (A pillow-case, or woman's plain shift, without bands or gathers.)

S4. The foregoing and button-holing, sewing on buttons, stroking, setting in gathers, plain darning and fixing. (A plain day- or night-shirt.)

S5. The foregoing, and whipping, a tuck run, sewing on frill, and gathering. (A night-dress with frills.)

S6. Cutting out any plain garment and fixing it for a junior class; darning stockings (fine and coarse) in worsted or cotton; grafting; darning fine linen or calico; patching the same; darning and patching fine diaper.

If knitting is learnt it shall be in the following order: A strip of plain knitting; knitted muffatees, ribbed; a plain-knitted child's sock; a long-ribbed stocking.

23. In case of any misunderstanding arising as to the meaning of any part of these regulations, the Minister of Education may declare what is to be taken as the meaning, and his interpretation shall be binding upon all persons to whom it is communicated, and shall, if declared by publication in the New Zealand Gazette, have equal force with these regulations.

24. Standard IV. as defined in these regulations shall be the standard of education prescribed under "The Education Act, 1877," section 90, subsection (4).

V.—SCHOOL BOOKS.

1. Subject to such restrictions as the Education Board of any district may impose, any books described in the following list may be used in any public school:—

Reading.—Nelson's Royal Readers and Sequels; Chambers's English Readers and Graduated Readers; Macmillan's Readers, Globe Readers, and Shorter Globe Readers; Blackie's Graded Readers; Longman's New Readers; Palgrave's Children's Treasury of English Song (Macmillan); Blackwood's School Recitation Books; Yonge's Book of Golden Deeds (Macmillan); Richardson's Temperance Lesson Book; First Steps to Temperance (National Temperance Publication Dépôt, London); Pope's Native School Reader (Government Printer).

Writing.—Vere Foster's, Darnell's, and Marcus Ward's Copy Books, and the Public School Copy Books.

Arithmetic.—Colenso's Shilling Arithmetic, School Arithmetic, and Examples; Chambers's Arithmetic, and Examples; Nelson's Royal Series; Barnard Smith's Shilling Arithmetic, and School Arithmetic; Hamblin Smith's Arithmetic; Blackie's Comprehensive Arithmetic; Goyen's Complete Arithmetic for Standard III., Problems for Standard III., and Exercises in Compound Rules (Wise, Dunedin); Lee's Arithmetic for Standard I. (Hughes, Wellington).

Grammar and Composition.—Abbott's How to Tell the Parts of Speech, and How to Write Clearly; Allen and Cornwell's English Grammar, and Grammar for Beginners; Bain's Smaller Grammar; Chambers's Introduction to Composition; Hall's Primary Grammar; Mason's Grammars; Meiklejohn's Standard Grammar (Chambers); Morell's English Grammar; Morris's Primer (Macmillan); Morrison's English Grammar, Initiatory Grammar, and First Book of Composition; Nichols' Composition Primer (Macmillan); Park's Composition (Coulls and Culling, Dunedin); Smith and Hall's English Grammar; Trotter's English Grammar (Collins).

Geography.—Marcus Ward's Child's Geography; Blakiston's Glimpses of the Globe (Griffith and Farran); Longman's School Geography (by G. C. Chisholm); Nelson's, Blackie's, Blackwood's, and Longman's Geographical Readers; Mackay's Outlines, and Intermediate Geography, and Elements; Cornwell's School Geography, and Geography for Beginners; Petrie's First Geography, and New Zealand Geography (Wise, Dunedin); Mason's New Zealand and Oceania (Upton, Auckland); Bowden's New Zealand Geographies; Patterson's New Zealand and Australia (Whitcombe and Tombs, Christchurch); Hill's Geography for New Zealand Standards II., III., IV. (Whitcombe and Tombs); Proctor's Elementary Physical Geography (1s. 6d., Longman); Hughes's Geographies.

