11. The said rights, powers, and privileges may be at any time resumed by the Governor-General, without payment of any compensation whatever, on giving to the licensee three calendar months' previous notice in writing. Any such notice shall be sufficient if given by the Minister and delivered at or posted to the last known address of the licensee in New Zealand.

14. In the event of this Order in Council being revoked for any reason whatsoever, or upon the expiry of the period for which the license is granted, the licensee shall, if required by the Minister so to do, remove the said wharf entirely from the site and restore the site to its original condition within three months from the date of revocation or expiry, as the case may be, and if the licensee fail so to do, the Minister may cause the said wharf to be removed and the site so restored, and may recover the costs incurred by the said removal and restoration from the licensee.

ORDER IN COUNCIL.

At the Government Buildings at Wellington, this 17th day of June, 1932.

Present:

THE RIGHT HON. G. W. FORBES, PRESIDING IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS, owing to the moving and disturbance by earthquake of soil and landmarks, difficulties have arisen and may arise in determining the boundaries of streets and other parcels of land in the Borough of Napier:

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by the Hawke's Bay Earthquake Act, 1931, His Excellency the Governor-General of the Dominion of New Zealand, acting by and with the advice of the Executive Council of the said Dominion, doth hereby make the following regulations.

REGULATIONS.

PART I.—PRELIMINARY.

1. THESE regulations may be cited as the Napier Alignment Regulations, 1932.

2. These regulations shall apply within the Borough of Napier, and shall come into force on the day following the publication hereof in the Gazette.

 "Standard monument" means a stone or concrete block or iron tube or similar object which is—
 (i) Provided with fine centre-marks; and
 (ii) Erected in a substantial manner so as to secure permanence both of site and of elevation; and
 (iii) Situate in a public street or other land lying within the borough and vested in the Corporation and under the control of the Council:
 "Street" means land which is the site of any public street or public road now or hereafter existing in the borough, and includes a portion of a street:
- (c) "Alignment order" means an order of the Court made under these regulations establishing the alignment of a street:
 "Chief Surveyor" means the Chief Surveyor for the Hawke's Bay Land District, for the purposes of the Land Act, 1924:

4. For the purposes of these regulations the Council shall provide such a number of standard monuments as the Chief Surveyor may deem sufficient in such positions as the Chief Surveyor may approve.

5. The Council shall thereupon cause to be surveyed such standard lines as the Chief Surveyor may think necessary.

6. Any standard monument heretofore provided and any standard line heretofore surveyed may, with the approval of the Chief Surveyor, be used for the purposes of these regulations.

7. All angular and linear measurements involved in surveys under these regulations shall be based on standard lines surveyed between such standard monuments as aforesaid.

8. Any person who, in the course of making, repairing, or maintaining streets, or of any other work which may be lawfully done in a street or any other place where there is a standard monument, desires to, or does inadvertently move or disturb any standard monument, shall report to the Chief Surveyor, who shall take all necessary steps to safeguard the position of the monument, the cost of the work being charged to and recoverable from the person whose actions displaced or threatened to displace such monument.

9. Every survey under these regulations shall be done by a registered surveyor to the satisfaction of the Chief Surveyor, who shall certify to the correctness thereof by an endorsement to that effect made on the relative plan, and referring to these regulations.

PART III.—ALIGNMENT AND REDEFINITION.

10. Where in the opinion of the Council it is desirable that any alignment of a street be established, the Council may cause a survey of such street to be made and a plan (hereinafter referred to as "an alignment plan") to be prepared in conformity with such survey showing, in relation to standard lines and in respect of such side or portion of a street as may be affected by the proposed alignment,—

- (a) The lines of occupation at the time of survey along the frontages of the lands fronting such street:
 (b) As far as the same can be determined, the lines of occupation of such lands immediately prior to the earthquake:
 (c) As far as the same can be determined, the legal boundaries of the street.

11. Where in the opinion of the Council there has been a material horizontal displacement of the surface of the ground due to the earthquake, so that boundaries as shown by present occupation do not agree with the original boundaries upon which titles were issued, the Council may cause a survey to be made of the area to be redefined and a plan thereof (hereinafter referred to as a "redefinition plan") to be made showing,—

- (a) As far as the same can be determined, the position of the original boundaries:
 (b) All existing occupation marks in relation thereto.

