3. In addition to or in substitution for any punishment they may inflict under the Prisons Act, 1908, Visiting Justices are empowered to punish any such prisoner for any breach of discipline by imposing a fine not exceeding 10s., to be deducted from any sum standing to the credit of such prisoner in the accounts kept in the prison.

They will be classified into three grades—the Lower, the Intermediate, and the Higher. Prisoners in the Intermediate and Higher

Grades shall be competent to earn various privileges for which those in the Lower Grade shall not be eligible.

10. When 5,840 marks have been earned in this grade a prisoner will be eligible to be placed on the Special List, provided that full marks have been earned for a continuous period of nine months immediately preceding, and his conduct has been exemplary during that period.

11. A prisoner in the Higher Grade may be reduced to a lower grade for idleness or for any offence against good order and discipline, and if so reduced shall not, unless specially recommended by the Inspector, be eligible to re-enter the Higher Grade until he has again passed through the Intermediate Grade.

12. Where a prisoner has been reduced to a lower grade for misconduct he must earn continuous marks for a further period of three months upon re-entering the Higher Grade before he can be recommended for reinstatement on the Special List.

Lower Grade.

13. When a prisoner is reduced for misconduct to the Lower Grade, the earning of marks, gratuities, and privileges shall be suspended until the Intermediate Grade is re-entered.

14. A prisoner reduced to the Lower Grade shall not be eligible for promotion to the Intermediate Grade until he has served at least one month in the Lower Grade with continuous industry and good conduct, and he shall not be eligible for the Higher Grade until he has again passed through the Intermediate Grade in accordance with these regulations.

15. In the Lower Grade the ordinary prison dress shall be worn.

PRIVILEGES OF GRADES.

Intermediate Grade.

16. On first entering the Intermediate Grade a prisoner shall receive for one month the ration and any indulgence allowed him immediately prior to his transfer. Thereafter he shall be eligible for the privileges of the grade as hereinafter provided.

17. After gaining full marks for one month with good conduct, prisoners in this grade may, while continuing to earn full marks, be allowed to spend a portion of their earnings in the purchase of such extras as are marked with an asterisk (*) in the Indulgence List (Regulation No. 51). The limit of such expenditure may be defined by the Permanent Head, but shall not exceed one-half of the net sum credited to a prisoner for work performed during the preceding week: Provided that any fine imposed shall debar a prisoner from this privilege until he has earned a further sum equal to the amount of the fine.

18. Prisoners in this grade shall be allowed two books and one magazine from the library each week.

19. They shall be permitted to receive a visit of not more than thirty minutes and to receive and despatch one letter every four weeks, provided that their conduct has been good during the preceding four weeks.

Higher Grade.

23. Prisoners in this grade, while earning full marks, may be allowed all the privileges of the Intermediate Grade, with the additions provided in the following regulations, and such further additions and alterations as may from time to time be authorized by general orders.

24. They shall be allowed three books and one magazine from the library each week.

25. They shall be permitted to receive a visit of thirty minutes' duration and to despatch and receive a letter every two weeks, provided that their conduct has been good during the previous two weeks.

30. After six months' full marks have been continuously earned with exemplary conduct, prisoners in this grade will be eligible to be recommended to be placed on the Special List.

Special List.

31. Prisoners on the Special List will, as far as practicable, be kept apart from other prisoners.

32. They shall enjoy all the privileges of the Higher Grade, and, in addition, they may be granted extended privileges in regard to association and recreation in the discretion of the Inspector.

33. They shall be allowed to change their library books as often as they wish, but must not have more than one book and one magazine at any one time, except with the approval of the Inspector.

34. They shall be permitted to receive and despatch one letter weekly, and to receive visits at weekly intervals from friends and relations likely to take a benevolent interest in them on liberation and to be of use to them in finding employment or otherwise.

For a fair day's work with good conduct, 7 marks, value 2s. 9d.

For an indifferent day's work or bad conduct, 6 marks, value 2s. 6d.

40. Seven marks per diem may be granted for exemplary conduct on Sundays and holidays.

41. After deducting six marks per diem, or 2s. 6d., for the prisoner's maintenance, the remainder shall be placed to his credit in the account to be kept by the Gaoler, and the amount standing to his credit may be applied wholly or in part towards the maintenance of his wife and children (if any) during the period of his imprisonment, or be paid to the prisoner on his release or discharge, as may be directed by the Minister.

42. An account shall be kept in each prisoner's name showing the various payments and deductions. The accounts shall be audited by the Inspector of Prisons on each occasion when he inspects the prison.

43. Prisoners shall, on inquiry, at any time be informed of the state of their accounts.

44. Prisoners who only earn six marks per diem are liable to be punished unless some good cause can be shown for their failure to earn the higher number of marks.

