5. Register of Subsequent Proprietors of Letters Patent^(d).

6. Index of Patentees^(e).

7. Index of Proprietors of Letters Patent granted prior to 1890^(f).

8. Index of Specifications^(g).

Designs.

(Search fee, 1s. each quarter of an hour.)

1. Register of Designs, with Index of Names of Proprietors.

2. Classified Representations of Designs in respect of which Copyright has expired.

3. Index of Designs.

Trade Marks.

(Search fee, 1s. each quarter of an hour.)

1. The files relating to all applications for registration of trade marks.

2. Register of Applications for Registration of Trade Marks.

3. Register of Trade Marks.

4. Index of Applicants for Registration of Trade Marks^(h).

5. Index of Trade Marks.

6. Classified Representations of Trade Marks, with indexes.

Miscellaneous.

Register of Patent Agents.

FORMS.

The following forms, &c., may be had on application:—

Application for letters patent.

Provisional specification.

Complete specification and copy thereof.

Application for registration of design.

Application for registration of trade mark.

Applications for extension of time.

Requests by subsequent proprietor to enter name on Register of Patents and Trade Marks.

Printed sheets of information as to fees and procedure to obtain letters patent and to register a trade mark⁽ⁱ⁾.

Pamphlet containing Act and Regulations (price 1s.).

OFFICIAL PUBLICATIONS.

The following publications may be obtained from the Government Printer, Wellington:—

Printed specifications to the end of the year 1879.

Annual lists of letters patent and letters of registration applied for, and particulars of applications lapsed, and patents lapsed, from 1880 to 1888 inclusive.

Annual reports of the Registrar, containing alphabetical lists of applicants for letters patent and of inventions patented from 1889 to 1904 inclusive.

The Patents Supplement to Gazette (containing notifications, applications for letters patent, abridged descriptions and drawings of inventions, &c.), published fortnightly.

LOCAL PATENT OFFICES.

Local patent offices for the reception of applications for letters patent without extra payment have been appointed at the following places: Ashburton, Auckland, Blenheim, Christchurch, Dunedin, Gisborne, Greymouth, Hokitika, Invercargill, Napier, Nelson, New Plymouth, Oamaru, Queenstown, Thames, Timaru, Wanganui, Westport. These are situated in the Supreme Court Buildings and S.M. Court Houses.

PATENT AGENTS.

A list of registered patent agents may be obtained on application.

- (a) Discontinued.
(b) In arrear. Not now being printed.
(c) Key is in card index.
(d) This Register contains only names of subsequent proprietors of letters patent granted prior to 1st January, 1890; since that date they appear in Register of Patents.
(e) Includes all names of applicants, &c., and consists of four volumes to 4th November, 1903, and card index since that date. A separate card index is kept for current quarter.
(f) The names of proprietors of subsequent letters patent appear in the Index of Patentees.
(g) Contains classified abridgments of specifications from 1881, with extracts from drawings from July, 1904.
(h) Names of applicants for registration and proprietors of trade marks are indexed at the beginning of the Registers up to 31st December, 1889; in separate volume up to 5th September, 1904; and since the latter date are in card index.
(i) May also be obtained at any local Patent Office or money-order office.

Applications for Letters Patent filed.

LIST of applications for Letters Patent filed. (Where a complete specification accompanies an application an asterisk is suffixed; in all other cases a provisional specification has been lodged. In cases where the applicant is not the inventor the name of the latter appears in italics after the title.)

Notice of Acceptance of Complete Specifications.

Patent Office,
Wellington, 2nd May, 1906.

COMPLETE specifications relating to the undermentioned applications for Letters Patent have been accepted, and are open to public inspection at this office. Any person may, at any time within two months from the date of this Gazette, give me notice in writing of opposition to the grant of any such patent. Such notice must set forth the particular grounds of objection, and be in duplicate. A fee of 10s. is payable thereon.

