GENERAL DESCRIPTION.

The above sections are situated about midway between the Piako and Waihou Rivers, and are conveniently reached from the wharves at Turua, Kopuarahi, and Kerepeehi by formed cart-roads. They are comprised of rich alluvial clay deposit on pumice sand, the depth of soil being considerable. There is no peat upon any of the sections, they are entirely level, immune from flood conditions, and more or less drained. Sections 22 and 23, Block XI, Thames Survey District, are covered almost entirely with raupo; Sections 21 and 24, Block XI, Thames Survey District, are covered with cabbage-trees, flax, and mixed bush; whilst Sections 25 and 26, Block XI, Thames Survey District, are entirely in mixed bush, of which the milling-timber has been almost worked out. A boundary drain runs the entire length of southern boundary of Sections 21, 24, 25, and 26, and a half-share is credited to each of the sections for their respective lengths.

Sections 3, 4, 5, and 6, Block VII, Waihou Survey District, are all covered with mixed bush, the heavier trees having been felled and milled. Section 3 contains a burnt-out clearing, while Section 6 has a little heavy manuka upon it. It is intended to form a catch-water drain all along the southern boundaries of the above four sections, and, if found necessary, a drain will be constructed between Sections 3 and 4 and between Sections 5 and 6.

The boundary-lines of all sections are cut on ground, and the section corners indicated by notice boards. There is a regular launch service from Shortland and Thames to all wharves on the Piako and Waihou Rivers, in addition to which steamers regularly trade between the Hauraki Plains and Auckland. The quarters of the oil-launches are at Shortland Wharf, from where they run daily.

Intending selectors will not have the slightest difficulty in locating the various sections, as they are conveniently reached by formed roads. The various roads, main drains, and subdivisional drains indicated upon the plan are either formed or in course of construction. All subdivisional drains are to be maintained by the successful applicants.

The sections are not permanently watered, but the Department will sink artesian bores for settlers at cost price upon satisfactory arrangements with regard to payment being made with the Land Drainage Engineer, Thames. All artesian water obtained so far is mineralized, but is particularly good for all classes of stock.

The areas of all sections are subject to slight alteration.

As witness the hand of His Excellency the Governor, this nineteenth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

DESCRIPTION.

Conical Hills Settlement is situated less than a mile to the north of the Township of Waipahi, and has frontages on its eastern boundary to the Waipahi and Pomahaka Rivers. The land lies at an altitude of from 400 ft. to 1,300 ft., and is mixed agricultural and pastoral land of fair to good quality, mostly on a light clay subsoil. The property has been for many years worked as a sheep farm. From time to time the late owner, Mr. Watson Shennan, has broken up and laid down in grass about half the area which now lies in pasture of various ages, some old requiring renewing, and some only in the second year, while a few hundred acres are in fallow. In process of bringing the land into grass very good crops of wheat, oats, and turnips have been taken off the ground. The unploughed land is well clothed with white and red tussock, and a considerable portion may be ploughed. The greater part of the settlement has a good warm aspect, though the southern portion is somewhat exposed to the south-west. Generally speaking the settlement is well watered, and there is a good rainfall. Lignite of good quality is obtainable on the property. The means of access by road and rail are particularly good. The railway-stations of Waipahi, Arthurton, and Pukerau on the main south line are respectively half a mile, two miles, and two miles distant, while the Waipahi-Tapanui line runs along the eastern boundary, Conical Hills Station being on the settlement, and Pomahaka Station a mile and a half distant by first-class road. There are schools and post and telegraph offices at Waipahi, Arthurton, Pukerau, and Waikoikoi, the latter place being two miles distant by good road. There is also a post and telegraph office at Pomahaka. A school-site in a central position has been reserved, also a site for creamery adjacent to the Conical Hills Railway-station.
