HUGH DRUMMOND LAMBIE, Esquire, O.B.E., of Auckland, Farmer.

GREETING:

WHEREAS the basic engineering and hydraulic principles of the Lower Waikato River Control Scheme (Sections B, C, and D) have been approved by the Minister of Works and whereas it is desired to obtain an equitable allocation of cost of construction and maintenance as between the Crown and the Waikato Valley Authority (as representing all constituent councils included in the scheme) and whereas it is also desirable to determine the maximum rating consistent with reasonable economic development of all properties protected or otherwise affected by the scheme and to define any progressive increasing in rating deemed necessary:

Now, therefore, pursuant to the Commissions of Inquiry Act 1908 and the Waikato Valley Authority Act 1956, I, Brigadier Sir Bernard Edward Fergusson, the Governor-General of New Zealand, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council, hereby appoint you, the said Frank Felix Reid, Edgar Ravenswood McKillop, and Hugh Drummond Lambie to be a Commission to inquire into and report on the following matters:

(1) The rating capacity of the land and the ability of ratepayers to pay during the initial stages of the construction programme and subsequently as development progresses.

(2) What Government works existing and contemplated in the Waikato Valley affect the hydraulic conditions of the catchment and the general regimen of the rivers in the valley.

(3) Any other natural or development factors which have a significant effect on the hydraulic conditions of the Waikato Valley Catchment and the regimen of the rivers.

(4) Levels of progressive maximum rating, having regard to the foreseeable reasonable economic development potential of properties affected and to a loan period of 25 years or such other period as may be considered necessary or desirable.

(5) The allocation as between the Crown and the Waikato Valley Authority of the cost of construction and maintenance of the said sections of the scheme, having regard to the matters set out in the preceding clauses.

(6) The allocation between Departments of State of the Crown's portion of the cost of construction and maintenance of the said sections of the scheme.

(7) The allocation of the Waikato Valley Authority's share of the cost as between the constituent local councils and in the case of any county where there are separate rating areas as between the particular separate rating areas comprised therein.

(8) The general and the main channel maintenance responsibilities under separate headings and the degree of Government financial assistance under each heading.

(9) Whether provision for deferment of rates is necessary and, if so, the method of implementation.

(10) Any other matters deemed relevant to the inquiry.

And with the like advice and consent I do further appoint you, the said Frank Felix Reid, to be Chairman of the said Commission:

And for the better enabling you to carry these presents into effect you are hereby authorised and empowered to make and conduct any inquiry under these presents at such times and places as you deem expedient, with power to adjourn from time to time and place to place as you think fit, and so that these presents shall continue in force and the inquiry may at any time and place be resumed although not regularly adjourned from time to time or from place to place:

And you are hereby strictly charged and directed that you shall not at any time publish or otherwise disclose, save to me in pursuance of these presents or by my direction, the contents or purport of any report so made or to be made by you, or any evidence or information obtained by you in the exercise of the powers hereby conferred upon you except such evidence or information as is received in the course of a sitting open to the public:

And it is hereby declared that the powers hereby conferred shall be exercisable notwithstanding the absence at any time of any one of the members hereby appointed:

And it is hereby further declared that you have liberty to report your proceedings and recommendations under this Commission from time to time if you shall judge expedient to do so:

NOTE—At stations where departures from normal have an asterisk, the temperature record has been maintained for less than 10 years, the rainfall record for less than 20 years. Rainfall normals have been revised and now refer to the standard period 1921–50. Where observations are not available for the whole period, or where the site of the rain gauge has been changed, the normals are partly interpolated.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR FEBRUARY 1963

General: February was warmer than usual and also very cloudy. In parts of the North Island there was very little rain from 12 January to 15 February and this adversely affected crops and dairy production in a few areas. However, good rains from 16 to 22 February benefited pastures, except in Hawke's Bay and Gisborne, where conditions were very dry but stock remained healthy. In Canterbury there was more rain than usual and this was appreciated for pastures and stock, though the wet weather held up the harvesting of grain.

A tropical storm crossed the North Island during the 20th and 21st, causing gales in Auckland, with some damage.

Rainfall: In Gisborne and Hawke's Bay rainfall was mainly less than a quarter of the average value. Over the remainder of the North Island it was also somewhat below average, except in central and southern Northland, Rotorua, western Taranaki, and Manawatu, where it was 30-100 per cent above average.

It was also wetter than usual over most of the South Island, mainly by 30-100 per cent; but in Nelson and Marlborough Sounds it was more than double the average value. In Southland and about the Kaikoura coast it was drier than average by 30-50 per cent.

Temperatures: Temperatures were above average over the whole country, in the North Island by 3-4 degrees, in the South Island by 2-3 degrees.

Sunshine: Sunshine was below average by 20-80 hours in the Auckland Province (excluding Gisborne) and also in Nelson, Westland, Otago, and parts of Canterbury. Elsewhere it was close to or somewhat below average.

The total of 105 hours at Dunedin was the lowest there for February in 50 years of observations and also one of the lowest for February ever recorded in the South Island. In Northland Kerikeri received only 116 hours, one of the lowest February totals ever recorded in the North Island.

Weather Sequence: For the first five days an anticyclone centred to the east extended over New Zealand, while pressures were low to the north and later also to the north-west. The weather was warm and mainly settled—a continuation of the dry spell which had commenced over the North Island on 12 January. However, showers were reported at times in Northland and Fiordland.

Nearly all districts benefited from some rain, mainly light, from the 6th to the 11th. A complex depression over the Tasman Sea and a trough of low pressure both moved eastward, and at first the rain was confined mainly to the South Island. Later, as the main centre of the depression crossed the North Island, rain became general. Some considerable falls were reported on the 10th about the basin of the Waitaki River and on the 11th in Northland.

An anticyclone covered the country from the 12th to the 14th, and the weather was fine, apart from showers in eastern Northland.

The 15th to the 22nd was another period of unsettled weather, with good rains benefiting nearly all districts. From the 15th to the 17th a trough of low pressure moved slowly over the country and a small depression formed over the North Island. Only in parts of Gisborne and Hawke's Bay did the dry weather persist. Some considerable rainfalls were reported in Northland, Waikato-Rotorua, Taumarunui-Taihape, Buller, and inland Canterbury. The weather cleared for a day on the 18th, apart from some light rain in Northland and Bay of Plenty. However, further fairly general rain occurred during the next four days as first a depression crossed the South Island and on the 20th and 21st a tropical cyclone crossed the North Island. Some considerable falls were recorded in Taranaki, Wellington, Marlborough, and Nelson. On the 21st gales caused some damage in Auckland.

From the 23rd to the 27th pressures were high to the north and low to the south, and westerlies prevailed. The weather remained continuously unsettled on the West Coast, and showers were reported at times in most other districts, except Bay of Plenty, Gisborne, and Hawke's Bay.

On the 28th an anticyclone brought mainly fine weather, but showers were reported in Bay of Plenty.
