Provided that fruit of different grades may be contained in the same package if the grade-mark to be placed on the package as hereinafter prescribed is that of the lower grade of fruit contained in such package:

19. (1.) All fruit for export shall be properly wrapped in new paper having one or both surfaces glazed or in some other paper approved by the Director.

(2.) Not more than two papers shall be wrapped round any one fruit.

20. (1.) Wood-wool or corrugated strawboard shall be placed at the top and bottom of each case or tray in which the fruit is packed, but in such quantities only as shall be necessary for the protection of the contents.

(2.) If in his opinion the quantity of wood-wool or corrugated strawboard used is excessive, the Inspector may reject the package for export until the matter has been remedied.

21. All fruit for export shall be properly packed on the diagonal or pocket pack system.

22. All fruit for export must be packed in clean new packages, which must be properly constructed of well-seasoned timber.

25. The particulars in the export brand placed on any package of fruit relating to the grade, size, number, or variety of such fruit shall accurately describe the contents of such package, provided that a variation of not more than five per package shall be allowed in the number of fruit stated to be in such package.

26. No other brand or mark shall be placed on any package of fruit to indicate the grade or quality of the contents of such package than the grade-marks "Extra Fancy" and "Fancy" hereinbefore set out.

27. No other brand or mark shall be placed on the same end of a package of fruit as the registered export brand.

EXAMINATION OF FRUIT AT APPOINTED STORES.

28. (1.) The owner of fruit for export shall forward it, duly graded, packed, branded, and otherwise dealt with in accordance with the provisions of these regulations to an appointed store not less than two working-days before shipment.

(2.) He shall at the same time give to the Inspector at the appointed store to which the fruit has been sent an advice-note in the form set out in the Third Schedule hereto or to the effect thereof.

29. Every owner of fruit sending the same to any of the appointed stores shall make his own arrangements for the transit of the fruit to and from the store, and also for its receipt, storage, opening up for examination, repacking, delivery, shipment, and any other service, including insurance and protection from damage or loss of any kind.

30. (1.) For the purpose of determining whether the particulars set out in the export brand thereon correctly describe the contents of packages of fruit submitted for examination at an appointed store, and whether all other requirements of these regulations in respect of such fruit have been complied with, the Inspector shall cause to be opened for examination 5 per centum of the packages in each line of fruit of the same variety and grade under the same export brand submitted, or such further number as he deems necessary.

(2.) The decision of the Inspector in regard to the whole line shall be based on the result of his examination of the packages so opened, being in no case less than 5 per centum by number of the line as aforesaid.

31. If after examining such fruit the Inspector is satisfied that the particulars set out in the export brand correctly describe the contents of the packages, and that all the other requirements of these regulations in respect of such fruit are complied with, he shall stamp each of the packages with a stamp (herein called the "official export stamp"), indicating that the contents have been officially passed for export, and shall issue to the owner of such fruit an export certificate in the form set out in the Fourth Schedule hereto.

32. (1.) If after examining such fruit the Inspector places it in a lower grade than that set out in the export brand on the packages he shall regrade such fruit, and shall cause to be erased the grade-mark on the packages.

(2.) If in such regrading the grade is reduced from "Extra Fancy" to "Fancy" grade the Inspector may, on request from the owner of such fruit, have the grade allotted by him branded on the packages, and shall then stamp such packages with the official export stamp, and shall issue an export certificate as hereinbefore provided.

(3.) Failing such a request, or if in such regrading the grade is reduced below the standard of "Fancy" grade, the Inspector shall reject such fruit for export.

33. If after examining such fruit the Inspector is of opinion that the particulars set out in the export brand on the packages of such fruit, other than those relating to grade, do not correctly describe the contents of such packages, or that any other requirements of these regulations in respect of such fruit have not been complied with, he shall reject such fruit for export.

34. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions as to the rejection of fruit for export nothing in these regulations shall be deemed to forbid individual fruits taken out of packages of fruit rejected for export being repacked and resubmitted at an appointed store if such individual fruits comply with the requirements of these regulations.

35. If any fruit sent to an appointed store is found to be diseased or infected fruit the Inspector shall condemn such fruit, which shall be destroyed or otherwise dealt with as the Inspector directs. The expense of such destruction or treatment shall be borne by the owner of the fruit.

36. Notification of any regrading, rejection, or condemnation of fruit for export shall be made immediately to the owner of such fruit by the Inspector.

37. No person shall remove from any appointed store, except for the purpose of immediately shipping it beyond New Zealand, any fruit for which an export certificate has been issued unless the export certificate is surrendered to the Inspector and the official export stamp upon the package or packages containing such fruit has been erased or cancelled to the satisfaction of the Inspector.

38. If any fruit which has been examined by an Inspector and passed for export has become, prior to its export from the Dominion, damaged, or in the opinion of an Inspector has deteriorated, the owner of such fruit shall, if and when directed by an Inspector to do so, submit such fruit for re-examination, and shall on demand surrender to the Inspector the export certificate issued in respect thereof.

39. In respect of fruit submitted for examination at an appointed store the decision of the Inspector as to grade, packing, branding, or other compliance with the provisions of these regulations shall be conclusive, and no action or other proceedings shall lie against an Inspector or other officer of the Crown, or against the Crown, in respect of any erroneous decision of the Inspector.

SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF, NEAR SUMNER, CHRISTCHURCH.

UNDER THE CONTROL AND SUPERVISION OF THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

Director: Mr. J. E. STEVENS.

FOR Deaf Children of sound intellect. The pupils are taught to understand and use ordinary speech. The full charge for board and education is £40 a year, but less is accepted from parents who cannot afford to pay this amount. In case of necessity admission is free.

By the Education Act it is compulsory for deaf children to come under instruction at the age of six, and to continue until the age of twenty-one unless the Education Department previously grants exemption. Though a child is, as a rule, best fitted to begin the school course at the age of six, advice should be obtained as soon as any sign of deafness is observed.

The following classes of deaf children are admitted to the School for the Deaf (sound intellect being always a necessity):—

1. Children born deaf, or who have lost their hearing before learning to speak.
2. Children who can hear a little, but are too deaf to be taught in a public school.
3. Children who have lost their hearing after having learned to speak.

The Act imposes upon every parent, teacher of a school (either public or private), constable, or officer of a charitable or kindred institution who is aware of the place of residence (either temporary or permanent) of a deaf child, and the householder in whose house any such child resides, an obligation to send notification of the fact to the Minister of Education, giving the name, age, and address of the child; and any neglect or failure to comply with this provision involves liability to a fine.

Information and advice may be obtained from the Director, or from the

SECRETARY TO THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.
