(5) Any other mode of service recognized by the law existing at the time of service in the country from which the documents emanate.

(b) It is understood that the validity and effect of any such service will remain a matter for determination in accordance with the respective laws of the High Contracting Parties.

(c) The High Contracting Parties agree that in principle it is desirable that documents served by any of these methods should, unless the recipient is a subject of the High Contracting Party from whose territory the documents to be served emanate, either be drawn up in the language of the country in which service is to be effected or accompanied by a translation into such language. Nevertheless, in the absence of any legislation in their respective territories making translations obligatory in such cases, the High Contracting Parties do not accept any obligation in this respect.

Article 5.

(a) Except as provided in the following paragraphs of this article, no fees or charges of any description shall be payable by one High Contracting Party to the other in respect of the service of any documents.

(b) In any case where documents have been served in accordance with the provisions of Article 3, the High Contracting Party by whose Consular Officer the request for service is addressed, shall pay to the other High Contracting Party any charges and expenses which are payable under the law of the country where the service is effected to the persons employed to effect service, and any charges and expenses incurred in effecting service in a special manner. These charges and expenses shall be calculated in accordance with the scales in force for nationals in the country where service is effected.

(c) Repayment of these charges and expenses shall be claimed by the competent authority by whom the service has been effected from the Consular Officer by whom the request was addressed when sending to him the certificate provided for in Article 3 (g).

III.—TAKING OF EVIDENCE.

Article 6.

(a) When a judicial authority in the territory of one of the High Contracting Parties requires that evidence should be taken in the territory of the other High Contracting Party, such evidence may be taken in any one of the ways prescribed in Articles 7 or 8.

(b) It is understood that for the purposes of the present convention (i) the expression "taking of evidence" includes the taking of the statements of a plaintiff or defendant, on oath or otherwise, the submission to a plaintiff, defendant, expert, or any other person of any oath and the production, examination, and identification of documents, samples, and other objects with regard to any legal proceedings; (ii) the expression "witnesses" includes any person (whether plaintiff or defendant or other person) from whom any evidence as defined above is required to be taken.

Article 7.

(a) The judicial authority by whom the evidence is required may, in accordance with the provisions of its law, address itself by means of "Letters of Request" to the competent authority of the country where the evidence is to be taken, requesting such authority to take the evidence.

(b) The "Letters of Request" shall be drawn up in the language of the country where the evidence is to be taken, or be accompanied by a translation into such language. Such translation shall be certified as correct by a Diplomatic or Consular Officer of the High Contracting Party by whose judicial authority the request is issued. The "Letters of Request" shall state (i) the nature of the proceedings for which the evidence is required and the full names and descriptions of the parties thereto, and also (ii) either the full names, addresses, and descriptions of the witnesses to be called or the names and addresses of the agents of the party or parties in the country where the evidence is to be taken, who shall be responsible for informing the competent authority to whom the request is addressed of the names, addresses, and descriptions of the witnesses to be called. The "Letters of Request" shall be accompanied by a certified copy of the order or the judgment requiring the evidence to be taken, together with a translation thereof certified in the manner above mentioned. They shall also either be accompanied by the interrogatories or oaths to be put to the witnesses (or, as the case may be, a description of the documents, samples, or other objects to be produced) and a translation thereof certified as correct in the manner heretofore provided or shall request the competent authority to allow such questions to be asked viva voce as the parties or their representatives shall desire to ask.

(c) The "Letters of Request" shall be transmitted—

In England by the Consul-General of the Netherlands in London to the Senior Master of the Supreme Court of Judicature.

In the Netherlands by a British Consular Officer to the "Officier van Justitie" attached to the "Arrondissements Rechtbank" within whose jurisdiction the witnesses or the majority of the witnesses are resident, or, if the names and addresses of the witnesses are not stated, to the "Officier van Justitie" attached to the "Arrondissements Rechtbank" at The Hague.

In case the authority to whom "Letters of Request" are transmitted is not competent to execute them he shall forward the "Letters of Request" of his own motion to the competent authority of his own country.

(d) The competent authority to whom the "Letters of Request" are transmitted or forwarded shall give effect thereto and obtain the evidence required by the use of the same compulsory measures and the same procedure as are employed in the execution of a commission or order issued by the authorities of his own country, except that, if a wish that some special procedure should be followed is expressed in the "Letters of Request," such special procedure shall be followed in so far as it is not incompatible with the law of the country where the evidence is to be taken.

(e) The Consular Officer, by whom the "Letters of Request" are transmitted, shall, if he so desires, be informed of the date and place where the evidence will be taken, in order that he may inform the interested party or parties, who shall be permitted to be present in person or to be represented if they so desire by barristers or solicitors of the country where the evidence is being taken, or by any persons competent to appear before the Courts of either of the countries concerned.

(f) The execution of the "Letters of Request" can only be refused—

(1) If in the country where the evidence is to be taken the execution of the "Letters of Request" in question does not fall within the functions of the judiciary.

