SCHEDULE.

RATES AND POSTAGE.—PARCELS.

- |        |   |  |
|--------|---|--|
| Inland | { | 6d. for the first pound; 2d. for each additional pound or fraction thereof up to 10 lb.; 1d. for each additional pound or fraction thereof between 10 lb. and 28 lb.   |
|        |   | The postage rates applicable to an 11 lb. parcel are charged on all parcels (except parcels containing fishing-rods, golf-clubs, or similar articles) weighing less than 11 lb. if such parcels exceed 4 ft. length and girth combined.  |
|        |   | An additional fee of 6d. is charged on all inland parcels (except parcels containing fishing-rods, golf-clubs, or similar articles, exceeding 3 ft. 6 in. in length) that do not exceed 4 ft. length and girth combined, and 9d. on those that exceed 4 ft. length and girth combined, which the senders desire forwarded to destination in hampers. |

POSTING AND LABELLING.

(2.) All packages of such a nature as to require special protection to assure their safe transmission through the post must be sent as parcels, and in the case of inland parcels the special "fragile" fee of 6d. or 9d. (as may be required) prepaid, otherwise that protection cannot be afforded. The special "fragile" fee does not apply, however, to parcels containing fishing-rods, golf-clubs, or similar articles which exceed 3 ft. 6 in. in length. All parcels presented for transmission through the post must be fully addressed on the parcels themselves, as well as on any tied-on labels. When a parcel is in a wrapping of material to which stamps or fragile labels do not properly adhere the sender must affix a tied-on label.

CUSTOMS DECLARATION.

(3.) The sender of a parcel addressed to any place beyond New Zealand must make a Customs declaration (on a form to be obtained at any post-office) describing the contents and stating the value, and also giving the name of the office of destination and the sender's signature and place of residence. In the case of parcels addressed to certain foreign countries, two or more declarations are required. A false declaration involves the forfeiture of the parcel, and renders the sender liable to prosecution under the Customs laws. The contents of a parcel must not be described on the Customs declaration in general terms, such as "Presents," "Groceries," &c., but each article must be enumerated, and, in the case of parcels containing foodstuffs addressed to the United Kingdom, the actual weight of each commodity shown. When there is not sufficient room on the form of Customs declaration, the necessary details must be shown by the sender on the cover of the parcel.

LIMITS OF WEIGHT AND SIZE.

(4.) Wheels up to a maximum diameter of 26 in. shall be accepted, at the sender's risk, for despatch in parcel bags to offices served by rail or steamer, provided they do not exceed in length and girth combined 7 ft. In such cases they will be labelled "Post Office accepts no risk." Wheels required to be forwarded in hampers, or addressed to places served by wheeled conveyance, must not exceed in diameter 2 ft.

Fishing-rods, golf-clubs, and similar articles in packages up to a maximum length of 4 ft. 6 in. may be accepted. In addition to the ordinary parcel rates the special "fragile" fee must also be paid on parcels of this class which do not exceed 3 ft. 6 in. in length.

EXPRESS TRANSIT SERVICE.

(5.) On payment by the sender of a special fee of 6d. in addition to the postage, a parcel for delivery within New Zealand shall be forwarded to its destination by the first ordinary letter-mail despatched after the time of posting. On arrival at the office of destination such express parcel may be called for at the post-office; otherwise it shall be delivered in the ordinary course.

PACKING.

(6.) Tins of condensed milk may be forwarded both within New Zealand and to such countries beyond New Zealand as do not specially prohibit their introduction, provided that such articles are securely packed so as to prevent all risk or injury to other parcels or to officers of the Post Office.

Game and fish must be packed in straw or some similar substance, and the whole enclosed in calico or thin sacking, and the contents of the parcel must be indicated on the cover. Rabbit-skins may also be accepted for transmission, but the skins must be dried, and they must be packed in the manner prescribed for game and fish. Parcels containing perishable articles must have a special label "Perishable" affixed thereto. Unless the special express-transit rate is prepaid thereon such parcels will be accepted at sender's risk.

PROHIBITIONS.

(7.) Sulphuretted lime, calcium carbide, and rat poison shall not be transmitted through the post.

Maori curiosities or articles of Maori workmanship or apparently of Maori workmanship shall not be accepted for transmission by post unless they are accompanied by the permit of the Minister of Internal Affairs, except that Maori kits made wholly of flax and not partly composed of the feathers of native birds will be accepted, provided the exporter signs a declaration that the kits are of modern manufacture (not more than twenty-five years old).