History, &c.—Miss Bourke's Little History of New Zealand (Robertson, Melbourne); Wallace's Manual of New Zealand History (J. H. Wallace, Junr., Wellington); Chambers's Historical Readers; Nelson's Pictures of English History; Nelson's "The Royal Story Book of English History"; Blackwood's Historical Readers, and Short Stories; Smith's Primary History; Petrie's History for Standard III.; Gardiner's Outline of English History; the Shilling History of England (introductory to "Epochs"); Collier's History of the British Empire; Edith Thomson's History of England; Mrs. Fawcett's Lessons in Political Economy, and Tales in Political Economy; Pope's "The State" (Government Printer); National Society's Political Economy Reading Book.

Science and Domestic Economy.—Berners's First Lessons on Health; Buckton's Health in the House; Huxley's Physiography; Johnston's Catechism of Agricultural Chemistry; Tanner's Alphabet of Agriculture, and First Principles, and Further Steps (Macmillan); Nelson's Science of Home Life (3 volumes in "Royal" Series); Questions and Answers upon Ambulance Work (Baillière and Co., London).

Drawing.—The Colonial Drawing Book (Simpson, Christchurch), issued by authority; "Drawing Book for Standard I," and "Drawing Book for Standard II" (Lyon and Blair, Wellington), by authority; Hutton's New Zealand Drawing Book (Horsburgh, Dunedin); Seager's Art Drawing Books (Whitcombe and Tombs, Christchurch).

Singing.—Crampton's 24 School Songs; Curwen's Standard Course, and Blackbird, and his other Tonic Sol-fa publications; Child's Garland of Action Songs ; Gill's Movement Plays, and Calisthenic Song Book ; Philips's Action Songs ; Stimpson's Singing Class Book.

2. The Minister may, on the application of the Education Board of any district, grant authority for the use in such district of any book not contained in the foregoing list.

VI.—TEACHERS' CERTIFICATES.

1. There shall be five classes of certificates, distinguished (from the highest to the lowest) by the letters A, B, C, D, E.

2. In each class there shall be five divisions, distinguished (from the highest to the lowest) by the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

3. The class for which a certificate is granted shall depend upon attainments in learning as proved by examination ; the division in the class upon experience and practical skill in the art of teaching and of school management.

4. The relative values of certificates shall depend in equal degree upon attainments in learning and upon practical skill, as indicated in the sub-joined scale, in which the letter and number denoting any one certificate stand opposite to the letter and number which in any other column denote a certificate of equal value.

SCALE OF COMPARATIVE VALUES.

A1	...	...	...	...	1st Rank.
A2	B1	...	...	...	2nd "
A3	B2	C1	...	...	3rd "
A4	B3	C2	D1	...	4th "
A5	B4	C3	D2	E1	5th "
	B5	C4	D3	E2	6th "
		C5	D4	E3	7th "
			D5	E4	8th "
				E5	9th "

5. A certificate shall not be granted to any candidate who has not given proof of having been regularly engaged in teaching for at least two years in a public school or schools, or in some school or schools subject to Government inspection, in New Zealand or elsewhere ; provided that the Minister of Education may estimate a period spent in teaching in other schools than those described in this regulation as equal to a shorter period of service in a public school ; and that a period spent in a normal school by a student in training shall be regarded as equivalent to an equal time spent in teaching.

6. A certificate shall not be granted to any candidate until an Inspector of Schools has testified to the candidate's practical efficiency, by awarding at least two marks, according to the scale of marks defined in Regulation 19.

7. A certificate granted to a candidate under the age of twenty-one years shall be a provisional certificate, which may be exchanged for an ordinary certificate when the candidate has reached the age of twenty-one.

8. A certificate shall not be granted to any person who does not produce sufficient evidence of good moral character and of freedom from all such physical defects as are incompatible with efficiency in teaching, and in the management of a school, nor shall any person be admitted to examination under these regulations without producing such evidence.

9. A certificate shall not be granted except after examination held in accordance with these regulations, or after proof of the passing of an equivalent examination held by some sufficient public authority ; provided that a partially equivalent examination may be recognised pro tanto, and supplemented by such further examination as the Minister of Education may order, and that the Minister shall be the judge of the value to be assigned to examinations proposed for acceptance as equivalent or partially equivalent.