No. 18975.—16th January, 1905.—ALBERT JOHN WILEY and ROBERT GRAY, both of Morialta Street, Adelaide, South Australia, Australia, trading as manufacturers under the style of Wiley and Gray. A game and apparatus therefor.*

Extract from Specification.—Our invention consists of the improved game, and apparatus therefor, as described, and embodies improvements in the form of hinged wings or sides and pockets hitherto in use.

[NOTE.—The above extract from the specification is inserted in place of the claims.]

(Specification, 5s. ; drawing, 1s.)

No. 19506.—23rd May, 1905.—ARTHUR GEORGE RICH WILLIAMS, of Petone, Wellington, New Zealand, Engineer. Improvements relating to sewing-machines.*

Extract from Specification.—According hereto the cotton or the like for employment in the machine is wound in what I term a "cocoon," the cocoon being approximately the shape of the interior of the shuttle of the machine upon which it is to be used.

[NOTE.—The above extract from the specification is inserted in place of the claims.]

(Specification, 4s. 3d. ; drawing, 1s.)

No. 19586.—14th June, 1905.—CHARLES WILLIAM GORDON, of No. 34 Nelson Road, South Melbourne, Victoria, Australia, Traveller. Improved adjustable pedal-strap for cycles.*

Claims.—(1.) An improved cycle pedal-strap or toe-clip of leather, canvas, or like material, consisting of a centre piece A, having four tails or ends, such as B, cut in one piece in the manner illustrated in Fig. 1, the two sides of centre piece A being cut diagonally to make the front shorter than the back, substantially as and for the purposes specified, and as described and shown in the drawings. (2.) An improved cycle pedal-strap or toe-clip as claimed in Claim 1, in combination with or without the keeper C, such as illustrated in Fig. 2 of the drawings, having two loops for ends B to pass through, the keeper C being riveted to a small piece D near the centre, leaving a space of half an inch between rivet centres for the spike on pedal side to enter between small piece D and outside part of keeper C, substantially as and for the purposes specified and described, and illustrated in the drawings. (3.) The combination of the parts claimed in the foregoing claims for the purposes specified, substantially as described, and illustrated in Figs. 1 to 8 in the drawings.

(Specification, 6s.; drawings, 3s.)

No. 20182.—17th October, 1905.—JAMES GEORGE TER-HOFSTEEDE, of Sunbury, Victoria, Australia, Saddler. Improved fastening for leggings.*

Claims.—(1.) The curve-shaped hook on the bottom of one of the said rods, which is flattened so that it may fit into the narrow slot on the bottom of the accompanying rod. (2.) The narrow slot on the bottom of the other rod, which is set back so that the rods line when connected. (3.) The curve given to the said rods to effect a tight grip along the folds. (4.) The catch-hook on the top of one of the said rods, which is set back as shown in my drawing, so that the rods line when the other rod is placed in the gullet of the hook.

(Specification, 4s.; drawing, 1s.)

No. 20308.—21st January, 1905.—EDWARD LEWELIN WHITE, Managing Director of the Photochrom Company, Limited, of No. 35 Hosier Lane, Snow Hill, London, England, Photographic Publisher. Improvements in pictorial post-cards, view-books, almanacs, show-cards, and the like.

(NOTE.—This is an application under section 106 of the Act, the date given being the official date of the application in Great Britain.)

Claims.—(1.) A pictorial postal card, view-book, almanac, show-card, or the like, consisting of a frame and body part, a sliding card, a piece of tape or the like connected to the sliding card and to the body part, and a number of smaller cards hinged or connected to the said tape intermediate of its ends in such manner that normally the sliding card covers the smaller hinged cards, but on being partly withdrawn from the frame and body part the hinged cards are exposed and turned over, one after the other, substantially as described. (2.) A pictorial postal card, view-book, almanac, show-card, or the like, as described and shown in Figs. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. (3.) A pictorial postal card, view-book, almanac, show-card, or the like, as described and shown in Fig. 6.

