“Corporation” means the Mayor, Councillors, and Burgesses of the Borough of Hastings.

“Consumer’s wires” means any electric lines on a consumer’s premises which are connected to any service lines of the Corporation at the consumer’s terminals.

“The Minister” means the Minister of Public Works.

“Pressure” means the difference of electrical potential between any two conductors through which a supply of energy is given, or between any part of either conductor and the earth.

“Street” includes road.

“Telegraph” includes telephone.

Any metallic body, to be “efficiently connected with earth,” shall be connected with the general mass of the earth in such manner as will insure at all times an immediate and safe discharge of electrical energy.

1. The supply of electrical energy shall be given by the continuous-current two- or three-wire system.

2. Continuous current shall be generated at 240 to 250 volts when two wires are used, or at 480 to 500 between the two outers of the system where three wires are used. The declared pressure at the consumers’ terminals shall be 240 and 480 volts. Incandescent-lamp circuits for private lighting shall be supplied at a pressure of 240 volts.

3. The neutral wire of the three-wire system shall be earthed only at the power-station. It shall be so erected and specially supervised as to reduce to a minimum its liability to break. At other places its insulation shall be maintained the same as that of the outers. A switch shall be provided to cut off the earth from the neutral wire for testing purposes.

4. The main switchboard shall be made of and be mounted on material that is not inflammable.

5. All overhead conductors shall be of hard-drawn copper, and where they cross over or under open telegraph or any other aerial wires they shall be insulated throughout the entire length of every crossing-span with not less than 300-megohms-per-mile grade of vulcanized rubber, except that where it may be impracticable or undesirable to so insulate the electric-light wires over spans at such crossing-places the insulation of the electric-light wires may be triple weather-proof; provided that all other aerial wires referred to are insulated at those crossing-spans with not less than 300-megohms-per-mile grade of vulcanized rubber, or are otherwise satisfactorily insulated. In cases where telegraph or other aerial wires already exist and are required to be insulated, their insulation shall be effected at the Corporation's expense, and shall be to the satisfaction of the Minister of Telegraphs.

6. Every support for an aerial line shall be of durable material and properly strengthened against forces due to wind-pressure, change of direction of the line, and unequal length of span. The factor of safety of such supports, taking into consideration all possible stresses, including wind-pressure at 30 lb. per square foot on plane surfaces and 18 lb. per square foot of diametrical plane for cylindrical surfaces, shall be at least 4 if those supports are of iron, steel, or ferro-concrete, and at least six if the supports are of wood.

The stress in the aerial conductors shall not exceed 28,000 lb. per square inch for copper and 15,000 lb. per square inch for aluminium in the extreme case of a temperature of 12° Fahr., and a wind-pressure of 18 lb. per square foot of diametrical plane occurring simultaneously.

7. Where lead-covered telephone cables are crossed above by the electric-light wires, the latter wires shall be insulated with not less than 300-megohms-per-mile grade of vulcanized rubber throughout the crossing-span, and over every such span they shall be suitably suspended from effectively earthed steel bearer-wires if the Minister of Telegraphs shall so require.

8. Where lead-covered telephone cables may be crossed under by the electric-light wires, if the height and other circumstances permit—and of this the Minister shall be the judge—the latter wires shall be insulated as in clause 7, and suspended if deemed necessary.

9. In places where it may be required to cross with the electric-light wires through any other aerial wires or through cables because of the impracticability of crossing above or below—and crossing above or below shall be done if possible—all such through crossings, if permitted by the Minister, shall be effected at a pole. In every case of a through crossing, no matter whose property the lines crossed through may be, the method of carrying the electric-light wires across the pole, protecting them thereon, protecting other wires from coming into contact with them, and protecting persons working on the poles from danger of shock shall be to the satisfaction of the Minister. The electric-light wires shall be insulated with not less than 300-megohms-per-mile grade of vulcanized rubber where they pass through on the poles and over the whole length of the span on each side of the pole crossed through. Where the insulated wires cross through on the pole they shall be encased in some hard protecting substance for the entire length of the arms on such pole. If metal pipe be used to encase the wires it shall be effectively earthed.

10. Efficient guard-wires shall be erected in a manner to meet with the approval of the Minister of Telegraphs at all crossings and places where electric-light wires intersect telegraph or other wires, as may be required by the Minister of Telegraphs to be so protected. The Corporation shall bear the expense of such guard-wires in all cases where an electric-light wire intersects a telegraph or other wire previously existing.