10. A candidate who has served four years as a pupil-teacher, or has been a student in a teachers' training-college for one year, may be examined without regard to age ; but, with this exception, every candidate for examination must give evidence of having reached the age of nineteen years, and, with the same exception, every candidate relying on an equivalent examination must give evidence of having reached the age of nineteen years before the time of such examination.

11. The examination for Class E shall include the following subjects :—
Reading, writing, spelling, English grammar and composition (including punctuation), arithmetic, geography, English history, elementary science (as hereinafter defined), vocal music, drawing, and the art of teaching and school management.

Women shall be examined also in needlework, and, in consideration of this addition to their list of subjects, will be allowed to substitute the laws of health and domestic economy for elementary science if they choose to do so. They will also be permitted to pass in arithmetic on somewhat easier terms than men.

The papers for this class, with the exception of the papers on the art of teaching and school management and in elementary science and domestic economy, will be based generally on the programme of public school standard work; but, as compared with papers set for examination in standards, will be so much more difficult as the comparative maturity of the persons examined renders reasonable and proper.

Geography will include the form and motions of the earth; the phenomena of day and night and of the seasons; the real significance of the polar circle, tropics, and equator; the most elementary parts of physical geography; the general topography and political geography of the world (without minute detail); and map drawing, from memory, of the hemispheres, the Continents, Great Britain and Ireland, and New Zealand.

In English history a fair knowledge of the period from 1603 to 1837 will be required; and a cursory knowledge of the chief events prior to 1603.

12. The examination for Class E in elementary science will be based upon the following programme:—

Fundamental Ideas of Matter and Energy.—Three states of matter—Mass—Inertia—Force—Momentum—Acceleration—Energy—“Centrifugal Force.”

Conditions of Matter.—Compactness—Porosity—Hardness—Brittleness—Toughness—Malleability—Ductility—Tenacity—Flexibility—Elasticity—Compressibility—Viscosity—Liquidity—The Gaseous State—Diffusion—Solution—Crystallisation.

Gravitation.—Weight—Density—Specific Gravity—Flotation—Balloon—Pressure of Liquid Column—Level—Pressure of Air—Barometer—Pump—Syphon—Diving-bell—Falling Bodies—Work—Laws of Gravitation.

Mechanical Powers.—Lever—Wheel and Axle—Pulley—Inclined Plane—Screw.

Sound.—Echo—Waves—Velocity—Pitch—Resonance—Interference.

Light.—Propagation—Velocity—Reflection—Looking-glass—Refraction—Lenses—Prism and Colour.

Heat.—Production—Measurement of Temperature and Quantity—Expansion—Winds—Conduction—Convection—Steam—Latent Heat—Evaporation—Distillation—Radiation.

Magnetism.—Properties of Magnets—Induction—Mariner's Compass.

Electricity.—Development of Frictional Electricity—Attraction—Repulsion—Induction—Conduction—Insulation—Distribution—Lightning-conductors—Electric Machines—Simple ways of producing a Galvanic Current—Conductors—Resistance—Heat—Electro-magnets—Magnetoelectricity—Simple Telegraphs—Telephones—Electric Lights—Chemical Decomposition.

Chemistry.—Mixtures and Compounds—Combination and Decomposition—Elements and Compounds—Affinity—The Air—Burning—The preparation, elementary properties and simpler compounds of Oxygen, Hydrogen, and Nitrogen—Atoms and Molecules—Chief properties of Carbon, Sulphur, Phosphorus, and Chlorine—Oxidisation and Reduction—Flame—Acids, bases and salts—Preparation and properties of Nitric and Hydrochloric Acids—Properties of Sulphuric Acid.

Physiology and Health.—Organized matter—Animals contrasted with plants—Composition and nutrition of plants—Composition and general form of the human body—Positions and functions of the internal organs—Alimentation—The Blood—Circulation—Respiration—Functions of the Skin—Animal heat—The Ear—The Eye—Ventilation—Cleanliness in person, home, and surroundings—Drainage—Temperance—Food—Clothing.

