Warrant for Convening General Courts-martial

C. L. N. NEWALL, Governor-General

To the AIR OFFICER COMMANDING-IN-CHIEF for the time being of the Royal Air Force, South-east Asia Command.

WHEREAS by the Visiting Forces Act, 1939, it is provided when a home force and another force are acting in combination any officer of the other force duly appointed to command the combined force, or any part thereof, shall be treated and shall have over members of the home force the like powers of command and punishment, and may be invested with the like authority to convene and confirm the findings and sentences of courts-martial as if he were an officer of the home force of relative rank and holding the same command:

And whereas by an order made on the tenth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, under the authority of the aforesaid Act, it was declared that the air forces of His Majesty raised in New Zealand which are serving outside New Zealand during or in respect of the present war shall be deemed to be serving together and acting in combination with the air forces of His Majesty raised in the United Kingdom:

Now, therefore, in pursuance and exercise of the powers conferred by the aforesaid Act and by the Air Force Act, 1937, and the regulations made thereunder (hereinafter referred to as “the said Act and regulations”), I, Cyril Louis Norton Newall, the Governor-General of the Dominion of New Zealand, do hereby authorize you from time to time as occasion may require to convene general courts-martial for the trial of every person subject to the said Act and regulations who shall be charged with any offence for which such person may be tried by court-martial, whether such offence shall have been committed before or after the date of this Warrant; and I hereby further authorize you to confirm the proceedings of any such courts-martial and to cause any sentence thereof to be put into execution according to law:

Provided, however, that no sentence of death shall be carried into effect unless the execution thereof be approved by myself as Governor-General of the Dominion of New Zealand in Council:

And I do further authorize you to direct your warrant to any officer of the Royal Air Force or of the Royal New Zealand Air Force not below the rank of Squadron Leader giving him a general authority to convene general courts-martial for the trial of any persons subject to the said Act and regulations who shall be charged with any offence for which such person may be tried by court-martial, whether such offence shall have been committed before or after the date of the warrant directed by you to such officer, and also to exercise in respect of the proceedings of such courts-martial the power of confirming the findings or sentences thereof according to law, or, if you should so think fit, of directing him to reserve for your confirmation the proceedings of all or any such courts-martial, in which case you are hereby authorized to exercise in respect of the proceedings so reserved all the powers of a confirming officer in accordance with the said Act and regulations:

And that there may not in any case be a failure of justice from the want of a proper person authorized to act as judge-advocate, I do hereby further empower you, in default of a person appointed by me or deputed by the Solicitor-General, or during the illness or occasional absence of the person so appointed or deputed, to nominate and appoint, and to delegate to any officer duly authorized to convene a general court-martial the power of appointing, a fit person from time to time for executing the office of judge-advocate at any court-martial for the more orderly proceedings of the same:

And for executing the several powers, matters, and things herein expressed this shall be to you and all others whom it may concern a sufficient Warrant and authority.

As witness the hand of His Excellency the Governor-General, this 13th day of December, 1943.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR NOVEMBER, 1943

General.—November, which was a dry month with several fairly settled spells, completed a season notable for the absence of any series of well-developed westerly depressions. During the month there was a considerable decrease in the activity of other types of disturbance in the New Zealand region. Favourable farming conditions were experienced in most districts; rapid pasture and garden growth has compensated for the lateness of the spring, and good headway has been made in seasonal activities.

Rainfall.—With a few restricted exceptions rainfall totals were below average. In parts of the centre of the North Island totals were down to about half the normal, while in many places from Marlborough to Mid-Canterbury, and also in Westland, the rainfall failed to reach half the normal. Surplus rain fell near Lake Waikaremoana, and other slight excesses occurred in parts of the Auckland and Coromandel Peninsulas, in the high country of eastern Nelson, and in north-eastern Otago.

Temperatures.—At most places mean temperatures were within 1° F. of normal, generally above. Positive departures were more marked in the Rotorua district and in Westland.

Sunshine.—Auckland and Christchurch had slightly more, and Napier, Hanmer, and Gore appreciable less bright sunshine than usually. Elsewhere variations from normal were not significant.

Weather Sequence.—During the first week an anticyclone was located to the north. One from the south merged with it on the 2nd and the weather was mostly fine. On the 3rd and 4th a trough gave fresh westerlies in the far south and some scattered rain, but it lost significance after passing the Wellington Province. A depression passed over Southland on the 5th and a sharp pressure trough crossed the South Island. Skies were mainly overcast, and scattered rain fell in the west and later in the east as a south-westerly change extended up to the Wairarapa, but there was a general improvement on the 6th.

On the 7th showers developed in the far south-west with the approach of a cold front, which brought a southerly change to the South Island the following day. A depression developed in that region and caused considerable rain, and some snow fell in Southland. Meanwhile, central districts experienced strong north-westerlies with scattered rain in the west. The depression moved east of Canterbury on the 9th, and on the 10th another moved south-eastward over the North Island, giving extensive rain, which was heaviest in Taranaki.

Slight disturbances passing northward between the 10th and 12th gave fresh south-westerlies, at times with scattered showers. On the 13th an anticyclone over Tasmania was extending across the South Island, and under the influence of a depression deepening off East Cape south-easterlies increased in central districts and rain developed between Cook Strait and East Cape and spread at times to west of the ranges on the 14th, but in the south the weather was mainly fine. Winds moderated on the 16th. Eastern districts experienced some drizzle, but an anticyclone from the south, which intensified on the 17th, gave a general improvement, so that fair weather with rising temperatures prevailed from the 18th to 21st. North-westerlies then freshened in the central provinces, and on the 22nd and 23rd cloud increased and scattered rain fell chiefly in the west as a disturbance advanced over New Zealand. Another from the south gave further scattered falls, including some in Canterbury brought by southerly winds. A low-pressure area was located to the north, and after a trough advanced from the south on the 26th and 27th south-easterly winds became strong in the southern parts of the North Island. It became cooler in eastern districts with occasional drizzle there and in the north, but elsewhere the weather was fair.

An anticyclone from the south spread over New Zealand on the 28th and fine warm weather prevailed. As this anticyclone moved away, winds tended north-easterly, and some local heavy rain occurred about the Auckland Peninsula and Bay of Plenty, and on the morning of the 30th Nelson and Westland had a temporary period of rain.
