Commission to Inquire into the Desirability or Otherwise of the Fluoridation of Public Water Supplies

C. W. M. NORRIE, Governor-General

To all to whom these presents shall come, and to Wilfred Fosberrey Stilwell, Esquire, Judge of the Arbitration Court; Norman Lowther Edson, Esquire, Professor of Biochemistry; and Percy Vernon Esmond Stainton, Esquire, Merchant:

GREETING.

WHEREAS it is alleged that the fluoridation of public water supplies may benefit dental health: and whereas it is also alleged that the fluoridation of public water supplies causes ill-health: and whereas it is also alleged that local authorities should not be permitted to add fluoride to the water supplies: and whereas it is also alleged that there are practicable methods of adjusting the daily intake of fluoride other than by addition to the water consumed:

Now, therefore, pursuant to the Commissions of Inquiry Act 1908, I, Lieutenant-General Sir Charles Willoughby Moke Norrie, the Governor-General of New Zealand, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council, hereby appoint you, the said Wilfred Fosberrey Stilwell, Norman Lowther Edson, and Percy Vernon Esmond Stainton, to be a Commission to inquire into and report upon the following matters:

- (1) Whether benefits to dental health may reasonably be expected in New Zealand from the addition of fluoride to public water supplies, having regard to the results of the fluoridation of water supplies in other countries;
- (2) Whether any disadvantages may result from the addition of fluoride to waters naturally containing less than one part of fluoride per million;
- (3) Whether it is desirable or expedient that local authorities should be permitted to decide on such addition for the benefit of residents, particularly children, of their districts;

(4) Whether there are any practicable methods of adjusting the daily intake of fluoride other than by addition to the water consumed;

(5) Whether, and to what extent, the Government should take any steps in relation to the powers or actions of local authorities in respect of any of the foregoing matters; and generally to inquire into and report upon such other questions coming to your notice in the course of your inquiries into the foregoing matters as you consider should be investigated in connection therewith:

And with the like advice and consent I hereby appoint you, the said Wilfred Fosberrey Stilwell, to be Chairman of the said Commission:

And you are hereby authorised to conduct any inquiry under these presents, in accordance with the Commissions of Inquiry Act 1908, at such times and places as you deem expedient, with power to adjourn from time to time and place to place as you think fit; and these presents shall continue in force whether or not the inquiry is regularly continued by adjournments as aforesaid:

And it is hereby declared that the powers hereby conferred shall be exercisable notwithstanding the absence at any time of any one of the members hereby appointed, so long as the Chairman or a member deputed by the Chairman to act in his stead and one other member are present and concur in the exercise of such powers:

And it is hereby further declared that you have liberty to report your proceedings and findings under this Commission from time to time if you judge it expedient so to do:

And, using all due diligence, you are required to report to me in writing under your hands, not later than the 15th day of February 1957, your findings and opinions on the matters aforesaid, together with such recommendations as you think fit to make in respect thereof:

And you are hereby strictly charged and directed that you shall not at any time publish or otherwise disclose, except to me in pursuance of these presents or by my direction, the contents or purport of any report so made or to be made by you.

Given in Executive Council under the hand of His Excellency the Governor-General this 6th day of November 1956.