13. The examination for Class D shall include, in the first place, the following subjects as they are defined in Regulation 11: Reading, writing, vocal music, drawing, and the art of teaching and school management, and (for women only) needlework. Any candidate for Class D who has passed for Class E will be exempt from examination in these subjects.

In the next place, the examination for Class D shall include English grammar (with spelling, composition, and punctuation), arithmetic, geography, and English history, and the papers in these subjects shall be more difficult than those set for Class E.

The examination for Class D shall also include elementary experimental science, the programme being the same as that prescribed for elementary science for Class E, but the treatment different. The questions set will demand a knowledge of simple experiments adapted to the illustration of the several parts of the programme. A list of experiments will be supplied to candidates who apply for it to the Inspector-General of Schools.

The examination for Class D shall include, lastly, two subjects chosen by the candidate from the following list: Latin, Greek, French, German or Italian, algebra, Euclid, elementary mechanics, elementary physics, elementary chemistry, elementary biology. The scope of the examination in these subjects will be as follows. In languages: Translation at sight from and into the language chosen by the candidate, and questions in the grammar of the language. Algebra: To simple equations, inclusive, with easy problems. Euclid: Books I. and II. Elementary mechanics: The elements of statics, dynamics, and hydrostatics. Elementary physics: Heat, sound, light, and electricity. Elementary chemistry: The non-metallic elements and the atomic theory. Elementary biology: Elements of animal physiology; or, elements of the morphology and physiology of flowering plants, including the main characteristics of the chief native and introduced natural orders: the paper will contain questions on both branches (zoology and botany), but a candidate will not be required to answer questions in both. Any candidate for Class D who has passed the matriculation examination or the Junior Scholarship Examination of the New Zealand University, being at the time of passing of the age required by Regulation 10 or otherwise qualified as that regulation requires, may be excused from examination for Class D in those subjects in which, at the Matriculation or Junior Scholarship Examination, he obtained such marks as in the judgment of the Minister of Education afford evidence of sufficient knowledge of the subjects.

14. A candidate for Class C shall be required to pass the first section of the examination for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts in the University of New Zealand; and also (unless he has already passed for Class D) to pass the whole of the examination for Class D, with the exception of the two optional subjects. (A candidate may pass the required University examination without being an undergraduate of the University.)

15. Subject to the operation of Regulations 5, 6, 7, and 8, Bachelors of Arts of the University of New Zealand may be admitted to Class B without examination.

16. Subject to the operation of Regulations 5, 6, 7, and 8, graduates of the University of New Zealand, in first- or second-class honours, may be admitted to Class A without examination.

17. An examination for the two Classes D and E, and, if necessary, for higher classes also, shall be held every year in the month of January, and shall begin not earlier than the seventh day and end not later than the seventeenth day of the month; and no candidate shall be admitted to the examination who does not give notice by the thirty-first day of October next before the examination, in a form to be provided for that purpose by the Minister of Education, and send with such notice a bank receipt for the sum of one pound sterling paid to the credit of the Public Account at some branch of the bank at which the Public Account is kept: Provided that a candidate in whose favour partial success has been recorded under Regulation 9 or Regulation 18 shall not be required to pay a fee for examination in a subject or subjects for the mere completion of the work of a former examination; and that the holder of a provisional certificate shall not be required to pay a fee for examination in the subject or subjects on account of which the certificate was made provisional.

18. A candidate whose work at any examination is good on the whole, but in one or two subjects is below the required standard, may be registered as having achieved partial success at the examination; and, on giving notice as required by Regulation 17, may, at the next examination, sit without payment of fee, to be examined only in such one or two subjects; and such candidate, if successful in such subject or subjects, shall be deemed to have passed the examination.

