Office of the Minister of Public Works,
Wellington, 1st August, 1929.

THE Minister of Public Works hereby notifies, for public information, that the following are the requirements and provisions subject to which he will be prepared to advise His Excellency the Governor-General in Council to entertain applications for licenses under section 319 of the Public Works Act, 1928.

(1) Every application for a license to construct and use electric lines for lighting and other purposes under section 319 of the Public Works Act, 1928, must be made in writing to the Minister of Public Works at Wellington, and be accompanied by a plan (in triplicate) showing by means of a distinctive coloured border thereon the proposed area of supply, the position of the power-house and substations, and the route or routes of the electric lines proposed in the initial installation, indicating in each case where the lines cross main telegraph and telephone lines, railways, and tramways, and full particulars as regards—

(a) System of supply—i.e., direct current or alternating current, voltages of generation, transmission, and distribution; manner in which the electricity is generated—i.e., whether by water-power, steam, gas, or oil engine, &c., or if the power is to be purchased in bulk, the source and nature of such bulk supply; the rated kilowatt output of the generators to be installed. In the case of a water-power development the static head in feet to be stated, also the number of cubic feet of water per second proposed to be utilized.

(b) In cases where the applicant is a private individual, the full Christian name and surname, occupation, and address must be supplied.

(2) In cases where the applicant is not a local authority, or if a local authority desires to operate beyond its own boundaries, the written consent of the local authority concerned must be obtained and forwarded with the application.

(3) In cases where an electric-power district has been constituted under the Electric-power Boards Act, 1925, the written consent of the Electric-power Board must be obtained and forwarded with the application.

(4) No work shall be commenced until the license has been issued, and no portion of the initial installation shall be used until a formal permit in writing, under clause 18 (2) of the regulations under section 319 of the Public Works Act, 1928, and published in the New Zealand Gazette, No. 48, of the 11th day of July, 1927, has been received from the Minister.

(5) Application for an inspection under clause 18 of the regulations hereinbefore referred to shall be accompanied by a plan of the lines to be inspected, setting out the details required to show routes completed and pressure of lines in colours specified below. The plan must be dated to correspond with its accompanying letter.

(6) Plans shall be preferably in black and white, with the following colours used for the purposes indicated:—

Extra-high pressure exceeding 11,000 volts ..	Blue.
Extra-high pressure not exceeding 11,000 volts ..	Red.
High pressure	Yellow.
Medium and low pressure	Green.

Plans should be prepared to the largest scale reasonably consistent with keeping such within the limits of foolscap size where possible, or, if necessary to exceed this size, not greater than 22 in. by 30 in. The scale in any case should be not less than one inch per mile. Plans should have north point of compass marked on same.

(7) In order to standardize the conditions as far as possible throughout the Dominion, it is suggested that when convenient the three-phase four-wire system be adopted for distribution at a frequency of 50 cycles per second, and a voltage of 230 between each phase and a neutral for lighting purposes and small motors, and 400 volts between phases for supply to large motors.

E. A. RANSOM, Minister of Public Works.

Information required in Applications under Section 318 of the Public Works Act, 1928, for Licenses to use Water for the Purpose of generating Electricity.

(d) A statement of the quantity of water to be taken, and the difference in level between the water and the headworks and in the tail-race; a description of the electrical system to be adopted—that is, to say, whether direct current or alternating current, and, if the latter, the number of phases and periodicity, and in either case the pressure of generation, transmission, and supply.

4. If the Minister thinks the application should be further considered, he shall appoint a Commission of Inquiry for this purpose, whereupon the following provisions shall apply:—

(a) The Commissioner shall require a minute of the application to be advertised, at the cost of the applicant, in such form and in such newspaper as he thinks fit, having regard to the nature and extent of the works, the route proposed for transmission, and the interests likely to be affected.

The output shall be measured by means of an integrating watt-hour meter with maximum demand indicator attachment, otherwise it shall be determined on the maximum capacity of the generator or generators installed.
- (f) A schedule of maximum charges that may be made by the licensee for the sale or supply of electricity.
- (g) Power to the Governor-General in Council to forfeit, without payment of any compensation, any water delivered at the headworks or dam in excess of the quantity which the turbines installed are capable of utilizing.
- (h) Requiring the licensee to submit for the Minister's approval, before the works are commenced, detail plans of the dam, pipe-line, and headworks.

And whereas it is desired to make certain additional and amending rules:

Now, therefore, in pursuance and exercise of the power and authority conferred upon me by section twenty-three of the Shipping and Seamen Act, 1908, and of all other powers and authorities enabling me in that behalf, I do hereby make the following rules additional to and amending the said rules.

- (c) First Mate.—A candidate must be not less than twenty-one-and-a-half years of age; while holding a certificate as second mate foreign-going, he must have served as watch-keeping officer either—
 - (1) One-and-a-half years on foreign-going articles, or
 - (2) Two-and-a-quarter years on home-trade articles.
- (d) Master.—A candidate must be not less than twenty-three years of age; while holding a certificate as first mate foreign-going he must have served either—
 - (1) One-and-a-half years as first mate on foreign-going articles; or
 - (2) Two-and-a-quarter years as first mate on home-trade articles; or
 - (3) Two years as second of three watch-keeping officers on foreign-going articles; or

2. The minimum ages prescribed in Rules 47, 48, 49, and 50 of the hereinbefore-recited rules are hereby revoked.

Until further notice candidates for Masters' and Mates' Certificates will be allowed to qualify in respect of sea service either under the hereinbefore-recited rules or under Rule 1 hereof, but must qualify entirely under either the one or the other. Candidates applying to be examined on and after the 1st day of January, 1931, will be required to qualify under Rule 1 hereof, and on that date Rules 47, 48, 49, and 50 of the hereinbefore-recited rules shall, in so far as they relate to qualifying sea service, be deemed to be revoked.