(Specification, 4s. 6d.; drawing, 1s.)

No. 20316.—15th November, 1905.—THOMAS HENRY MAPP, of 382 Bourke Street, Surry Hills, near Sydney, New South Wales, Australia, Engineer. Improved apparatus for treating forage.*

Claims.—(1.) In apparatus for treating forage before compression, a casing surrounded by suitable non-conducting material, and containing two or more parallel conveyors or carriers arranged one above the other, and each driven oppositely to the one immediately below it, heating-pipes disposed between the upper and lower aprons of each carrier and at the ends of the casing, one or more feed-openings and a discharge shoot, substantially as described and illustrated. (2.) In apparatus for treating forage before compression, a casing containing two or more parallel conveyors arranged one above the other and driven by sprocket wheels so that each travels oppositely to the one below it, cleaning-brushes in contact with and rotated oppositely to the conveyors, heating-pipes disposed within the casing, and one or more feed-openings and a discharge shoot, substantially as described and illustrated. (3.) In apparatus for treating forage before compression, a carrier consisting of aprons 23, provided with flanges 24, extensions 25, and laps 26, said aprons being bolted to lugs 22 on the links of the endless chain 20, substantially as described and illustrated. (4.) The improved apparatus for treating forage before compression, consisting of the combination and arrangement of the various parts, substantially as described and as illustrated in the drawings.

(Specification, 5s.; drawings, 2s.)

No. 20322.—14th November, 1905.—TAMERLANE VITRIVIOUS WHITMORE, of Christchurch, New Zealand, Grocer. An improved toasting-appliance.*

Claim.—For the purpose indicated, a right-angle-shaped bracket having forward upwardly projecting pieces and rear pieces adapted to act as stilts or stays, substantially as described and as shown.

(Specification, 1s. 3d.; drawing, 1s.)

No. 20605.—18th January, 1906.—WILLIAM GEORGE MEDDINGS, of Remuera, near Auckland, New Zealand, Inspector of New Zealand Telegraphs. An electrical device for recording the breaking of a fire-prevention sprinkler.*

(NOTE.—The title in this case has been altered from that set out in the provisional specification.)

Claims.—(1.) In the electrical device for recording the breaking of a fire-prevention sprinkler, the fitting the insulated wire to the pipe, with the insulation removed from the wire where the wire passes under or around the sprinklers attached to the pipe for the purpose set forth, substantially as described and illustrated. (2.) In the electrical device for recording the breaking of a fire-prevention sprinkler, the combination of the pipe and the sprinklers with the insulated wire fitted thereto, said wire having the insulation removed therefrom where the wire passes under or around the said sprinklers for the purpose set forth, substantially as described and illustrated.

(Specification, 3s.; drawing, 1s.)

No. 20790.—28th February, 1906.—THOMAS GARE, of Bramble Beach, Warren Drive, New Brighton, Chester, England, Engineer. Improvements in and connected with silent and resilient wheels.

Claims.—(1.) In a silent and resilient vehicle-wheel, spokes with taper- or wedge-shaped outer ends and felloe segments with ends shaped to bear against and form a socket for the said outer spoke ends, and the latter extending across the whole width of the felloe or rim, all substantially as and for the purpose set forth. (2.) In a silent and resilient vehicle-wheel, wooden spokes with taper- or wedge-shaped outer ends and felloe consisting of metal-block sockets, the opposing ends of which are shaped to bear against and form a socket for the said outer spoke ends, all substantially as and for the purpose set forth.

(Specification, 4s.; drawing, 1s.)

No. 20845.—14th March, 1906.—JOHN ELLIOT LINDSAY GARDNER, of Palmerston North, New Zealand, Clerk. An invention for heating or drying plates, dishes, or other articles over a gas stove or oven.

Claim.—The attachment of a plate-rack to the hood of a gas-stove, substantially as described.

(Specification, 1s.; drawing, 1s.)

