HEREWITH is published for general information, in accordance with the Auctioneers Act, 1928, a list of persons licensed to carry on business as auctioneers as on the 15th day of May, 1930.

REGISTER OF LICENSES ISSUED UNDER THE AUCTIONEERS ACT, 1928.

NOTE.—The Register is arranged alphabetically under the names of holders of licenses; but when an individual holds a license on behalf of a firm or registered company, the name of such firm or company, and not the name of the holder of the license, is placed in its alphabetical order.

In the case of a firm or company the name of which consists of the Christian name or names (or initials) and surname or surnames of some person or persons, the index letter is the first letter of the first surname.

Further, where an individual holder of a license trades under a particular name, the trade-name appears in its alphabetical order.

NOMINAL CAPACITY OF BUILDINGS.

10. The nominal capacity of a building shall be ascertained according to the nature and use of the occupancy thereof in manner following:—

- (a) Except as provided in the subsequent paragraphs hereof, the nominal capacity shall be a number of units equal to the largest number of persons likely, in the opinion of the Superintendent, to be present in the building at any one time;
- (b) In the case of every building in which sleeping-accommodation is provided for a number of persons exceeding nineteen but not exceeding one hundred, for the purposes of the last preceding paragraph hereof, every person for whom sleeping-accommodation is provided shall be reckoned as one and a half units;
- (c) In the case of every building in which sleeping-accommodation is provided for more than one hundred persons, for the purposes of paragraph (a) of this clause, every person for whom sleeping-accommodation is provided shall be reckoned as two units;
- (d) In the case of every building in which such largest number of persons is one hundred or more, the nominal capacity shall be the number of units ascertained under the preceding paragraphs hereof (so far as applicable), increased by fifty per centum;
- (e) In the case of every building, being an institution used for sick or infirm persons or children, and every building which by reason of the construction or situation thereof or the nature of the use or occupancy thereof is, in the opinion of the Superintendent, liable to unusual damage from fire or unusually exposed to risk of fire, or liable to subject its inmates to unusual risk in the event of fire, the nominal capacity shall be one and a half times the number of units ascertained under all the preceding paragraphs of this clause (so far as applicable):

Provided that in no case shall any account be taken of persons present or likely to be present only in the ground-floor of the building or any part thereof below the ground-floor:

Provided also that whenever a structural alteration or addition to a building is made, or whenever, in the opinion of the Superintendent, a change in the nature of the use or occupancy of a building has occurred or is likely to occur, or whenever there has been an erection, alteration, or change of use of any building in the vicinity of a building, or whenever any matter has occurred by reason of which the inmates of a building are, in the opinion of the Superintendent, exposed to increased risk of danger from fire, the Superintendent may make a fresh computation of the nominal capacity of such building.

NOMINAL CAPACITY OF PARTS OF BUILDINGS.

11. The nominal capacity of any storey or other part of a building required to be ascertained separately shall be ascertained in the like manner as aforesaid, mutatis mutandis.

PART II.—OWNER TO PROVIDE FIRE-ESCAPES.

NEW BUILDINGS.

12. The owner of every building hereafter erected shall, before such building is occupied by any person, provide in connection therewith the fire-escapes hereby declared to be necessary for such building.

EXISTING BUILDINGS.

13. The owner of every building heretofore erected shall, within a reasonable time after being required by the Superintendent by notice in writing so to do, provide in connection therewith the fire-escapes hereby declared to be necessary for such building.

BUILDINGS SUBJECT TO BY-LAW BY CHANGE OF USE.

14. When the nature of the use or occupation of any building, whether heretofore or hereafter erected to which this by-law does not apply, is changed so that this by-law applies thereto the owner of such building shall, within a reasonable time after being required by the Superintendent by notice in writing so to do, provide in connection therewith the fire-escapes hereby declared to be necessary for such building.

BUILDINGS SUBJECT TO BY-LAW BY STRUCTURAL ALTERATION.

15. When structural additions or alterations are made to any building, whether heretofore or hereafter erected, to which this by-law does not apply so that this by-law applies thereto, the owner of such building shall forthwith (and without the necessity of any notice) provide in connection therewith the fire-escapes hereby declared to be necessary for such building.

FRESH COMPUTATION OF NOMINAL CAPACITY.

16. When a fresh computation of the nominal capacity of any building has been made as hereinbefore provided, the owner of such building shall, within a reasonable time after being required by the Superintendent by notice in writing so to do, provide in connection therewith the fire-escapes hereby declared to be necessary for such building according to such fresh computation.

PART III.—FIRE-ESCAPES DECLARED TO BE NECESSARY.

NUMBER OF FIRE-ESCAPES PER BUILDING.

17. It shall be necessary for every building to be provided with a separate and sufficient fire-escape not connecting with any other fire-escape for every one hundred units or part of one hundred units of the nominal capacity of the building; and, where the nominal capacity of any storey of a building exceeds one hundred units, it shall be necessary for such storey to be provided with a separate and sufficient fire-escape not connecting with any other fire-escape for every complete one hundred units of the nominal capacity of that storey.

