NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR JULY, 1948

General.—July was a remarkably mild month. For the most part it was also dull and wet, especially in the latter half. The ground became water-logged in some districts due to excessive rain combined with lack of sunshine and drying winds, but otherwise conditions in general have favoured the farmer. The shortage of cattle feed in the Rangitikei and Waipawa districts was only partly relieved by the slight winter growth which was maintained.

Rainfall.—Most of the country had an excess of rain. In Marlborough, parts of North Canterbury, and near Motueka over double the average rainfall was recorded. Near Kaikoura it was the wettest month for over thirty years, and probably the wettest July for over sixty years. The heavy rains of the 24th to 26th caused some flooding in Marlborough, the total for the three days amounting to 16.82 in. at Hapuku (near Kaikoura).

Hawke's Bay and Gisborne had only about half the average rainfall and there were smaller deficiencies in Coromandel, Hauraki, Manawatu, Westland, and Banks Peninsula.

Temperatures.—For the country as a whole it was the mildest July since 1917. All stations recorded mean temperatures above normal, the departures exceeding three degrees at inland stations in the South Island and in the Manawatu District. Most other districts were at least two degrees above the normal.

Sunshine.—Few places received their usual quota of sunshine. The deficiency was greatest at Nelson, amounting to the equivalent of an hour a day, while many other places lacked twenty hours or more. Slight positive departures were recorded in the eastern part of the Auckland Province and in Invercargill.

Weather Sequence.—Westerly conditions prevailed at first, an anticyclone being located to the north and a deep depression to the south. Showers were frequent in the west and south, but the weather was fair east of the ranges.

During the north-eastward passage of a cold front across the South Island on the 2nd a depression formed near the Buller District. It deepened considerably as the centre moved rapidly eastwards across the Marlborough Sounds and Wellington. Heavy squalls occurred as the cold front travelled over the North Island, while a small tornado was reported near Matamata. The strong south-westerlies which then prevailed had already moderated when the storm centre crossed the Chatham Islands at 6 a.m. on the 4th. The central pressure had then dropped to 967 millibars (28.56 in.).

Except for scattered showers in the west, it was fine on the 5th and 6th as an anticyclone moved across to the east of the North Island. A southward-moving depression crossed Southland on the morning of the 8th, while the associated occlusion, with its belt of heavy rain, moved eastwards across the North Island. Except in districts east of the Southern Alps, this system produced general rain, with heaviest falls about the Bay of Plenty.

Barometers remained high to the north of New Zealand, and a ridge of high pressure produced a brief improvement on the 9th. Moderate westerly rains again occurred on the 10th and 11th, when a low-pressure centre passed close to Southland.

After giving a brilliantly fine day on the 12th an anticyclone moved off to the east and northerlies prevailed. Barometers were falling rapidly on the 13th and rain developed on the West Coast ahead of a deep cyclonic depression, which travelled rapidly south-eastwards across the middle of the South Island on the following afternoon. Winds reached gale force near the centre, and then turned south-westerly. Only negligible rain reached the Hawke's Bay and Canterbury Plains, elsewhere falls were mostly moderate. A secondary cold front crossed the Auckland Province on the 15th.

With an intense anticyclone advancing across the South Tasman Sea a cold air mass invaded Southland late on the 16th. Southerlies then extended over the Dominion, bringing clear frosty weather to the greater part, but persistent cloud and showers to eastern districts between Banks Peninsula and East Cape.

When the anticyclone was centred east of Canterbury on the 19th an extensive and complex disturbance which had developed over the North Tasman Sea began to move south-eastwards. North-easterly gales and heavy rain preceded the associated occlusion in its passage over North Auckland and the Bay of Plenty. Rain became general as the disturbance moved slowly across the country, and some snow fell in inland Otago and on the South Island ranges. The weather cleared in Southland and Fjordland on the 24th, Hawke's Bay having had a temporary improvement on the previous day, but elsewhere it remained very unsettled. One low-pressure centre was east of the North Island on the 24th and another over the Buller District.

Pressures had remained very high to the south, and when a new depression from the north-west crossed South Auckland and Hawke's Bay on the 26th strong onshore winds brought very heavy rains to the east coast of the Marlborough and Wellington Provinces, with flooding in the Kaikoura District.

On the 27th a passing ridge of high pressure gave a temporary clearance.