BULLION.

(8.) No parcel of bullion may exceed 3 lb. in weight, except an inland parcel sent by any bank addressed to a bank at Auckland, Wellington, Dunedin, or Greymouth, when the parcel may weigh up to 8 lb.

CUSTOMS AND OTHER CHARGES PAYABLE BY SENDER.

(9.) Persons sending parcels to Australia, Papua, Union of South Africa, and Rhodesia, can take upon themselves the payment of the Customs and other charges ordinarily payable by the addressee.

In the case of parcels sent under this arrangement the sender must pay a fee of 6d., sign an undertaking to pay on demand the amount due, and make a deposit on account of the charges. The deposit shall be at the rate of 2s. for each 4s. or fraction of 4s. of the declared value of the parcel, but an additional deposit is required on certain articles of apparel addressed to Australia. A final settlement shall take place when a notification of the amount due has been received from the country of destination. An undertaking to pay charges under this arrangement cannot be accepted when the sender is residing only temporarily in New Zealand, or is unable to give a settled address in this Dominion.

PARCEL ADDRESSED TO UNITED KINGDOM.—DISPOSAL.

(10.) The sender of a parcel addressed to the United Kingdom may request, at the time of posting, that if the parcel cannot be delivered as addressed it may be either (a) treated as abandoned, or (b) tendered for delivery at a second address in the country of destination. No other course is admissible. If the sender avails himself of this provision, his request must be written on the parcel, and must be in one of the following forms:—

"If not deliverable as addressed, abandon."

"If not deliverable as addressed, deliver to . . ."

In the absence of a definite request for abandonment, a parcel which is undeliverable at the original address and at the alternative address, if one is furnished, shall be returned to the sender at his expense and without previous notification.

CASH ON DELIVERY.—UNITED KINGDOM—NEW ZEALAND.

(11.) The cash-on-delivery system provides for the collection from the addressee by the Post Office, on behalf of the sender, of the value of articles contained in parcels exchanged between New Zealand and the United Kingdom. The system enables a person in New Zealand to order goods from the United Kingdom, or a person in the United Kingdom to order goods from New Zealand, have them despatched by parcel-post, and pay for them on delivery.

The amount collected from the addressee under the cash-on-delivery system is termed the "trade charge." This trade charge must not exceed £40 on any one parcel, and it must not exceed the declared value plus the postage and other fees payable on the parcel.

The sender must write in bold letters, beside the address on the cover, the word "Rembursement," and after it the amount of the trade charge in figures and words. No alteration in the amount of the trade charge shown on the cover is permitted, even if such erasure or correction be certified, nor can the amount of the trade charge be cancelled.

The sender may request at the time of posting that in the event of the parcel being undeliverable at the address stated thereon it may either be treated as abandoned or be tendered for delivery at a second address in the country of destination. If the sender avails himself of this facility his request must be written on the parcel in the following terms: "If this parcel is undeliverable to the addressee it should be (a) abandoned, (b) tendered for delivery to . . ." [The alternative not required should be struck out.]

In the absence of a definite request for abandonment, a parcel which is undeliverable at the expiration of fifteen days from the date of receipt at the office of destination will be returned to the sender, without previous notification, at his expense. A parcel bearing an alternative address shall be held at the disposal of the first addressee for eight days, and if not delivered at the end of that period it shall be held for a further period of seven days at the disposal of the second addressee before being returned to the sender as undeliverable.

A fee of 2½d. for each £1 or fraction of £1 of the trade charge, and a special posting fee of 3d., in addition to the ordinary postage shall be collected from the sender of a cash-on-delivery parcel addressed to the United Kingdom.

The sender of a "trade charge" parcel must fill in a "request form," which includes a formal request for the collection of the trade charge and a declaration that the parcel is sent in fulfilment of an order. The posting fee of 3d. must be affixed to this form, but the fee of 2½d. for each £1 must be affixed to the parcel.

The counterfoil of the trade-charge money-order handed to the sender when posting the parcel must be given up by him when the money-order is paid to him on its return from the United Kingdom.

On parcels received from the United Kingdom under the cash-on-delivery system a special delivery fee of 4d. per parcel is charged.