No. 20879.—21st March, 1906.—RHEINISCH-NASSAUISCHE BERGWERKS- & HUTTEN-ACTIEN-GESELLSCHAFT, of Stolberg, Rhenish Prussia, Germany (assignees of Albert Demuth, of Laurenburg on the Lahn, Hesse-Nassau, Germany, Engineer). Round buddle for dressing ores.

Claim.—Round buddle for dressing ores, having a hearth-platform of variable pitch, and consisting of sector-like plates overlaid with a continuous covering, characterized by sector-like plates secured with only one longitudinal edge to hinged and slantwise adjustable arms, and overlapping with the other longitudinal edge the adjacent sector-like plates, and by having at the outer hearth-ring the stuff-cover secured to the means causing the variations in the conic form of the hearth in such a manner as to draw said stuff-covering taut or slaken it according to the adjustment made.

(Specification, 4s. 6d.; drawing, 1s.)

No. 20892.—22nd March, 1906.—WILLIAM HAROLD THOMAS, of 64 Pitt Street, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia, Agent (nominee of William Hermann Scharf, of 156 St. Antoine Street, Montreal, Canada, Manager). Improvements in linotype-machines.

Extract from Specification.—The present improvements have to do particularly with the composing-mechanism. The matrix-releasing mechanism which forms a part of the composing-mechanism generally includes power-supply devices for actuating the same, the finger keys merely serving to place the mechanism under the control of the power-supplying devices. For this purpose it has been customary to employ a continuously rotating drum to co-operate with cams corresponding with the different matrices, which cams were released by the keys so as to come in contact with the drum and be rotated thereby. The provision of all of the cams required for this purpose and of the continuously rotating drum and power connections therefor not only renders the assembly of the machine expensive and difficult in the first instance, and the separation and removal of the key-board and adjacent parts from time to time inconvenient, but increases to a very great extent the cost of construction. The objection to operating the matrix-releasing mechanism directly from the keys has not been due so much to a hard key-action as to the difficulty of positively releasing the matrices when the keys are operated very quickly. By providing the cams and the continuously operating drum, it mattered not how quickly the keys are operated, since the regular and predetermined interval of time taken up in the revolution of the cams always insured the positive release of the matrices. In accordance with the present invention, means are provided to overcome this objection to the operation of the matrix-releasing mechanism directly from the keys, and these means comprise devices to arrest momentarily the action of the escapements for the matrices. In this way the matrices are always released properly, while the construction of the matrix-releasing mechanism is thereby greatly simplified. Furthermore, new and improved escapements are provided for releasing the matrices, and said escapements are not only shown mounted, as usual, upon the magazine itself, but means are provided for mounting the escapements upon the magazine delivery mouth, whereby a separate set of escapements is not required upon each magazine. Again, the magazine is provided with aligning means, such as adjustable set-screws, whereby it may be quickly placed upon the magazine, the aligning of the magazine upon the adjacent parts becoming thereby automatic. Again, the magazine delivery mouth is adapted so that the magazine can be swung away from it without interfering with any other parts, and without moving any other parts of the machine, and the magazine delivery mouth is rigidly secured to the machine, instead of being made to swing away to permit the removal of the magazine, as heretofore. Still another object of the invention is the provision of an improved matrix-control, whereby the discharge of matrices from any number of channels in the magazine may be regulated—that is, may be permitted only during the composition of alternate lines or during some other predetermined interval.

[NOTE.—The above extract from the specification is inserted in place of the claims.]

(Specification, £1 7s.; drawings, 8s.)

No. 20973.—6th April, 1906.—CATHERINE JANE MCMASTER, of Corfield, North Queensland, Queensland, Australia, Grazing Farmer. An improved head-frame for wind-mills.

Extract from Specification.—The essential of the invention is a frame between whose vertical sides the wheel of the wind-mill revolves, said frame being pivoted at the top and bottom, as described.

[NOTE.—The above extract from the specification is inserted in place of the claims.]

