REGULATIONS.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOLS, INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENTS, AND CONTRIBUTING SCHOOLS.

1. For the purpose of these regulations—

“Intermediate school” means a public school to which are admitted from one or more public or Native schools, hereinafter called “contributing schools,” pupils who belong to the senior division as defined in the regulations for the organization and management of public schools.

“Intermediate department” is a department or division attached to a secondary school, a technical school, a combined school, or a district high school to which are admitted from one or more public or Native schools, hereinafter called “contributing schools,” the pupils who belong to the senior division as defined in the regulations for the organization and management of public schools.

“Contributing school” means a public school or a Native school from which pupils of the senior division have been removed to an intermediate school or to the intermediate department of a school.

“Board” means an Education Board or the governing body of any secondary school, technical school, or combined school.

2. When an intermediate school or intermediate department has been established the Minister may direct the Education Board to limit the instruction given in any public school he may select to the work prescribed for classes not higher than Standard IV, or not higher than Form I, as he may decide, and may require the pupils of the higher class or classes in such schools to attend the intermediate school or department.

3. (1) In order to qualify for admission to an intermediate school or department a pupil must fulfil the requirements for a certificate of school attainment of Standard IV or some higher standard as prescribed in the Syllabus of Instruction for public schools :

Provided that the Director may in special cases authorize the admission of pupils over a stated age who do not possess the aforesaid qualification, and provided further that the Minister may in his discretion limit admission to pupils residing in an area which he shall define, or limit admission in any other manner.

(2) The head teacher of each contributing school shall on a form provided for the purpose supply to the principal or head teacher of the intermediate school or department a report on each pupil who is about to transfer from the contributing school to the intermediate school or department.

4. If the accommodation in an intermediate school or department permits, pupils qualified in accordance with the provisions of clause 3 (1) hereof, may, with the approval of the Director, be admitted to such school or department from any school other than those in which the instruction has been limited in accordance with clause 2 hereof.

5. The period during which a pupil may receive instruction in an intermediate school or department shall, in general, be two years, except that in special cases the Director may approve an extension of the period.

6. For the purposes of these regulations the roll number for each intermediate school or intermediate department for each year shall be taken to be the total roll of bona fide pupils as on the 1st March :

Provided that in such roll number there shall not be included any pupil who was not in attendance at the school at any time during the fortnight preceding the 1st March.

7. (1) On the 1st day of March, or as soon thereafter as possible, in each year the Director shall classify intermediate schools and intermediate departments in the grades specified in Schedule A hereunder:

Provided that unless the Director is satisfied that an increased attendance qualifying a school or department for a higher grade is likely to be permanent he may direct that the grade of the school or department shall be raised only provisionally, and subsequently if the increased attendance is not maintained he may place the school or department in the grade in which it was classified previously or in some other grade according to its roll number.

(2) Subject to the provisions hereinafter contained the number of assistant teachers in any intermediate school or department shall be the numbers shown in columns (3), (4), and (5) of Schedule A hereunder for the grade of the school or department shown in column (2) of the aforesaid schedule:
