PART I.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

Application of regulations.

3. The regulations contained in this Part shall apply to every class of radio-station except such as may be specifically exempted herein, while the respective classes of station referred to in Regulation 10 (1) shall individually be subject, in addition, to the relative regulations set forth in Parts II to VII hereof.

4. Where not otherwise expressly indicated, and if not inconsistent with the context, these regulations shall be applicable to all radio-stations established on ships registered in New Zealand, and also to all radio-stations established on merchant ships not so registered during the time the said ships are within territorial waters or harbours of New Zealand, and shall similarly be applicable to aircraft stations on or over New Zealand territory.

5. Nothing in these regulations shall prejudice or affect the right of the Minister from time to time to establish, extend, maintain, and work any system or systems of telegraphic communication (whether of a like nature to those licensed hereunder or otherwise) in such manner as he shall in his discretion think fit. Neither shall anything herein contained prejudice or affect the right of the Minister from time to time to enter into agreements for or to grant licenses relative to the working and use of telegraphs (whether of a like nature to those licensed hereunder or otherwise) for the transmission and/or reception of messages in any part of New Zealand by means of radio-telegraphy, or by any other means, with or to any person or persons whomsoever upon such terms as he shall in his discretion think fit. And (save as in these regulations expressly provided) nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize the licensee to exercise any of the powers or authorities conferred on or acquired by the Minister by or under the said Act.

Radio districts.

6. For the purposes of these regulations New Zealand shall be divided into four radio districts, which shall be identical with the telegraph and telephone districts superintended by District Telegraph Engineers. These radio districts shall be classified as follows:—

- | | |

9. As provided in the said Act, every person who, not being the holder of a license authorizing him so to do, or in that behalf, erects, constructs, establishes, maintains, or uses any station, plant, or apparatus capable of transmitting radio-communications, or is in possession of apparatus capable of receiving radio-communications commits an offence and is liable to the prescribed penalty. License to be obtained.

10. (1) The following classes of license may be granted, and may be evidenced by instruments in accordance with the forms in the Schedule to these regulations:— Classes of license.

Every care shall be taken by the licensee to safeguard the secrecy of public correspondence, and only in special cases shall permission be given to operate transmitting-apparatus connected to an aerial or earth.

Portion of fees may be paid for maintenance of
service.

12. A portion of the annual fees paid by licensees in respect of licenses issued in pursuance of these regulations may, as prescribed in the next succeeding regulation, be paid by the Minister to persons or companies with whom or which any agreement for a broadcasting service has been, or may be, executed in terms of section 203 of the said Act.

Control of
emergency.

26. (1) If and whenever an emergency shall have arisen in which it is expedient in the public interest that His Majesty's Government shall have control over the transmission or reception of messages by the apparatus of any licensed radio-station, it shall be lawful for any officer of His Majesty's Navy or Army, or for any other person authorized in that behalf by the Admiralty or by the Minister, to take possession of or to cause the apparatus or any part thereof to be taken possession of in the name and on behalf of His Majesty, and to be used for His Majesty's service, and subject thereto for such ordinary services as to the said officer or person may seem fit; and in that event any person authorized by the said officer or person may enter upon any station at or on which any such apparatus is installed and take possession of the said apparatus and use the same as aforesaid.

(2) Any such officer or person may in such event as aforesaid, instead of taking possession of the apparatus as aforesaid, direct and authorize such persons as he may think fit to assume the control of the reception and/or transmission of messages by the licensed apparatus, either wholly or partly and in such manner as he may direct, and such persons may enter upon any station at which any apparatus is installed accordingly; or the said officer or person may—

(a) Direct the licensee, his servants or agents, to submit to him, or any person authorized by him all messages tendered for transmission or received by the licensed apparatus, or any class or classes of such messages; to stop or delay the transmission of any messages, or deliver the same to him or his agent; and generally to obey all such directions with reference to the reception and/or transmission of messages as the said officer or person may prescribe; or

Patents.

28. Except as provided in section 204 of the said Act or in Regulation 213 hereof the issue of a license under these regulations shall not relieve the licensee of responsibility for any infringement of any patent for an invention.

29. Every licensee shall observe the provisions of any regulations from time to time made under the said Act by the Governor-General in Council in relation to the conduct of radio-telegraphic business, and the provisions of the Shipping and Seamen Act Wireless Regulations, the International Telegraph Convention, the International Radio-telegraph Convention, and the International Convention for the Safety of Human Life at Sea, so far as any of such regulations are applicable to him.

Observance of regulations.

30. Neither the licensee nor any other person shall use, nor shall the licensee cause or permit any person to use, any radio-station for the transmission or receipt of messages, except messages authorized by these regulations.

Station to be used for authorized messages only.

License not transferable or assignable for profit.

32. The license for a radio-station, and the operator's certificate (if any), or an official duplicate thereof respectively, shall at all times be available for inspection by any person authorized by the Minister in that behalf. In the case of a radio-dealer the license shall be exhibited as required by Regulation 207 hereof.

License and/or certificate to be available.

33. To every transmitting station licensed under these regulations the Minister shall allot an official call sign, by which the station shall be identified, and which shall be used in the manner prescribed in Regulations 48 and 53 hereof, whenever a radio communication is transmitted from the said radio-station.

Allocation of call-signs.

34. As provided in the International Radio-telegraph Convention Regulations, call signs shall consist of—

- (a) Three letters in the case of fixed and land stations;
- (b) Four letters in the case of ship stations;
- (c) Five letters in the case of aircraft stations;
- (d) The letter or letters indicating the nationality, and a single figure followed by a group of not more than three letters, for private experimental stations.

35. The scheme of allocation of call signs to New Zealand stations shall be as follows:—

		Combinations of Letters from the Series.
Fixed and land stations	..	ZKA-ZMZ (three letters).
Ship stations ..	..	ZKA-ZMZ (four letters).
Aircraft stations ..	..	ZKA-ZMZ (five letters).
Broadcasting stations ..	..	Number of radio district in which station is situated followed by two identification letters: e.g. , 2YA or 3ZA.
Private experimental (amateur) stations		Letters of nationality ZL, number of radio district in which station situated, followed by two identification letters: e.g. , ZL2AB.
Private experimental (research) stations		Letters of nationality ZL, number of radio district in which station situated, followed by two identification letters, of which the first shall be X: e.g. , ZL2XB.

36. Every licensee of a transmitting station shall cause the same, so far as possible, to be established and operated under the best conditions known in the art, and to be kept abreast of scientific and technical progress.

Efficiency of station.

37. Every licensee of a radio-station shall cause the receiving-apparatus thereof to be so designed and operated that the amount of energy radiated therefrom shall be such as to be incapable of disturbing neighbouring stations.

Radiating receivers.

38. Every licensee of a radio-station shall faithfully observe and cause to be observed all the technical provisions of the license relating to power, frequency (wave-length), type of transmitter, and the like, and shall not make or permit any variation therein except with the authority of the Minister.

Observance of technical provisions of license

Classification of waves.

39. (1) Radio-electric emissions are divided into two classes—
A, continuous waves ; B, damped waves ; defined as follows :—

Class A : Waves of which the successive oscillations are identical as a permanent condition. (Continuous waves.)

Class B : Waves consisting of successive trains in which the amplitude of the oscillations, after reaching a maximum, decreases gradually. (Damped waves.)

(2) Waves of Class A comprise the types given below, which are defined as follows :—

Type A1 : Unmodulated continuous waves. Continuous waves of which the amplitude or frequency is varied by the operation of telegraphic keying. (C.W.)

Type A2 : Continuous waves modulated at audible frequency. Continuous waves of which the amplitude or frequency is varied in a periodic manner at audible frequency, combined with telegraphic keying. (I.C.W.)

Type A3 : Continuous waves modulated by speech or by music. Continuous waves of which the amplitude or frequency is varied according to the characteristic vibrations of speech or music. (Telephony.)

(3) These definitions do not relate to systems of sending-apparatus.

40. Waves shall be designated primarily by their frequency in kilocycles per second (kc/s), the approximate length in metres (m.) being shown in parentheses.

(NOTE.—In these regulations the approximate value of the wave-length in metres is the quotient obtained by dividing the number 300,000 by the frequency expressed in kilocycles per second.)

Allocation of frequencies.

41. The Minister shall allot transmitting-frequencies (wave-lengths) from the bands assigned to the particular service by the International Radio-telegraph Convention.

No monopoly of allocated frequency.

42. The allotment of any frequency to any transmitting station shall not be held to confer upon such station a monopoly of the use of such frequency with or without restriction as to time.

Frequency meter to be provided.

43. All transmitting stations shall be equipped with instruments for the accurate measurement of the frequency of the emitted wave ; and the Minister may, at his discretion, require such instruments to be checked at any time with national standards.

Breadth of emission.

44. In order that interference to services on adjacent waves may be minimized, the width of a band of frequencies occupied by the emission of a station must correspond reasonably with technical progress for the type of communication concerned.

Waves to be pure and steady.

45. The waves emitted by a station must be maintained at the authorized frequency, as exactly as the state of technical development reasonably permits, and their radiation must also be as free as practicable from all emissions which are not essential to the type of communication effected :

Provided that the variation between the mean frequency of the emissions and the allocated frequency of any radio-station shall not in any case be more than 500 cycles, subject, in the case of broadcasting stations, to the provisions of Part IV hereof.

Erection of aeriels.

46. (1) Radio aeriels shall not, without the consent of the licensee for the supply of electricity concerned, be erected above or below wires used for the supply of electricity, or sufficiently near to such wires to permit of contact with them should either class of wire break or become detached from its support, or the support fail.

(2) Radio aeriels shall not, without the consent of the Minister, be erected above or below any electric line erected and maintained by the Post and Telegraph Department.

Interference and identity rules to be complied with.

47. The licensee shall comply with all such directions and observe all such rules as may be given or made by the Minister from time to time for the purpose of preventing interference with the working of any other radio-station, and for enabling the messages transmitted by means of the licensed apparatus to be distinguished from those emanating from any other radio-station.

Tests and adjustments.

48. (1) Tests and adjustments in any station must be made in such a way as not to interfere with the service of other stations engaged in authorized correspondence. Test and adjustment signals must be of such a character that they cannot be confused with a message, abbreviation, or other signals, having a special significance under these regulations.

(2) Any station making emissions for tests, adjustments, or experiments must transmit its call sign frequently during the course of these emissions.

49. Every licensee of a radio-station shall at all times cause the station to be operated in such a manner as to avoid interference with the reception of distress signals. Interference with distress signals.

50. If, in connection with the use of authorized apparatus, any distress signal should come under the notice of a licensee or operator, and there is reason to believe that such signal has not been intercepted by a Government, coast, or ship station, the licensee or operator shall immediately take such steps as may be available (e.g., by telephone) for communicating the same to the nearest Government station, or, if this be impracticable, to a responsible officer of the Post and Telegraph Department. Reception of distress signal.

51. With the exception of broadcasting stations, every transmitting station shall be equipped for reception also; and the licensee shall cause a listening watch to be kept during the whole time the station is open except during such time as the station is actually transmitting. Transmitting stations to be equipped for reception.

52. (1) Licensed radio-stations shall at all times be operated in such a manner as to avoid excessive interference with the services of other radio-stations, and, in particular, with Government stations and stations engaged in the international service of public correspondence. Before proceeding with any transmission, the operator of a station (except a broadcasting station) shall make sure that the transmissions about to be commenced will not cause excessive interference with other communications in progress on the frequency to be used; if it is likely that such interference will be caused, he shall await the first break in the transmission of the communications with which interference might be caused. Interference with other stations.

(2) In the course of continuous transmissions exceeding ten minutes in duration the operator of the station (except a broadcasting station) shall stop sending at the end of every such period and before proceeding with the transmission shall listen for a brief period in order to ascertain whether his transmissions are causing undue interference with another station. Operator to listen periodically during transmissions.

53. (1) In cases in which a specific station is to be called, the call sign of the called station shall be transmitted not more than three times, the word "de" transmitted once, followed by the call sign of the calling station transmitted not more than three times. This formula shall not be repeated more than three times in succession without listening for response. When it is desired to make a general call to all stations, the call sign CQ should replace the call sign of the called station in the foregoing formula. Calling procedure.

(2) When a station called does not reply to a call sent three times at intervals of two minutes, the call shall cease and shall not be resumed until after an interval of fifteen minutes. The station calling, before resuming the call, shall make certain that the station called is not at that moment in communication with another station. The call may, however, be repeated at intervals of less than fifteen minutes if there is no reason to believe that it will interfere with communications in progress.

(3) The use of the call CQ followed by the letter K (request for reply) is forbidden, except in combination with signals denoting urgency.

54. In all radio-telegraph services the following order of priority shall be observed:— Order of priority of traffic.

- (1) Distress calls, distress messages, and distress traffic:
- (2) Communications preceded by the urgency signal:
- (3) Communications preceded by the safety signal:
- (4) Communications relative to direction-finding bearings:
- (5) All other communications. In this category the order of priority shall be, in principle, as follows:—

 - (iii) Service radio-telegrams relative to the operation of the radio-electric service or to radio-telegrams previously exchanged:
 - (iv) Public correspondence.

- Log record. 55. The licensee of every transmitting station shall keep a log record showing the hours during which the authorized transmitting apparatus is in operation, the time of each transmission, the station called, the power (anode rating), and the frequency used. In addition, the log shall embody a record of the stations heard and, as far as may be consistent with Regulation 62, the nature of the communications carried on by such stations. This log shall be produced for perusal by any Radio Inspector whenever required.
- Competition with Government services. 56. Except as provided in the International Radio-telegraph Convention or in these regulations, or with the special authority of the Minister, a radio-station shall not be used in any way to compete with Government communication services, and shall not transmit or receive radio-communications the transmission or reception of which is calculated, in the judgment of the Minister, to cause loss of revenue to the Post and Telegraph Department. Nevertheless, messages of warning having for their object the preservation of human life, the protection of property, or the detection of crime, may be transmitted without reference to the Minister.
- Impersonation. 57. Every person who, by means of a radio-station, impersonates any other radio-station or any other person, or who improperly uses the call sign of another radio-station, commits an offence against these regulations.
- False, seditious, &c., transmissions. 58. A licensee or operator of a radio-station shall not transmit or cause or permit to be transmitted any radio-communication of a false or misleading character, and in particular shall not transmit or cause or permit to be transmitted any false or deceptive distress signal or distress call.
59. The licensee or the operator of a radio-station shall not transmit, or cause or permit the transmission of, any radio-communication of a seditious, profane, obscene, libellous, or offensive nature.
- Penalty. 60. Any person who acts in contravention of or fails to comply with the requirements of Regulations 57, 58, or 59 hereof commits an offence against these regulations, and shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £50, or to a term of imprisonment not exceeding six months.
- Secrecy. 61. No licensee or operator of any radio-station shall divulge to any unauthorized person any information whatsoever relating to general public correspondence that may come to his knowledge by reason of the operation of the station.
62. (1) (a) Every licensee, and every operator, agent, or servant of a licensee, and any other person having access to the apparatus in a radio-station, shall, by every means in his power, preserve the secrecy of information relating to public correspondence that may come to his knowledge by reason of the operation of the station; and shall adopt all reasonable precautions to prevent unauthorized persons becoming acquainted therewith.
- (b) A licensee or operator, or any other person having access to the apparatus of a radio-station, shall not commit or cause to be committed to writing any public correspondence that may come to his knowledge by reason of the operation of such station.
- (2) Nothing in this regulation shall be deemed to prohibit the recording at, or the delivery or transmission from, any station open for public correspondence, of any communication designed and intended to be received at, or delivered or transmitted from, such station.
- Publication of information. 63. Except with the permission of the Minister, no person shall commit to writing for the purpose of publication in a newspaper any matter transmitted from any radio-station.
- Penalty for divulging public correspondence. 64. (1) Any person who improperly commits to writing or divulges information relating to public correspondence that may come to his knowledge by reason of the operation of any radio-station commits an offence under these regulations, and shall be liable to a fine of £50, or to a term of imprisonment not exceeding six months.
- (2) Nothing in this regulation shall be deemed to prohibit the person duly authorized in that behalf from giving a copy of any telegram or information relating to any telegram to the person or persons entitled thereto, or to properly authorized officials of His Majesty's Government or of the Minister, or to a competent legal tribunal.
- Penalty where no other penalty provided. 65. Any person who acts in contravention of or commits an offence against any of these regulations for which a penalty is not otherwise provided, or who commits any breach of the conditions of a license of which he is the holder, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding £10, or to a term of imprisonment not exceeding one month.

