Where the constitution of the Fellowship is such as to make it necessary or desirable the Council shall have power to appoint non-Fellows to such Sectional Committees.

15. Each Sectional Committee shall advise the Council, or any of the officers of the Society, upon matters referred to it by the Council, or by any of the officers, and otherwise shall make to the Council such suggestions as it may think desirable touching the branch or branches of science which it represents.

20. The duration of membership of Sectional Committees shall be at the pleasure of the Council; shall be reviewed biennially, and normally shall not exceed a period of six years at a time. The appointment of new members, after the initial setting up of the Committee in 1960, shall be made by Council at alternate annual meetings of the Society. Vacancies, by death or otherwise, may be filled by Council, or by the Standing Committee thereof at any time.

21. Each Sectional Committee shall determine the procedure to be adopted in exercising its duties and normally shall report to Council each year in time for its findings to be considered at the annual meeting of the Society. Each Committee may, if need should arise, report at any time to the Standing Committee of the Council.

or a majority decision. The Chairman shall report to Council when, on an issue referred to it and after due deliberation, the Committee is divided in its opinion.

23. The Chairmen of Sectional Committees shall have the right, after joint consultation, to make representations to Council concerning the work of the committee.
