NOTE.—A normal month, with temperature, rainfall, wind, and sunshine very close to the average. Total bright sunshine 46 per cent. of the possible; two sunless days. Precipitation was 1 per cent. below normal. Gales occurred on the 17th and 22nd; hail fell on the 24th and 25th; there was a thunderstorm on the night of the 24th; and a slight fog on the morning of the 27th. Mean dew-point at 9 a.m., 51.1°; mean vapour pressure, 0.374 in.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR APRIL, 1934.

General.—April was a mild month with comparatively little stormy weather. Precipitation was again considerably below normal over the greater part of the Dominion, but after the first nine days rather humid and cloudy conditions prevailed and some good general rains were recorded. Towards the end of the month the ground was gradually becoming saturated and the effects of the long period of dry weather seemed to be disappearing. Though the weather was not warm or sunny enough to cause vigorous growth of vegetation, a certain amount took place in all districts and the situation as regards feed for stock is generally quite good. Sheep and cattle are reported to be in good condition.

Rainfall.—Heavy rains occurred in the high parts of Taranaki and the western and central portions of the South Island. Elsewhere totals were once more considerably below normal. The east coast of the North Island had a particularly dry month.

Temperature.—As already indicated, for most of the country the month was a mild one, with temperatures above normal. In parts of the eastern districts of the South Island the excess amounted to over two degrees. In Hawke's Bay, however, where there was a prevalence of southerly winds, the position was exactly reversed. The Wellington Province, also, recorded mean temperatures which were on the cold side. The absence of very strong cold winds prevented serious ill effects from such low temperatures as were experienced. There were some cold nights just before the middle of the month, and on the 13th widespread frosts occurred. On the 27th there was a sharp fall of temperature, marking the first touch of winter. So far, there has been little snowfall, but from the 25th the ranges had a fair coating.

Sunshine.—Less than the average amount of bright sunshine was recorded in most districts, but Nelson 197.3 hours, New Plymouth 191.0 hours, and Blenheim 187.6 hours, fared well, and the southern part of the South Island had slightly more than the average.

Pressure Systems.—At the beginning of the month pressure was above normal over a very large area extending from South Australia to beyond the Chatham Islands and from 25° to 55° south latitude. On the 1st the highest pressure was over Foveaux Strait and reached about 30.6 in. The centre of the anticyclone moved very slowly northwards and eastwards without reduction of pressure. Though barometers fell considerably on the 9th there was a tendency for high pressure throughout the month.

Between the 8th and the 11th widespread rains occurred during the passage of a rather vigorous westerly depression. Some very heavy falls were recorded on the west coast and the main ranges in the South Island.

The next storm was a rather complex one and affected some part of the country on each day from the 14th to the 18th. On the 16th and 17th rain was almost general, the west coast again recording heavy falls. Northerly gales blew in many places on the 17th.

The most general rains were associated with a third storm system which slowly crossed the Dominion between the 21st and 25th. This also was responsible for very heavy falls in western districts and the ranges of the South Island. There were northerly gales on the 23rd. Snow fell on the ranges on the 24th and 25th, and many hailstorms were reported. The depression was followed by a decided fall of temperature.

Marine Department,
Wellington, N.Z., 12th June, 1934.

NEW ZEALAND.—NORTH ISLAND.—NAPIER.

1. Amended Sailing Directions: 2. Buoys: 3. Dredging.

Previous Notices: No. 37 of 1932 and No. 12 of 1933 (Sailing Directions), hereby cancelled.

Position: Lat. 39° 29' S., long. 176° 55' E. (approx.).

1. (a) Vessels making for the roadstead should bring the lighted leading-beacons into line bearing 282° when at a distance of 4½ miles from the front one, and steer for them on this bearing until Ahuriri Lighthouse bears 218° (or Inner Harbour eastern pier light turns white), then alter course to about 263° and pass 100 ft. south of the flashing buoy (008° 13.5 cables from Ahuriri Lighthouse), then return on a 307° course to the line of beacons which should be followed until near the anchorage.

Vessels of lesser draught than 22 ft. may, instead of passing southward of the buoy, continue on the line of beacons until near the anchorage.

(Caution.—Any deviation from the above tracks rendered necessary by the exigencies of navigation, should, if possible, be made to the southward.)

(b) Vessels bound for the Breakwater Harbour should follow the foregoing directions for vessels of 22 ft. draught and over until near the flashing buoy, when they should steer as necessary to bring the wharf leading-lights in line. The latter should then be kept in line until abreast of the inner red buoy before manoeuvring to a berth.

(c) Vessels taking a pilot should not proceed inward beyond Ahuriri Lighthouse bearing 224°.

2. Buoys.—(a) The red conical buoy northward of Auckland Rock is moored 083° 197 yards from its position on chart 2513.

(b) A black cask-buoy is moored in a position 326° 400 yards from light at end of Glasgow Wharf.

(c) A temporary white buoy for the dredger's moorings is moored westward of the Glasgow Wharf and shifted as required.

3. Dredging.—The dredger "Whakariri" is working in the Breakwater Harbour and exhibits two black balls by day, and two red lights at night, vertically disposed, on the side on which vessels should pass. Vessels should keep clear of the moorings which are laid and altered as required.

The New Zealand Nautical Almanac and Tide-tables should be amended for the foregoing information, as follows:—

Page 225.—Buoys: Add Section 2 (b). Delete "White mooring buoy" to "wharf" and substitute section 2 (c).
