- (a.) With the full single-bank complement of oars and two spare oars.
- (b.) With two plugs for each plug-hole, attached with lanyards or chains, and one set and a half of thole-pins or crutches attached to the boat by sound lanyards.
- (c.) With a sea-anchor or baler, a rudder and a tiller or yoke and yoke-lines, a painter of sufficient length, and a boat-hook. The rudder and baler to be attached to the boat by sufficiently long lanyards, and kept ready for use. Provided that screw tops which were procured without the prescribed snugs by shipowners prior to the twenty-third day of November, one thousand nine hundred and three, may be used if they are made so that they can be screwed up and unscrewed without difficulty, and the Surveyor considers they are suitable:

Provided, further, that boats and rafts supplied prior to the date hereof with water and provisions in accordance with the rule made by

In the case of vessels not certified to carry passengers which carry more boats than are required to carry all persons on board, it shall be sufficient if enough boats to carry all persons on board are provided with water, provisions, &c.; but the word "provisions" shall be clearly marked on those so provided.

- (e.) Life-rafts shall be provided with water and with provisions of the same kinds and on the same scale as boats, as set forth in subsection (d) of this clause, to be kept in similar receptacles, each of which shall have a screw top at each end so that it may be unscrewed whichever side of the raft may be uppermost, and with suitable equipment, including a mast and sail and four oars, securely attached to the raft, a painter of sufficient length, sea-anchor, twenty fathoms of hawser. And whereas the Public Works Act, 1905, was repealed by the Public Works Act, 1908:

And whereas by subsection twelve of section one hundred and twenty of the Public Works Act, 1908 (hereinafter referred to as "the said Act"), it is provided that any Proclamation or instrument heretofore issued or made under any of the compiled Acts or any Act repealed by any such enactment vesting the control of any bridge, ferry, or ford, and apportioning the cost of maintenance

And whereas the Ashley Road Board has given notice and taken the steps required by the said Act, and has made application to the Governor to authorise the construction of the bridge and approaches described in the Schedule hereto, and which are hereinafter referred to as "the said work," and to apportion the cost of constructing the said work and establishing the said bridge between the said Road Board and certain other local authorities:

And whereas it is also provided in the said Act that the Governor (with the view of determining whether or not the work should be done, or what proportion, if any, of the cost of the same should fairly be borne by any local authority, or what local authority should do the work) may direct any Magistrate or other person to be a Commissioner to inquire into and report to him on the matter :

And whereas a Commissioner was appointed, and an inquiry was duly held, in the manner provided by the said Act, in respect to the said work, and in respect also to the apportionment of the cost of constructing the said work :

And whereas such Commissioner did report to the Governor, after due inquiry, his opinion as to the matters respecting which he was appointed to report :

* These remaining suburbs do not lie within borough boundaries, and particulars respecting them have not been obtained for the Vital Statistics. Closely correct annual statements of population outside boroughs are not obtainable.

In the above table are given the deaths and death-rates for each of the four cities, for the suburban boroughs severally, and for each city with its suburban towns. As regards Auckland and Christchurch, the whole of the area usually recognised as suburban has not yet been brought under municipal government, and the vital statistics do not deal with such portions as still remain in road districts. But the omission is not very important, for there are in either case quite enough suburbs included within borough boundaries to give a fair idea of the death-rate of Greater Auckland and Greater Christchurch. As further boroughs are formed the vital statistics will be made to include them.

Deaths occurring at hospitals, of persons not residents of the borough wherein the hospital is situated, have been allotted in each case to the borough where the disease was contracted, and not to that in which the death actually took place.