45. Prisoners while exempt from work by reason of illness shall be credited with six marks per diem, but these may be increased at the discretion of the Inspector of Prisons.

GENERAL.

46. Any person who violates the conditions of his probation and is returned to prison, and any person who, having once been released on probation, is again convicted and sentenced to imprisonment, shall on again entering upon his habitual sentence be placed in the Lower Grade. Except under special circumstances he shall not be eligible for promotion to the Intermediate Grade until he has maintained a good-conduct record for at least six months, and he shall be required to serve at least twelve months with a continuous good-conduct record in the Intermediate Grade before being eligible for promotion to the Higher Grade.

47. In determining promotion in grade special consideration will be given to good conduct, including cheerful and prompt obedience to all rules and regulations, loyalty to the government of the prison, faithful and diligent performance of work, and efforts made to acquire skill and rapidity at work.

48. In determining a prisoner's eligibility for promotion to the Special List, in addition to consideration of his conduct regard shall be had to his habits and disposition, his powers of self-control and potentiality of reform, and the probability of his remaining at liberty without violating the law in the event of his release on probation being approved.

SEPARATE CELLS.

49. Every prisoner shall have a separate cell, in which he shall sleep, have his meals, and keep such of his belongings as may be sanctioned by the Inspector of Prisons.

INDULGENCES.

50. No prisoner shall, except as hereinbefore provided, take indulgences or extra articles of food outside his cell, nor shall he share them with others. Every prisoner offending against this regulation shall be liable to punishment, and such punishment shall include forfeiture of marks and privileges.

Indulgence List.

51. The Indulgence List referred to in Regulations Nos. 17 and 28 will comprise the following articles :—

†Butter.	†Fish (in tins).	†Milk.	*†Postage stamps.
†Cheese.	*†Fruit.	*†Mustard.	*†Sugar.
*†Cocoa.	†Jam.	*†Pepper.	*†Tobacco.
†Coffee.	*†Matches.	*†Pipes.

Newspapers.

52. Prisoners on the Special List will be given access to such weekly journals and newspapers as may be sanctioned by the Inspector of Prisons.

PUNISHMENT.

Confinement to Cells.

53. While awaiting the arrival of a Visiting Justice the Gaoler may confine to his cell any prisoner charged with misconduct, and may take any precautionary measures for the protection of prisoners and officers. He may also stop at any time any privileges until the Visiting Justice arrives and decides the matter.

Fines.

54. Breaches of Discipline.—For breaches of discipline prisoners may be fined by the Visiting Justice or Inspector of Prisons a sum not exceeding 10s., as provided in Regulation No. 3.

Reduction of Grade.

55. In addition to any specific punishment for any breach of discipline or other offence, a prisoner may be placed in any lower grade for such term as the Visiting Justice or Inspector of Prisons may decide.

Serious Offences.

56. For escapes, attempted escapes, assaults upon officers, or other aggravated offences, the offender, of whatever grade, will, in addition to any sentence imposed therefor, be liable to be reduced by the Inspector of Prisons to the Lower Grade.

PETITIONS.

57. The Gaoler, when forwarding petitions for release, should state if definite employment can be found for the prisoner, and every facility should be given to an eligible prisoner to communicate with discharged prisoners' aid societies or any kindred organizations or reputable persons likely to find employment for him. Prison officers are enjoined to render all possible assistance in this respect, as unless suitable employment is obtained for a prisoner prior to discharge there is little hope of his being able to lead a reformed life.

ANNUAL REPORT TO MINISTER.

58. The Inspector of Prisons shall see each prisoner when inspecting the prisons, and shall in January of each year furnish the Minister with a report on each case.

HABITUAL OFFENDERS.

59. The foregoing regulations contained in this Part shall also apply to habitual offenders.

PART II.—REFORMATIVE DETENTION.

PRISON REGULATIONS TO APPLY.

60. The rules and regulations made under the provisions of the Prisons Act, 1908, and all general orders in regard to prisons, except as to the remission of sentences by marks obtained for good conduct and except also where they are in conflict with these or any special regulations which may be hereafter brought into operation, shall apply to prisoners serving sentences of reformatory detention, as regards their conduct, the requirements of discipline and health, their working-hours, dietaries, educational, religious, and other instruction, and other details.

VISITING JUSTICES.

61. The Visiting Justices shall have the same powers to hear and determine complaints respecting prisoners sentenced to reformatory detention as are provided for under the Prisons Act, 1908, and the regulations thereunder in regard to other prisoners, and shall have the same powers as regards the infliction of punishments.

62. In addition to or in substitution for any punishment they may inflict under the Prisons Act, 1908, Visiting Justices are empowered to punish any such prisoner for any breach of discipline by imposing a fine not exceeding 10s., to be deducted from any sum standing to the credit of such prisoner in the accounts kept in the prison.