ALTERNATIVE ESCAPES.

18. In every case where the nominal capacity of any building or part of a building entails the provision of more than one fire-escape, the number of fire-escapes provided shall be such that each fire-escape is sufficient for a nominal capacity of at least one-third more than a nominal capacity, ascertained by dividing the total nominal capacity of such building or part of a building by the number of fire-escapes provided:

Provided that for the purposes of this and the last preceding clause hereof any fire-escape of greater width at every exit than the minimum width prescribed by clause 38 hereof shall be deemed sufficient for an additional twenty-five units of nominal capacity for every complete 2 ft. of width additional to the said minimum.

NUMBER OF EXITS PER STOREY.

19. It shall be necessary for every storey of a building to be provided with a separate exit to a fire-escape for every fifty units or part of fifty units of the nominal capacity of that storey.

DISTANCE TO EXIT.

20. It shall be necessary for every room in a building (exclusive of bath-rooms, lavatories, and other rooms of a like nature) to have access to a sufficient fire-escape access to which is obtained either directly or by means of a level unimpeded passageway of a length measured along the course thereof of not more than 100 ft. from the door or nearest door of such room to the exit:

Provided that in the case of a building so constructed that the distance in a straight line from the door of any room to the nearest exterior wall of the building having space beside it for a fire-escape is a distance of more than 100 ft., then in respect of such room such distance shall be deemed to be substituted for the length of 100 ft. hereinbefore prescribed.

FIRE-ESCAPES TO COMPLY WITH BY-LAW.

21. No fire-escape shall be deemed sufficient for the purposes of this by-law unless it conforms in all respects with the requirements relating to fire-escapes hereinafter contained, and unless the exits thereto conform in all respects with the requirements relating to exits hereinafter contained, and unless it is at all times maintained in good, sound, and substantial order and condition, and unless all moving parts thereof and of all exits thereto are at all times maintained in free working condition.

CLEARANCE OF FIRE-ESCAPES.

22. No fire-escapes shall be deemed sufficient for the purposes of this by-law if—

- (a) At any time any part thereof is occupied by any goods or other movable article;
- (b) The space to a height of 6 ft. above any part of the footway is at any time occupied by any object so as to reduce the width of the space vertically above the footway of the fire-escape below the minimum width of 30 in. prescribed by clause 38 hereof.

APPROVAL OF PLANS.

23. Any person proposing to provide a fire-escape for any building, whether in pursuance of any requirement under this by-law or otherwise, shall submit to the Superintendent particulars of plans and specifications of such fire-escape and the exits thereto, and of such building, and of the actual or intended nominal capacity thereof, and if the Superintendent considers such particulars sufficient to enable him to do so he shall, by notice in writing, approve the same, and a fire-escape with exits thereto, both constructed in accordance with such plans and specifications shall, if such construction has been commenced within three calendar months of the date of such approval, be deemed (so far only as regards matters appertaining to the design and construction thereof) to be sufficient for the purposes of this by-law.

UNIMPEDED PASSAGE-WAYS.

24. No passage shall be deemed an unimpeded passageway for the purposes of this by-law unless it complies with all the following requirements:—

- (a) It lies for the whole of its course on one floor of the building;
- (b) It is of a height at its lowest part of at least 8 ft. and a width at its narrowest part of at least 3 ft.;
- (c) It is separated by a substantial partition from any staircase, lift-well, or other opening extending through any floor of the building;
- (d) It is not at any time occupied by any furniture, curtain, or other movable object placed so as to reduce the height and width of the passage-way below the aforesaid minimum measurements;
- (e) It is provided with a notice of the words "TO FIRE-ESCAPE" and a mark of direction, both permanently marked on or affixed to a wall thereof in a conspicuous position and in conspicuous lettering at least 6 in. high at every place where two or more passages meet or the passage-way changes its direction:

Provided that the requirements set out in paragraph (e) hereof shall not apply to a passage in any part of a building which part is occupied solely as a private dwelling or solely as an office, warehouse, or counting-house in which not more than ten persons are regularly engaged.

PART IV.—EXITS.

SIZE OF EXITS.

25. The exit of every fire-escape shall be a window, door, or other opening in the exterior wall of the building of such a size that when opened it shall not in any part be less than 3 ft. wide nor less than 6 ft. high, exclusive of any projections or fittings connected therewith:

Provided that in case of an exit serving only for one room having not more than five hundred square feet of floor space it shall be sufficient if the exit, when opened, has a rectangular space of at least six square feet and a width unobstructed by projections or fittings of at least 30 in.

LEVEL OF EXITS.