19. The class for which a certificate is granted being determined by examination, the division within the class shall depend—first, on the number of years during which the teacher has been actually engaged in school-teaching, one mark being assigned for two years' service, two marks for five years, three marks for eight years, four marks for eleven years, and five marks for fourteen years and upwards; and, second, on the judgment of an Inspector, such judgment being expressed by marks numbering 2, 4, 6, 8, or 10, according to the Inspector's estimate of less or greater efficiency; and the marks of both series being added, 14 marks shall qualify for the first division, 11 marks for the second, 8 marks for the third, 5 marks for the fourth, and 3 marks for the fifth. In assigning marks for efficiency, the Inspector will use the number 2 as a substitute for the lowest, and the number 10 as a substitute for the highest term in a series of terms beginning with "tolerable," and ending with "excellent;" and an Inspector may put 0 in place of a number to indicate that he considers the candidate to be incompetent. Marks for efficiency can be given only by the Inspector in whose district the teacher is at work, except that the Inspector-General of Schools may assign marks for efficiency not exceeding four to teachers whose practical skill is sufficiently attested by certificates granted by authorities acting outside of the Colony of New Zealand, and may also assign marks to teachers in schools subject to his inspection, and not under the control of any Education Board. On the thirtieth day of June in each year teachers who by length of service or upon a more favourable judgment expressed by the Inspector before the thirty-first day of May, shall have become entitled to promotion to a higher division, shall receive such promotion.

20. A candidate who does not fall far short of the requirements for a certificate, may, if of the age of twenty-one years and qualified by such experience as is required by Regulation 5 in the case of a candidate for a certificate, receive from the Minister of Education a license to teach, which license shall be in force for two years only from the date at which it is issued, but may, at the discretion of the Minister, be renewed from time to time, and while it is in force shall have the force of a certificate.

21. Provisional certificates granted under any regulation hereby repealed shall continue in force under these regulations.

22. The Minister of Education may, on application being made to him by any Education Board, grant to any person who shall have served as pupil-teacher under such Board for a term of three years or more, and who shall have passed the final examination of the pupil-teachers' course as prescribed by such Board, a district license tenable for two years from the date at which the aforesaid final examination was passed, and during such two years such district license shall, within the education district of the Board by which such application shall have been made, have the force of a certificate granted under "The Education Act, 1877."

23. At any examination of candidates for teachers' certificates, pupil-teachers in the service of any Education Board may present themselves for examination in drawing. Of four divisions of the subject—viz., (1) freehand, (2) geometrical, (3) perspective, and (4) model drawing, they may take up any one or more at one examination, or at successive examinations, and in any order; and their success in one or more of the four divisions will render them so far exempt from examination in drawing when they become candidates for certificates.

24. At every annual examination three prizes, of £5, £3, and £1 respectively, will be awarded in order of merit to the three candidates who are most highly commended by the examiner in drawing. The prizes will be awarded without regard to the classes for which the winners are candidates.

25. At every examination in elementary experimental science for Class D, three prizes, of £5, £3, and £1 respectively, will be awarded in order of merit to the three most proficient candidates, and teachers who hold certificates of Class E, or who have passed the examination for that class, may compete for these prizes on condition of giving notice before the thirty-first day of October, and without paying a fee.

26. With the report of every examination for Classes D and E lists will be published containing the names of candidates who pass in any subject well enough to deserve special mention.

27. In the month of June, in each year, a list of teachers holding certificates and licenses shall be issued by the Minister of Education, and such list shall set forth, in every case of promotion to a higher class or division, the reason of such promotion; and after the publication of such list every teacher who has been so promoted shall be entitled, upon making due application to the Minister, to have a record of his promotion indorsed upon his certificate.

28. The Minister of Education shall have power to cancel any certificate or license to teach if the holder of such certificate or license shall at any time be proved guilty of immoral conduct, or gross misbehaviour, within the meaning of "The Education Act, 1877," or of any subsequent Act.

VII.—PUPIL-TEACHERS.

1. Subject to the provisions of these regulations, the Board of each education district shall make its own regulations for the employment, maintenance, education, and examination of pupil-teachers, and shall submit such regulations to the Minister of Education, and such regulations shall, upon receiving his approval, come into operation, and shall not be altered or amended without his authority.