63. Visiting Justices shall visit the prisons frequently, and shall carefully investigate any complaints made to them, and, when necessary, furnish a report to the Minister.

MEDICAL OFFICER.

64. The Medical Officer shall forward quarterly reports to the Permanent Head of the Department of Justice respecting the condition of health, &c., of each prisoner.

CLASSIFICATION.

65. All prisoners sentenced to reformatory detention only, and all prisoners sentenced to imprisonment to be followed by reformatory detention, shall during the period of their sentences of reformatory detention be, as far as possible, kept apart from other classes of prisoners.

66. They shall be classified into two grades—the Second and First Grades respectively. The First Grade shall consist of two divisions, the Lower and Special.

67. All prisoners sentenced to reformatory detention only shall on admission commence their sentences in the Second Grade.

68. All prisoners sentenced to reformatory detention following a term of imprisonment shall commence their period of reformatory detention in the Second Grade, provided that a prisoner may be placed in any higher grade at the discretion of the Inspector of Prisons.

Second Grade.

69. Prisoners in this grade shall be eligible for promotion to the First Grade when they have earned 1,464 marks, if their conduct and industry have been exemplary.

70. They may for misconduct be required to serve an additional period in this grade.

71. Prisoners who enter this grade after serving a term of imprisonment shall have the same privileges in regard to visits, the receipt and despatch of letters, and the issue of library books as they had in the class in which they were immediately prior to their transfer.

72. Prisoners sentenced to reformatory detention only shall be permitted to receive a visit of not more than twenty minutes' duration and to receive and despatch two letters within one week from date of conviction. Thereafter they may receive a visit of not more than twenty minutes' duration and may despatch and receive one letter every eight weeks, providing their conduct and industry have been good during the preceding four weeks.

73. They shall be allowed one book from the library each week.

74. They shall wear coats of a different colour from those worn by ordinary hard-labour prisoners.

First Grade.

75. Lower Division.—On entering the First Grade prisoners shall be placed in the Lower Division, and must earn 2,920 marks and have served with exemplary conduct and industry for a period of twelve months immediately prior to becoming eligible for promotion to the Special Division.

76. They shall be permitted to receive a visit of not more than thirty minutes' duration and to receive and despatch one letter every four weeks, provided that their conduct and industry have been good during the preceding four weeks.

77. They shall be allowed to take two books and one magazine from the library each week.

78. They shall wear the prescribed dress, with red facings.

79. Special Division.—On promotion to the Special Division prisoners shall be permitted to receive a visit of thirty minutes' duration and receive and despatch a letter every two weeks.

80. They shall be allowed to change their library books three times a week, but shall not have more than one book and one magazine at a time, except with the approval of the Inspector of Prisons.

81. Prisoners may for misconduct be reduced to a lower grade or division for a stated period, but prisoners reduced from the Special Division will not, unless under exceptional circumstances, again be eligible for promotion to that division.

82. Prisoners in the Special Division shall wear a blue dress, with red band on left forearm.

83. In determining a prisoner's eligibility for promotion to the Special Division, in addition to consideration of his conduct, regard shall be had to his habits and disposition, his powers of self-control and potentiality of reform, and the probability of his remaining at liberty without violating the law in the event of his release on probation being approved.

PROMOTIONS IN GRADE.

84. Promotions in grade shall be made by the Inspector of Prisons.

EMPLOYMENT MARKS.

85. Every prisoner serving a sentence of reformatory detention shall, according to his capacity and physical condition, perform some fixed task daily.

86. Such work should be of a reproductive and reformatory character, and, whenever practicable and not inconsistent with disciplinary requirements, the prisoner shall be employed at the trade at which he is most proficient and which is most likely to fit him for honest self-support when at liberty.

87. Each prisoner may earn marks according to the following scale, and the value of the marks shall be as set out in the scale :—

Prisoners in the Second Grade—

For a full day's work with exemplary conduct, 8 marks, 3s.

For a fair day's work with good conduct, 7 marks, 2s. 9d.

For indifferent work or bad conduct, 6 marks, 2s. 6d.

88. Prisoners in the First Grade employed on unskilled labour shall be credited with an additional 3d. per diem for a full or fair day's work respectively.

For a full day's work with exemplary conduct, 8 marks, 4s.

For a fair day's work with good conduct, 7 marks, 3s. 6d.

For indifferent work or bad conduct, 6 marks, 2s. 6d.

90. Seven marks per diem may be granted in each grade for exemplary conduct on Sundays and holidays.

91. After deducting six marks per diem, or 2s. 6d., for the prisoner's maintenance, the remainder shall be placed to his credit in the account to be kept by the Gaoler, and the amount standing to his credit may be applied wholly or in part towards the maintenance of his wife or children (if any) during the period of his detention, or be paid to the prisoner on his release or discharge, as may be directed by the Minister.