(Specification, 2s.; drawing, 1s.)

No. 20984.—11th April, 1906.—THE DE FOREST WIRELESS TELEGRAPH SYNDICATE, LIMITED, of 6 Princes Street, London, England (assignees of Lee De Forest, of 42 Broadway, New York, United States of America, at present residing at 6 Princes Street, London aforesaid, Electrical Engineer). Improvements in or relating to wireless telegraphy.

Claims.—(1.) A wireless-telegraph oscillation responsive device, in which the sensitive element is a gaseous medium maintained in a condition of molecular activity, substantially as described for the purposes specified. (2.) A wireless-telegraph oscillation responsive device of the kind referred to in Claim 1, in which the gaseous medium is maintained in a condition of molecular activity by heating the same by a flame, substantially as described. (3.) A wireless-telegraph oscillation responsive device of the kind referred to in Claim 1, in which the gaseous medium is maintained in a condition of molecular activity by electrical means, so that said medium will be sensitive to electrical oscillations, substantially as described. (4.) A wireless-telegraph oscillation responsive device of the kind referred to in Claim 3, in which the gaseous medium is enclosed, substantially as described. (5.) A wireless-telegraph oscillation responsive device of the kind referred to in Claim 1, in which suitable salts, such as those of the halogen class, are employed for rendering the gaseous medium more sensitive to electrical oscillations, substantially as described. Advertisements.

ADVERTISEMENTS are charged at the rate of 6d. per line for the first insertion, and 3d. per line for the second and any subsequent insertion.

All advertisements should be written on one side of the paper, and signatures, &c., should be written in a legible hand.

The number of insertions required must be written across the face of the advertisement.

Communications should be addressed to the Government Printer, Wellington, to whom post-office money-orders should be made payable. Cheques should be crossed "Public a/c," and exchange added.

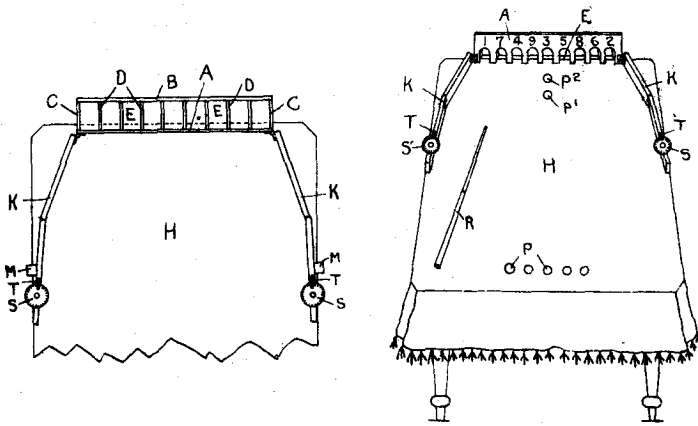

Postage or duty stamps cannot be received in payment from any place at which postal notes or post-office orders are issued.

Prepayment may be demanded in any case. In order to prevent delay in publication a sufficient remittance should accompany every advertisement. Any surplus will be returned with receipted account.

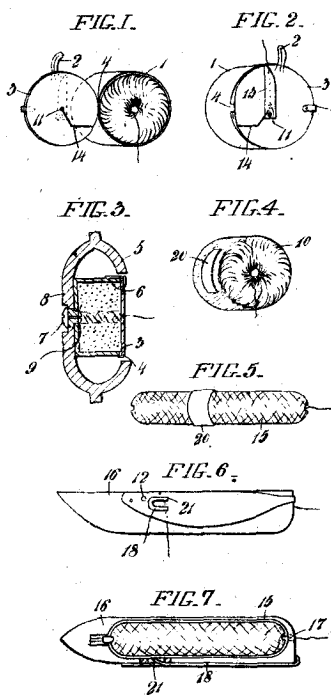

By Authority: JOHN MACKAY, Government Printer, Wellington.