12. Every alignment plan and redefinition plan respectively shall also show the names of the owners and occupiers of lands affected, and all mortgagees and other persons having an interest therein, so far as they can be ascertained.

13. The Council, after due consideration of an alignment plan, may propose and cause to be marked thereon an alignment which, in its opinion, whilst conserving as far as possible the rights of the public to the full use of the street as originally laid out, does not entail undue hardship upon the owner or any person having an interest in any property affected by such alignment.

14. The Council shall cause to be marked on every redefinition plan such boundaries as in its opinion will most equitably conserve the interests and convenience of persons entitled to the parcels of land shown therein, having regard to such displacements as aforesaid.

15. The Council shall cause a copy of the alignment plan or redefinition plan respectively so marked to be deposited in some convenient place within the borough.

16. The Council shall give public notice by advertisement published not less than twice in one or more newspapers circulating in the district of its intention to make application to the Court for an order determining the permanent alignment of the street or for an order redefining the parcels within an area to be stated in the notice (as the case may be) and (in either case) of the place where the said plan is open for inspection, and shall by such notice call upon all persons objecting to the proposed alignment or redefinition (as the case may be) to set forth in writing any well-founded objections thereto, and to deliver such objections to the Council on or before a date to be specified therein, being not less than twenty-one days from the date of the first publication of such notice.

17. The Council shall cause a copy of such notice to be served upon the said owners, occupiers, mortgagees, and other persons so far as they can be ascertained.

18. Failure to show on any plan the name of a person having an interest in land, or failure to serve on any such person a copy of a notice as hereinbefore prescribed, shall not, unless done in bad faith, invalidate any proceedings under these regulations.

19. The said plan shall be open for inspection, without fee, by all persons at all reasonable hours from the date of the first publication of such notice until the date specified therein on or before which objections are to be delivered to the Council.

20. The Council may, upon the expiration of the period specified in the said notice, apply to the Court for an order determining the alignment of the street or redefining the parcels within such area as aforesaid (as the case may be), and shall with its application file a copy of the said plan and notice and of any objections thereto which may have been received.

21. The provisions of Part I of the Hawke's Bay Earthquake Act, 1931, relating to the Court and the procedure and powers thereof, and any Rules of Court for the time being in force shall, so far as applicable, apply to the Court when exercising the jurisdiction conferred by these regulations.

22. The Council shall notify the persons (if any) objecting to the proposed alignment or redefinition of the time and place set down for the hearing of the application.

23. The Court may, after hearing all parties, make such alignment order or redefinition order as in its discretion it thinks fit.

24. The Council shall cause every alignment order and redefinition order to be registered against the titles to all land affected as provided by section 29 of the Hawke's Bay Earthquake Act, 1931.

PART IV.—MISCELLANEOUS.

25. If an alignment order has the effect of including in the street the site occupied by any permanent building or part of a permanent building existing at the date of the order, which cannot be proved to have encroached before the earthquake upon the legal boundary of the street, the owner for the time being thereof shall have the right to occupy such site so long as such building—

- (a) Remains erected; and
- (b) Has not, after the making of the alignment order, been re-erected; and
- (c) Has not, after the making of the alignment order, been added to or structurally altered to such an extent that the aggregate cost of additions or structural alterations exceeds one-fourth of the fair value of such building at the date of the alignment order;

Provided that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to give the owner of such building any right or title to the land projecting over the permanent alignment.

26. Unless in making an alignment order the Court otherwise directs, the provisions of section 128 of the Public Works Act, 1928, shall not apply to any land if and so far as the frontage thereof has been determined by such alignment order.

27. The establishment of an alignment shall not entitle any owner of, or any person having, any estate or interest in lands affected by such alignment to claim compensation for any matter arising therefrom, nor shall any such person be liable for payment of any betterment which may accrue from the operation of such alignment.

