Assumption of the Government of New Zealand by Sir James Prendergast, Chief Justice.

JAMES PRENDERGAST,
 Administrator of the Government.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS Her Majesty Queen Victoria was graciously pleased, by Letters Patent passed under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom, and bearing date at Westminster, the twenty-first day of February, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, to constitute the office of Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of New Zealand and its dependencies: And whereas Her said Majesty was also pleased, by a Commission under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet, bearing date at Windsor, the twenty-fourth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, to appoint the Right Honourable David, Earl of Glasgow, to be Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the said colony and its dependencies during Her said Majesty's will and pleasure: And whereas Her Majesty was pleased, by a Commission under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet, bearing date at Windsor, the twenty-second day of February, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, amongst other things, to appoint the Chief Justice of the said colony for the time being to administer the Government thereof in case of the death, incapacity, or removal, or of the departure from the said colony of the Governor appointed under the said hereinbefore in part recited Letters Patent, with all and singular the powers and authorities granted by the said Letters Patent: And whereas the said Right Honourable David, Earl of Glasgow, departed from the said colony on the sixth day of February instant:

Now, therefore, I, James Prendergast, the Chief Justice of the Colony of New Zealand for the time being, do hereby proclaim and declare that I have this day taken the oaths prescribed by the hereinbefore in part recited Letters Patent before his Honour Edward Tennyson Conolly, Esquire, one of the Judges of the Supreme Court of the said colony, and that I have assumed the administration of the Government of the said colony under and by virtue of Her Majesty's said Commission.

Given under the hand of His Excellency Sir James Prendergast, Knight, Chief Justice, Administrator of the Government in and over Her Majesty's Colony of New Zealand and its Dependencies, at the Government House, at Wellington; and issued under the Seal of the said Colony, this eighth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN!

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be clearly documented, including the date, amount, and purpose of the transaction. This ensures transparency and allows for easy reconciliation of accounts.

In the second section, the author outlines the various methods used to collect and analyze data. These methods include direct observation, interviews, and the use of specialized software tools. Each method has its own strengths and limitations, and the choice of method depends on the specific requirements of the study.

The third section provides a detailed overview of the data analysis process. This involves identifying patterns, trends, and anomalies within the collected data. Statistical techniques are often employed to quantify these findings and to test hypotheses. The goal is to derive meaningful insights from the raw data.

Finally, the document concludes with a summary of the key findings and their implications. It highlights the importance of ongoing monitoring and evaluation to ensure that the data remains relevant and accurate over time. The author also offers recommendations for future research and for the implementation of the findings in practical settings.