If the trade charge on a parcel from the United Kingdom is not paid within thirty days after its receipt at the office of delivery the parcel shall be treated as unclaimed. A parcel from the United Kingdom bearing an alternative address shall be held at the disposal of the first addressee for fifteen days, and if not claimed at the end of that period it shall be held for a further period of fifteen days at the disposal of the second addressee before being treated as undeliverable.

DEMURRAGE.

(12.) A parcel (other than one containing jewellery, or any article of gold or silver, or any precious stone) received from a place beyond New Zealand, addressed to a post office "to be called for," or for other reason required to lie at a post-office, will, after it has remained in the office fourteen clear days (excluding Sundays and holidays), be charged demurrage at the rate of 1d. a day.

REDIRECTED, UNDELIVERED, AND UNCLAIMED PARCELS.

(13.) A fresh "fragile" fee is not to be charged on a fragile parcel for each redirection or for its return to the sender.

Parcels originating in Australia will be returned direct to the country of origin at the expiry of two months from date of posting of the advice of non-delivery.

INSURANCE OF PARCELS.

(14.) In addition to the insurance fees the special "fragile" fee of 6d. or 9d. (as may be required) must also be paid on all inland insured parcels which the senders desire forwarded in a hamper, except parcels containing fishing-rods, golf-clubs, &c., exceeding 3 ft. 6 in. in length; and unless this special fee is paid no claims arising out of the damage to any inland insured parcel will be entertained.

The special conditions regarding the packing and sealing of insured parcels do not apply to inland parcels insured for any sum not exceeding £2, which may be wrapped and secured in the ordinary way.

DETAILS OF THE EXAMINATIONS UNDER REGULATIONS 163 TO 167 INCLUSIVE.

Every person desirous of qualifying himself for membership will be required to pass the following examinations: Provided that existing members of the Institute who (not having been examined previously) desire to sit for examinations shall not be required to pass the Preliminary Examination:—

The First and Second Professional and the Final Examinations of the Institute herein scheduled will be held periodically at such times and places as shall be duly notified by publication in the daily Press and/or the "Proceedings" of the Institute. The examinations will be conducted under the control and supervision of responsible persons as supervisors, to be appointed by the Committee of Architectural Education on the recommendation of the several district branches.

I. PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION.

This examination will be the Matriculation Examination of the University of New Zealand or any other recognized university, and in addition the candidate will be required to pass a test in drawing from the round, of some feature, as an indication that elementary training in consideration of form in its three dimensions is essential.

II. FIRST PROFESSIONAL EXAMINATION.

1. TESTIMONIES OF STUDY.

Two testimonies of study to be submitted as laid down hereunder, and more particularly as annually announced at the commencement of each year. These are to be fully finished drawings on drawing-paper, 27 in. by 20 in., mounted on strawboard, and delivered at the registered office of the Institute, carriage paid, and addressed to the Secretary, four weeks before the commencement of the examination. The subjects to be as set forth below:—

A drawing of one Greek and one Roman order taken from well-known examples, but otherwise of the candidate's own selection.

The drawing to consist of at least two columns of the order, at least 7 in. high on the drawing, with details of all parts three times the size of the principal drawings, and with a small-scale plan and elevation of the building selected.

These drawings may be executed in any usual manner, but must be accompanied by a declaration of originality.

2. HISTORY OF ARCHITECTURE (ELEMENTARY).

(ii.) Constructive Principles and Situation.—General knowledge of the constructive principles and conditions of climate and situation under which architecture has developed at different periods.

(iii.) Ancient Architecture.—Knowledge of the character of architecture in ancient Egypt, Assyria, Persia, Greece, and the Roman Empire to the end of the fifth century A.D., with a knowledge of some of the ancient buildings of each period, particularly those of Greece and Roman Empire.

(vi.) The evolution and purpose of simple architectural features in the foregoing features.

The object to be attained in the examination of candidates in this subject is to discover what the candidate understands of architecture as an expression of national life; under what influences and to what extent the development of the character took place; and the general forms in which this character was expressed. There is but little necessity for quoting dimensions and dates. A well-proportioned sketch with terse notes will usually convey more information than a detailed written explanation, and proves, moreover, that the architectural character of the building so illustrated has been well impressed on the mind.