92. An account shall be kept in each prisoner's name showing the various payments and deductions. The accounts shall be audited by the Inspector of Prisons on each occasion when he inspects the prison.

93. Prisoners shall, on inquiry, at any time be informed of the state of their accounts.

94. Prisoners who only earn six marks per diem are liable to be punished unless some good cause can be shown for their failure to earn the higher number of marks.

95. Prisoners while exempt from work by reason of illness shall be credited with six marks per diem, but these may be increased at the discretion of the Inspector of Prisons.

GENERAL.

96. Any prisoner who violates the conditions of his probation and is returned to prison, and any prisoner who, having once been released on probation, is again convicted and sentenced to imprisonment, shall on again entering upon his reformatory sentence be placed in the Second Grade. Except under special circumstances he shall not be eligible for promotion to the First Grade until he has maintained a good-conduct record for at least nine months, and he shall be required to serve at least eighteen months with a continuous good-conduct record in the Lower Division of the First Grade before being eligible for promotion to the Special Division.

97. In determining promotion in grade special consideration will be given to good conduct, including cheerful and prompt obedience to all rules and regulations, loyalty to the government of the prison, faithful and diligent performance of work, and efforts made to acquire skill and rapidity thereat.

SEPARATE CELLS.

98. Every prisoner shall have a separate cell, in which he shall sleep and have his meals.

EDUCATION AND DRILL.

99. Prisoners detained for reformatory purposes whose standard of education is deemed to be insufficient shall attend the schools of instruction.

100. Every assistance by means of instruction, books, &c., shall be given to prisoners anxious to advance their education.

101. They shall also attend and perform drill where drill is given, unless certified unfit by the Medical Officer.

PUNISHMENT.

Confinement to Cells.

102. While awaiting the arrival of a Visiting Justice the Gaoler may confine to his cell any prisoner charged with misconduct, and may take any precautionary measures for the protection of prisoners or officers. He may also stop any privileges until the Visiting Justice arrives and decides the matter.

Fines.

103. Breaches of Discipline.—For breaches of discipline prisoners may be fined by the Visiting Justice or Inspector a sum not exceeding 10s., as provided in Regulation No. 62.

Reduction of Grade.

104. In addition to any specific punishment for any breach of discipline or other offences, a prisoner may be placed in any lower grade for such term as the Visiting Justice or Inspector of Prisons may decide.

105. When a prisoner is reduced for misconduct to a lower grade the earning of marks, gratuities, and privileges shall be suspended until the period for which such prisoner has been reduced has expired or until he again enters a higher grade.

PETITIONS.

106. The Gaoler, when forwarding petitions for release, should state if definite employment can be found for the prisoner, and every facility should be given to an eligible prisoner to communicate with discharged prisoners' aid societies or any kindred organizations or reputable persons likely to find employment for him. Prison officers are enjoined to render all possible assistance in this respect, as unless suitable employment is obtained for a prisoner prior to discharge there is little hope of his being able to lead a reformed life.

ANNUAL REPORT TO MINISTER.

107. The Inspector of Prisons shall see each prisoner when inspecting the prisons, and shall in January of each year furnish the Minister with a report on each case.

SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF, NEAR SUMNER, CHRISTCHURCH.

UNDER THE CONTROL AND SUPERVISION OF THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

Director: MR. J. E. STEVENS.

FOR Deaf Children of sound intellect. The pupils are taught to understand and use ordinary speech. The full charge for board and education is £40 a year, but less is accepted from parents who cannot afford to pay this amount. In case of necessity admission is free.

By the Education Act it is compulsory for deaf children to come under instruction at the age of six, and to continue until the age of twenty-one unless the Education Department previously grants exemption. Though a child is, as a rule, best fitted to begin the school course at the age of six, advice should be obtained as soon as any sign of deafness is observed.

The following classes of deaf children are admitted to the School for the Deaf (sound intellect being always a necessity):—

1. Children born deaf, or who have lost their hearing before learning to speak.
2. Children who can hear a little, but are too deaf to be taught in a public school.
3. Children who have lost their hearing after having learned to speak.

The Act imposes upon every parent, teacher of a school (either public or private), constable, or officer of a charitable or kindred institution who is aware of the place of residence (either temporary or permanent) of a deaf child, and the householder in whose house any such child resides, an obligation to send notification of the fact to the Minister of Education, giving the name, age, and address of the child; and any neglect or failure to comply with this provision involves liability to a fine.

Information and advice may be obtained from the Director, or from

THE SECRETARY FOR EDUCATION,
Wellington.