28. Upon the registration of an alignment order or redefinition order, every dedication, grant, conveyance, assurance, dealing, and instrument of title relating to any street or other parcel of land thereby affected, and every interest legal and equitable in the same, and any time that has commenced to run under the Statutes of Limitation shall affect such street or other parcel as so aligned or redefined as if such street or other parcel were identically the land originally dealt with or comprised in such dedication, grant, conveyance, assurance, dealing, or instrument of title, or affected by such interest legal or equitable, or affected by the running of time under the Statutes of Limitation, and shall affect such street or other parcel as so aligned or redefined to the extinction of all interests legal or equitable (including any interest of His Majesty and any public right of road) existing therein prior to such registration.

29. The making of an alignment order for any street shall not prevent the subsequent making of another alignment order for the same or any other boundary of the same street.

30. It shall be lawful to combine in the same plan, notice, application, and order of the Court, and generally in all proceedings under these regulations, matters affecting the alignment of a street and matters affecting the redefinition of parcels of land other than streets.

9. Where counsel are employed the Crown reserves to itself the right of indicating what counsel shall be employed, and the number of such counsel, and of prescribing the fees to be paid.

10. The Crown reserves to itself the right of taking any matter or business out of the hands of any solicitor employed and requiring that all deeds, instruments, and papers in the hands of such solicitor relating thereto shall be handed over to some other solicitor to be nominated by the Crown.

11. No solicitor employed by the Crown shall have any lien upon any deeds, papers, or instruments in his hands, or upon any fund or moneys which shall be paid to or received by him in any manner or upon any account whatsoever in respect of any legal business in which the Crown is concerned.

12. It shall be the duty of the head of each Department and other officers thereof, in directing business to be undertaken, to see that full instructions are given to the solicitor at the time the business commences, and to render all reasonable assistance to him during its progress.

13. In all criminal prosecutions and summary proceedings the police will serve any process, procure the attendance of witnesses, and have them ready to be examined when required; but the solicitor employed will be responsible to see that these duties are properly performed.

14. Where a solicitor is required to transact business at a distance from his usual place of residence, an agent must be employed where practicable, unless, from the nature of the case or for special reasons, it is necessary that the solicitor employed should himself transact such business. Except for special reasons and with the approval of the Solicitor-General, or in pursuance of existing departmental arrangements, a Crown Solicitor shall employ as agent in a town in which a Crown Solicitor has been appointed only such last-named solicitor.

15. Solicitors having claims against the Crown for costs under these regulations shall prepare a voucher setting out full particulars. Such vouchers shall be sent by the solicitor to the nearest Registrar, who shall certify thereon whether such costs are in accordance with these regulations. If he is in doubt as to the propriety of any charge, the Registrar may refer it to the Under-Secretary of Justice for further consideration. The Registrar shall return the vouchers, when certified, to the solicitor, to be forwarded by him to the Department directing the proceedings or business. The head of such Department, or other recognized certifying officer, shall certify that the services charged for have been duly performed.

16. Where costs have been received or recovered by the solicitor employed by the Crown from one of the litigant parties, such solicitor shall pay the same into the Public Account and forward forthwith a bank receipt therefor to the Department directing the proceedings.

17. In matters for which an inclusive charge is fixed by these regulations, no further charge, except the amount of disbursements, will be allowed for attendance upon Government officers or others, attendances to register deeds or instruments, writing letters, sending telegrams, or for explanations or instructions relative to the business in hand or reporting upon its conclusion.

18. Where the solicitor instructed has to employ an agent, as provided in Regulation 14, a fee not exceeding £1 1s. will be allowed to such solicitor for instructions, but, with that exception, no more will be allowed to such solicitor and his agent together than would have been allowed to such solicitor alone if he had conducted the whole of the business himself.

19. Travelling-expenses at the following rates will be allowed to solicitors in all cases where they are required to travel more than three miles from their usual place of business:—

(a) The sum actually paid when the travelling can be performed by public conveyance. (For fares exceeding 5s., other than railway fares, receipts must be produced.)

(b) In other cases, 1s. per mile one way.

(c) For each day or part of a day exceeding eight hours on which the claimant was necessarily absent from his usual place of residence by way of board and lodging expenses the sum actually incurred, not exceeding for any day the sum of £1.

20. In all cases in which a fee is fixed by the regulations, it is to be understood that regard is to be had to the nature of the service actually rendered, and the fee to be allowed accordingly shall not necessarily be as much as the fee so fixed.