26. The sill or lower part of the exit shall be horizontal, and shall be not more than 6 in. above the footway of the fire-escape and shall, if the nominal capacity of the part of the building served by the exit exceeds one hundred units, be flush with the floor of the storey, and shall in other cases be not more than 30 in. above the floor of the storey, and if more than 12 in. above such floor, then it shall be provided with an interior step having a raiser of half the distance from the floor to the exit and a tread of at least 7 in.:

Provided that in case of an exit serving only for one room having not more than five hundred square feet of floor space no step shall be required, and the sill of the exit may be not more than 24 in. above the floor of the room.

DOORS OF EXITS.

27. An exit shall not be closed otherwise than by a door or doors or glass window pane or panes or other material complying with all the following requirements—

- (a) They shall be arranged so as to open either by swinging outwards on vertical hinges or by sliding laterally:
- (b) If opening outwards, they shall be of such a size as not to extend at any stage of opening over more than half the width of the footway of the fire-escape, and be capable of folding back flat against the exterior wall of the building:
- (c) They shall at all times be kept capable of being easily opened without the aid of a key or other detachable contrivance:
- (d) They shall bear on the interior thereof if of opaque material or in a conspicuous position adjacent thereto if of transparent material the words "Fire Escape" permanently marked in conspicuous lettering at least 6 in. high:
- (e) They shall not have any curtain, blind, screen, or other obstruction on or near to the interior side thereof:

Provided always that the requirements set out in paragraph (e) hereof shall not apply to an exit that serves only one room having a floor space not exceeding five hundred square feet, and that the requirements set out in paragraphs (a), (d), and (e) hereof shall not apply to an exit serving only a part of a building, which part is occupied solely as a private dwelling or solely as an office, warehouse, or counting-house in which not more than ten persons are regularly engaged.

28. If in the case of an exit from a part of a building which part is occupied solely as a private dwelling or solely as an office, warehouse, or counting-house in which not more than ten persons are regularly engaged, such exit is closed by a hung window, then both sashes of such window shall be of equal size, and the window shall be capable of opening to the full extent of the space occupied by the lower sash when closed.

PART V.—CONSTRUCTION AND DESIGN OF FIRE-ESCAPES.

STRENGTH.

29. Every part of a fire-escape shall be substantially built so as to be capable, in the opinion of the Superintendent, of supporting a number of persons equal to the units of the nominal capacity for which it is required, and so as to be capable of supporting on every part of the footway a live load of 150 lb. per square foot.

UPPER TERMINATION.

30. The top of every fire-escape shall end at a landing giving convenient access to the roof of the building which it serves, or of some adjacent building, except in cases where, in the opinion of the Superintendent, such access would result in danger.

LOWER TERMINATION.

31. The foot of every fire-escape shall end outside the building in either—

- (a) A public or private road or street; or
- (b) An unimpeded space open to the sky of at least five hundred square feet and measuring at least 8 ft. across in any distance, and having access to a public or private road or street; or
- (c) An unimpeded space open to the sky of at least sixty-four square feet and measuring at least 8 ft. across in any direction, and contiguous to and having direct communication through at least one gate or door with a public or private road or street.

HEIGHT OF TERMINAL ABOVE GROUND.

32. The lower landing of every fire-escape shall be not more than 15 ft. above the ground-level.

LADDER TO GROUND.

33. Where the lower end of any fire-escape is more than 6 ft. above the ground it shall be connected with the ground by means of a telescopic sliding ladder, cantilever ladder, counter-balance stairs, or other efficient contrivance other than a hinged drop-ladder or a folding ladder, and such ladder or stairs shall, as regards width and general construction, comply with all the requirements of this by-law relating to fire-escapes so far as applicable.

PART VI.—FOOTWAY OF FIRE-ESCAPES.

LANDINGS AT EXITS.

34. The footway of the fire-escape in front of every part of any exit shall be in the form of a horizontal landing or platform, or have a pitch of not more than one in ten.

FOOTWAYS NOT TO CROSS WINDOWS.

35. The footway of any fire-escape shall not pass across the front of any window or other opening in the exterior wall of the building which it serves, nor be less than 2 ft. 6 in. below the lowest point or 1 ft. above the highest point of any such window or other opening:

Provided that this stipulation shall not relate to any window or other opening which is intended to be an exit to such fire-escape, or which is normally kept closed by means of iron shutters, wire glass set in metal frames, or other approved fire-resisting material:

Provided also that the requirements of this clause shall not apply to a fire-escape the footway of which is connected with lower terminations at each side of the window or other opening or series of windows or other openings across the front of which it passes.

CONSTRUCTION OF FOOTWAY.

36. The footway of every fire-escape shall be constructed as a stairway or a runway or a combination of both.

MATERIAL OF FOOTWAY.

37. The footway of every fire-escape shall be of good iron or other substantial material and shall be continuous, save that if made of wooden strips a space of not more than three-quarters of an inch may be allowed between strips, and if made of bars of iron set transversely a space of not more than three-quarters of an inch may be left between bars.

WIDTH OF FOOTWAY.

38. The footway of any fire-escape shall—