4. Watch-keeping Service, Interpretation of.

- (a) When service in charge of a watch is specified in the regulations, candidates for Certificates of Competency as first mate must be able to prove that, during one-and-a-quarter years at least of their service, they have kept regular watch for not less than eight hours in each twenty-four hours' service claimed. Candidates must produce references from the master in the form prescribed in the Schedule hereto stating clearly that—
 - (1) The candidate has had effective charge of any watch for eight hours in each twenty-four hours' service.
 - (2) An entry to this effect has been made in the mate's log.

[If there is any reasonable doubt that the candidate's service does not comply with this regulation, the examiner must satisfy himself that any supervision exercised has been intermittent and with the object of ensuring the competence of the candidate, and that the period of doubled watches (and consequent divided responsibility) has been of reasonable amount in relation to the whole voyage.]

- (b) During the whole of the qualifying service between First Mate's and Master's Certificates that is specified by the regulations, candidates for the Master's Certificate will be required to have served in full charge of a watch for eight out of each twenty-four hours' service claimed.
- (c) In cases where watches have been doubled, the time so spent may count as half its duration for qualifying purposes: Provided that the examiner is satisfied that such double watches have been only occasional and not continuous.
- (d) The Department reserve the right to consider special cases on their merits and without prejudice to these regulations, provided satisfactory evidence of service is forthcoming.
- (e) Rule 116 of the hereinbefore-recited regulations is hereby revoked.

5. Signalling.—The examination in signalling may be taken under the following conditions:—

- (a) A candidate for any grade of certificate for which signalling is required may take this part of the examination at any time within the six months immediately before or after he presents himself for examination in navigation and seamanship.
- (b) A candidate who fails in signalling but passes in every other subject may, at any time within the six months following his first attempt, be re-examined in signalling only, and if he then passes, will receive his Certificate of Competency.

6. Rule of the Road.—In the examination on Rule of the Road the examiner's duty will be to test the candidate's knowledge of the sense and intention of the Articles of the Collision Regulations. Mere ability to repeat the articles word for word will not suffice to ensure the candidate passing, nor will the lack of it necessarily entail failure, provided the examiner is satisfied that the candidate grasps the full significance, content, and practical application of the articles. Examiners will ask for the content of the articles not by their number, but by the subject with which they deal, and they will discourage the use by candidates of verses as aids to memorizing the articles. Examiners will not place a candidate for a steamship certificate in the position of handling a sailing ship, but will lay stress on the candidate's ability to recognize a sailing ship's lights and on his knowledge of a sailing ship's possible manœuvres according to the direction of the wind.

Hail fell on the 27th, lightning was seen on the 9th, and fog was in evidence on ten days. Mean dew-point, 45°; and mean vapour pressure, 0.298 in.

SUMMARY FOR THE MONTH OF MAY, 1929.

May was a very dry month over the whole of the South Island and the greater portion of the North Island. The only areas where the total rainfall exceeded the average were the Auckland Peninsula and most of the Gisborne and Hawke's Bay districts. Many places in the South Island experienced the lowest May rainfall since records have been kept.

Although temperatures, on the whole, were lower than usual, there was an absence of strong wind, except for short periods, and this, combined with the frequency of sunny days, was conducive to an excellent growth of pasture for this time of the year. The result is that a plentiful supply of winter feed is practically assured. Stock have generally maintained their good condition, but in parts of Hawke's Bay and the central portion of the North Island lambs and hoggets have not thrived as well as could be wished.

The main meteorological feature of the month has again been a relative absence of westerly winds owing to pressure systems of the cyclonic type having been most prominent. The only depression of the westerly type of any importance experienced was one which prevailed between the 8th and 10th, and the greater part of the rainfall registered in Westland was associated with this disturbance.

There were a number of small cyclones which, in most cases, passed across northern New Zealand, and brought rain mainly to the northern and east coast provinces of the North Island.

The most notable storm was a cyclone which appeared first on the 11th as a small centre to the north-west of Cape Maria van Diemen. Gradually increasing in extent and intensity as it moved southwards, it affected all parts of the Dominion, rain being general between the 14th and 16th. From Marlborough northwards stormy conditions prevailed, with strong south-east to south winds, which in some places reached gale force. Very heavy rains fell in the east coast districts of the North Island. Rivers overflowed, and much of the low-lying country in the Wairarapa, Hawke's Bay, and Gisborne districts became flooded. Many bridges were carried away and roads damaged, serious interference with traffic resulting. Although there was some loss of stock, the ample warning of floods enabled farmers to take all possible precautions. The loss was therefore far less than it might otherwise have been.

On the 15th this cyclone was centred north of the Bay of Plenty, and by the 16th it was moving off East Cape. By that time its worst effects were over.

Anticyclonic conditions and fine weather were general from the 17th to the 19th, but thereafter, until the 29th, the weather was somewhat unsettled and changeable, with scattered rain, chiefly in eastern districts. During this last period several cyclones moved over the northern Tasman Sea and across northern New Zealand, but their effects were not widespread. On the 28th some severe hailstorms were experienced at places in the far North in association with a cyclone the centre of which passed north of Cape Maria van Diemen during the night of the 27th.

Fine weather set in on the 29th and continued until the close of the month, an extensive anticyclone gradually intensifying over the Dominion.

Frosts were frequent during the month, and on the 31st a severe one occurred in many parts.