21. In the case of any business, matter, or proceeding not herein specially mentioned, the charges to be made, whether as solicitor's costs or counsel's fees, will be based upon the scale allowed in matters of a like character mentioned in these regulations. The assessment against the Crown of costs on the ordinary solicitor and client basis is not contemplated.

22. In a case where exceptional circumstances render it desirable that one of the scales herein set forth shall be exceeded in any particular, such other or additional costs or fees as may be reasonable, having regard to the nature of the business transacted, shall be allowed if approved by the Attorney General on the recommendation of the permanent head of the Department issuing the instructions. The circumstances by reason of which the general scale is not applicable shall, in all such cases, be fully specified by the proper officer.

23. Nothing in these regulations shall be deemed to prevent the Crown from taking steps to procure the taxation of any costs by the proper officer in the usual way; but no payment will be made to the solicitor for attending the taxation.

24. Bills of costs shall be rendered immediately on completion of the matter or business to which they relate, and if not rendered within six months thereafter they will not be recognized, in the absence of special circumstances.

25. Every solicitor employed or retained by the Crown shall, if required so to do, notify in writing his acceptance of such employment or retainer upon the terms contained in these regulations; but such notification in writing shall not be necessary to show that such employment or retainer is upon such terms.

PART II.—CRIMINAL AND QUASI-CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

(1) Supreme Court Trials.

26. Preliminary investigations of indictable offences before Justices of the Peace will be conducted by the private prosecutor or the police save in exceptional cases in which it is considered desirable that the Crown Solicitor should conduct the case on behalf of the police.

27. In private prosecutions the committing Justices shall ascertain from the prosecutor, as soon as a committal for trial takes place, whether he intends to take charge of the conduct of the prosecution or authorize the Crown Solicitor to act on his behalf. In all other cases the conduct of the prosecution after committal for trial shall be left to the Crown Solicitor. If the prosecution is left to the Crown Solicitor, the committing Justices shall make a memorandum on the depositions to that effect.

28. On receipt of the depositions the Registrar shall, if the prosecution is left to the Crown Solicitor, cause a copy thereof to be made without delay and transmit the same to him.

29. It shall be the duty of the Crown Solicitor carefully to consider the depositions and prepare the case for the Supreme Court, taking special care that any additional witnesses that can be obtained in support of the case are subpoenaed.

30. If the Attorney-General or Solicitor-General is of opinion that any prosecution instituted by a private prosecutor and left to the Crown Solicitor is such that it ought not to be conducted by the Crown Solicitor, notice thereof shall be given to the private prosecutor.

31. Such notice shall, where possible, be given to such private prosecutor not later than seven days in cases in which the committing Justices shall have sat at a distance of more than ten miles from the place at which the trial is to be held, and not later than three days in other cases, before the first day of the sittings at which the trial is to be held. If the committal shall have taken place within the said periods, then such notice shall be given with all reasonable despatch.

32. Notice sent by post to the usual or last-known place of abode of the person to whom notice is given shall be deemed a sufficient service thereof.

33. In all cases where such notice has been given, the Crown Solicitor shall not conduct the prosecution, these regulations shall not apply, and no costs or expenses will be paid by the Crown.

34. In proceedings on trials of indictable offences, other than trials of offences punishable by sentence of death, fees and costs to Crown Solicitors will be allowed as follows:—

As solicitor—preparing case for and attending trial,—

(a) For each separate trial, £3 3s.

(b) The fee above prescribed will cover all charges for preparing indictment, issue of subpoenas, procuring and issue of process to bring up witnesses in custody, entry of nolle prosequi, and all other proceedings directly connected with or incidental to the trial.

As counsel,—

(c) For each separate trial, £3 3s.

(d) Where accused pleads guilty after indictment, £1 1s.

(e) If the Crown declines to offer any evidence or enters a nolle prosequi without evidence being given in support of the indictment, £1 1s.

(f) On a new trial by reason of disagreement of the jury or for any other reason, no additional solicitor's fee will be allowed, but counsel's fees will be allowed according to scale.

35. The foregoing fees will not be paid in respect of indictments that would properly have been included with others presented. Any question arising as to the applicability of this regulation shall be referred to the Solicitor-General, whose decision shall be final.

