Present :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS by section three hundred and seventy of the Samoa Act, 1921 (hereinafter called "the said Act"), it is enacted that, subject to the said Act and subject to any regulation or ordinance which may enact different provisions in that behalf, the Administration Act, 1908, shall so far as applicable be in force in Samoa :

And whereas it is desirable to modify certain of the provisions of that Act in its application to Samoa :

Now, therefore, His Excellency the Governor-General of the Dominion of New Zealand, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council of the said Dominion, and in pursuance of the authority to make regulations for the peace, order, and good government of Samoa conferred upon him by the said Act, and of all other powers and authorities enabling him in that behalf, doth hereby make the following regulations.

REGULATIONS.

1. (a) These regulations may be cited as "The Samoa Reciprocal Administration Order, 1930."

(b) These regulations shall come into force on the 22nd day of September, 1930.

(c) These regulations shall, for general purposes of interpretation, be read together with and deemed to form part of the Administration Act, 1908, in its application to Samoa.

(d) Part II of the Administration Act, 1908, shall henceforth have no application to Samoa, but the provisions of these regulations shall have effect in lieu thereof.

2. In these regulations, if not inconsistent with the context,—

"Administration" includes probate of the will of a deceased person and letters of administration of the estate of a deceased person granted, whether with or without the will annexed and whether for general, special, or limited purposes, and in the case of the Public Trustee includes an order to administer and also includes confirmation of executor in Scotland, and any instrument having in the jurisdiction of the Court by which it is granted the effect of probate or letters of administration granted in Samoa, and also includes any exemplification of the same or duplicate sealed with the seal of the Court granting the same, or copy thereof certified as correct, by or under the authority of the Court granting the same respectively.

3. Estate in Samoa belonging to any person who dies elsewhere than in Samoa shall not vest in any person under any bequest or devise or under an intestacy or by inheritance until administration of such estate is granted in Samoa, or, if administration of such estate has been granted in any place out of Samoa, until such administration is resealed in Samoa as hereinafter provided.

4. Upon such estate becoming legally vested in accordance with the provisions of these regulations the legal estate therein shall vest as from the time of the death of the person from whom it is obtained.

5. Where administration granted by any competent Court in any part of His Majesty's Dominions or in any British Protectorate or Mandated Territory or by any competent Court having jurisdiction out of His Majesty's Dominions in pursuance of any Order in Council made by His Majesty is produced to, and a copy thereof deposited with, the Registrar of the High Court of Western Samoa, such administration shall be sealed with the seal of the High Court, and thereupon shall be of like force and effect, and have the same operation in Samoa, and every administrator thereunder shall perform the same duties and be subject to the same liabilities as if an original grant of administration similar in its effect had been made to him by the High Court.

6. The seal of the High Court shall not be affixed to any administration granted elsewhere than in Samoa until all such duties and fees have been paid as would have been payable if an original grant of administration similar in its effect had been made by the High Court.

7. Administration granted in any place out of Samoa shall not be received in evidence of the title of any person to any estate in Samoa until such administration is resealed in Samoa as hereinbefore provided.

8. Before resealing letters of administration or any instrument having the effect of letters of administration the High Court shall be satisfied that such bond is entered into as would have been required if letters of administration to the effect of such instrument had been originally granted by the High Court, provided that where letters of administration are at any time granted in any place to the Samoan Public Trustee under the Samoa Public Trust Office Order, 1921, or the Public Trustee of New Zealand under the Public Trust Office Act, 1908 (New Zealand), or the Public Trustee of England under the Public Trustee Act, 1906 (Imperial), it shall not be necessary upon the resealing in Samoa of those letters of administration for any such bond to be executed.

9. Rules of Court may be made for regulating the practice and procedure, including fees and costs in the High Court, on and incidental to an application for sealing an administration under these regulations, and such rules may impose the like requirements on any person applying for the resealing of an administration under these regulations as might be imposed upon such a person on his applying to the High Court for an original grant of probate or letters of administration.

An Inspector may order any alterations or repairs to be made to any such machinery that he considers necessary, and the owner shall forthwith have such alterations or repairs carried out. An Inspector may prohibit the use of any such machinery until the alterations or repairs have been executed to his satisfaction, and an owner shall not use or permit to be used the machinery during the time such prohibition is in force.

3. Every winch used on board a ship for working cargo or for lifting the vessel's anchors shall be inspected annually by a Surveyor of Ships when he is making the annual survey of the ship, and any repairs or alterations which the Surveyor may order shall be carried out forthwith by the owner.
4. When a ship is in a dock or on a slip the propeller shall not be turned until the foreman in charge of the men working on the ship has advised the engineer in charge of the ship's engines that the men working on planks or in the ship are clear of the propeller.
5. When the boilers on a ship are being cleaned the engineer in charge shall see that the stop-valve of the working boiler is locked during the whole of the time that the work is being carried out, and such engineer shall see that the temperature of the boilers does not exceed 100° F. while men are employed in them.

12. When thwartship hatch-beams are used, bridles of sufficient length with shackles attached shall be kept available on board the ship and fit for use, and shall be used on such beams (when they are being shipped or unshipped) in such a manner as to make it unnecessary for men to leave the deck.

17. 19. If complaint is made to a Surveyor of Ships or other officer appointed for the purpose of these regulations that a man is unfit to work cargo through being under the influence of liquor, or if a Surveyor or such other officer is of opinion that a man is unfit from such cause to work cargo, he may prohibit such man from working for such period as he considers necessary under the circumstances, and the other members of the gang shall continue to carry on work.
20. When coal is being worked in ship's bunkers such bunkers shall be lighted by electric light when electric current is available.

23. If any person engaged in working cargo in a hold of a ship complains to a Port Health Officer that the condition of such hold is insanitary, such officer shall examine the hold, or cause the same to be examined by a competent person. If in the opinion of the Port Health Officer the condition of the hold is insanitary, such officer shall, by notice in writing served on the master of the ship, require the master to take all steps necessary to remedy the conditions of the hold, and in particular to take such steps as may be specified in the notice, and the master shall forthwith comply with such notice. At ports where there is no Port Health Officer the Marine Department may appoint officers to whom complaints may be made, and such officers shall exercise the duties and have the powers of Port Health Officers for the purposes of this regulation.
24. If a Surveyor of Ships or other officer appointed for the purpose of these regulations considers it necessary for the safety of those working cargo below deck on a ship that "chipping" should not be carried on on the ship while cargo is being worked, he may instruct the master that it must be discontinued for such time as he thinks necessary, and the master shall see that such instructions are carried out forthwith.
25. When persons are working on the outside of a ship the master shall have a man kept on deck whose duty it shall be to prevent interference with ropes fastened to the deck, and to prevent anything from being thrown overboard which might injure the persons working on the side.

26. In cases where in loading and discharging cargo on or from a ship any obstruction prevents the person working the bull-rope from being clearly seen by the winchman, the master of the ship shall employ an additional man to communicate signals from the winchman to the bull-rope man.

27. If any person fails, refuses, or neglects to do anything required by these regulations, or in any manner obstructs, impedes, or interferes with the doing of anything enjoined or authorized to be done, or willfully does anything prohibited by these regulations, every such person in any case so offending shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds (£100).