2. Any agreement already entered into between any Board and any pupil-teacher, and in force at the date hereof, shall not be affected by these regulations, or by such regulation as any Board shall hereafter make in pursuance of these regulations.

3. The regulations to be made by any Board shall include provisions to the effect that a young person of either sex, to be eligible for appointment as a pupil-teacher, must be at least thirteen years of age, of good character, of good constitution, and free from any bodily or other defect or infirmity detrimental to usefulness or efficiency as a teacher, and must have passed the examination prescribed for the Fifth Standard.

4. The regulations to be made by any Board shall also deal with the matters following:—

The nature of the agreement with pupil-teachers, whether indenture of apprenticeship or otherwise.

The term of service, and the number of hours to be spent each day in teaching.

The rate of pay.

The number of hours which head-teachers shall devote to the instruction of pupil-teachers, and the remuneration for the same.

The programme of annual examinations.

5. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in these regulations or in the regulations made by any Education Board, a Board may appoint any matriculated student of any University who is of suitable character, of good health, and free from defect and infirmity detrimental to usefulness or efficiency as a teacher, to be a pupil-teacher with position and emolument equal to those of a third-year pupil-teacher, and under agreement to serve a second year as a fourth-year pupil-teacher, or under such agreement, with further agreement to serve a third year as a fifth-year pupil-teacher.

6. The Education Department will supply short examination-papers (each for the work of an hour and a half) on composition, drawing, elementary science, school method, arithmetic, grammar, geography, history, and the optional subjects, to Boards that adopt the following scheme of examination for pupil-teachers, and that hold the examination between the 15th and 20th of December:—

- (a) For pupil-teachers of the first and second years. In one year—Parsing and analysis of simple sentences, and of easy complex sentences; and, in geography, the form and motions of the earth, the phenomena of day and night and of the seasons, the real significance of the polar circles, the tropics and the equator, and the most elementary parts of physical geography: and in the alternate year—reduction, and vulgar and decimal fractions; and history, so far as to show ability to give instruction in it to a third-standard class.

In any year this part of the examination will be the same for candidates of the first year as for those of the second year.

- (b) For pupil-teachers of the third and fourth years. In one year—Parsing and analysis generally and the derivation of words; and general topography, not including a knowledge of obscure and unimportant places: and in the alternate year—arithmetic as a whole; and the history of England in simple outline.

In any year this part of the examination will be the same for candidates of the third year as for those of the fourth.

- (c) For all pupil-teachers every year.—Reading, recitation, spelling, writing, and composition, together with one text-book of school method (four books in four years), one of the four branches of drawing (freehand, geometrical, model, perspective), and one of the four parts into which the elementary science examination for Class E is hereinafter divided.

In any year all the pupil-teachers will be examined together in the same text-book of school-method, the same branch of drawing, and the same part of the elementary science examination, and due notice will be given of the special work for the year.

The elementary science will be divided as follows:—Part I.: Fundamental ideas of matter and motion, conditions of matter, gravitation, mechanical powers. Part II.: Sound, light, heat, magnetism. Part III.: Electricity, chemistry. Part IV.: Physiology and health.

Candidates may be excused from drawing at this examination, if they attend the drawing examination for Class E every year for one branch of the subject.

- (d) In any year any pupil-teacher may take up one of the subjects named as optional for Class D.

- (e) Fifth-year pupil-teachers will be expected to present themselves at the examination for teachers' certificates.

VIII.—NORMAL SCHOOLS.

1. The Education Board of any district in which any normal school or training college is situated shall have the entire control and management of such school or college, subject to the provisions hereinafter made.

2. Every normal school or training college shall be so organized as to afford to persons of both sexes intending to become teachers in public schools the means of acquiring sufficient knowledge of the subjects which they will afterwards be required to teach, and of theories of education and methods of teaching, and also to afford to such persons sufficient opportunity of practising the art of teaching.

3. The terms of admission to any normal school or training college shall be such as to make no distinction between applicants residing within the bounds of the education district in which such institution is situate and applicants residing in an education district where there is no such institution.