36. The Crown Solicitor engaged in trials of offences punishable by sentence of death will be allowed, in lieu of the solicitor's and counsel's fees prescribed by Regulation 34 hereof, an inclusive fee of £7 7s. for each day occupied at the trial and at the preliminary investigation, and a like fee of £7 7s. will be paid for each full day necessarily occupied in preparing for trial or for the preliminary investigation. The provisions of paragraphs (b), (d), and (e) of Regulation 34 hereof shall apply to such cases.

37. Counsel assigned for the defence of accused in trials of offences punishable by sentence of death will be allowed an inclusive fee of £5 5s. for each day occupied at the trial, and a like fee of £5 5s. for each full day (not exceeding five days in all) occupied in preparing for trial, and (if appearing at the preliminary investigation) a like fee of £5 5s. for each day necessarily occupied at the preliminary investigation, and such fees shall be deemed to include the charges mentioned in paragraph (b) of Regulation 34 hereof.

38. For appearance when prisoners committed for sentence under section 181 of the Justices of the Peace Act, 1927, are brought before the Court for sentence, the Crown Solicitor will be allowed £1 1s. for each prisoner, irrespective of the number of charges; but when more than one prisoner is committed for sentence on one information or as a result of one preliminary hearing, a fee of only £1 1s. will be allowed.

39. Vouchers in favour of Crown Solicitors are to state, in reference to each case in which costs are charged, whether or not the case went to trial, whether or not the accused pleaded guilty, whether a nolle prosequi was entered, or with what other result the proceedings terminated.

40. The Registrar at the place at which the trial is held will examine such vouchers, and, subject to any directions given by the presiding Judge, certify that the amounts claimed are in accordance with these regulations, and that the services charged for have been duly performed. Such vouchers are to be forwarded by the Registrar to the Department of Justice for payment.

41. Costs and expenses upon the trial of indictable offences when conducted by or on behalf of private prosecutors, except those cases to which Regulation 33 hereof applies, may be allowed by the presiding Judge and paid on the same scale and in the same manner as if conducted by the Crown Solicitor.

42. Fees to be allowed to solicitors or counsel in a case reserved for the consideration of the Court of Appeal, or on an application for new trial, or an appeal against sentence, shall be such as shall be fixed by the Minister of Justice in each case.

(2) Proceedings before Justices and Coroners.

43. Costs will be allowed to solicitors employed by the Crown in conducting cases before Magistrates, Justices of the Peace, or Wardens, under any Act, ordinance, regulation, by-law, or other authority, as follows:—

(a) For each case, including drawing information or complaint, preparing case for hearing, conducting proceedings in Court, and drawing conviction or order (if so required), £3 3s.

(b) Where the proceedings extend beyond one day, then for each subsequent day, if the period occupied does not exceed one hour, £1 1s.; if it exceeds one hour, £2 2s.

(c) Where there are more informations or complaints than one arising out of the same or similar circumstances, so that in the opinion of the Department directing the proceedings the work done in preparing and conducting one of them reduces materially the work of preparation and conduct of the other or others, whether they be against the same defendant or defendants or against several defendants, and whether heard separately or together, then the above fees will be allowed on one information or complaint only, and on each information or complaint after the first there will be allowed an additional amount, not exceeding £3 3s., to be agreed upon between that Department and the solicitor employed.

(d) When for any reason the case is not taken into Court, or where the information or complaint is withdrawn or the defendant pleads guilty, a fee not exceeding £2 2s. will be allowed for drawing information or complaint and preparing case for hearing, with an additional fee of 10s. 6d. in respect of each additional information or complaint, if more than one.

(e) The costs allowed shall, in preliminary investigations of indictable offences, cover all proceedings up to commitment for trial, including a general supervision over all formal matters necessary to make the case complete.

(f) The foregoing provisions shall not apply where party and party costs exceeding the above amounts are allowed by the Court to the Crown and recovered from the defendant.

44. The costs to be allowed under this head shall, so far as applicable, extend to matters of any kind which may be heard and disposed of before a Stipendiary Magistrate or a Justice or Justices of the Peace, where the Court may make an order or give any direction to or in respect of any party affected, although no information or complaint may be laid or made.