Candidates who have made application for the schedule of these subjects have the option of selecting either of them. The subject selected is to be worked up by him, and is to consist of all necessary plans, elevations, and sections drawn to a suitable scale as for a contract, with a sketch perspective and a sheet of typical details drawn to a larger scale. These drawings, properly mounted on cardboard or strainers, and accompanied by a sealed envelope containing the candidate's name, and a declaration that the design is entirely his own design and execution, shall be lodged at the registered office of the Institute in Wellington, addressed to the Secretary, by a date laid down in the schedule of subjects, and not less than two months before the commencement of the remaining portion of the examination. Carriage to be paid by the candidate. The Secretary will place these drawings before the Board of Examination appointed by the Committee of Architectural Education, who will judge the designs submitted and record their approval or otherwise. Only those candidates whose designs are approved by the Board will be permitted to sit for the completion of the examination. The designs shall be numbered by the Secretary in the order of their arrival, and he shall similarly number and retain the sealed envelopes unopened until the decisions of the Board are made known, which date shall be at least one month prior to the date for the remainder of the examination.

(b.) To the successful candidates in the subject set under (a) the Secretary shall forward, with the notification of their designs being approved, a notice of the subject to be set under (b). This portion of the examination shall be a further test in design. The general nature of the subject to be set, without details, shall be notified as above, one month before the examination. The details of the problem are to be announced only in the examination-room, and will embrace either a small problem or a small subject of a larger one. ## APPENDIX "K."

SCALE OF PROFESSIONAL CHARGES.

Conditions of Engagement.

The registered architect is employed subject to the following conditions founded upon the customs of the profession, and his charges are payable according to the scale of charges adopted and issued by the Council of the New Zealand Institute of Architects, which scale as hereinafter stated is fixed and accepted on the basis of the same conditions and is binding upon all members of this Institute:—

- (a.) That the architect's full professional services consist of the necessary conferences; the preparation of preliminary studies, working drawings, specifications, large-scale and full-size detail drawings; calling for tenders; preparation and signing of the contract; the issuance of progress and final certificates of payment; and the general supervision of the execution of the works, including the exercise of all powers conferred on the architect by the conditions of the contract.
- (b.) That the supervision which an architect will give to the work is general only, and nothing further than general supervision is covered by the following scale of charges. General supervision includes only periodical visits of inspection by the architect or his deputy for the purpose of ascertaining, so far as can reasonably be ascertained by periodical inspections, whether the work is being generally carried out in accordance with the design and the contract.
- (c.) That in all cases where more than general supervision is required a clerk of works shall be employed for this purpose. He shall be nominated or approved by the architect and appointed and paid by the client. He shall be under the architect's direction and control. The architect will generally supervise the work of the clerk of works, but further or otherwise accepts no responsibility for the due carrying-out by the clerk of works of his duties.
- (d.) That the architect has authority to give such orders on behalf of the client as are necessitated in the client's interests by constructional emergencies.
- (e.) That the architect is empowered to make such deviations, alterations, additions, and omissions as he may reasonably consider desirable in the client's interests in carrying out the works. If material addition to the cost of the contract or order is caused thereby, such additional cost shall first be approved by the client.
- (f.) That the fees of any consultant or consultants (if any) retained for any part of the work with the concurrence of the client are not included in the architect's usual charge, but shall be paid for by the client.
- (g.) That in all cases in which any projected work is not proceeded with the architect's services shall be paid for as hereinafter provided.
- (h.) That the cost of the preparation of quantities, the measurement and valuation of variations, additions, and omissions, and the preparation of the statement of accounts in connection with any contract based on bills of quantities is not included in the charges, but is to be paid for in addition thereto.
- (i.) That all plans, specifications, tracings, and copies are and shall remain the property of the architect whether the work for which they are made is executed or not, and that the copyright is vested in him. The charge for these is for their use only in connection with any special work for which they were prepared.

I. Scale of Professional Charges.

1. For taking the client's instructions, preparing preliminary studies for consideration and discussion, preparing working drawings of the completed design and specifications; obtaining tenders, advising on tenders, and preparing the contract; selecting and instructing consultants (if any); furnishing the contractor with one complete set of copies of the drawings and specifications, and such other details as are necessary for the proper carrying-out of the works; furnishing one copy to the principal local authority for building permits; general supervision as above defined, and issuing certificates of payment—the charge in respect of new works to be  $6\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. on the total cost of the completed work.

