SUMMARY FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER, 1924.

The outstanding feature of December was the frequency of the passage of ex-tropical disturbances in and northward of Cook Strait, particularly in the latter half of the month. Dull, mild, and wet conditions resulted, and some very heavy rains occurred over the North Island and the northern and east coast districts of the South. The highest falls were experienced in the Wairarapa—Masterton had a total for the month of 13.28 inches, which is 417 per cent. above the average; Lagoon Hills recorded 17.14 inches; Featherston, 13.41 inches; the Summit, 13.57 inches; Wainuiomata, the main water-supply for the city, had 23.12 inches, and Wellington City 11.39 inches, which is 256 per cent. above the average for the month and the heaviest December fall since 1884. The only parts of the country having a deficit rainfall were Westland and south-west Otago.

Electrical conditions were prevalent in various parts of the country, chiefly about the 5th, 7th, and 22nd.

D. C. BATES, Director.