66. Where difficulties inherent to the nature of radio-communication may be overcome by a reasonable extension of the powers normally conferred under these regulations, the Minister may grant to the licensee, in writing, such privileges as in his opinion may be necessary. Minister may grant extension of normal privileges.

67. Licensees shall report to the Secretary, General Post Office, Wellington, any breach of these regulations or of the International Radio-telegraph Convention that may come under their notice. Breaches to be reported.

68. The Minister, or any agent authorized in that behalf in writing by him, may at any time for the purpose of inspection enter upon any station, and may inspect any apparatus fixed or being in such station for the purpose of sending and/or receiving messages by radio-telegraphy, and all other telegraphic instruments and apparatus fixed or being in such station, and the working and use of such apparatus and telegraphic instruments, and also for the purpose of determining whether the number and qualifications of the operators employed conform to the requirements of these regulations: Provided that in respect of mobile stations the powers conferred by this regulation shall be in addition but without prejudice to any powers exercisable under Part III of these regulations. Inspection of stations.

69. The Minister shall decide whether the requirements of these regulations have been complied with and may from time to time cause inquiry to be made into any matter connected therewith or arising thereunder, in such manner as he thinks fit, and his decision shall be final; and licensees and operators shall comply strictly with such decision. Minister's decision final.

70. Any notice, request, or consent (whether required to be in writing or not) to be given by the Minister under these regulations may be under the hand of the Secretary or other authorized officer of the Post and Telegraph Department, and may be served by sending the same in a registered letter addressed to the licensee at the office or place of residence for the time being of the licensee, or, if such notice, request, or consent relates to any particular ship station, by delivery to the master of the ship upon which such station is installed; and any notice to be given by the licensee under these regulations may be served by sending the same in a registered letter addressed to the Secretary, General Post Office, Wellington. Service of notices.

PART II.

RECEIVING STATIONS.

71. Radio receiving stations shall be subject to the provisions of Part I of these regulations as far as they are applicable to such stations, and also to the provisions of this Part.

72. In the case of receiving-apparatus used on frequency bands reserved for broadcasting— Interference from broadcast receiving-apparatus.

(a) It shall be an offence against these regulations for any licensee or other person to use, or for any licensee to permit the use of, any receiving-set in an oscillating condition to the detriment of reception by other licensees.

(b) All receivers in which radio-frequency oscillations are produced either continuously during operation or may be produced during the process of "tuning-in" shall have the various constants of their circuits (including anode voltage) such that oscillation is reduced to a minimum irrespective of any detrimental effect such reduction in the intensity of oscillation may have on the efficiency of the particular set, or shall have the portions of the set in which radio-frequency oscillations occur adequately screened so as to preclude radiation therefrom.

(c) No licensee or other person shall use, and no licensee shall permit the use of, any receiving-set in which use is made of regenerative amplification unless such receiving-set is fitted with separate controls of reaction and tuning, which, as far as is practicable, shall be independent in their operation.

73. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this regulation, the fees for radio receiving-station licenses shall be as follows (payable in advance):— Fees.

(a) For an "ordinary" license, £1 10s. per annum.

(b) For a "multiple" license—

For each receiver having connected therewith up to twenty receiving points (rooms), £5 per annum.

For each additional twenty points or less, £1 per annum.

(c) For a "special" license, £5 per annum.

(d) For a "temporary" license, 10s. per week of seven days or fraction thereof.

(2) Where the period to the 31st day of March following the issue of a license is less than one year, the fee shall be at the rate of—

(a) For an "ordinary" license, 2s. 6d. per calendar month or fraction thereof.

(b) For a "multiple" license—

For each receiver having connected therewith up to twenty receiving points (rooms), 8s. 4d. per calendar month or fraction thereof:

For each additional twenty points or less, 1s. 8d. per calendar month or fraction thereof.

(c) For a "special" license, 8s. 4d. per calendar month or fraction thereof.

(3) Where the period to the 31st day of March following the issue of a license other than a "temporary" license is less than three months, the fee for the next ensuing twelve months shall be added to the initial payment, and a license shall be issued accordingly for the period covered by such fee.

(4) The fee for a duplicate license shall be 5s. Such duplicate shall be issued only on production of satisfactory evidence that the original has been lost or destroyed.

Free licenses.

(5) Subject to the approval of the Minister, receiving-station licenses may be issued free of charge to—

(a) Blind persons who are the heads of their respective households.

(b) Institutions, homes, and asylums for blind persons.

(c) Electric-power Boards—in respect of stations to be used solely for the purpose of detecting causes of interference with reception of broadcast programmes attributable to power lines or electrical apparatus.

(d) Observatories, astronomical societies, and similar institutions—in respect of stations to be used solely for the reception of time signals.

PART III.

MOBILE STATIONS.

74. Mobile stations shall, as far as they are applicable to such stations, be subject to the provisions of Part I of these regulations and also to the provisions of this Part.

Classification of ship-stations.

75. Mobile stations established on ships shall be of such class mentioned in Article 20 of the General Regulations annexed to the International Radio-telegraph Convention, 1927, as is specified in the license issued in respect thereof; and the equipment of the station, hours of duty to be observed, and other requirements shall be appropriate to such class in accordance with the provisions of the International Radio-telegraph Convention.

Obligatory waves.

76. (1) Every mobile station which is compulsorily equipped by regulation and/or which is licensed to engage in the international service of public correspondence must be able to send and receive efficiently on the wave of 500 kc/s (600 m.) type A2 or type B.

(2) Ship stations in such categories must in addition be able to use the wave of 375 kc/s (800 m.) type A2 (or type B, subject to the provisions of Regulations 77 and 79 hereof), and such other waves as the Minister may from time to time require.

(3) In addition to the wave of 500 kc/s (600 m.), aircraft stations in such categories must be able to send and receive efficiently on the wave of 333 kc/s (900 m.) type A2 or type A3 (or type B, subject to the provisions of Regulations 77 and 79 hereof), and such other waves as the Minister may from time to time require.

Conditional use of type B waves.

77. Mobile stations shall be authorized to use type B waves only in accordance with the terms and conditions prescribed in the International Radio-telegraph Convention. Such stations, when authorized, shall be permitted to operate on such of the following waves as may be specified in the license:—

Kc/s.				Metres.
375	..	..	..	800
410	..	..	..	730
425	..	..	..	705
454	..	..	..	660
500	..	..	..	600

78. (1) During the hours of service shown in the license, mobile stations which are compulsorily equipped by regulation and/or which are open to the international service of public correspondence must continue to listen on the wave of 500 kc/s (600 m.) except when they are exchanging traffic on other waves. Listening, calling, and transmitting waves.

(2) The wave of 500 kc/s (600 m.) shall also be used by such stations for the purpose of calling other stations in the mobile service.

(3) For the transmission of public correspondence, mobile stations shall use the wave of 375 kc/s (800 m.) or such other wave as may be authorized in the license: Provided that for communication with a coast station the latter shall have the right to nominate for the purpose any frequency (wave-length) for which the mobile station is licensed.

79. In case of distress, the wave of 500 kc/s (600 m.) must be used preferably with either type A2 or type B transmissions, but when it is not possible to use one of these types of waves, type A1 or type A3 may be used. Nevertheless, no provision of the present regulations shall hinder the use by a mobile station in distress of any means at its disposal to attract attention, indicate its situation, and obtain assistance. Distress wave.

