Department of Public Health, Hospitals, and Charitable Aid,
Wellington, 24th January, 1913.

T. H. A. VALINTINE,
Registrar of Nurses.

By Authority: JOHN MACKAY, Government Printer, Wellington.

The first part of the report deals with the general situation of the country and the progress of the war. It is noted that the war has been a long and hard one, and that the country has suffered greatly. The government has done its best to maintain order and to provide for the needs of the people. The progress of the war is also discussed, and it is noted that the country has made some gains, but that there is still a long way to go.

The second part of the report deals with the financial situation of the country. It is noted that the government has had to raise a large amount of money to finance the war, and that this has led to an increase in the national debt. It is also noted that the government has had to raise taxes, and that this has led to a decrease in the purchasing power of the people.

The third part of the report deals with the social situation of the country. It is noted that the war has led to a number of social problems, such as unemployment and poverty. It is also noted that the government has taken steps to deal with these problems, but that more needs to be done.

The fourth part of the report deals with the political situation of the country. It is noted that the war has led to a number of political changes, and that the government has had to take a number of unpopular measures. It is also noted that the government has had to deal with a number of political opponents, and that this has led to a number of political trials.

The fifth part of the report deals with the military situation of the country. It is noted that the country has made some gains in the war, but that there is still a long way to go. It is also noted that the government has had to raise a large amount of money to finance the war, and that this has led to an increase in the national debt.