A shallow depression became stationary west of Southland on the 28th, while the accompanying trough travelled slowly eastwards across the Dominion. A new centre which developed near Cook Strait passed eastwards beyond the Chatham Islands on the 30th. The original centre again became active and, moving slowly north-eastwards, produced widespread rain over Nelson, Marlborough, and the North Island. It was approaching Auckland at the end of the month. In the South Island, the weather was then clearing with the approach of the next anticyclone from the west.

PURSUANT to powers conferred by section 6 of the Marketing Amendment Act, 1937, the Minister of Marketing hereby fixes prices and general conditions relating to the sale of milk and margins for various services rendered in the collection, treatment, and distribution of milk:—

1. This scheme may be cited as the Supply Association and Producer Organization Scheme, 1948-49.

2. (1) In this scheme—

“Treating house” means a milk-treating house named in the Second Schedule hereto.

(2) References in this scheme to milk districts shall be deemed to be references to the appropriate milk districts described in Price Orders No. 552, published in the Gazette of the 30th May, 1946, Nos. 690 and 691, both published in the Gazette of the 8th May, 1947, Nos. 761 and 762, both published in the Gazette of the 18th September, 1947, Nos. 765 and 766, both published in the Gazette of the 25th September, 1947, No. 779, published in the Gazette of the 30th October, 1947, No. 811, published in the Gazette of the 18th December, 1947, and in any other Price Orders fixing the price of milk.

“Milk” has the same meaning as in regulations made or subsisting under the Food and Drugs Act, 1947, but does not include cream:

“Pasteurized milk” has the same meaning as in regulations made or subsisting under the Food and Drugs Act, 1947, and “pasteurization” has a corresponding meaning:

“Shop-dairy” means a shop where milk is sold over the counter for consumption or use off the premises and not otherwise, and where the milk so sold is sold in the form in which it was received into the shop-dairy:

“Vendor” means a person who sells milk by way of retail sale, and includes one who sells milk to the occupier of a shop-dairy, but does not include—

(a) A treating house;

(b) The occupier of a shop-dairy; or

(c) A person who sells milk for consumption on his premises (whether in the form in which it is received by him or otherwise and whether separately or in combination with any other substance or substances).

3. (1) This scheme applies with respect to all milk sold by an approved association or organization during the period 1st September, 1948, to 31st August, 1949 (both days inclusive), to all vendors and treating houses for sale by those vendors and treating houses for use for human consumption in milk districts.

(2) For the purposes of this scheme, milk shall be deemed to be sold for human consumption if it is sold for use as milk or as milk in combination with any other substance or substances or as an ingredient in any beverage.

(3) Subject to the provisions of the last preceding subclause, nothing in this scheme shall apply with respect to milk sold for use in the manufacture of any goods.

4. The prices to be charged by every approved association or organization for milk to which this scheme applies shall be as follows:—

(b) Subject to the provisions of this subclause, when the milk is sold to a vendor the price per gallon shall be 3d. per gallon less than the price fixed by the Price Order for the milk district for milk sold to consumers in quantities of one gallon:

Provided that if within ten days from the end of each month a vendor, other than a vendor of accommodation milk, renders to the approved association or organization in a form approved by the Director a statement of the services performed by such vendor in respect of the resale of the milk, the prices shall be the appropriate prices fixed by the Price Order for the milk district for the respective quantities of milk so stated to be resold less the deductions of the appropriate service margins set out in the First Schedule hereto according to the services performed by the vendor in respect of the milk.

5. (1) For each calendar month during the period referred to in clause 3 hereof, every approved association or organization shall keep records in such a form as the Director may require or approve showing in respect of milk to which this scheme applies—

(3) The Director may require any such copy, extract, or statement or particulars to be certified as correct by the Secretary or other responsible officer of the association or organization.

6. (1) If in any month the total amount payable by vendors to the approved association or organization in respect of milk to which this scheme applies is not equal to the appropriate town milk price computed in accordance with clause 7 hereof, increased by the appropriate service margins specified in the First Schedule hereto in respect of the services performed by the association or organization and by an amount equal to ¾d. per gallon, the amount of the deficiency shall be paid to the association or organization through the Director.

(2) If in any month the total amount paid or payable by vendors to the approved association or organization in respect of milk to which this scheme applies exceeds the appropriate national town milk price increased as provided in the last preceding subclause, the amount of the excess shall be paid by the association or organization to or in accordance with the instructions of the Director for payment into the appropriate account.

(3) An amount equal to one-sixteenth of a penny per gallon for each gallon of milk to which this scheme applies sold by an approved association or organization to a treating house shall be paid to the association or organization through the Director.
