ORDER IN COUNCIL.

At Government House at Wellington, this 28th day of July, 1930.

Present :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

HIS Excellency the Governor-General of the Dominion of New Zealand, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council of that Dominion, and in pursuance of the authority to make regulations for the peace, order, and good government of Samoa conferred upon him by the Samoa Act, 1921, and of all other powers and authorities enabling him in that behalf, doth hereby make the following regulations.

REGULATIONS.

1. THIS Order may be cited as "The Samoa Immigration Order, 1930," and shall come into force on the 11th day of August, 1930.

PART I.—REGULATION OF IMMIGRANTS.

RESTRICTIONS ON LANDING IN SAMOA.

2. (1) Save with the authority of the Administrator and as hereinafter provided, no person shall land in Samoa from any place outside Samoa unless and until—

(a) He shall have made and delivered to an officer of Customs or of Police a declaration in the form set out in the First Schedule hereto (but this paragraph shall not apply to persons under the age of fourteen years).

(b) He shall have deposited with the Collector of Customs such sum (but not exceeding £50) as the Collector may deem necessary to defray the cost of transporting such person to a place outside Samoa where he will be permitted to land. But this paragraph shall not apply to—

(i) Any permanent resident of Samoa returning thereto after a temporary absence therefrom :

(ii) Any person who shall deposit with the Collector of Customs a ticket or other document which in the opinion of the Collector will entitle such person to obtain a passage away from Samoa at any time within five years from the date of the deposit without any further payment :

(iii) Any person who shall deposit with the Collector of Customs good and sufficient security (to the satisfaction of the Collector) to indemnify the Administration of Samoa against any cost (but not exceeding £50) which it might be put to in transporting such person from Samoa and in maintaining him pending transportation.

(2) Any person who lands in Samoa in breach of the provisions of this clause (apart from his liability to prosecution in accordance with the provisions hereinafter appearing) may be arrested and deported therefrom in the same manner as if he were a prohibited immigrant : Provided, however, that the said power of arrest and deportation shall be exercised only upon and in accordance with an authority in writing duly signed by the Administrator.

APPLICATION OF MONEYS DEPOSITED UNDER CLAUSE 2 HEREOF.

3. (1) The Collector of Customs in his official name shall lodge in the Post Office Savings-bank at Apia the moneys deposited with him under clause 2 hereof.

(2) The said moneys, together with all accretions of interest thereto, shall be repaid to the person depositing the same with the Collector of Customs at the end of five years from the date of the deposit or upon the departure of that person from Samoa, whichever shall be the earlier. But the Collector of Customs shall deduct from the said moneys and shall pay to the Samoan Treasury any cost incurred by the Administration in connection with the maintenance of such person in Samoa or his deportation therefrom.

(3) Should the person who deposited the moneys with the Collector of Customs die before the said moneys have been refunded, the Collector shall pay the same, together with any accretions of interest thereto, to the legal representatives of such person, but less any of the costs aforesaid and the costs (if any) of burial paid by the Administration.

(5) A permit may in the Administrator's discretion include the wife of the immigrant and any one or more members of his family.

(2) If any person to whom such temporary permit is granted desires to remain in Samoa beyond the period for which the permit was granted, he may make application to the Administrator, who may in his discretion grant an extension or extensions from time to time of the temporary permit.

(2) For the purposes of such detention the person authorized to effect the same shall be entitled to obtain in the customary manner such writ of assistance or other aid and assistance in and about the detention of or other lawful dealing with the ship as would be available in the case of ships or goods seized under any Act applicable to New Zealand or to Samoa, or to both, and relating to the Customs.

(3) Such detention shall be for safe custody only, and shall be discontinued if a bond with two sufficient sureties to the satisfaction of the Administrator is given by the master, charterer, or owner for the full payment of all fines and other moneys then payable, or that may thereafter be adjudged to be payable under this Order in respect of any such offence, default, or liability, including the costs incurred in and about the detention of the ship.

(4) Where default is made by the master, charterer, or owner of any ship in paying or in securing by bond as aforesaid the full payment of any fine or other moneys payable under this Order by such master, charterer, or owner, such ship may be seized and sold under the provisions for seizure and sale of ships or goods contained in any Order, regulation, or Act applicable to New Zealand or to Samoa, or to both, and relating to the Customs, and for that purpose the provisions of subclause 2 of this clause shall, mutatis mutandis, apply.

(5) The proceeds of such sale shall be applied: First, in payment of the costs incurred in and about the detention, seizure, and sale of the ship; secondly, in payment of all fines and other moneys payable under this Order as aforesaid by the master, charterer, or owner; and the surplus (if any) shall be paid to the owner or other person lawfully entitled thereto.

