Spanish Royal Order respecting the Application of the New Spanish Tariff to British Possessions.

Department of Trade and Customs,

Wellington, 16th March, 1893.

THE following translation of a Spanish Royal Order is published for general information.

R. J. SEDDON,

Minister acting for the Commissioner of Trade and Customs.

[From the Boletín Oficial de la Dirección General de Aduanas (Customs Gazette) of Madrid, 10th November, 1892.]

ROYAL ORDER DIRECTING THAT PRODUCTS OF BRITISH POSSESSIONS SHALL ENJOY THE BENEFIT OF THE SECOND COLUMN OF THE PRESENT TARIFF.—4th October, 1892.— (“Expediente” No. 1044/92.)

The following Royal Order has been communicated by the Ministry of State to that of Finance:—

SIR,—In reply to the Royal Order which your Excellency was good enough to address to me, asking my opinion on the question whether, in virtue of international arrangements, the Island of Newfoundland and the Coast of Labrador have a right to the enjoyment of the benefits of the second column of the present tariff as being British possessions,

His Majesty the King (whom God preserve!), and in his name the Queen Regent, has been pleased to direct that your office be informed that it would not be reasonable to refuse to the British colonies the same commercial treatment that is conceded to the Mother-country, seeing that England concedes the same commercial treatment to Spanish colonies as to Spain, and that it must be in consequence of an unintentional omission that this is not stated in the Royal Order of the 29th June.

By Royal Order, communicated to me by the Minister of State, I acquaint your Excellency with this for your information, and to enable you to give any necessary orders in the direction indicated to the customhouses of the peninsula and the adjacent islands.

This is published in the Boletín for the information of the customhouses, in order that the treatment of the second column of the present tariff may be conceded to products of British possessions, as provided in the preceding Royal Order.*

God preserve you many years!

Madrid, 4th October, 1892. E. DE ALVEAR.

Totals	..	435	30	7	55	18	3	55	168

Deaths, occurring at hospitals, of persons not residents of the borough wherein the hospital is situated have been allotted in each case to the borough where the disease was contracted, and not to that in which the death actually took place.

The total births in the above boroughs amounted to 435, against 476 in January, a decrease of 41. The deaths in February were 168, a decrease of 49 on the number in January. Of the total deaths, males contributed 92; females, 76. Fifty-eight of the deaths were of children under 5 years of age, being 34.52 per cent. of the whole number; 43 of these were under 1 year of age.

* It must be understood that the numbers of the population above given refer only to those within the several borough boundaries. To estimate the relative importance of the principal boroughs as centres of population it is necessary in each case to take into consideration the number of the population in the adjacent boroughs, some of which are included in the above table, and other districts which are practically suburbs of the central borough. This can only be done with any degree of accuracy for census years.

The populations of the four principal boroughs and their suburbs in 1891 were as follows:—

Auckland Borough	23,613	Christchurch Borough	16,223
Adjacent boroughs and road districts	22,674	Adjacent boroughs and other suburbs	31,623
Total Auckland Borough and suburbs	51,287	Total Christchurch Borough and suburbs	47,846
Wellington Borough	31,021	Dunedin Borough	22,376
Suburbs	3,169	Adjacent boroughs	23,493
Total Wellington Borough and suburbs	34,190	Total Dunedin Borough and suburbs	45,869

The population of Invercargill and suburbs at same date was—

Invercargill Borough	4,950
Adjacent boroughs	3,601
Total Invercargill Borough and suburbs...	8,551

THE following Table shows the Causes of the Deaths of Persons of both Sexes under 5 Years of Age and 5 Years and upwards, and the Proportions per Cent. of Deaths from each Cause, in the Boroughs of Auckland, Wellington, Christchurch, and Dunedin, that were registered during the Month of February, 1893.

The following remarks apply to the four principal boroughs only: The births in February were 217, against 237 in January, a decrease of 20. The deaths amounted to 108, against 128 in January, a decrease of 20. There were 10 deaths of persons of 65 years and upwards: 1 male of 65, and 3 females of 82, 78, and 73, died at Auckland; 3 females of 74, 73, and 71 at Wellington; 1 male of 69 at Christchurch; 1 male of 73, and 1 female of 66, at Dunedin.

Comparison of Death-rates.—The highest death-rate for February was at Wellington, 1.27 per 1,000 of the population. The total deaths at this city increased from 34 in January to 43 in February. The next highest death-rate was at Auckland, 1.02 per 1,000 persons. Here the number of deaths showed a decrease from 37 in January to 32 in February. At Dunedin the death-rate was 0.86 per 1,000 persons, and the numbers of deaths show a decrease from 38 in January to 20 in February. The death-rate of Christchurch for last month was 0.78, the lowest for the four chief towns. The number of deaths was 13, against 19 in January.

Specific Febrile or Zymotic Diseases.—The proportion of deaths from these complaints to the total deaths from all causes rose from 14.06 per cent. in January to 15.74 per cent. in February, but the actual number of deaths was not widely different, having been 18 in January, against 17 last month. The deaths from simple cholera and diarrhoea numbered 8: 4 at Auckland, 3 at Wellington, and 1 at Dunedin. There were in January 11 deaths from such causes. Influenza, from which there were 6 deaths in December, and 3 in January, was fatal in 1 case only during February. The death was at Wellington. Diphtheria caused 2 deaths: 1 at Auckland, and 1 at Christchurch. The mortality from typhoid fever amounted to 5 deaths: 1 at Auckland, 1 at Wellington, 2 at Christchurch, and 1 at Dunedin. This is an increase on the mortality for January, which was limited to 1 death at Christchurch.

Constitutional Diseases.—The deaths numbered 25, being the same number as in the previous month. Cancer contributed 4 and phthisis 14 of the total.

Local Diseases.—A decrease from 58 deaths in January to 47 in February is observed. Diseases of the nervous system contributed 12 deaths, and diseases of the circulatory system 14. From diseases of the respiratory system the deaths were only 6. There were 10 deaths from diseases of the digestive system.

Violent Deaths.—These were limited to 3, 2 accidental and 1 a suicide. Of the accidents 1 was caused by falling from a horse, and the other was a death of an infant at birth. The suicide was effected by hanging.

The subjoined table shows the mortality for the last two months at each of these four boroughs from six principal specific febrile or zymotic diseases, and also the deaths from certain inflammatory diseases of the lungs. These causes of death have been distinguished from the others of the classes to which they belong as being the most important special diseases which give rise to sudden increases in the death-rates of towns, and the prevalence of which is closely connected with sanitary condition and climatic influence of the season on health.