2. If the project or part of it be abandoned or postponed, or the services of the architect cease or are dispensed with before a contract is entered into or any order given, the charges are as follows:—

(a.) For taking the client's instructions, preparing preliminary studies for consideration and discussion— $1\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. on a reasonable estimated cost of the projected work.

(b.) For taking the client's instructions, preparing preliminary studies for consideration and discussion; preparing working drawings and specifications; selecting and instructing consultants (if any); furnishing the necessary copies of the drawings and specifications as above—4 per cent. on a reasonable estimated or actual cost of the projected work.

3. For all copies of plans and specifications additional to the above required for any purpose whatsoever an additional charge will be made.

4. For acting as professional adviser and/or architectural member of any jury of award in any competition held under the regulations of this Institute governing competitions, the charge shall be a sum of not less than fifty guineas, plus one-fifth per centum upon a reasonable estimated cost of the proposed building.

5. For work carried out on any system other than by contract under one general contractor an additional charge will be made.

6. (a.) For carrying out the architectural work relating to alterations and repairs, and for works costing under £1,000, the minimum rate of  $6\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. is unremunerative, and the architect may therefore charge a higher rate as follows: If the cost does not exceed £1,000 the percentage may be 10 per cent. in the case of works costing £100, graduated to  $6\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. in the case of works costing £1,000, as the special character of such works may render appropriate.

(b.) For designs for furniture and fittings of buildings, for their decoration with paintings or mosaics, for their sculpture, for stained-glass windows, for work in which complex details or construction are main features, for lay-out plans and designs for gardens, and similar work, the charge will not be upon a basis of a percentage of the cost of the same, but will be regulated by the special circumstances and conditions.

7. The above charges do not cover the professional services in connection with negotiations for site, in surveying it and taking levels, in making surveys and plans of buildings to be altered, in arrangements respecting party walls or rights of lights, nor services incidental to arrangements consequent upon failure of builders whilst carrying out work, or in cases of subsequent litigation; but all such services are charged for according to circumstances.

8. If after the plan has been completed in accordance with the instructions of a client he requires material alterations to be made in the drawings, the architect shall be entitled to make an extra charge commensurate with the extent of the work involved in making such alterations.

9. In all cases where work is executed wholly or in part with old materials, or where material, labour, or carriage is provided by the client, the percentage shall be calculated as if the works had been executed throughout by a contractor, and with new materials.

10. Payments to the architect on account of his charges are due as his work progresses, and in the following manner: Upon completion of the preliminary studies,  $1\frac{1}{2}$  per cent.; upon completion of the specifications and general working drawings,  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. additional; the remainder of the charge shall be payable by instalments from time to time as the work proceeds. The foregoing percentages are calculated upon the total amount of the contract or order, or (should the work or part of it be postponed or abandoned) upon a reasonable estimated cost of the work, and no part of such payment shall be reclaimable from the architect in the event of the subsequent abandonment of such works. No portion of the architect's charges shall be withheld by the client because of any dispute between the client and contractor. Should the work be abandoned or stopped at any stage, the charges provided for by sections 1 or 2, as the case may be, are payable at the time of the stoppage. In the case of works under section 6 being abandoned, the payments to the architect for the works specified in clauses (a) and (b) of section 2 respectively shall bear the same proportion to the total charges provided for under section 6 that the charges mentioned in the said clauses bear to the charges provided for under section 1, and are payable at the time of the stoppage.

11. When an architect supplies builders with quantities on which to form tenders for executing his design, he must do so with the concurrence of his client, the cost of such extra service not being included in the charge of  $6\frac{1}{2}$  per cent.

12. Besides the above charges, all travelling, advertising, and other incidental expenses incurred by the architect are payable by the client, who may be also charged for the time occupied in travelling if the work be executed at a considerable or inconvenient distance, or if more than ordinary attendance is required.

II. Housing Schemes, Quantities, Valuations, &c.

The introduction of "housing schemes," and the preparation of bills of quantities, valuations, &c., being new to this country, the Institute adopts, in general terms, the scale laid down by the Royal Institute of British Architects, allowing for such variations as are necessary to meet local conditions.

III. Surveys.

For inspecting, reporting, and advising on the sanitary conditions of premises the charge is by time occupied, and will depend upon the professional standing of the architect, the minimum fee being five guineas per day, in addition to the cost of assistance and appliances.