(2) If the High Contracting Party in whose territory the evidence is to be taken considers that his sovereignty or safety would be compromised thereby.

(g) In every instance where the "Letters of Request" are not executed by the authority to whom they are addressed, the latter will at once inform the Consular Officer by whom they were transmitted, stating the grounds on which the execution of the "Letters of Request" has been refused, or the authority to whom they have been forwarded.

Article 8.

(a) The evidence may also be taken, without any request to or the intervention of the authorities of the country in which it is to be taken, by a person in that country directly appointed for the purpose by the judicial authority by whom the evidence is required. A Consular Officer of the High Contracting Party whose judicial authority requires the evidence or any other suitable person may be so appointed.

(b) A person so appointed to take evidence may request the individuals named by the judicial authority appointing him to appear before him for the purpose of taking their evidence. He may take all kinds of evidence which are not contrary to the law of the country where the evidence is being taken and may request such persons to take an oath, but he shall have no compulsory powers.

(c) Requests to appear issued by such person shall, unless the recipient is a subject of the High Contracting Party for whose judicial authority the evidence is required, be drawn up in the language of the country where the evidence is to be taken, or be accompanied by a translation into such language.

(d) The evidence may be taken in accordance with the procedure recognized by the law of the country for whose judicial authority the evidence is required, and the parties will have the right to be present or to be represented by barristers or solicitors of that country or by any persons competent to appear before the Courts of either of the countries concerned.

Article 9.

The fact that an attempt to take evidence by the method laid down in Article 8 has failed owing to the refusal of any witness to comply with the request does not preclude "Letters of Request" being subsequently addressed in accordance with Article 7.

Article 10.

(a) Except as provided in the following paragraphs of this article, no fees or charges of any description shall be payable by one High Contracting Party to the other in respect of the taking of evidence.

(b) Where evidence is taken in the manner provided in Article 7, the High Contracting Party, by whose judicial authority the "Letters of Request" are addressed, shall repay to the other High Contracting Party any expenses incurred by the competent authority of the latter in the execution of the request in respect of any charges and expenses payable to witnesses, experts, interpreters, or translators, the costs of obtaining the attendance of witnesses who have not appeared voluntarily, and the charges and expenses payable to any person whom such authority may have deputed to act in cases where the law of his own country permits this to be done, and any charges and expenses incurred by reason of a special procedure being requested and followed. These charges and expenses shall be calculated in accordance with the scales in force for nationals in the country where the evidence is taken.

(c) The repayment of these expenses shall be claimed by the competent authority by whom the "Letters of Request" have been executed from the Consular Officer by whom they were transmitted when sending to him the documents establishing their execution.

IV.—GENERAL PROVISIONS.

Article 11.

Any difficulties which may arise in connection with the operation of this Convention shall be settled through the diplomatic channel.

Article 12.

The present Convention, of which the English and Dutch texts are equally authentic, shall be subject to ratification. Ratifications shall be exchanged in London. The Convention shall come into force one month after the date on which ratifications are exchanged and shall remain in force for three years after the date of its coming into force. If neither of the High Contracting Parties shall have given notice through the diplomatic channel to the other, not less than six months before the expiration of the said period of three years, of his intention to terminate the Convention, it shall remain in force until the expiration of six months from the day on which either of the High Contracting Parties shall have given notice to terminate it.

Article 13.

(a) The present Convention shall not apply ipso facto to Scotland or Northern Ireland, nor to any of His Majesty's Colonies or Protectorates, nor to any territories under His suzerainty, nor to any mandated territories administered by His Government in Great Britain, but His Majesty may at any time, while the Convention is in force under Article 12, by a notification given through His Minister at The Hague, extend the operation of the present Convention to any of the above-mentioned territories.

(b) Such notification shall state the authorities in the territory concerned to whom requests for service or for the taking of evidence are to be transmitted, and the language in which communications and translations are to be made. The date of the coming into force of any such extension shall be three months from the date of such notification.

(c) Either of the High Contracting Parties may, at any time after the expiry of three years from the coming into force of an extension of this Convention to any of the territories referred to in paragraph (a) of this Article, terminate such extension on giving six months' notice of termination through the diplomatic channel.

(d) The termination of the Convention under Article 12 shall, unless otherwise expressly agreed to by both High Contracting Parties, ipso facto terminate it in respect of any territories to which it has been extended under paragraph (a) of this Article.

Article 14.

(a) This Convention shall not apply ipso facto to any of the overseas territories of the Kingdom of the Netherlands, but Her Majesty the Queen of the Netherlands may at any time, while the Convention is in force under Article 12, or by virtue of any accession under Article 15, extend this Convention to any of such overseas territories by a notification given through Her Minister in London.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (b) of Article 13 shall apply to any such notifications.

(c) The provisions of paragraphs (c) and (d) of Article 13 shall apply to any overseas territories of the Kingdom of the Netherlands to which this Convention has been extended.

Article 15.