11. No work of any nature shall be erected or constructed in pursuance of this license upon, over, or under any part of the New Zealand Government railways until the said Council has obtained the consent of the Minister of Railways thereto, as required by section 4 of the Government Railways Amendment Act, 1910 (No. 2).

12. In running these lines through streets where no telegraph lines exist, the Corporation shall keep to one side of the street; and in running service wires to the opposite side of the street to that on which their line of poles is placed the Corporation shall arrange to supply so as to interfere as little as possible with the route on that side of the street.

13. Except by permission of the Minister, all overhead electric-light pole lines shall be placed on the opposite side of the streets to that on which any telegraph pole lines exist, and where the erection of the electric-light wires necessitates the alteration of telegraph-wires that may exist when the electric-light wires are being run, and such alteration is practicable, the expense of the alteration shall be borne by the Corporation.

14. Where the electric-light wires are on one side of a street and the telegraph wires are on the other, and service is required to be given from each to the other side of the street, each party shall give the other reasonable facilities as far as possible to effect supply.

15. Where it cannot be arranged otherwise, and there is room on the telegraph poles, and other circumstances do not render it unsafe or impracticable, the electric-light wires may be run along on the telegraph poles, subject to their insulation being not less than 300-megohms-per-mile grade of vulcanized rubber, and to any special conditions that it may be found necessary to impose at the time that the placing of such electric-light wires on the telegraph poles is being considered.

16. When the electric-light pole lines are being laid out provision should be made, by increased length of pole, to provide clearance to facilitate crossing with telegraph service wires to the side of the street occupied by the Corporation's line.

17. Telegraph wires shall not be run along or placed on the Corporation's poles, nor shall the Corporation's wires be run along or placed on telegraph poles, without a special understanding of requirements and precautions to be observed being arrived at between a responsible officer of the Corporation and of the Minister in respect of each case. Rental at a rate to be agreed upon may be charged for the use of poles, but nothing in these regulations shall be construed to give any party a right to the use of poles other than its own.

18. Every main shall be tested for insulation after having been placed in position and before it is used for the purposes of supply, the testing-pressure being at least 500 volts, and the Corporation shall duly record the results of the tests of each main or section of a main.

19. The insulation of every complete aerial and underground circuit used for the supply of energy, including all machinery, apparatus, and devices forming part of or in connection with such circuit, shall be so maintained that the leakage current shall not under any conditions exceed one-thousandth part of the maximum supply current. Every leakage shall be remedied without delay. Every such circuit shall be tested for insulation at least once in every week, and the Corporation shall duly record the results of the tests. Provided that where the Board of Control have approved of any part of any electrical circuit being connected with earth the provisions of this regulation shall not apply to that circuit so long as the connection with earth exists.

20. The sectional area of the conductor in any electric line laid or erected in any street shall not be less than that of a strand of seven wires, each of which is of No. 20 standard wire gauge, and the sectional area of every wire in a strand forming any such conductor shall not be less than that gauge.

21. All material used for insulating electric lines or apparatus shall be of the best quality, and thoroughly durable and efficient, having regard to the conditions of its use. Suitable provision shall be made for the protection of the insulating material against injury or removal. If the protection so provided is wholly or partly metallic it shall be efficiently connected with earth.

22. All metal pipes or coverings containing any electric wire shall be efficiently connected with earth, and shall be so jointed as to make good electrical connection throughout their whole length.

23. Arc lamps used in any street for public lighting shall be so fixed as not to be in any part at a less height than 10 ft. from the ground. All arc lamps shall be so guarded as to prevent pieces of ignited carbon or broken glass falling from them, and shall not be used in situations where there is any danger of the presence of explosive dust or gas.

24. The variation of pressure at any consumer's terminals shall not, under any conditions of the supply which the consumer is entitled to receive, exceed 4 per cent. above or below the normal pressure at which he is being supplied.

25. All aerial wires shall be attached to suitable insulators carried on cross-arms of suitable material and cross-section, and they shall be so attached to the insulators or guarded that they cannot fall away from the support. Conductors covered with insulating material shall be so attached that their insulation will not be impaired where they are secured to the insulator.

26. Any aerial wire shall not in any part thereof be at a less height from the ground than 18 ft., or within 5 ft. measured horizontally or vertically, from any part of any building or erection other than a support for the line, except where brought into a building for the purpose of supply.

27. Service lines from aerial lines shall be led as directly as possible to insulators firmly attached to some portion of the consumer's premises which is not accessible to any person without the use of a ladder or any other special appliance. Every portion of any service line which is outside a building and is within 7 ft. from any part of the building shall be rubber-insulated.

28. Where an aerial line crosses a street, the angle between the line and the direction of the street at the place of crossing shall not be less than 60 degrees, and the spans shall be as short as possible.

29. Where an aerial line crosses or is in proximity to any metallic substance, precautions shall be taken against the possibility of the line coming into contact with the metallic substance, or of the metallic substance coming into contact with the line, by breaking or otherwise.

30. Every aerial line, including its supports, its conductors, and their insulating covering, and all the structural parts and electrical appliances and devices belonging to or connected with the line, shall be duly and efficiently supervised and maintained as regards both electrical and mechanical conditions.

31. An aerial line shall not be permitted to remain erected after it has ceased to be used for the supply of energy unless the Corporation intends within a reasonable time again to take it into use.

32. The electric-light wires may be placed wholly underground or partly underground and partly overhead.

33. All conduits, pipes, casings, and street boxes used as receptacles for electric lines shall be constructed of durable material, and shall be of ample strength to prevent damage from heavy traffic, and reasonable means shall be taken to prevent the accumulation of gas in such receptacles.

34. Where an underground line crosses or is in proximity to any metallic substance, special precautions shall be taken against the possibility of any electrical charging of the metallic substance from the line, or from any metallic conduit, pipe, or casing enclosing the line.

35. All underground metal conduits, pipes, or casings containing an electric line shall be efficiently earthed, and shall be so jointed and connected across all street boxes and other openings as to make good electrical contact throughout their whole length.

36. The covers of street boxes shall be so secured that they cannot be opened except by means of a special appliance. Street boxes shall be inspected from time to time for the presence of gas, and suitable action shall be taken to check its influx and accumulation.

37. The Corporation shall be responsible for all electric lines or wires, fittings, and apparatus belonging to it, or under its control, which may be upon a consumer's premises, being maintained in a safe condition and in all respects fit for supplying energy.

38. In delivering the energy to a consumer's terminals the Corporation shall exercise all due precautions so as to avoid risk of causing fire on the premises.

39. Where the three wires of the system are brought into a consumer's premises for lighting purposes the supply shall be given to two pairs of terminals, arranged in such a manner that there shall be no danger of any shock to persons, and the wiring from those terminals shall be kept distinct.

40. Where any portion of any electric line, or any support for an electric line, is exposed in such a position as to be liable to cause injury from lightning, it shall be efficiently protected against such liability.

41. A suitable safety fuse or other automatic circuit-breaker shall be inserted in each service line within a consumer's premises, as close as possible to the point of entry, and contained within a suitable locked or sealed receptacle of fireproof construction, but no fuse or automatic circuit-breaker shall be inserted in the intermediate conductor of the three-wire system.

42. All electric wires placed on a consumer's premises shall be highly insulated, and shall be thoroughly protected against injury to the insulation or access of moisture. All electric wires shall be so fixed and protected as to prevent the possibility of electrical discharge to any adjacent metallic substance.

43. The Corporation shall not connect the wires and fittings on a consumer's premises with its mains, or, in the case of premises already connected, continue the supply from its mains, unless it is reasonably satisfied that the requirements of these regulations are complied with, that the wiring and fittings are suitable for the voltage at which supply is being given, that the installation generally is in accordance with the requirements of good practice, and that the connection or continuance of supply would not cause a leakage from those wires and fittings exceeding one ten-thousandth part of the maximum supply current to the premises.

For the purpose of satisfying itself that the requirements of these regulations are being observed, the Corporation may require that notice be served upon it of the intention to install wires, fittings, lamps, motors, or other apparatus on any premises, and may inspect the same during any reasonable hours while the installation of such is in progress.

44. If the Corporation is reasonably satisfied, after making all proper examination by testing or otherwise, that the wiring and fittings are not suitable for the voltage being employed, that a leakage exists at some part of a circuit of such extent as to be a source of danger, and that such leakage does not exist at any part of the circuit belonging to the Corporation, or that any other requirements of these regulations are not complied with, then and in such case any officer of the Corporation duly authorized by it in writing, or, if the Corporation so requires, on application by it to the Minister, any officer (hereinafter referred to as "an Electric Inspector") instructed to so act, may, for the purpose of discovering whether the leakage exists at any part of a circuit within or upon any consumer's premises, or whether the wiring is suitable and the general requirements of the regulations are complied with, by notice require the consumer, at some reasonable time after the service of the notice, to permit him to inspect and to test the wires and fittings belonging to the consumer and forming part of the circuit.

