WHEREAS the Meeting of the General Assembly stands prorogued to the ninth day of September, one thousand nine hundred and nine: Nevertheless, for certain causes and considerations I have thought fit further to prorogue the same to Thursday, the seventh day of the month of October, one thousand nine hundred and nine, so that neither you nor any of you, on the said ninth day of September, at the City of Wellington, are to be held constrained to appear; commanding and by the tenor of these presents enjoining you and each of you, and all others in this behalf interested, that on Thursday, the seventh day of the month of October, one thousand nine hundred and nine, personally you be and appear for the DESPATCH OF BUSINESS, at half past two o'clock in the afternoon, in the Parliament Houses, situate in Bowen Street, in the City of Wellington, there to take into consideration the state and welfare of the said Dominion of New Zealand, and therein to do as may seem necessary.