80. The speed of transmission of messages in connection with cases of distress, urgency, or safety, shall not under ordinary circumstances exceed sixteen words per minute. Speed of sending distress messages.

81. All stations in the mobile maritime service required to operate on the wave of 500 kc/s (600 m.) must, during their hours of service, take the necessary measures to ensure watch on the distress wave (500 kc/s = 600 m.) for three minutes twice an hour, beginning at the fifteenth minute and at the forty-fifth minute of each hour, Greenwich mean time. Watch for distress signals.

82. (1) Every ship station is bound to accept with absolute priority calls of distress, whencesoever they may come, to reply in like manner to such calls, and to give to them the effect which they require. Distress calls to receive priority.

(2) The procedure to be followed in cases of distress shall be that laid down in the International Radio-telegraph Convention.

83. In the exchange of radio-communications on the waves mentioned in Regulation 76 hereof (general communication waves), and in calling and listening, mobile stations shall strictly observe the procedure detailed in the International Radio-telegraph Convention. General operating procedure.

84. Stations in the mobile service open for public correspondence shall, within the limits of their normal employment in such service, exchange radio-telegrams reciprocally without distinction as to the radio-electric system adopted by them. Traffic reciprocity.

85. In order to reduce interference, mobile stations open for the service of public correspondence shall, as far as possible, use for their transmissions waves of type A1 on all frequencies other than 500 kc/s, and shall at all times employ the minimum of radiated energy that may be necessary to produce signals of a reasonable strength at the receiving station. Wave and power for normal working.

86. (1) Transmitting-apparatus used in the mobile service must be provided with devices permitting reduction of power, except that this provision shall not apply to transmitters of which the initial input power does not exceed 300 watts. Reduction of power and change of frequency.

(2) The transmitting and receiving apparatus of every mobile station must be such as to allow changes from one working wave to another to be made as rapidly as possible. All installations must be such that, when communication is established, the time necessary to change from transmission to reception or vice versa shall be as short as practicable.

87. The apparatus used in any mobile station must be capable of transmitting and receiving at a speed at least equal to thirty words per minute, the average word being of five letters. Speed of transmissions.

88. The exchange of unnecessary signals by mobile stations is forbidden. Before conducting tests on a general communication wave the permission of the nearest coast station shall be obtained. Such tests will be approved only in so far as they do not disturb the service of other stations. Unnecessary signals.

89. The licensee or operator of any ship station shall not, except as hereinafter provided, or with the consent in writing of the Minister, send or receive, or cause or permit to be sent or received, messages from or at the licensed apparatus when in any harbour of the Dominion of New Zealand. Transmissions from ships in harbour.

(2) When the ship is in any harbour of the Dominion of New Zealand, but not berthed—i.e., out of touch with the land-line telegraph system—the licensed apparatus may be used for the purpose of communicating, on minimum power, with the nearest coast station, or may be used in circumstances in which communication with the nearest coast station is impracticable, and where the interests of navigation would be facilitated thereby, to establish communication with a more distant coast station, or, if necessary, with another ship station.

(3) In exceptional circumstances, such as the non-operation from any cause of the land-line telegraph system, when the ship is in any harbour of the Dominion of New Zealand and berthed therein, the licensed apparatus may be used to communicate with the nearest coast station on matters affecting the interests of navigation. When it is impracticable to communicate with the nearest coast station, communication may be established with a more distant coast station, or, if necessary, with another ship station.

(4) Nothing in this regulation shall be deemed to forbid the transmission of any message authorized or required by the Shipping and Seamen Act Wireless Regulations.

Acceptance of
ship stations.

90. The acceptance at ship stations of telegrams intended for onward transmission shall be confined exclusively to messages from members of the crew and bona fide ship passengers. Except as provided in Regulations 26 and 89 hereof, a ship station shall not, during the time the vessel is in harbour, engage in the acceptance of messages in competition with the ordinary communication services of the country concerned.

Interference
signalling.

91. (1) If the Minister is of opinion that the working of the apparatus at any ship station is inconsistent with the free use of naval signalling, he may by notice in writing to the licensee or person in charge thereof require the said station to be closed, and thereupon the licensee or person aforesaid shall forthwith close the said station.

(2) This provision for the protection of naval signalling shall be construed to be without prejudice to the generality of any other provisions of the license.

Prevention of transmissions from ships in harbour in
circumstances.

92. (1) If and whenever His Majesty's Government in New Zealand shall deem such action necessary in the interests of the State, the Minister may, by notice published in the Gazette, prohibit the use of radio by ship stations in harbour and notify that the provisions of this regulation shall be in force until further notification, and thereafter and until a countermanding notice has been similarly published the following provisions shall apply in respect of ships in harbour:—

- (a) When a British ship arrives in harbour, the aerial leads of its radio-telegraph apparatus shall be disconnected from the leading-in insulators, and be made fast to, and be placed in good metallic connection with, the nearest metallic portion of the ship's structure in direct connection with the ship's hull, such disconnection and connection to continue during the whole time the ship is in harbour.
- (b) Except as otherwise provided for, the radio-cabin shall be vacated and locked while the ship is in harbour; and the cabin shall be sealed by the Customs as soon as practicable. Any seal affixed in accordance with this provision shall not be broken by any one other than a Customs officer until the ship is no longer in harbour. Entry shall be made in the ship's log of the times of locking the cabin, and of making and breaking the seal.
- (c) In cases where radio-cabins include silence cabinets containing parts of the transmitting-apparatus, the radio-cabin shall not be required to be locked and sealed. The transmitting-apparatus in the silence cabinet shall, from the time of the ship's arrival in harbour, be disconnected; and the silence cabinet locked, and sealed by the Customs as soon thereafter as practicable. The seal shall not be broken by any person other than a Customs officer until the ship is outside of harbour limits. The auxiliary radio-apparatus shall, at the time of the ship's arrival in harbour, be rendered inoperative by the hammer-break of the coil—where such apparatus is fitted—being tied back and sealed with a seal approved by the master, or, when there is no coil, in some other suitable manner. The Customs seal shall be applied to the auxiliary radio-apparatus when the sealing of the silence cabinet is being effected. An entry shall be made in the ship's log of the times at which the silence cabinet was locked and the seals made and broken.

- (d) In cases where radio installations are equipped with "control switches" whereby the master of the ship can, unless the apparatus be tampered with, prevent the sending of messages without his knowledge, the Minister may waive compliance with the foregoing requirements in regard to the locking and sealing of the radio-cabin or silence cabinet.
- (e) Foreign ships shall be subject to the provisions of clauses (b) and (c) hereof. In addition, when a foreign ship arrives in harbour its aerial wires shall be taken down completely, and shall be disconnected from the leading-in insulator. In such circumstances, the aerial wires shall remain down, and disconnected from the leading-in insulator, until the ship is outside of harbour limits.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this regulation or in Regulation 89 hereof, it shall be permissible for any person authorized in that behalf by the Minister to inspect, and to permit repairs to be effected to, the radio-apparatus of ships, from time to time, proper precautions being taken for the locking and sealing of the radio-cabin, of the silence cabinet, and of the auxiliary apparatus.

(3) If at any time while the provisions of this regulation are in force there shall in respect of any ship in harbour be a failure to comply with any of the provisions of this regulation the owner and master thereof shall be guilty of an offence against this regulation, and such owner and master and any person committing a breach of this regulation shall be severally liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £1,000.

(4) Whenever at any time while the provisions of this regulation are in force the Minister has reasonable cause to believe or suspect that any breach of this regulation has been committed on board any ship while in the territorial waters of New Zealand or in harbour, he may give notice in writing to the Collector of Customs at any port in New Zealand to detain the ship under section 205 of the Post and Telegraph Act, 1928, until the sum of £1,000, or such smaller sum as may be specified in the notice, has been deposited with the Collector of Customs by or on behalf of the owner of the ship.

