Warrant authorizing the Gisborne Borough Council to construct a Bridge and Approaches thereto over the Waimata River, within the Borough of Gisborne, and apportioning the Cost.

ISLINGTON, Governor.

WHEREAS by section one hundred and nineteen of the Public Works Act, 1908 (hereinafter termed "the said Act") it is, inter alia, enacted that in any case where the local authority of any district desires to construct a bridge, or to establish a ferry or ford, in any position that will in its opinion be of advantage or benefit to the whole or any considerable portion of the inhabitants of an adjacent district as well as to the inhabitants of its own district, and where it is in the opinion of such local authority reasonable that the local authority of such adjacent district should contribute to the cost of constructing or establishing the said bridge, ferry, or ford, the provision of the said section shall have effect:

And whereas the Gisborne Borough Council has given notice and taken the steps required by the said Act, and has made application to the Governor to authorize the construction of the bridge and approaches thereto mentioned in the Schedule hereto, and hereinafter referred to as "the said bridge," and to apportion the cost of constructing and establishing the said bridge and approaches thereto between the said Borough Council and the Cook County Council:

And whereas it is also provided in the said Act that the Governor (with a view of determining whether or not the work should be done, or what proportion, if any, of the cost of the same should fairly be borne by any local authority, or what local authority should do the work) may direct any Magistrate or other person to be a Commissioner to inquire into and report to him on the matter:

And whereas a Commissioner was appointed, and an inquiry was duly held in the manner provided by the said Act in respect of the said bridge, and in respect also to the apportionment of the cost of constructing the said bridge:

And whereas such Commissioner did report to the Governor, after due inquiry, his opinion as to the matters respecting which he was appointed to report:

And whereas I am of opinion that the work should be done, and it is expedient to make provision under the said Act for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter set forth:

Now, therefore, I, John Poynder Dickson-Poynder, Baron Islington, the Governor of the Dominion of New Zealand, in pursuance and in exercise of the powers vested in me by the said Act, and of all other powers and authorities in anywise enabling me in this behalf, do hereby authorize the Gisborne Borough Council to execute the work; and I do hereby declare that the cost thereof, less such contribution as may be made thereto (if any) by the Government of New Zealand, shall be borne by the local authorities hereinafter mentioned in the following proportion, namely—the Gisborne Borough Council to pay five-sixths and the Cook County to pay one-sixth of such cost respectively; and I do hereby further direct that any contribution hereby required to be made as aforesaid by the Cook County Council shall be paid from time to time out of the funds of the said County Council, within a period of thirty days after demand in writing made by or on behalf of the Gisborne Borough Council, and all such payments shall be made to the Town Clerk of the said Borough Council for and on account of such County Council.

U.S. NAVAL WIRELESS-TELEGRAPH STATIONS.

INFORMATION FURNISHED TO SHIPPING.—The following extracts from Special Order No. 98, of 24th April, 1911, issued by the Navy Department to its wireless-telegraph stations, concerning information sent out daily to shipping, is published for the information of mariners:—

Information furnished to Shipping.

86. Storm warnings and hydrographic information shall be sent broadcast at 8 a.m., noon (immediately after time signal), 4 p.m., and 8 p.m., local standard time, when received, and to passing vessels on request whenever practicable. Should it not be possible to send out the information mentioned above on any of the hours mentioned, they shall be held until the next scheduled time, except in cases of important storm warnings and reports of light-ships off station, which will be treated as urgent.

87. Weather reports shall be sent broadcast immediately after noon only. They shall be furnished to other stations by special request at other times.

88. At stations where the noon time-signals are sent out, care shall be taken to have the relay connected before 11.55 a.m. Any interruption of the service shall be reported to the commandant at once, and the cause stated, if known.

Collection and Transmission of Hydrographic Information.

89. Information shall be transmitted concerning derelicts, dangerous obstructions to navigation, &c., to vessels at sea.

90. Messages are sent direct from the Hydrographic Office to the particular wireless station or stations most convenient for disseminating the information.

91. When received, the messages shall be sent broadcast four times, at the hours of 8 a.m., noon, 4 p.m., and 8 p.m., local standard time.

92. These messages, together with such other hydrographic information as may be furnished for the purpose, shall be kept on file, and when request is made by vessels at sea for such information the same shall be furnished them.

93. Such messages take precedence over ordinary business, but not over important official, or even private, messages, the same to be determined by the operator.

94. If for any reason it is not practicable to send broadcast such a message at any of the hours stated, it shall not be sent until the succeeding designated hour, unless a request is received from seaward.

96. Instances have occurred that render it advisable to give authority to certain branch hydrographic offices to circulate wreck or derelict reports, when urgently required, through the medium of broadcast messages.

97. The Bureau of Navigation has authorized the branch hydrographic office at San Francisco for the Pacific coast and that at New Orleans for the Gulf-coast to communicate to such wireless-telegraph station or stations as may be necessary the information regarding any serious menace to navigation which it is essential to spread broadcast at the hours fixed for that purpose.

98. The branch hydrographic offices named shall report such action by wire to the Hydrographic Office, and the wireless stations affected shall send a confirmation to the same office by mail.

99. Other branch hydrographic offices on the two coasts can secure prompt action on important information received from seaward by referring it to San Francisco or New Orleans.

100. The branch hydrographic offices on the Atlantic coast shall report to the Hydrographic Office at Washington, and the latter office shall communicate directly with the wireless stations on all coasts, as needed.

101. The electrician in charge at each of the wireless-telegraph stations is directed to forward direct to the Hydrographic Office, Navy Department, Washington, D.C., by telegraph or by wireless, if necessary, any information concerning serious obstructions to navigation, such as derelicts, wrecks, ice, &c., of which he may gain knowledge.

102. All information received by wireless stations from communicating vessels regarding serious obstructions shall be sent by wire or by wireless, if necessary, to the nearest branch hydrographic office, as well as to the Hydrographic Office, Washington.

103. The wireless stations are supplied with pilot charts, which show the location of offices and stations.

104. Wireless stations are instructed to make inquiries of any vessel with which they may be communicating for any information in her possession that may be useful to the "Pilot Chart" or "Hydrographic Bulletin."

105. The inquiries should concern, first, any menaces to navigation, reports of which should be sent by wire to the nearest branch hydrographic office and the Hydrographic Office; second, general information of hydrographic interest, which should be sent by mail direct to the Hydrographic Office.

106. Northern stations should embrace every opportunity to collect information on heavy ice and icebergs.

107. As the masters of nearly all vessels equipped with wireless are regular correspondents of the Hydrographic Office, they are ready to co-operate in the work and furnish information, provided it can be made clear to them for whom it is intended.

108. The electrician in charge shall mail to the Hydrographic Office, Navy Department, Washington, D.C., copies of every message sent broadcast by direction of that office.