(a) His Majesty may at any time, while the present Convention is in force, either under Article 12, or by virtue of any accession under this Article, by a notification given through the diplomatic channel, accede to the present Convention in respect of any of His self-governing Dominions or India, provided that no notification of accession may be given at any time when Her Majesty the Queen of the Netherlands has given notice of termination in respect of all the territories of His Majesty to which the Convention applies. The provisions of Article 13 (b) shall be applicable to any such notification. Any such accession shall take effect three months after the date of its notification.

(b) After the expiry of three years from the date of the coming into force of any accession under paragraph (a) of this Article, either of the High Contracting Parties may, by giving six months' notice of termination through the diplomatic channel, terminate the application of the Convention to any country in respect of which a notification of accession has been given. The termination of the Convention under Article 12 shall not affect its application to any such country.

(c) Any notification of accession under paragraph (a) of this Article may include any dependency or mandated territory administered by the Government of the country in respect of which such notification of accession is given; and any notice of termination in respect of any such country under paragraph (b) shall apply to any dependency or mandated territory which was included in the notification of accession in respect of that country.

In witness whereof the undersigned have signed the present Convention, in English and Dutch texts, and have affixed thereto their seals.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR JANUARY, 1934.

General.—People generally regarded January as a changeable and unpleasant month. It was cold and windy for midsummer. To the meteorologist, also, the weather was rather abnormal. This was due principally to the unusually pronounced development of the summer monsoon in Australia. In the middle of the month a severe heat spell was experienced there. Air was being poured out from the Continent in a westerly direction and had a pronounced influence on conditions in New Zealand. At one stage, also, from the 18th to the 20th, a good deal of bush-fire smoke was being brought over. Heavy rains in the eastern parts of the South Island caused a great improvement in the condition of crops and pastures. Unfortunately, considerable local damage was done to wheat crops by hailstorms, and in some cases the plants were borne down by the rain. Around Nelson and in the interior of Marlborough rain is still very badly needed, a shortage of winter feed being threatened. The precipitation at the latter end of the month improved prospects in Taranaki and the Waikato, where feed is generally abundant. Elsewhere conditions are not quite so good. On the whole, however, stock are in very good condition, there is a prospect of good crops, and the milk-yield has been fairly well maintained.

Rainfall.—In the North Island the heavy rains of the 28th and 29th brought the total month's fall above the average in coastal areas from Kawhia to the South Taranaki Bight, and in parts of the Hawke's Bay and Wairarapa districts. In the west some of the excesses were large. The remainder of the North Island had less rain than average, very dry conditions being experienced in most of the Auckland Province. In the South Island there were very heavy rains along the east coast and extending over most of the interior of Canterbury and southern Nelson and Marlborough. Double the average fall was recorded in places. In northern Nelson and the interior of Marlborough, South Canterbury, Otago, and Southland the situation was reversed, the totals being much below normal.

Temperatures.—The month was abnormally cool. In practically all parts the mean temperature was much below the January average. Particularly was this the case in the Waikato, Taranaki, and Manawatu districts. On the morning of the 23rd there was a rather widespread frost which, though only light, was sufficient at this time of year to do considerable damage to tender crops such as tomatoes, potatoes, beans, &c. In the Nelson district the tobacco crop suffered severely in some localities.

Sunshine was much below normal in the eastern portions of South Canterbury and Otago. Elsewhere there was little departure from the average, but generally it was slightly below. Taupo reports 285.7 hours, Tauranga 269.0 hours, and Lake Tekapo 265.2 hours.

Pressure Systems.—The first stormy period began on the 2nd, and conditions remained unsettled in the South Island until the 7th. Rain was fairly general in the latter area and there were some very heavy falls in Canterbury. On the 5th they were accompanied by thunderstorms and heavy hail, which did much damage to wheat crops.

The next disturbed period was from the 11th to the 14th, and was caused by a somewhat similar depression to that responsible for the first. Again there were heavy rains with some hail and thunder in parts of Canterbury.

A series of westerly depressions between the 18th and 22nd, though at most places they did not produce much rain, were responsible for some rather unusual and unpleasant phenomena. On the 22nd a number of waterspouts moved in from the sea at Turakina, in the Rangitikei district. One of them was accompanied by very heavy hail. Other places also reported hail on that day. The depressions were followed by a sharp fall of temperature, and on the 23rd, as has already been mentioned, a frost occurred.

The weather again became unsettled after the 23rd. At first westerly depressions crossing the South Island caused heavy rain in the high levels, especially on the 25th, when there were thunderstorms on the west coast. Elsewhere there was comparatively little rain. At this stage a zone of low pressure lay across the central part of the Dominion, and in the following days it moved very slowly northwards. Though it was not very marked, it was responsible for widespread rains on the 28th and 29th. In the southern half of the North Island and also on the southern side of Cook Strait there were some very heavy falls, the greatest being in Taranaki. The disturbance was of a very unusual kind and due to the already mentioned outpouring in the upper levels of warm air from Australia. It was not till after the end of the month that the rain area finally passed off the northern extremity of the Dominion.

Snow fell on the ranges on several occasions during the month.