NOTE.—A cold but sunny month. Total bright sunshine, 148-8 hours, 54 per cent. of the possible, and no sunless days. Rainfall at Karori Reservoir, near Kelburn, was 29 per cent. below the mean of previous years. Frost was recorded on the grass on eight mornings, and fog was in evidence on six mornings. Hail fell on the 11th, 12th, 17th, 21st, and 25th; lightning was seen on the 10th, 23rd, and 25th; and thunder was heard on the 10th and 25th. Mean dew-point, 40-6°; and mean vapour pressure, 0-252 in.

SUMMARY FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE, 1930.

The June just past was the coldest for a number of years. Though the weather was at times stormy, and showery conditions prevailed at many places, rainfall was generally much below normal, and there was a large amount of sunshine. Rainfalls in excess of the average were experienced in North Auckland and about Foveaux Strait. At Tauranga, also, largely owing to a fall of 6-45 in. on the 20th, there was an excess. In all other parts there was a considerable deficit. This was most accentuated in Nelson and Marlborough and the interior of the South Island, where much of the weather was beautifully fine. At Nelson it was the driest June on record. The cold weather was accounted for by a marked prevalence of southerly winds during the month. Temperatures were from 1° F. to 2-5° F. below normal, and frosts were everywhere very numerous and often severe. Vegetation made little growth and winter feeding of stock has been resorted to in many cases. Owing to the abundance of rough autumn feed and good reserves of hay, ensilage, &c., stock are mostly in good condition. In parts of the Waikato some growth of grass was recorded and the prospects are very favourable. On the whole, however, winter growth has been poor and rainfall deficient, so that some warm spring rains will be badly needed.

The month began with a vigorous cyclone operating on the coast of New South Wales, where severe floods had been caused by continued heavy rains. This main cyclone lost its energy to a large extent before reaching New Zealand and, passing north of the Dominion on the night of the 3rd, affected our weather comparatively little. Easterly gales blew in North Auckland and short-lived south-easterlies in Cook Strait. This storm was followed by a series of similar ones which lasted until the 7th. They all took a northward track and, except to produce southerly winds and cold weather, continued to have little influence on the South Island. Heavy rains were recorded between the 3rd and 5th in North Auckland. Puhupuhi Plantation had 13-73 in. during this period, of which 6-35 in. fell on the 4th.

On the 8th another depression of cyclonic form appeared in the Tasman Sea, and, deepening considerably during the next two days, crossed the North Island from Cape Egmont to Napier on the 10th. Rain was fairly general and there were some heavy falls, particularly in Taranaki and the northern and north-western portions of the South Island. There were westerly gales in North Auckland on the 10th during the passage of the centre, and on the following day southerly gales were widespread. Pressure became very high over the Tasman Sea following the passage of the cyclone, while it remained low to the east of New Zealand. Strong southerly winds continued, in consequence, until the 14th with bitterly cold weather.

The gale on the 11th was severe, and slight damage was done. The ferry steamers between Wellington and Lyttelton experienced delays. Snow fell on the high country as far north as East Cape, while in Canterbury and Otago it extended to parts of the lowlands. Mount Egmont had the heaviest snowfall for years. Hail and sleet were recorded at many places.

A third period of stormy weather occurred from the 20th to the 25th. A depression which crossed the Dominion on the 20th again assumed cyclonic form. Rains were practically general over the North Island but more scattered in the South. Particularly heavy falls were recorded in the Auckland Province, the majority receiving over 2 in. The highest registration was 7.06 in. at Okere Falls, near Rotorua, but Tauranga, as already noted, received 6.45 in., and Waihi 5.14 in. There were boisterous westerly winds also in the Auckland, Thames, and East Cape districts on the 20th, slight damage being done. Another spell of strong southerly winds and cold temperatures followed. The 21st was a particularly bitter day, especially in Canterbury, Otago, and Southland. Heavy falls of snow occurred almost everywhere in these provinces, while there were frequent showers of hail or sleet. The occasion was memorable because of the rugby football test match played under these conditions at Dunedin. Snow and hail continued to be experienced in the South at intervals until the 25th. The conditions appear to have been most severe in the district round Gore. A severe thunderstorm occurred in Foveaux Strait during a west-south-westerly gale at 5 a.m. on the 25th, when the Dog Island Lighthouse was struck. It was not until the 26th that the southerlies died down in the Foveaux Strait region.

Although there was an unusual frequency of hail and snow storms during the month, the accumulation of snow on the ranges does not appear to have been heavy except at a few places.

5. A return, verified by affidavit, giving the number of logs cut of each species and their contents, must be made quarterly by the licensee on the last days of March, June,

6. Intending tenderers are expected to visit the locality and to satisfy themselves in every particular on all matters relative to the sale.

7. Each tenderer must state the total price that he is prepared to pay for the timber. The highest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted, and the timber described is submitted for sale subject to the final acceptance of the tender by the Commissioner of State Forests.

8. The right is reserved to the Commissioner of State Forests to withdraw from sale any or all of the said timber either before or after the closing date for receipt of tenders.

9. If no tender is accepted for the timber herein mentioned it will remain open for application at the upset price until further notice.