(5) If on the receipt of that notice, or at any time within three months thereafter, the ship is found within such port, the Collector of Customs shall withhold the certificate of clearance of the ship, under section 35 of the Customs Act, 1913, until and unless the aforesaid sum is deposited with him or the aforesaid notice of detention is withdrawn.

(6) If within six months after the date of the offence in respect of which the ship has been detained a conviction for that offence is obtained against any person, the sum so deposited shall be available for the satisfaction of any fine and costs imposed and awarded by the conviction, and the residue, if any, shall be returned to the person by whom or on whose behalf the deposit was made.

(7) If within the period of six months aforesaid no such conviction is obtained, the sum so deposited shall be returned to the person by whom or on whose behalf it was deposited.

(8) The countermanding of a notice that the provisions of this regulation are in force shall not affect the liability of any person for an offence committed before the publication of such countermanding notice.

93. If on inspection by a Radio Inspector or other authorized person in accordance with Regulation 68 hereof a ship station is found to be not so equipped or provided as prescribed in these regulations, the inspecting officer shall give to the master or owner of the station notice in writing pointing out the deficiency. A copy of such notice shall be given to the Customs officer at any port at which the ship may seek to obtain a clearance or transire, and the ship shall, as provided by the Shipping and Seamen Act Wireless Regulations, be detained until a certificate under the hand of any such inspecting officer is produced to the effect that the ship is properly equipped or provided with an installation and operators, radio signallers, and/or watchers in conformity with the regulations.

required by operator of mobile station.

94. Mobile stations shall be operated only by persons possessing the appropriate certificate as under :—

- (a) At ship stations subject to the provisions of the Shipping and Seamen Act Wireless Regulations—the certificate prescribed in those regulations ;
- (b) At ship stations not subject to the provisions of the Shipping and Seamen Act Wireless Regulations—
 - (i) If the station is open for the exchange of general public correspondence—a second-class radio-telegraph operator's certificate or (subject to Regulation 104) a radio-telephone operator's certificate ;
 - (ii) If the station is open only for restricted correspondence as detailed in Regulation 106—a third-class radio-telegraph operator's certificate ;

Prohibited
types of waves,
High-tension
power-supply.

164. The high-tension anode-supply of valve transmitters shall be such that its wave-form is practically a straight line—i.e., equivalent to a constant-current supply. If the plate current be obtained from an alternating-current source, it shall be smoothed out by rectifying and filtering before being applied to the anode of the transmitting-valve; if obtained from a generator the current must likewise be filtered to minimize commutator ripple.

165. In order to give effect to Regulation 45 the licensee of an amateur station shall cause the station to be so designed and operated that local interference due to keying impacts and dynamic instability is precluded.

Prevention of
interference.

166. In the event of the operation of an amateur station causing general interference with broadcast reception by receiving-apparatus of modern design, the licensee of the station concerned shall forthwith cease to operate the station on the frequency or frequencies which cause interference until such interference is removed. Should the complete elimination of the interference be impossible, then the Minister may permit the operation of the station on such conditions and at such times as he thinks fit.

Interference
reception.

167. Except as may be provided herein or with the special approval of the Minister, amateur stations shall be used for the purpose of communicating with stations of similar class only.

operated for material
compensation.

169. Licensees of amateur stations shall not transmit or receive messages for any third party, whether for reward or otherwise, other than for a member of their immediate family.

Third-party messages.

170. All communications from amateur stations must be conducted in plain language, and must be limited to messages relating to the experiments and to remarks of a personal character for which, by reason of their unimportance, recourse to the public telegraph service would not enter into consideration.

Class of message

171. (1) The exchange of communications with private experimental stations in another country is forbidden if the Administration of the country concerned has notified objection thereto, and such notification has been published in the Gazette by the Minister.

International communications.

(2) When such exchange is not so forbidden, the communications shall be strictly in accordance with Regulations 169 and 170.

172. The issue of a license to operate a private experimental (amateur) station shall not confer upon the licensee the right to transmit matter of a news or entertainment character, or in other respects to usurp the functions of a broadcasting station.

Broadcasting
prohibited.

173. In the course of their transmission amateur stations must transmit their call signs at frequent intervals.

Use of call-sign.

174. Licensees of portable amateur stations shall give advance notice to the District Radio Inspector of the district where application was made for the portable station license, of all locations in which the station will be operated.

176. Private experimental (research) stations shall be subject to the provisions of Part I of these regulations, and also to the provisions of this section of this Part.

Convention rules applicable.

177. All the general rules laid down in the International Radio-telegraph Convention apply to research stations.

Establishment of.

178. (1) A research-station license may be issued in respect of a station to be used solely for the purpose of testing the performance of radio apparatus or for experiments with a view to the advancement of the art of radio-telegraphy; nevertheless, such a license shall not authorize the holder to usurp the functions of another class of station.

(2) Universities and institutes engaged in scientific experimental work may be granted licenses of this class.

Qualifications of operator.

179. A research station shall be operated only by a person possessing a first-class or second-class radio-telegraph operator's certificate or a technical certificate in broadcasting, as the Minister may require: Provided, however, that in the case of universities and similar non-commercial scientific institutions the Minister may, at his discretion, waive this requirement.

Connection to telephone-
system.

180. Every research station shall, unless otherwise determined by the Minister, be required to be connected to a Government telephone-exchange system which is open throughout the hours of operation of the station.

Transmitting frequencies.

181. Transmitting-frequencies (wave-lengths) shall be allotted by the Minister, having in view the nature of the transmissions to be carried out; and the Minister may restrict the use of such frequencies to such hours and conditions as he thinks fit.

182. In cases in which approval is given for the temporary use of a frequency (wave-length) allotted to another station, the licensee of the research station shall take every care to ensure that the service of the station regularly using such frequency is not interrupted, and shall promptly cease transmitting upon receipt of notification that interference is being caused.

183. Except in special cases, approved by the Minister, the operation of research stations on frequencies assigned to amateur stations (see Regulation 162) is forbidden. Where, however, the licensee of a research station desires to make a practice of operating on such frequencies he shall obtain in addition an amateur license.

Reports to be submitted.

184. Licensees of private experimental (research) stations shall submit to the Minister, every three months, reports stating the nature of the experiments conducted and the results attained.

PART VII.RADIO-DEALERS.

Provisions of Post and Telegraph Act.

186. As provided in subsection (1) of section 202 of the said Act, it shall not be lawful for any person to sell, or offer for sale, or have in his possession for sale, in the way of his business, any plant, machinery, instruments, material, or other apparatus designed and intended for use in connection with radio-telegraphy, unless he is the holder of a dealer's license issued to him by the Minister.

Interpretation of terms of Act.

187. For the purposes of this Part of these regulations "radio-dealer's license" means a license issued under section 202 of the said Act and these regulations, and "to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus" means to sell, or to offer for sale, or have in possession for sale, in the way of business, any plant, machinery, instruments, material, or other apparatus designed and intended for use in connection with radio-telegraphy.

Minister may grant licenses.

188. The Minister may, on application, grant to any person a license called a "radio-dealer's license" in the form numbered 7 in the Schedule hereto.

189. Every radio-dealer's license of any class shall be deemed to be subject to the respective limitations and restrictions contained in these regulations for a license of that class, as if such limitations and restrictions were set out expressly in the license, and shall be subject generally to these regulations and any amendments thereof, and may be issued subject to such additional conditions and restrictions not inconsistent with the said Act or these regulations or any amendment thereof as may be set out therein.

190. Radio-dealers' licenses shall be divided into four classes, to be distinguished as Class I, Class II, Class III, and Class IV.

191. (1) Every license of Class I, Class II, and Class III shall be issued to some person in respect of a fixed place of business.

(2) Every license issued to a person in respect of a fixed place of business situate within ten miles by the nearest practicable route of the Chief Post-office at Auckland, Christchurch, or Dunedin, or the General Post Office at Wellington, shall be a license of Class I.

(3) Every license issued to a person in respect of a fixed place of business situate elsewhere than as described above shall be a license of Class II.

192. (1) A license of Class I or Class II shall be issued and be available in respect only of one fixed place of business.