In any case where the Corporation requires the services of an Electric Inspector under this section it shall pay the cost of such services.

If on such testing and inspection the officer or Electric Inspector discovers a leakage from the consumer's wires exceeding one ten-thousandth part of the maximum supply current to the premises, or that the requirements of these regulations are not properly conformed to, or if the consumer does not give all due facilities for inspection and testing, the Corporation shall either not commence the supply or shall forthwith discontinue the supply of energy to the premises in question, giving immediate notice to the consumer of its reasons for not commencing or for discontinuing the supply, and in either case supply shall not be given until it is reasonably satisfied that the installation is in conformity with the requirements of these regulations.

45. If any consumer is dissatisfied with the action of the Corporation in refusing to give, or in discontinuing, or in not recommencing the supply of energy to his premises, the wires and fittings of that consumer may, on his application to the Minister, and on payment of the cost, be inspected and be tested for the existence of leakage by an Electric Inspector.

This provision shall be indorsed on every notice given under the provisions of either of the two last preceding sections.

46. From and after the time when the Corporation commences to supply energy it shall maintain continuously sufficient power for the use of all the consumers for the time being entitled to be supplied; provided that, for any purposes connected with the efficient working of the undertaking, the Minister may give permission to the Corporation to discontinue the supply at such intervals of time and for such periods as he may think expedient. When the supply is so discontinued, public notice shall be given, when practicable, of such discontinuance, and of the probable duration thereof.

47. The construction of the works hereby authorized shall be completed on or before the 31st day of December, 1914.

48. The Corporation shall, prior to the completion of the said works or any separate portion thereof, give to the Minister at least one month's notice in writing of the estimated date of such completion.

49. The Corporation shall not use any portion of the said electric lines, or permit the same to be used, for any purpose until the Minister has given notice in writing to the Corporation that he has received from the Electric Inspector a certificate that such portion of the works has been satisfactorily carried out.

50. The Minister may at any time order an inspection to be made of the works, lines, and wires used by the said Council for electric lighting and power purposes. If any defect is found to exist it must be remedied forthwith, and, if serious in the opinion of the Electric Inspector, the Minister may, on receipt of his report, direct the Corporation to at once cease transmitting energy either over the whole of its lines and wires or over any part thereof, as to him may seem fit, until such defect is repaired or remedied. The cost of such inspections shall be borne by the Corporation.

51. After the supply of energy has been begun, not less than fourteen days' notice in writing shall be given to the Resident Engineer of Public Works at Napier, or such other officer as the Minister from time to time directs, of each further extension that the said Corporation is about to make.

52. If the said Corporation makes default in complying with any of the provisions of this license it shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £20 for every such default, to be recoverable by any person authorized by the Minister in that behalf as a debt due to the Crown; but the said Corporation shall not be held to have committed default for any failure to maintain power during the hours that it has determined to supply energy if such failure is due to the breakdown of machinery or other accident, unless such breakdown or accident is proved to be due to negligence on the part of the said Corporation.

53. The recovery of a penalty under this license shall not affect the liability, if any, of the said Corporation to make compensation in respect of any damage or injury which may be caused by reason of the default.

Warrant authorizing the Horowhenua County Council to construct a Bridge over the Ngatiawa River, and apportioning the Cost.

ISLINGTON, Governor.

WHEREAS by section one hundred and nineteen of the Public Works Act, 1908 (hereinafter termed "the said Act"), it is, inter alia, enacted that in any case where the local authority of any district desires to construct a bridge or to establish a ferry or ford in any position that will, in its opinion, be of advantage or benefit to the whole or any considerable portion of the inhabitants of an adjacent district, as well as to the inhabitants of its own district, and where it is, in the opinion of such local authority, reasonable that the local authority of such adjacent district should contribute to the cost of constructing or establishing the said bridge, ferry, or ford, the provisions of the said section shall have effect:

And whereas the Horowhenua County Council has given notice and taken the steps as required by the said Act, and has made application to the Governor to authorize the construction of the bridge mentioned in the Schedule hereto, and hereinafter referred to as "the said work," and to apportion the cost of constructing or establishing the said work between the said Council and the Hutt County Council:
