Order No. 1 (1965) of the Trade Practices and Prices Commission

In the matter of the Trade Practices Act 1958 and in the matter of an inquiry into the Pricing and Marketing Procedure Associated With the Sale of Hormone Weedkiller Preparations in New Zealand.

WHEREAS the Trade Practices and Prices Commission has, pursuant to section 18 of the Trade Practices Act 1958, conducted an inquiry into certain alleged agreements or arrangements in respect of the sale of hormone weedkiller preparations between members of the Weedkiller Manufacturers' Section within the New Zealand Agricultural Chemical Manufacturers' Federation (hereinafter referred to as "the Federation").

And whereas, prior to the said inquiry the Examiner of Trade Practices and Prices presented to the Commission a report, pursuant to section 17 of the Trade Practices Act 1958, and a reply thereto was filed by the Federation.

And whereas in the report of the Examiner it was alleged that the members of the Weedkiller Manufacturers' Section of the Federation were parties to certain agreements or arrangements under which the said members agreed (a) that uniform retail prices be charged for comparable hormone weedkiller preparations; (b) that agreed discounts be granted to specified classes of purchasers of such preparations; (c) that no discounts be granted to other specified classes of purchasers of such preparations; (d) that uniform prices for comparable products be charged or tendered in the case of sales to or tenders for the sale of such preparations to special classes of users.

And whereas in its reply the Federation denied the existence of the said agreements or arrangements and also denied that any such agreements or arrangements, if proved, were contrary to the public interest.

And whereas the Commission heard evidence adduced by the Examiner and the Federation and heard Mr Orr of Counsel for the Examiner, and Mr Dalgety and Mr Grieg of Counsel for the Federation, and Mr Freeman of Counsel for Shell Oil New Zealand Ltd.

And whereas the Commission has found:

- (a) That an agreement or arrangement that uniform retail prices be charged for comparable hormone weedkiller preparations exists and that it is a trade practice substantially in terms of section 19 (2) (b) and section 19 (2) (d) of the Trade Practices Act 1958 and;
- (b) That an agreement or arrangement exists in respect of sales of hormone weedkiller preparations:
  - (i) To grant to local bodies a discount of 15%;
  - (ii) To grant contractors and certain aerial operators a discount of 10%;
  - (iii) Not to grant any discount to Young Farmers' Clubs and (with the exception of sales by Boots the Chemists New Zealand Ltd.) to Farm Improvement Clubs; and
  - (iv) To tender for sales to local bodies only at prices and on terms agreed upon and that it is a trade practice substantially in terms of section 19 (2) (c) of the Trade Practices Act 1958.

And whereas the Commission has further found that the said agreements or arrangements are contrary to the public interest in terms of section 20 (d) of the Trade Practices Act 1958 and further that an Order should be made under the said Act in respect of the said trade practices.

Now, therefore, the Trade Practices and Prices Commission pursuant to sections 19 and 21 of the Trade Practices Act 1958:

A. Hereby orders and directs the members of the Weedkilling Manufacturers' Section within the New Zealand Agricultural Chemical Manufacturers' Federation:

- (i) To discontinue the said agreements or arrangements found by the Commission to exist as aforesaid;
- (ii) To refrain from reviving the said agreements or arrangements in any form whether as members of the Federation or any Section thereof or otherwise howsoever and to refrain from entering into any other agreement or arrangement which would have substantially the same effect;
- (iii) To pass a resolution within 28 days of the coming into effect of this Order rescinding all decisions reached at previous meetings of the said Section of the Federation with respect to the said agreements or arrangements.

B. Hereby further orders and directs the Federation:

- (i) Within 30 days of the coming into force of this Order to write to all members of the Federation engaged in the manufacture of hormone weedkiller preparations advising them of the terms of the resolution passed at the aforesaid meeting of the said Section of the Federation, and further, advising them that henceforth it will be the personal responsibility of each member, without consultation with any competitor or competitors, to fix the prices discounts to special classes of buyers and conditions for the granting of those discounts at which such member sells or tenders for the sale of hormone weedkillers to distributors, resellers or users.

- (ii) To furnish the Examiner of Trade Practices and Prices with a copy of the said resolution and of the letter sent to members in terms of the preceding paragraphs A (iii) and B (i) respectively.