(2) Any person seeking to carry on the business of a radio-dealer at more than one fixed place of business shall obtain an additional license of Class I or Class II, as the case may require, in respect of every additional fixed place of business besides the first.

193. A license of Class I or Class II—

(i) Shall authorize the licensee named therein to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus at the fixed place of business named in the license either in person or by agent, but at no other place :

(ii) Shall authorize the licensee, if an individual, to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus in person, but not by a travelling representative, at any other place not being a fixed place of business :

(iii) Shall not authorize any person to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus otherwise than as aforesaid.

194. (1) A license of Class III shall be issued only to the holder of a license of Class I or Class II.

(2) The travelling representative named in a license of Class III shall be an individual.

195. A license of Class III—

(i) Shall authorize the licensee named therein (whether an individual or not, and in addition to the rights conferred by the license of Class I or Class II which such licensee holds) to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus by the travelling representative named in the license at any place not being a fixed place of business :

(ii) Shall authorize such travelling representative so to deal in person only, and not by any sub-representative ;

(iii) Shall not authorize any person to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus otherwise than as aforesaid.

196. (1) A license of Class III shall be issued in respect of one travelling representative only.

(2) Any person carrying on the business of a radio-dealer at one or more fixed places of business and seeking to carry on the business of a radio-dealer by means of more than one travelling representative otherwise than at a fixed place of business shall obtain in respect of every such travelling representative a separate license of Class III.

197. (1) A license of Class IV shall be issued not in respect of a fixed place of business, and shall be issued only to a person who does not hold and who is not the travelling representative of any person who holds a license of Class I, Class II, or Class III.

(2) A license of Class IV shall be issued to an individual only, and shall authorize the licensee named therein to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus in person only, and not by a travelling representative throughout New Zealand, but not at any fixed place of business.

198. No person carrying on the business of a radio-dealer at any fixed place of business shall be entitled to be named as a travelling representative in a license of Class III or to hold a license of Class IV.

199. (1) Any license which is issued to a person who is in fact disqualified to hold the same by virtue of any of the foregoing provisions of this Part of these regulations or (being a license of Class III) which names as travelling representative a person disqualified to be so named shall be void.

(2) If any person to whom a license is issued becomes during the continuance thereof disqualified to hold the same by virtue of any of the foregoing provisions of this Part of these regulations, or if any person named in a license as a travelling representative becomes disqualified to be so named, such license shall thereupon become void.

Application for license.

200. Every application for a radio-dealer's license shall be in writing signed by the applicant, setting out the applicant's full name, address, and occupation, the class of license applied for, and the particular address of the fixed place of business (if any) in respect of which the license is sought, and, in addition, if the license sought is a license of Class III, the name of the person who is to act as travelling representative.

False statement.

201. Any person making a false statement in any application for a license commits an offence against these regulations.

Class of license changed.

202. Any person holding a license of Class IV who desires to carry on the business of a radio-dealer at a fixed place of business shall forthwith apply for a license of Class I or Class II, as the case may require, and on the issue thereof he shall surrender the license of Class IV theretofore held by him, and the fee for the new license shall be reduced by the respective sums set out in clause (2) of Regulation 210 hereof in respect of every complete unexpired calendar month of the term of the surrendered license.

Partnerships.

203. In the case of two or more persons carrying on business in partnership it shall be sufficient if one license is issued for the purposes of these regulations, and such license may be issued to any one member of such partnership or to two or more or all of the members thereof described by their names, or to all the members thereof described by the firm name of the partnership.

Place of business changed.

204. The place of business stated in any license of Class I or Class II may, on the application of the licensee made to a Radio Inspector, be altered at any time during the currency of the license by memorandum to that effect endorsed thereon and signed by the Minister :

Provided that if the place of business be changed from a place ten miles or more by the nearest practicable route from the chief post-office at Auckland, Christchurch, or Dunedin, or the General Post Office at Wellington, to a place within ten miles by the nearest practicable route of any such chief post-office or the General Post Office aforesaid, then, before such memorandum is made, the licensee shall pay a sum equivalent to the fee payable for a license of Class I for the period for which the license as endorsed shall continue to be in force after deducting the respective sums set out in clause (2) of Regulation 210 hereof in respect of every complete unexpired calendar month of the term of the license regarded as a license of Class II.

Travelling representative changed.

205. The name of a travelling representative on a license of Class III may be changed at any time during the currency of the license, but no such alteration shall be valid unless application be made to a Radio Inspector for the Minister's approval on the written request of the licensee and unless a memorandum of such approval be endorsed thereon and signed by the Minister.

Not transferable.

206. Except as herein provided, no radio-dealer's license shall be transferable.

License and sign to be exhibited.

207. Every radio-dealer holding a license of Class I or Class II shall exhibit prominently at the front of his premises, for external observation, a sign bearing the words "Licensed Radio-dealer," and shall also exhibit in a prominent position within the premises his dealer's license.

Demonstrations.

208. A radio-dealer's license shall authorize the establishment and operation from time to time for the purpose of demonstration only at the place of business mentioned in the license, or at the residence of a travelling representative of a licensee of Class III or a licensee of Class IV, or for a period not exceeding seven days at the premises of a prospective purchaser, or elsewhere if specially authorized by the Minister, of one set of radio-receiving apparatus as if the said radio-receiving apparatus were a radio-receiving station licensed in pursuance of these regulations :

Provided that the establishment and operation of the said radio-receiving apparatus shall be in strict accordance with these regulations.

Temporary installations.

209. Subject to the Minister's approval, and upon such conditions as he shall determine, a licensed radio-dealer may be permitted to install and operate for temporary periods radio apparatus at show-grounds, exhibitions, and the like.

CANCELLATION OF UNEXERCISED LOAN AUTHORITY.

In the matter of section 118 of the Local Bodies' Loans Act, 1926.

WHEREAS the Clutha County Council has been duly authorized to borrow by way of special loan the sum of three hundred and fifty pounds for completing the Conical Hills Section of the Waipahi-Pomahaka Main Highway, and the consent of the Governor-General in Council to the raising of the said loan was given by Order in Council made on the 29th day of September, 1930, and published in the Gazette on the 2nd day of October, 1930, at page 2875:

And whereas, in respect of the said sum of three hundred and fifty pounds, there has been raised and borrowed for the purposes aforesaid the sum of two hundred and thirty-three pounds thirteen shillings and elevenpence, and it has not been found necessary to borrow the whole of the amount so authorized:

And whereas the Acting Minister of Finance has duly notified the Clutha County Council in writing of his intention to cancel the loan authority in so far as it has not been exercised:

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers in that behalf conferred upon me by section 118 of the Local Bodies' Loans Act, 1926, as amended by section 46 of the Finance Act, 1931 (No. 4), and of all other powers me in this behalf enabling, I, John G. Fire District Notices varied.

WHEREAS by notices published in Gazettes of the 26th day of October, 1922, at page 2873, and the 26th day of January, 1928, at page 225, respectively, certain areas in Wellington Land District were declared to be Fire Districts (hereinafter referred to as "the said districts"): And whereas the 1st day of November in any year was specified in the said notices as the commencing-date for which it should not be lawful, save pursuant to the written permit of a Forest officer, to set on fire within the boundaries of the said districts any timber, debris, grass, or other specially inflammable material: And whereas it is expedient that the commencing-date for such burning in the said districts should be altered to the 1st day of August in any year, and it is desirable that the aforementioned notices be varied accordingly:

Now, therefore, in pursuance of section 27 of the Forests Act, 1921-22, and on the recommendation of the Director of Forestry and the Land Board of the Wellington Land District, I do hereby declare that the words "the 1st day of August" be substituted for the words "the 1st day of November" in the aforementioned notices, and do hereby vary the said notices accordingly.

Amending Rules for the Examination of Masters and Mates.

Marine Department,
Wellington, 14th July, 1932.