IV. Arbitrations, &c.

For qualifying to give evidence, settling proofs, conferences with solicitors and counsel, attendance in Courts or before arbitrators or other tribunals, or for acting as arbitrator or umpire in an arbitration, and for other services in connection with litigation and/or arbitration, the charges are based upon the time occupied and the professional standing of the architect, but in no case shall they be less than five guineas per day or part of a day.

REGULATIONS FOR THE CONDUCT OF ARCHITECTURAL COMPETITIONS.

The View of the Council of the Institute upon Competitions.

Public bodies and others have of late years frequently had recourse to competitions amongst architects where buildings of a public or otherwise important nature are needed. It is assumed that the motive prompting bodies who promote such competitions is that they are desirous of getting the best design possible for their project: they are enabled to choose an architect through comparison of the designs submitted. Architects taking part in such competitions are naturally desirous of producing the best possible designs: it will therefore be readily seen that the interests are identical.

It sometimes happens that conditions issued in connection with some competition are faulty in some important particular, and consequently offer no inducement to architects of standing to compete. In such cases the promoters are communicated with and the defective or unsatisfactory clauses are pointed out, and a copy of these regulations is submitted as a guide for the remodelling of the conditions.

The New Zealand Institute does not assume to dictate the promoter's course in conducting a competition, but aims to assist him by advising the adoption of such methods as experience has proved to be just and wise. So important, however, does the adoption of such methods appear to architects that members of this Institute do not take part in any competition except under conditions based on these regulations, which, if adopted by all bodies promoting competitions, would avoid much vexation and delay, and the banning of competitions would be at once rendered unnecessary. It is therefore necessary that all conditions of competition should be submitted for the approval of the Institute before being published, and such approval should be printed on the conditions when issued. No member of the Institute is permitted to enter any competition without such approval being first obtained and printed on the face of the conditions.

Competitions may be conducted in one of the following ways:—

- (a.) By advertisement inviting architects willing to compete for the intended work to send in designs. For competitions for public works of great architectural importance this method is recommended.
- (b.) By advertisement inviting registered architects willing to compete for the intended work to send in their names by a given day, with such other information as they may think likely to advance their claim to be admitted to the competition. From these names the promoters, with the advice of a professional adviser, shall select a limited number to compete, and each competitor thus selected shall receive a specified sum for the preparation of his design.
- (c.) By personal invitation to a limited number of selected architects to join in a competition for the intended work. Each competitor shall receive a specified sum for the preparation of his design.

NOTE.—Where a deposit is required for supplying the instructions, it shall be returned on the receipt of a bona fide design; or if the applicant declines to compete and returns the said instructions within one month after the receipt of replies to competitor's questions.

Generally speaking, the New Zealand Institute does not encourage the promotion of competitions except in works of national importance, the interests of owners being better served by the selection of an architect distinguished for his skill in the class of work required. But should the work be of such importance as to justify a competition, then the Institute recommends that it be open to all registered architects throughout the Dominion.

The essentials of a competition may be set out as follows:—

- (1.) The selection of a professional adviser.
- (2.) The form of the competition.
- (3.) Matters relating to the competitors and their anonymity.
- (4.) Cost of the proposed work and details relating thereto.
- (5.) The method of making the award.
- (6.) The contract with the winner.

These points are more fully set out in the following paragraphs, which are generally known as "The Regulations for Architectural Competitions."

1. The Selection of a Professional Adviser.

The promoters of an intended competition should, as their first step, appoint one or more professional advisers, architects of established reputation, whose appointment should be published in the original advertisements and instructions. The selection of an adviser should be made with the greatest possible care, as the successful result of the competition will depend very largely upon his experience and ability.

The President of the New Zealand Institute of Architects is prepared to act as honorary adviser to promoters in their appointments of the professional adviser and of the architectural member or members of the jury of award.

The duties of an adviser are as follows:—

- (a.) To confer with and advise the promoters on their requirements and on the questions of cost and premiums to be offered.
  - (b.) To draw up instructions for the guidance of competitors and for the conduct of the competition in accordance with the requirements of the promoters, and incorporating the whole of the clauses of these regulations which are applicable to the particular competition. The "instructions" or "conditions" must state clearly the date of the closing of the competition, and this date shall not be extended without the written consent of the "jury of award" being first obtained; and in no case shall any extension be granted within fourteen days of a date already fixed as the closing date.
- NOTE.—It is essential in drawing up the instructions to state definitely which of the conditions must be strictly adhered to, under penalty of disqualification from the competition, and which of them are optional.
- (c.) To answer questions raised by competitors within a limited time during the preparation of the designs, such answers to be sent to all competitors.
  - (d.) As a member of the jury of award, to report to the promoters on the designs submitted, and to assist in awarding the premiums in strict adherence to the conditions.

