(b) The amount of any sales tax payable by the retailer in respect of the beer and not included in the price paid to the wholesaler;

(c) The amount of freight-charges incurred by the retailer in obtaining delivery of the beer into his premises, being not more in any case than the amount of freight charges that would have been incurred if the beer had been transported by land or sea by the shortest or most convenient route by a common carrier at current freight rates,

APPLICATION OF THIS ORDER

(2) Nothing in this Order shall apply to the sale of beer by a wholesaler to any person other than a retailer.

FIXING MAXIMUM RETAIL PRICE OF BOTTLED BEER TO WHICH THIS ORDER APPLIES

4. (1) Subject to the following provisions of this clause, the maximum price that may be charged or received by any retailer for any bottled beer to which this Order applies shall be the amount of the wholesale cost incurred by the retailer in respect of the lot sold, increased at the rate of 7s. 6d. per dozen for quart bottles or 4s. per dozen for pint bottles, as the case may be.

(2) If the retail price per bottle calculated in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this clause is not an exact number of pence or half-pence the price may be calculated to the next upward half-penny.

(3) No additional charge shall be made for wrapping any bottled beer to which this Order applies, provided that when any beer is sold in a case, crate, or carton in which beer was delivered to the retailer by a wholesaler, the amount charged by the wholesaler for such case, crate, or carton may be added to the retail price of the beer.

(4) Where bottled beer is purchased by a retailer from another retailer the maximum price that may be charged by the purchasing retailer for the beer shall not exceed the amount that would have been charged if the beer had been purchased from a wholesaler.

(5) No charge made by a wholesaler to a retailer in respect of any bottled beer other than the charges specifically authorized by this Order to be included in the price charged by a retailer shall be included by the retailer in the price charged by him to the purchaser of the beer.

(6) Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing provisions of this clause, and subject to such conditions, if any, as it thinks fit, the Tribunal, on application by any retailer may authorize special maximum prices in respect of any bottled beer to which this Order applies where special circumstances exist or for any reason extraordinary charges (freight or otherwise) are incurred by the retailer. Any authority given by the Tribunal under this subclause may apply with respect to a specified lot or consignment of bottled beer or may relate generally to all bottled beer to which this Order applies sold by the retailer while the approval remains in force.

5. Every approval given under section 16 of the Control of Prices Act, 1947, relating to the price of bottled beer sold by a retailer for consumption off the premises in respect of which his licence was granted is hereby revoked.

Annual List of Registered Engineers

Office of the Minister of Works, Wellington, 16th April, 1951.

IN pursuance of section 4 of the Engineers Registration Amendment Act, 1944, publication is given to this list of Registered Engineers whose Annual Practising Certificates are current until 31st March, 1952.

W. S. GOOSMAN, Minister of Works.

ENGINEERS REGISTRATION BOARD OF NEW ZEALAND

LIST OF REGISTERED ENGINEERS AS AT 16TH APRIL, 1951, AND EXPIRING 31ST MARCH, 1952

Explanation

The list is in two parts as follows:—

Part A.—Giving those registered by examination or by “recognized certificate” under one of the following subsections of the 1924 Act:—

- 6 (i) a.—Registration by virtue of holding a “recognized certificate” in the form of a Diploma of Corporate Membership of one of the British Institutions of Civil, Electrical, or Mechanical Engineers, and of having had not less than three years' experience in the practice of engineering.
- 6 (i) c.—Registration by virtue of a pass in examinations approved by the Board (being the full associated membership examinations of one of the British Institutions of Civil, Electrical, or Mechanical Engineers, or equivalent exempting examinations), and also of having had not less than three years' experience in the practice of engineering.

Part B.—Giving those registered under one of the following subsections, now expired, of the 1924 Act or amendments:—

- 6 (i) b of the 1924 Act, which provided for registration during the first period of operation of the 1924 Act of a person who had then attained the age of twenty-five years and had been engaged during a period of not less than six years before the commencement of the Act in the acquisition of professional knowledge, or in the practice of engineering in a manner satisfactory to the Board, and who made application for registration within twelve months after the commencement of the Act.
- 2 (i) of the 1928 amendment, which in effect re-enacted clause 6 (i) b of the 1924 Act with respect to any licensed surveyor in New Zealand who satisfied the Board that he had prior to the coming into operation of the 1924 Act substantial practical experience in engineering as part of his practice or employment whether on his own account or otherwise, and who made application for registration within six months of the passing of the amendment: Indicated by † in Column 3.
- Section 7 of the 1944 amendment, which provided for the registration of engineers who, within the twelve years prior to the passing of the amendment, had had six years responsible engineering practice, or substantially equivalent experience, in local authority work, and who applied within six months of the passing of the amendment. Provision is made for special consideration to discharged servicemen who apply within six months of their discharge: *Indicated by * in Column 3.*

Particulars in the lists as entered under each column are as follows:—

Column 1.—This contains the name of each engineer who at the date of the list is the holder of an Annual Practising Certificate issued under section 3 of the 1944 Amendment Act. An engineer who has been registered is required to hold a current Annual Practising Certificate in order to retain the full rights of registration. The qualifications, involving University degrees and recognized certificates or approved examinations, are taken from the person's application for Practising Certificate and have not been verified or checked against the person's registered particulars.

Column 2.—This gives the postal address, either business or residential, as on the application for Annual Practising Certificate.

Column 3.—This shows the date of original registration.

Column 4.—This shows the class of engineering in which the Board has accepted the engineer's training and experience as a qualification for registration. Engineering is classified only in the three main branches of Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical. Where an engineer has not satisfied the Board's requirements for qualification in one of these main branches, the restrictive or specialist class in which he is accepted is shown.

It is also to be noted that corporate membership of one of the recognized British Engineering Institutions entitles the holder to be styled as a “Chartered Engineer,” but this information is omitted from the list.

E. E. HENDRIKSEN, Registrar.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR APRIL, 1951

General.—April's weather was persistently unsettled with frequent rain. Cyclonic disturbances were very active in the New Zealand region, and the average barometric pressure reached a record low value for April.

Growth was well maintained under very mild conditions until a cold change occurred towards the end of the month. North Island dairy production continued at a high level, but conditions were not available for sheep farmers. Persistently damp conditions over the past few months have had an adverse effect on the health of sheep, and lambs have not fattened well. Reports of such ailments as foot-rot, facial eczema, blow-fly strike, &c., have been much more frequent than in recent years.

In Canterbury agricultural work has been seriously hampered, and little wheat is likely to be sown this autumn. Much damage remains to be repaired after the widespread flooding on the 17th and 18th.

Rainfall.—April was a wet month for the whole Dominion, with the exception of Southland and an area from the Bay of Plenty through to Hawke Bay where the rainfall was not quite up to normal.

In Canterbury the wettest April on record followed four successive wet months. The rainfall over most of the province was treble, and in some northern districts, five times the average amount. Continuous heavy rain during the 17th and 18th reached a maximum in the foothills and resulted in widespread flooding throughout the province. The longer rivers with sources in the Southern Alps were not seriously affected.

The surplus rainfall along the coast between Cape Palliser and Cape Kidnappers was also substantial.

Temperatures.—Mean temperatures were generally about a degree above normal, except in the interior of Otago and Canterbury and in the far north where there was a slight negative anomaly.

Sunshine.—In eastern districts from Hawke's Bay to Otago, and about Nelson, the duration of sunshine was 20 to 30 hours or more below normal. At Waimate and Hanmer the deficiency was equivalent to two hours a day.

Over the remainder of the country totals were slightly above normal.

Weather Sequence.—At the beginning of the month an anticyclone lay to the south-east of the South Island and conditions were improving in South Canterbury after widespread heavy rains. With the approach of a tropical cyclone from the north-west, rain developed in Northland and gradually spread over the whole of the North Island. The cyclone moved slowly south-eastwards past North Cape, but when it was east of Gisborne on the 5th, another low-pressure centre moved south-eastwards across Southland. The trough associated with the latter crossed the Dominion from the west accompanied by heavy showers and some thunderstorms.

A passing ridge brought a brief clearance on the 6th, but conditions became generally unsettled again with the arrival of a large and complex disturbance late on the 7th. One low-pressure centre crossed the South Island on the 8th and southerlies advanced to Cook Strait soon afterwards. They became general when a second centre crossed Auckland early on the 10th. As the disturbance moved off to the east, a ridge brought a general clearance from the south and west. Cool, showery weather persisted, however, between Cook Strait and East Cape until the 12th.

The approach of a deep and extensive depression from the Tasman Sea on the 14th marked the beginning of a further period of very unsettled weather. One depression passed south of New Zealand on the 15th. A second, after remaining off Westland for several days during which easterly rains caused extensive flooding in Canterbury, finally moved across the middle of the North Island on the 19th. Heavy rainfalls were also recorded in Marlborough and Nelson.

On the 20th there was a temporary improvement over the central provinces, but an extensive depression covering the South Tasman was moving onto the South Island while another depression was forming near North Cape. The latter deepened rapidly and travelled south-eastwards to pass East Cape on the afternoon of the 21st. The main centre of the southern depression continued on an easterly course and passed south of Stewart Island on the 22nd. Strong westerly winds prevailed generally and gradually backed south-westerly in the South Island. Showers were frequent and heavy, except in a few sheltered east coast districts, and thunderstorms were reported over a wide area for several days.

Barometers began to rise slowly in the south on the 26th under the influence of a weak wedge which had extended across the South Tasman Sea. Winds turned more southerly and temperatures became colder. Fine weather prevailed in South Westland and later extended northwards to Nelson and Taranaki. Elsewhere the clearance was delayed by the arrival of another depression whose centre moved eastwards across the Auckland Province on the 28th. By the end of the month an anticyclone covered the South Island, and clear frosty weather extended over the greater part of the country. It remained cold and showery, however, between Banks Peninsula and East Cape. During the last few days substantial snowfall occurred at high levels in both Islands.

R. G. SIMMERS, Acting Director.

A survey of social security in New Zealand from 1898 to 1949, and the most comprehensive work on the subject yet published in this country.

Of 180 pages, the book is divided into three parts—cash benefits, health benefits, and finance. Each subject is dealt with in detail and there is a comprehensive index.

The book will undoubtedly be of considerable interest to those interested in social security and social services, and will be especially valuable to University students.