45. A solicitor employed to conduct an inquest before a Coroner will be allowed a fee of £3 3s. in respect of such inquest. Where inquests on two or more bodies are conducted together, only one fee will be allowed.

(3) APPEALS AND OTHER PROCEEDINGS UNDER OR RELATING TO THE JUSTICES OF THE PEACE ACT, 1927.

46. If a case or matter is removed by certiorari or otherwise to a superior Court, the conduct of proceedings will in general be assigned to a solicitor practising in the town where the superior Court holds its sittings. In cases where the conduct of the proceedings remains with the solicitor who commenced them, no further costs will be allowed (except under exceptional circumstances) than those prescribed by these regulations.

47. Instructions respecting appeals will be given, and the costs thereof will be borne, by the Department initiating the prosecution.

48. The costs allowed in proceedings in the Supreme Court under or relating to the above-named Act, whether by way of appeal, certiorari, mandamus, or otherwise (prohibition excepted) shall not exceed £7 7s. This sum will include all the charges of the solicitor employed on behalf of the Crown, and also counsel's fee, but will be exclusive of fees of Court and expenses of witnesses (if any).

49. The regulations under this head will apply whether the Crown be appellant or respondent; and if the conviction be affirmed, or judgment be otherwise obtained, no further costs will be claimed on behalf of the Crown than would be allowed under this scale.

50. The costs to be allowed in prohibition cases arising out of proceedings under the Justices of the Peace Act, 1927, will be regulated by the scale applicable to civil proceedings in the Supreme Court under these regulations.

(4) Bankruptcy.

51. For investigating a case submitted to the Crown Solicitor under section 144 of the Bankruptcy Act, 1908, and giving or refusing a certificate thereon, a fee of £1 1s. will be allowed.

PART III.—CIVIL PROCEEDINGS.

(1) In the Court of Appeal.

52. The scale of costs to be allowed to counsel and solicitors employed by the Crown in matters before the Court of Appeal shall, subject to the terms of these regulations, be such as may from time to time be allowable, or allowed, between party and party, according to the rules of practice and procedure in the Court of Appeal for the time being in force under the Judicature Act, 1908, but without any allowance as for cases from a distance, unless allowed to the Crown by the Court.

53. Subject to the foregoing provisions, Regulations 55 to 58 hereof shall, so far as applicable, apply to costs in the Court of Appeal.

(2) In the Supreme Court.

54. The scale of costs to be allowed to counsel or solicitors employed by the Crown in matters before the Supreme Court shall, subject to the terms of these regulations, be such as may from time to time be allowable between party and party in the Supreme Court according to the rules of practice and procedure in force under the Judicature Act, 1908:

Provided that where the Crown is respondent and is successful the costs, unless recovered from the suppliant, shall be fixed according not to the amount claimed but to the amount which the suppliant would, in the opinion of the Solicitor-General, have been reasonably expected to recover.

55. When the proceedings have terminated the solicitor shall prepare an abstract of his costs and transmit the same to the Registrar of the Supreme Court, who shall forward it to the Department directing the proceedings, with his certificate as to the number of witnesses subpoenaed or examined, Court fees paid, and other disbursements charged, and that the charges are in accordance with these regulations.

56. Witnesses' expenses will be allowed at the same rate as in civil cases between subject and subject.

57. In all other cases not herein provided for, the scale of costs for the time being payable under the rules of practice and procedure as aforesaid shall be followed and observed as nearly as may be in all matters to which they may be applicable.

58. If there are exceptional circumstances rendering it necessary that more than the usual scale should be allowed to any witness the solicitor may make such additional allowance as he thinks reasonable, but the reason for the addition must be stated when the abstract of costs is rendered.

(3) In Workers' Compensation Cases in the Court of Arbitration.

59. The costs to be allowed to counsel or solicitors employed by the Crown in workers' compensation cases before the Court of Arbitration shall, subject to the terms of these regulations, be such as may from time to time be usually allowed between party and party in that Court:

Provided that where the Crown is respondent and is successful the costs, unless recovered from the suppliant, shall be fixed according not to the amount claimed but to the amount which the suppliant would, if successful, in the opinion of the Solicitor-General, have been reasonably expected to recover.