4. In the arrangement of the plan of study in any normal school or training college regard shall be had to the opportunities of instruction offered to the students in such school or college by means of lectures in any neighbouring institution affiliated to the University of New Zealand.

5. Any Education Board having the control of a normal school or training college may establish or maintain, in connection with such school or college, a public school to be used as a practising school, and a practising school so established or maintained shall not be subject to the control of the School Committee of the school district in which it is situate; or, the Board may agree with the Committee of any school district for the use of any public school within such district as a practising school, subject to such conditions as may be agreed upon with regard to the relations which shall in that case subsist between the principal officer of the training college and the head master of the public school.

6. In every normal school the time-table shall be so constructed as to allow each student to spend five hours a week, or so much time in the year as shall be equal to five hours a week for the year, in the actual work of teaching, and it shall be the duty of the principal officer of the normal school to see that each student actually spends in the practice of teaching the amount of time so allowed.

7. Every Education Board having the control of a normal school or training college shall frame regulations for the organization and conduct of the institution, and shall submit such regulations to the Minister of Education; and upon receiving his approval such regulations shall come into force, and shall not be altered or amended without his authority. Such regulations shall relate to the matters following:—

The number, status, salaries, and duties of the officers of the training college;

The terms of admission to the college;

The time during which each student will be required or allowed to continue at the college;

The subjects of study, and the time allotted to each (approximately);

The arrangements for employing students in the actual work of teaching, and the proportion of time spent in such work;

The relations of the training college and of its officer or officers to the practising school;

The organization of the practising school.

IX.—SCHOLARSHIPS.

1. The Education Board of any district may make regulations under which scholarships such as are described in "The Education Act, 1877," section fifty-one, may be competed for and held; but such regulations shall not come into operation until they shall have been submitted to the Minister of Education, and shall have been approved of by him.

2. No regulations shall be approved of by the Minister unless they set forth—

(a.) Whether the scholarships are open to all children of school age, or are to be competed for by pupils attending public schools only (see section fifty-one of "Education Act, 1877");

(b.) Any other conditions of candidature (for example, as to age);

(c.) The annual value of each scholarship, the term for which it is to be held, and the conditions of tenure (as to good conduct and diligence);

- (d.) The subjects of examination;
- (e.) The minimum proportion of marks in each subject, and of total possible marks, which will be necessary to qualify for a scholarship.

X.—DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL FEES.

1. At District High Schools the fees payable for higher education, within the meaning of section 56 of "The Education Act, 1877," shall be eight guineas a year in the Education District of Auckland; ten pounds a year in the Education District of Grey; ten shillings a quarter in the Education District of Otago; one pound a quarter for one subject alone, and ten shillings a quarter added for each additional subject, in the Education District of Wellington; ten shillings a quarter for two subjects, and five shillings a quarter for every additional subject, in the Education District of Marlborough; ten shillings a quarter for one subject alone, twelve shillings and sixpence a quarter for two subjects, or fifteen shillings a quarter for three subjects, in the Education District of South Canterbury; ten shillings a quarter for one subject alone, and five shillings a quarter for every additional subject, in the Education District of Southland.

FORSTER GORING,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

Teachers holding Certificates or Licenses under "The Education Act, 1877."

Education Department,
Wellington, 30th June, 1887.

THE following list of teachers is issued in accordance with the sixteenth section of an Order in Council dated the 24th September, 1878. In the column setting forth the reasons of the promotion of certain teachers, the letter M stands for Inspector's marks, the letter S for length of service, and the letter E for examination. An asterisk denotes that a certificate is provisional, or that the issue of the certificate is deferred.

In every case in which the Department possesses sufficient knowledge as to the present engagement of a teacher in the service of a Board the name of the Board is inserted in the list. Any teacher whose engagement is not correctly indicated would do well to communicate with the Inspector-General of Schools.

The annual examination for certificates is in future to be held between the 7th and the 17th days of January, and candidates must give notice of their wish to be examined not later than the 31st day of October immediately before the examination.

ROBERT STOUT.