WHEREAS by Warrant dated the 10th day of December, 1930, and published in the Gazette of the 15th day of the same month, at page 3783, rules were made for the conduct of examinations of masters and mates:

And whereas it is expedient to amend the same:

Now, therefore, in pursuance and exercise of the powers vested in me by section twenty-three of the Shipping and Seamen Act, 1908, I do hereby make the following rules amending the hereinbefore-recited rules, and do hereby order that these rules shall come into force on the date hereof.

JOHN G. COBBE, Minister of Marine.

RULES.

1. RULE 22 (1) is hereby revoked and the following rule substituted therefor:—

"(1) Where a candidate for an extra certificate passes in the written portion of the examination but fails in the oral, he may be re-examined in the oral portion in accordance with paragraph 18. His further examination in the oral part need not necessarily be delayed until the next extra masters' examination, but may, at the discretion of the Examiner, be taken at any convenient time."

2. Rule 31 is hereby amended as follows:—

Paragraph (b): The word "undergo" is to be substituted for the word "pass," and the words "A candidate who fails to pass the letter test may present himself for re-examination at intervals of three months" are to be deleted.

The following paragraph (cc) is to be added:—

"(cc) Passing or failure in local examination:—

"Letter Test.—If the candidate passes the letter test, he will proceed to the lantern test, unless he holds a certificate of competency. (See paragraph (c) above.) If he fails he must choose between two alternatives, viz:—

"(i) He may proceed to the lantern test, in which case the results of both tests will be taken into consideration in deciding whether he is to be passed; or

"(ii) He may break off the examination and present himself for re-examination in not less than three months' time.

"Lantern Test.—If the candidate passes the lantern test after passing the letter test, he is deemed to have passed the examination.

"If the result of the test is inconclusive, or if the candidate passes after failing in the letter test, his case should be submitted on the form Exn. 17 (b) to the Principal Examiner of Masters and Mates, who will decide whether he has passed, or failed, or must be referred for special examination.

"If the candidate fails, the Examiner should point out to him the conditions under which he can appeal (see paragraph (e) below). Appeals are to be made through the Examiner, and forwarded to the Principal Examiner with the Examiner's remarks.

"A candidate who fails to pass the local lantern test must not be re-examined locally, unless the Principal Examiner decides that he may be re-examined after a lapse of three months.

"The certificate (Exn. 16A) which is issued to the candidate will state whether he may or may not be re-examined locally."

Paragraph (d): The words "A candidate who has been referred for special examination shall not be re-examined by the same Examiner" are to be deleted.

Paragraph (f) is to be deleted.

3. Rule 72 is hereby revoked and the following rule substituted therefor:—

"72. Oral.—The candidate will be examined in the seaman-ship syllabus laid down for a master's foreign-going certificate (see paragraph 60, sections 1 and 2), and he will be expected to reach a higher standard in his answers than a candidate for a master's certificate.

"The candidate will not be examined orally on the syllabuses for his written work."

4. Rule 99 is hereby amended by adding the following subparagraph:—

"(aa) International code of signals."

5. Rule 107 is hereby amended by adding the following words:—

"The syllabus of examination will be based on paragraph 68."

6. Rule 116, paragraph (b), is hereby revoked, and the following paragraph substituted therefor:—

"(b) For Master.—During the whole of the qualifying service between first mate's and master's certificates that is specified by the regulations, candidates for a master's certificate will be required to have served in full charge of a watch for eight hours out of every twenty-four hours' service at sea. If performed on a voyage during part of which watches have been doubled, such service will be accepted only on condition either—

"(i) That, during the period when watches were doubled the candidate served as the senior of two bridge-keeping officers; or

"(ii) If the candidate served as the junior of two bridge-keeping officers, that the Examiner is satisfied that watches have been doubled only occasionally in circumstances calling for the exercise of special care in the navigation of the vessel.

"In the latter case the time during which watches were doubled will not count as qualifying, but the remainder of the voyage may be accepted.

"The whole period of watch-keeping service claimed by a candidate must be covered by one or more certificates made out and signed as prescribed in Appendix I."

7. Rule 128 is hereby amended by deleting after the words "Royal Naval Reserve" the words "who perform sea service on board His Majesty's ships," and substituting therefor the words "who undergo training in the Royal Navy."

Delete the last subparagraph.

8. Appendix A is hereby revoked and the following substituted therefor:—

"APPENDIX A.

"EXAMINATION DAYS.

"Certificates of Competency for Foreign-going or Home-trade Ships.

"Auckland—First Monday or Tuesday in February, April, June, August, October, and December.

"Wellington—First Monday or Tuesday in each month.

"The examinations for "extra masters" certificates will be held in Auckland in June and December, and in Wellington in March, June, September, and December.

"The examination for certificates as master of a river steamer, master of a sailing-vessel plying in harbours and rivers, yacht master, and compass syllabus will be held in Auckland on the above dates provided examinations are being held for foreign-going or home-trade certificates.

"Intending candidates must make application to be examined not later than one week before the date on which examinations are to be held, and they must ascertain from the Superintendent of Mercantile Marine the day on which examinations will commence."

"Candidates for foreign-going or home-trade certificates who have failed while attending any of the examinations at Auckland may, if they so desire, provided they are eligible, and immediate application is made for that purpose to the Examiner, be allowed again to sit for examination during the week succeeding that on which the failure occurred."

9. Appendix C is hereby amended as follows:—

The two following paragraphs are to be added after "Details as to the conduct of the tests."

"The object of these tests is to ensure that the candidate's eyesight is sufficiently good to enable him to pick up and identify correctly the lights of distant ships at sea. Experience has shown that for this purpose he must be able to reach certain minimum standards both of form and colour vision."

"The tests employed are two, a letter test and a lantern test, details of which are given below. The latter test is a test of form vision only, and the lantern test is a test of form and colour vision combined."

In the paragraph "Spectacles not allowed," the words "They will, however, have the option of using either eye separately or both eyes together" are to be added at the end.

1. Letter Test.

Paragraph 1: The words "and until he has passed this test he must not be allowed to proceed further with the examination" are to be deleted.

Paragraph 3: The whole paragraph is to be deleted.

"64. (a) Employees in Division I, when absent from their headquarters on other than relief duty, shall, subject to paragraph (c) of this regulation, be paid travelling-allowance for personal expenses at the following rates in each case:—

"(i) An employee whose salary does not exceed £132 10s. 6d. per annum: Actual reasonable expenses.

"(ii) An employee whose salary exceeds £132 10s. 6d. per annum but does not exceed £307 16s. per annum, if absent for not more than six days, shall be entitled to 13s. 6d. per day. If the absence exceeds six days but the employee is not more than six days in any one locality he shall be entitled to the allowance of 13s. 6d. per day throughout the whole of the period of absence. If, however, while so absent, the employee remains in any one locality for more than six days he shall only be entitled to 12s. per day while in such locality: Provided that the total allowance payable in respect of the employee's stay in such locality shall not be less than £4 1s.

"(iii) An employee whose salary exceeds £307 16s. per annum but does not exceed £380 14s. per annum: 13s. 6d. per day.

"(iv) An employee whose salary exceeds £380 14s. per annum but does not exceed £457 13s. per annum: 16s. per day.

"(v) An employee whose salary exceeds £457 13s. per annum (other than the General Manager): 18s. per day.

"(vi) The General Manager: 22s. 6d. per day.

"Provided that in respect of time during which any employee referred to in the preceding subparagraphs of this paragraph is travelling by sea the rate shall, if such time exceeds twenty-four hours, be as follows:—

"(vii) For the first day of absence from headquarters: 9s. per day.

"(viii) For the second and each subsequent day of absence: 2s. 3d. per day.

"(b) An employee in Division I, while absent from his headquarters on relief duty, shall, subject to paragraph (c) of this regulation, be paid relieving-allowance for personal expenses at the following rates in each case:—

"(i) An employee whose salary does not exceed £132 10s. 6d. per annum: Actual reasonable expenses.

"(ii) An employee whose salary exceeds £132 10s. 6d. per annum but does not exceed £238 19s. per annum, if absent for not more than six days, shall be entitled to 11s. 3d. per day. If the absence exceeds six days but the employee is not more than six days in any one locality he shall be entitled to the allowance of 11s. 3d. throughout the whole of the period of absence. If, however, while so absent, the employee remains in any one locality for more than six days he shall only be entitled to 9s. per day while in such locality: Provided that the total allowance payable in respect of the employee's stay in such locality shall not be less than £3 7s. 6d.