(4) In other Inferior Courts.

60. The costs payable to a solicitor employed by the Crown in all cases in the Magistrates' Courts in their civil jurisdiction and in cases in Wardens' Courts held under the Mining Act, 1926, and not herein otherwise provided for, shall, subject to these regulations, not exceed the party and party costs which would be payable by a litigant party in such Court if successful.

Where the Crown is a party to several cases heard at the same sitting of the Court, such sum shall be fixed in each case as may be agreed upon between the head of the Department directing the proceedings and the solicitor employed.

(5) In Compensation Cases under the Public Works Act, 1928.

61. The following shall be the scale of costs allowed to solicitors and counsel in respect of all proceedings to determine compensation payable by the Crown under the Public Works Act, 1928, and its amendments:—

Where the compensation claimed is under £100, a sum not exceeding £5.

Where it exceeds £100, then a like fee and £2 per centum on the sum claimed up to and including £2,500.

Where the sum claimed exceeds that amount, then a further fee of 1 per centum on the excess over £2,500 will be allowed, but so that the total fee payable shall not, unless specially authorized, exceed £100 in any one case.

This scale is exclusive of all Court fees, Assessors' fees, witnesses' expenses, and other actual disbursements.

62. Where proceedings are taken under section 229 of the Public Works Act, 1928, the costs to be allowed shall be at the same rate as those paid in summary proceedings under these regulations.

63. Where the Crown is respondent in a series of compensation cases arising in respect of any public work, the Minister of Public Works shall fix such sum by way of costs to be allowed to the solicitor employed, and the amount of fees to be allowed to counsel engaged, as may be agreed between the Minister and the solicitor.

PART IV.—CONVEYANCING.

64. The costs to be allowed for the preparation, completion, and registration of any instrument for the assurance to the Crown or for lease to or by the Crown of land or any estate or interest therein—(a) if payable by the Crown shall (subject to Regulation 66 hereof) be one-half of the appropriate fee prescribed under the Conveyancing Scale of the New Zealand Law Society made on the 8th day of July, 1927, and the amendments thereof heretofore made, with a minimum charge of £3 3s. and a maximum charge of £21; and (b) if payable by any other party shall not exceed the appropriate fee prescribed under the Conveyancing Scale aforesaid.

65. The costs to be allowed for perusal and obtaining execution on behalf of the Crown of any instrument properly prepared by or on behalf of any other party—(a) if payable by the Crown shall (subject to Regulation 66 hereof) be one-half of the fee prescribed by the last-preceding regulation with a minimum charge of £1 1s.; and (b) if payable by any other party shall not exceed the appropriate fee prescribed under the Conveyancing Scale aforesaid.

66. Where a printed form of instrument is available and capable of being used without alteration or with only minor alteration the costs of preparation, completion, and registration of such instrument, or the costs of perusal and obtaining execution thereof (as the case may be)—(a) if payable by the Crown shall be £1 1s., save that in special circumstances a fee not exceeding £2 2s. may be charged; and (b) if payable by any other party shall not exceed £3 3s.

67. For conveyancing matters not herein provided for the charge shall bear the same proportion to the usual and customary charge to a private client as the charges hereinbefore set out bear to the usual and customary charges to a private client for the matters to which they relate.

68. Where by the ordinary course of practice the costs of preparing and completing any instrument or a counterpart thereof ought to be borne by one of the parties thereto, other than the Crown, solicitors will arrange that the costs properly chargeable to such party are paid by him.

69. Where it is necessary to investigate titles to land, or any interest therein, without preparing instruments of title, the following fees will be allowed for each title investigated, viz.:—

	£	s.	d.
Under the Land Transfer Act, not exceeding	1	11	6
In other cases, not exceeding	3	3	0

These fees are intended to cover cases where land, or any interest therein, has been acquired, or agreed to be acquired, on behalf of the Crown under the provisions of the Public Works Act, 1928, or otherwise, and it is necessary to settle the title before payment of purchase-money or compensation.

70. The fees above prescribed are inclusive of all charges for attendances, correspondence, reports, searches and investigation of title, but exclusive of actual and necessary out-of-pocket disbursements.