2. The Form of the Competition.

Competitions are of two forms, limited and open:—

(a.) Limited.—In this form, participation is limited to a certain number of architects, as stated above, whose names should be mentioned in the programme, to any one of whom the owner is willing to entrust the work.

The limited form has the advantage that the owner and the professional adviser may meet competitors and discuss the terms of the competition with them before the issuance of the programme. This form is the simplest and most direct form of competition.

(b.) Open.—While recommending that, in general terms, competitions should be open to all registered architects, the Institute considers that the best results are obtained by dividing this class of competition into two stages.

In this form there is a first stage open to all, in which the competitive drawings are of the slightest nature, involving only the fundamental ideas of the solution. These drawings are accompanied by evidence of the competitor's education and experience. From the first stage a small number who have thus demonstrated their competence to design the work and to carry it successfully into execution are chosen by the jury of award to take part in a final and strictly anonymous stage of the competition.

3. Matters relating to the Competitors and their Anonymity.

The following are the essential points relating to competitors:—

1. No promoter of a competition, no adviser or juror engaged upon it, or any employee of either, or any person who has acted in an advisory capacity to the promoters, shall compete or assist a competitor, or act as architect, or joint architect, for the proposed work.

2. Each design shall be accompanied by a declaration, signed by the competitor or joint competitors, stating that the design is his or their own personal work, and that the drawings have been prepared under his or their own supervision. A successful competitor must be prepared to satisfy the jury of award that he is the bona fide author of the design he has submitted.

3. The premiums shall be paid in accordance with the jury's award, and the author of the design placed first by the jury shall be employed to carry out the work, unless the jury shall be satisfied that there is some valid objection to such employment, in which case the author of the design placed next in order of merit shall be employed, subject to a similar condition. The award of the jury shall not be set aside for any other reason.

4. If no instructions are given to the author of the design selected by the jury to proceed with the work within twelve months from the date of the award, then he shall receive payment for his services in connection with the preparation of the competition drawings of a sum equal to 2 per cent. on the amount of the estimated cost. If the work is subsequently proceeded with, the 2 per cent. previously paid to him shall form part of his ultimate commission.

5. The number, scale, and method of finishing of the required drawings shall be distinctly set forth. The drawings shall not be more in number or to a larger scale than necessary clearly to explain the design, and such drawings shall be uniform in size, number, mode of colouring, and mounting. As a general rule a scale of 16 ft. to an inch will be found sufficient for plans, sections, elevations; or in the case of very large buildings a smaller scale might suffice. Unless the professional adviser advises that perspective drawings are desirable they shall not be admitted.

6. No design shall bear any motto or distinguishing mark; but all designs shall be numbered by the promoters in order of receipt.

7. A design shall be excluded from a competition—

- (a.) If sent in after the period named (accidents in transit excepted);
- (b.) If it does not give substantially the accommodation asked for;
- (c.) If it exceeds the limit of site as shown on the plan issued by the promoters, the figured dimensions on which shall be adhered to;
- (d.) If the jury shall determine that its probable cost will exceed by 10 per cent. the outlay stated in the instructions, or the estimate of the competitor should no outlay be stated (if the jury be of the opinion that the outlay stated in the instructions is inadequate, they shall not be bound in the selection of a design by the amount named in such instructions, but the question of cost shall nevertheless be a material element in the consideration of the award);
- (e.) If any of the conditions or instructions other than those of a suggestive character are violated;
- (f.) If a competitor shall disclose his identity or attempt to influence the decision.

All designs and reports submitted in a competition for a public building, except any excluded under clause 7, shall be publicly exhibited after the award has been made, which award shall be published at the time of exhibition; and all designs and reports submitted in a competition for a private building shall be similarly exhibited to the competitors.

All drawings submitted in a competition, except those of a design selected to be carried out, shall be returned to the competitors. Should the promoters wish to adopt or make use of any feature in the design of any of the placed or unsuccessful candidates, this can only be done with the consent of the author upon payment to him of a reasonable fee for his design.