"(iii) An employee whose salary exceeds £238 19s. per annum but does not exceed £380 14s. per annum shall be entitled to 11s. 3d. per day.

"(iv) Employees whose salaries exceed £380 14s. per annum: At the rate prescribed for travelling-allowance in each case.

"(c) If any employee in Division I, while travelling on relief or other duty, is provided with a berth in a sleeping-car, or sleeping-accommodation on sea journeys which do not occupy more than twenty-four hours, the claim for travelling or relieving allowance, as the case may be, shall be reduced by an amount equal to one-quarter of the prescribed daily rate for each occasion on which a berth or other sleeping-accommodation as aforesaid is provided.

"(d) 'Day', for the purposes of this regulation, means a period of twenty-four hours, and no distinction between Sunday and any other day is recognized in such period. The period for which travelling or relieving allowance shall be payable shall in each case be calculated from the time of departure of the employee concerned from his headquarters in pursuance of the duty on which he is required to travel until his return thereto. For any portion of a day the rate shall be one twenty-fourth of the prescribed daily rate for each hour's absence from headquarters. In computing the period of such absence a fraction of an hour, if less than half an hour, shall not be taken into account, but half an hour or more shall be reckoned as one hour.

"(e) No employee who is entitled to be paid lodging allowance shall be entitled to claim such allowance concurrently with travelling or relieving allowance for any continuous period exceeding one week. When any such employee becomes entitled to payment of travelling or relieving allowance for any continuous period exceeding one week, the amount paid or payable to him as lodging-allowance for such period shall be deducted from the amount payable to him by way of travelling or relieving allowance for the same period.

"(f) No employee who is entitled to be paid relieving-allowance shall also be paid travelling-allowance in respect of the same absence from headquarters: Provided, however, that when an employee performs relieving duty, and in the course thereof is absent from his headquarters for not more than three days at the same place, he may be paid travelling-allowance instead of relieving-allowance in respect of the time during which he is relieving at such place: Provided, further, that, if an employee is occupied for not less than six hours in travelling to or from his headquarters on relieving duty, he may be paid travelling-allowance instead of relieving-allowance in respect of each day on which he is so occupied."

"94. Every employee in the Lake Wakatipu steamer service shall, while actually on duty on board ship, be supplied with his meals free of charge to such employee, and every such employee shall, for every day on which he is laid off duty as compensation for overtime worked by him or for the purpose of adjusting his hours of duty so as to prevent his working overtime, and for every Sunday, be paid an allowance of 3s. 8d.: Provided, however, that such allowance shall not be paid in respect of any day on which any such employee is on leave of absence or is off duty on his own account, or on which he is supplied with meals in pursuance of this regulation."

"101. (1) Time worked by any employee in Division I between midnight on any Saturday and midnight on the first following Sunday (hereinafter called 'Sunday time') in pursuance of authority given in that behalf by the General Manager shall, subject to the provisions of the regulations, be paid for at the rate set out in paragraph (2) hereof in each case.

"(2) Payment will be made to employees in Division I for Sunday time at the following rates respectively: To employees in receipt of over £218 14s. per annum, 3s. 3d. per hour; to employees in receipt of over £171 and not more than £218 14s. per annum, 3s. 2d. per hour; to employees in receipt of over £141 1s. 6d. and not more than £171 per annum, 2s. 7d. per hour; to employees in receipt of not more than £141 1s. 6d. per annum, 1s. 11d. per hour.

"(3) If and whenever an employee in Division I is specially brought on duty on Sunday other than to commence a shift forming part of his ordinary week's work he shall be deemed to have worked not less than four hours.

"(4) In the case of any employee in Division I who is specially booked on duty on Sunday there shall not be more than one break in the continuity of such employee's time on any Sunday between the times of his being first booked on duty and his being finally booked off duty for the day: Provided, however, that when any such employee is booked off duty on any Sunday to enable him to obtain meals for a period not exceeding one hour for each meal such booking-off shall be deemed not to be a break in the continuity of such employee's time on such Sunday."

The rates of salary mentioned in Regulations 64 and 101 refer to the rates payable after the reductions prescribed by the Finance Act, 1931, and the National Expenditure Adjustment Act, 1932, have been made therein. The allowances prescribed in the said regulations, and in Regulation 94, shall be deemed to be the appropriate allowances as reduced by the said Acts, and the same shall be payable without reduction on and after 1st April, 1932.

SUMMARY FOR THE MONTH OF MAY, 1932.

General.—May was, for the Dominion as a whole, a dry and cool month. The first few days, however, were mild, and, since most districts had experienced good rains, there was fair growth of grass. Strong winds occurred on a few days only, and sunshine was plentiful. The effects of the cold spells of the middle and latter end of the month, which were severe for the time of year, were, therefore, considerably mitigated. Reports indicate that in most localities feed is relatively plentiful for the time of the year, and that stock are in good condition. From many districts the reports, indeed, are very favourable. The only parts whence adverse reports come are the central portion of the North Island and parts of Canterbury, where supplies of feed for the winter are somewhat scarce.

Rainfall.—Rainfall over much the greater part of the country was 25 per cent. or more below the average. The northern portion of the Auckland Peninsula, scattered parts of the districts between Hawke's Bay and the Bay of Plenty, an area extending from both sides of Cook Strait through eastern Nelson and Marlborough to North Canterbury, and Stewart Island, however, had more than the average.

Temperatures.—Except in the western portions of the South Island, temperatures were everywhere below normal, though the departures were not large. It is most probable that the low temperatures were due to the presence in the atmosphere of volcanic ash transported from the Chilean volcanoes which erupted on the 10th April. Brilliant sunsets are reported from all parts of the Dominion. In the South Island frosts were numerous from the 10th onward, many of them being severe. The hardest occurred on the 25th, and on this occasion practically the whole of the country suffered. At the end of the month temperatures were again low.

Sunshine was considerably above the average at most stations.

Winds.—There was a preponderance of southerly wind and, as is usual in such cases, the average velocity was light. A northerly gale blew in Taranaki and Wellington and the northern part of the South Island on the night of the 9th. On the 25th most places experienced a south-westerly gale.

Pressure Systems.—At the beginning of the month a depression had just crossed the northern portion of the North Island, and on the 1st and 2nd some heavy rains fell in eastern districts between Cook Strait and East Cape before the depression moved away. Fine weather was then the rule until the 9th. On that day a deep westerly depression was passing to the south of New Zealand, and on the next a cyclone centre developed in the northern portion of it. This centre was located to the west of the South Island, and it was not until the 14th that it passed finally away. Heavy rains fell over most of the South Island and in Taranaki on the 10th, accompanied in some cases by severe thunderstorms. In South Canterbury the total fall over two days over a considerable area exceeded 4 inches, and there were high floods, the Pareora Bridge again being threatened. A heavy snowfall occurred in the Mackenzie Country, a fall of 18 in. being recorded at Fairlie and the Hermitage. There were lighter falls also in Otago, while hailstorms occurred at coastal stations. The gale on the 10th has already been mentioned. The weather remained unsettled until the 15th, the area of heavy rains moving gradually northwards. On the 13th to 14th there were floods in Kaikoura. On the 12th the southern portion of the Auckland Province experienced thunderstorms and heavy rains.

On the 22nd another cyclone developed rapidly in the Tasman Sea. Rain was again almost general, with many heavy falls. This storm moved away fairly quickly, and was followed on the 24th by cold south-westerly winds. On the 25th the winds freshened to gale force, and a bitter day was experienced. Hailstorms were widespread, and accompanied in some places by thunderstorms. Snow fell at many places in the South Island and in the interior of the North. Tokaanu reported the heaviest snowfall seen in the district for ten years.

The rest of the month was mainly fine, but the last day or two were very cold.

Westerly depressions were very poorly developed during the month.