71. Where it is proper that an instrument should be registered or deposited, such registration or deposit shall be regarded as part of the work necessary to the completion of the transaction.

72. On the completion of a transaction, all muniments of title shall be delivered to the Department from which the instructions were received or as that Department may direct.

73. When it is necessary that any instrument should be executed by or on behalf of the Crown, the solicitor acting for the Crown in submitting it for execution shall forward an accompanying certificate to the effect that he has perused or prepared the instrument (identifying and describing it), and that in his opinion it is a proper instrument to be executed by or on behalf of the Crown.

74. On the completion of a transaction whereby any land or interest therein is assured to or vested in the Crown, or to or in any person or body on behalf of the Crown, the solicitor shall, on completion of the transaction, when delivering the muniments of title, accompany the same with a certificate setting out the muniments of title and certifying that in his opinion the same effect a valid assurance to or vesting in the Crown, or to or in such person or body on behalf of the Crown, of the interest purported to be thereby assured or vested.

PURSUANT to section 11 of the Government Railways Act, 1926, the Government Railways Board hereby resolves to make the by-law set forth in the Schedule hereto.

SCHEDULE.

101. (1) For the purpose of regulating vehicular traffic on the approach road to the Greymouth Railway-station (hereinafter referred to as "the station") the following provisions shall apply.

(2) For the purposes of this by-law the words "the approach road" mean the road approach to the station, which road is within the railway boundary on the north-west side of the station and connects the eastern end of MacKay Street with Mawhera Quay; and the words "authorized officer" mean any officer or servant of the Railway Department, any Police officer, and any Traffic Officer of the Greymouth Borough Council duly authorized by the Railway Station-master at Greymouth to exercise control over traffic on the approach road.

(3) No person shall drive or ride any motor-vehicle or other vehicle or any motor-cycle upon the approach road at a speed greater than fifteen miles per hour.

(4) No vehicle shall stand on any part of the approach road immediately in front of the station buildings longer than shall be necessary for passengers with their luggage to alight from or join the vehicle, as the case may be, or, where there are no passengers, longer than shall be necessary for the deposit of luggage or goods from the vehicle, or, as the case may be, the loading of luggage or goods into the vehicle: Provided that the driver or person in charge of any such vehicle shall not permit such vehicle to stand upon the approach road immediately in front of the station buildings if requested by an authorized officer to move such vehicle to any other part of the approach road.

(5) Every vehicle shall, when waiting for hire or for use, take up a position on a stand set apart for the particular class of vehicle in each case as indicated by marks on the approach road or on any footpath or by notices displayed.

(6) No driver or other person shall importune any person to hire any vehicle to the annoyance of such last-mentioned person, and no driver or other person shall (except as may be necessary for the purpose of giving warning) endeavour to attract notice by whistling, shouting, or calling, or by means of any horn, syren, bell, or other sound-producing device whatsoever.

(7) In any case where more than one vehicle is waiting for hire upon any appointed stand the first vehicle on such stand shall have the right to the hiring unless the person hailing shall select a particular vehicle.

(8) The approach road shall be closed to through vehicular traffic, including motor-cycles, during such period or periods as may be appointed from time to time by the Railway Station-master, and shall not during such periods be used by any person for such purpose. The fact that notices indicating the times during which the approach road will be closed to through traffic are exhibited at or near the entrances to the approach road or that any authorized officer shall direct the driver of any vehicle or motor-cycle to proceed by a route other than the approach road shall be sufficient evidence that the approach road has been closed to through traffic pursuant to this by-law. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to require the exhibition of any such notice as is mentioned in this paragraph; nor shall the fact that any notice is exhibited be a bar to the closing of the approach road during any longer period than is shown on such notice or during any other period or periods.

(9) The driver or person in charge of any vehicle in or upon or entering the approach road shall at all times obey the orders of any authorized officer; and the provisions of the preceding paragraphs of this by-law shall be subject to the provisions of this paragraph.

(10) Any person who shall commit a breach of this by-law, or shall fail to do any act in this by-law directed to be done by him, or shall do any act which by this by-law is directed not to be done by him, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds (£10) for each such breach or the failure to do or the doing of each such act as aforesaid respectively.