4. The Cost and General Dimensions of the Proposed Work.

No competitor can produce any satisfactory solution of the problem involved unless fairly full details are supplied of the dimensions and the accommodation necessary, together with an estimate of the total sum proposed to be expended on the building. The conditions should also state the commencing and ending of the period when questions may be asked and answered, the date upon which the competition closes, and the subsequent date upon which the award will be made.

The conditions should also clearly state the remuneration to be paid to those competitors placed first, second, and third. This should be of an amount reasonably commensurate to the value of the work done, nor should the amount of the first prize be merged in the commission to be paid.

5. The Jury of Award.

To ensure a wise and just decision and to protect the interests of both the owner and the competitors the competitive drawings should be submitted to a jury of award so chosen as to secure expert knowledge and freedom from personal bias. Such a jury must be persons capable of thoroughly understanding and appreciating the intent of the drawings. It discovers from them their author's skill in design, arrangement, and construction. Because of its trained judgment, its advice as to the merits of the designs submitted is of the highest value to the owner.

The jury must consist of at least three members, representatives of the interests involved, one of whom must, and a majority of whom should, be practising architects. One or more members of the jury should be chosen by the competitors. The professional adviser is eminently suitable for appointment to the jury.

Should the jury consist of more than three persons, then the number of architectural representatives must be proportionately increased.

It is the duty of the jury to study carefully all conditions relating to the problem and the competition before examining designs; to refuse to make or recommend an award in favour of the author of any design that does not fulfil the conditions distinctly stated as mandatory in the programme; to give ample time to the careful study of the design; and to render a decision only after mature consideration. The jury should see to it that a copy of its report reaches every competitor.

In the case of small competitions the jury may consist of one person only, provided he be a registered architect. In these instances also the duties of the professional adviser and of the jury may be carried out by one and the same person.

6. The Contract with the Winner.

The promoters of a competition assume the moral obligation to retain one of the competitors, to be selected by the jury of award, as architect for the proposed building, and in order that architects of repute who desire to compete may determine whether they will or will not take part in the competition it is essential that they should know the terms upon which the winner will be employed. It is therefore of importance that these terms should be clearly defined, and that a clause should be inserted that the architectural work shall be awarded to the winner, and that he shall be paid in accordance with the scale of charges sanctioned and published by this Institute.

7. Payment of Professional Advisers and the Jury.

While the President of the Institute is willing to act in an honorary capacity as adviser to promoters in the selection of the professional advisers and the architectural members of the jury of award, the registered architects acting in these capacities must be paid for their services.

In all competitions in which a great deal of time is involved the usual New Zealand Institute of Architects' scale of charges is a sum of fifty guineas and out-of-pocket expenses, plus one-fifth per cent. upon the estimated cost of the proposed building.

I hereby certify that the above regulations relating to Appendix "J" were duly made at a general meeting of members of the New Zealand Institute of Architects held at Wellington on the 4th day of May, 1921, and the regulations relating to Appendices "K" and "L" were duly made at a general meeting of members of the New Zealand Institute of Architects held at Wellington on the 19th day of August, 1921, and that the provisions of the New Zealand Institute of Architects Act, 1913, have been duly complied with.

Dated this 2nd day of September, 1921.

W. BEAUCHAMP PLATTS,
Secretary of the Institute.

In pursuance of the provisions of the New Zealand Institute of Architects Act, 1913, His Excellency the Governor-General of the Dominion of New Zealand, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council of the said Dominion, approves of the foregoing regulations.

JELlicoe, Governor-General.

Approved in Council this first day of November, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one.

Clerk of the Executive Council.

SUMMARY FOR THE MONTH OF SEPTEMBER, 1921.

The chief meteorological feature in September was the heavy rain on the 17th, 18th, and 19th, which benefited nearly all parts of the Dominion. This rain storm was caused by a cyclone centre passing from the north-westward and traversing Cook Strait early on the morning of the 18th. It was followed by an intense Antarctic depression. The latter ruled until the 23rd, and also accounted for rain in many districts and for severe thunderstorms in the northern portion of the North Island.

Except about the period above mentioned—viz., 16th to 23rd—anticyclonic conditions dominated, and the weather generally proved fair and mild, with a low wind-force.

The total rainfall was above the average in the vicinity of Cook Strait and in South Canterbury and South Westland, but deficiencies occurred elsewhere.
