1. Water from the Mount Ida Water-race shall be sold either by a "Hogburn head" or a "Naseby head"—one Naseby head being equal to two Hogburn heads, as the same are hereinafter respectively defined. Every gauge-box for measuring water shall be 12ft. long and 1ft. 8in. wide, inside measurement. It shall be open on top, and set truly horizontal. The outlet end of the gauge-box shall be closed with a board 1in. in thickness, with the exception of the orifice, which shall be the whole width of the gauge-box, and of the depths hereinafter specified for the number of Hogburn or Naseby heads respectively to be discharged; but in all cases there shall be a bar 1in. thick and 2in. deep nailed firmly to the bottom of the gauge-box directly under the orifice and pressure-board. The depths of the sides of the gauge-boxes shall be sufficient to admit of the different orifices and pressure-boards being used as hereinafter set forth.

2. The dimensions of the orifice of the gauge-box, and the height of the board above the orifice for the respective "heads," hereinbefore referred to, shall be as follows:—

- (a.) For one Hogburn head the orifice of the gauge-box shall be 1ft. 8in. wide, 1½in. deep, and the height of board above the orifice, termed the "pressure-board," shall be 5in.
- (b.) For one Naseby head the orifice shall be 1ft. 8in. wide by 2½in. deep, having a pressure-board above the orifice 5in. high.
- (c.) For two Naseby heads the orifice shall be 1ft. 8in. wide by 4½in. deep, having a pressure-board above the orifice 5in. high.
- (d.) For three Naseby heads the orifice shall be 1ft. 8in. wide by 5in. deep, having a pressure-board 8in. high above the orifice.
- (e.) For four Naseby heads the orifice shall be 1ft. 8in. wide by 6½in. deep, having a pressure-board 8in. high above the orifice.
- (f.) For five Naseby heads the orifice shall be 1ft. 8in. wide by 7½in. deep, having a pressure-board 10in. high above the orifice.
- (g.) For six Naseby heads the orifice shall be 1ft. 8in. wide by 8½in. deep, having a pressure-board 10in. high above the orifice.
- (h.) When more than six Naseby heads are required to be measured an additional gauge-box shall be used.

3. In all cases, when measuring the discharge through the orifice for the number of sluice-heads required, the water must stand on a level with the top of the pressure-board above the orifice.

4. The prices at which water shall be sold for mining purposes shall be £1 for a Hogburn head and £2 for a Naseby head as hereinbefore defined. Each week for which such prices are charged and payable shall be a week of six working-days of eight hours each.

5. All water must be paid for within three days after the end of each calendar month, and if payment is not made within such time the manager shall refuse to grant further supply; and, if deemed necessary, may take proceedings in his own name for recovery of the amounts due.

6. These regulations shall take effect on and from the 20th day of July, 1893, and shall be read and construed as part of the regulations of the 7th day of August, 1877, aforesaid, which said regulations, except as hereby repealed or heretofore altered or revoked, shall remain in full force and effect.

Deaths, occurring at hospitals, of persons not residents of the borough wherein the hospital is situated have been allotted in each case to the borough where the disease was contracted, and not to that in which the death actually took place.

The total births in the above boroughs amounted to 435, against 428 in May, an increase of 7. The deaths in June were 251, an increase of 99 on the number in May. Of the total deaths, males contributed 151; females, 100. One hundred and ten of the deaths were of children under 5 years of age, being 43.82 per cent. of the whole number; 57 of these were under 1 year of age.

The following Table shows the Causes of the Deaths of Persons of both Sexes under 5 Years of Age and 5 Years and upwards, and the Proportions per Cent. of Deaths from each Cause, in the Boroughs of Auckland, Wellington, Christchurch, and Dunedin, that were registered during the Month of June, 1893.

The following remarks apply to the four principal boroughs only: The births in June were 235, against 239 in May, a decrease of 4. The deaths amounted to 162, against 78 in May, an increase of 84. There were 18 deaths of persons of 65 years and upwards: 4 males of 73, 74, 76, and 84, and 2 females of 69 and 90 died at Auckland; 3 males of 73, 75, and 79, and 4 females of 73, 77, 82, and 83, at Wellington; 1 male of 81 at Christchurch; 2 males of 68 and 71, and 2 females of 66 and 74, at Dunedin.

The death-rates for June show a great increase on the rates that obtained during the month of May. During the latter month the mortality was exceptionally low, even for the time of the year, but not so in June, as will be seen from the subjoined figures, which show the rates for last month compared with those of the same month in the previous year, as well as with those of May last:—

	Death-rate, May, 1893.	Death-rate, June, 1893.	Death-rate, June, 1892.
Auckland .. .. .	0.83	1.73	1.01
Wellington .. .. .	0.68	1.42	1.22
Christchurch .. .. .	0.54	1.56	0.92
Dunedin .. .. .	0.86	1.46	1.08

The highest death-rate for June, as compared with May, is found at Auckland, Christchurch follows, then Dunedin, and lastly Wellington. The highest rate of increase was at Christchurch, and the next at Auckland. It will be found that for every class of disease there were more deaths in June at the four boroughs, considered collectively, than in May; the increase is mostly in miasmatic diseases and diseases of the respiratory system.

Specific Febrile and Zymotic Diseases.—The total number of deaths rose from 19 in May to 54 in June. Most of this mortality is found at Auckland and Dunedin. At Auckland the deaths were 26 in number, of which 25 were from measles (23 children). At Dunedin the deaths numbered 20, of which 15 were of children under 5 years from measles. Diphtheria caused 1 death at Dunedin. The mortality at Wellington and Christchurch was much less than at Auckland and Dunedin. Whooping-cough caused 1 death at Wellington and 1 at Christchurch; diphtheria the same, while at the latter city 1 death was attributable to measles and 1 to influenza.

Constitutional Diseases.—The number of deaths rose from 13 in May to 23 in June: 8 out of the number for June were from phthisis and 7 from cancer.

Local Diseases.—The deaths for June (60) were nearly double the number for May (35). Diseases of the nervous system increased from 6 in the former to 16 in the latter month, 9 of which were from apoplexy. A still greater increase occurred in deaths from diseases of the respiratory system, which rose from 8 in May to 23 in June, including 19 fatal cases of bronchitis, pneumonia, and congestion of lungs, with 3 cases of croup. The mortality was greatest at Auckland (11 deaths), and next highest at Wellington (8 deaths).

Violent Deaths.—Three out of 7 were accidental, including the death of a builder from fracture of the spine, 1 of a labourer from a wounded toe, resulting in tetanus, and the death of another builder, who suffered amputation of the leg after an accident. Of 4 suicides, 1 was that of an insurance agent, who poisoned himself; another of a girl, who destroyed herself by eating lucifer-matches during temporary insanity; still another female killed herself with arsenic while suffering from mental depression; and the fourth case was that of a man taking his life by strangulation.

The subjoined table shows the mortality for the last two months at each of these four boroughs from six principal specific febrile or zymotic diseases, and also the deaths from certain inflammatory diseases of the lungs. These causes of death have been distinguished from the others of the classes to which they belong as being the most important special diseases which give rise to sudden increases in the death-rates of towns, and the prevalence of which is closely connected with sanitary condition and climatic influence of the season on health.