C. Hereby further orders and directs all members of the said Section of the Federation:

- (i) To communicate in writing to each distributor of their hormone weedkiller preparations the substance of the letter sent to them by the Federation in terms of the preceding paragraph B (i);
- (ii) To furnish to the said Examiner a copy of such letter sent to each distributor.

Dated at Wellington this 15th day of March 1965.

The seal of the Trade Practices and Prices Commission was affixed hereto in the presence of—

The Indecent Publications Act 1963

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963 and in the matter of an application by Hicks, Smith, and Son Ltd., of Wellington, in respect of a book The Snake by Micky Spillane.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THE tribunal has considered the application of the firm Hicks, Smith, and Son Ltd., of Wellington—made with the consent of the Minister of Justice—for a decision in respect of the above-named book—whether it is indecent, or alternatively a decision as to its classification.

No submissions in support of the application were offered, nor any evidence tendered.

The book is a light weight thriller. It is full of action, some fighting and some sex. Many of the incidents are improbable and bizarre but the ordinary standards of decency are observed. We do not think it would deprave readers and therefore do not regard it as injurious to the public welfare. We are of the opinion that there is no warrant for holding it to be indecent.

We determine accordingly that the book is not indecent within the meaning of the Statute.

K. M. GRESSON, Chairman.

The Indecent Publications Act 1963

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963 and in the matter of a Reference from the Magistrate's Court at Wellington for a decision regarding certain magazines, namely: Tomorrow's Man, February 1964, Volume XII; Physique Pictorial, February 1963, Volume 13, No. 3; Modern Adonis, No. 25; Male Classics, No. 30; Male Classics Annual, 1964.

DECISION AND REPORT

THE tribunal has been called upon to classify the five above-named magazines. Some 20, 25, or 30 copies of each respectively had been imported by Modern Educational Publications Ltd., of Wellington, and had been detained by the Comptroller of Customs who claimed them to be forfeited under the provisions of the Customs Act 1913, as "Prohibited Imports" being—it was claimed—indecent articles. In accordance with the provisions of the Act, proceedings for condemnation had been instituted by the Comptroller before a Magistrate who had, as required by section 12 of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, referred to the tribunal for determination the question whether the magazines were indecent within the meaning of the Act, or indecent in the hands of persons under a specified age, or indecent unless circulation was restricted to specified persons or classes of persons.

As well as submissions from counsel for the parties respectively the tribunal heard some evidence. Mr J. G. Caughley, Chief Psychologist to the Justice Department was called to support the claim that the magazines were indecent. Mr Barnard who controls Modern Educational Publications Ltd., was called and testified that he had been conducting his shop for about 15 years, had sold a great number of such magazines, and had never had it alleged that they were indecent. His customers were in the main males between the ages of 25 and 55. The occupations of many were known to him and so far as his knowledge went none of them had ever been involved in any Court proceedings.

We have examined and considered the magazines and are of the opinion that they are, except for one, indecent. We think that there is evidence that they are of an indecent nature; the poses in which the males are depicted, the letter-

The "normal" refers to the present site of the instruments. The standard periods for normals are: for temperature 1931-60, for rainfall 1921-50, and for sunshine 1935-60. No normals are available for stations with only short periods.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR FEBRUARY 1965

General: February was marked by an unusually high frequency of south-westerly winds, a reversal of January's north-easterlies. It was cloudy and cool - much cooler in fact than January. In the North Island rainfall was adequate and growth was better than usual. However, the feed was too soft for lambs. In Nelson, Marlborough and parts of Canterbury the weather was too dry. In Southland and parts of Otago the weather was too unsettled for haymaking and harvesting; this was also a complaint in some North Island districts.

Rainfall: Rainfall was above average over nearly the whole of the Auckland Province and in Southland and eastern Central Otago. Greatest excesses were recorded in Waikato, where many stations received more than double the average value.

Elsewhere rainfall was below normal. Greatest deficiencies occurred in Nelson and Marlborough, where only a few stations received even half the average.

In the Auckland Province about three-quarters of the total rain for the month fell during the 11th and 12th, as a tropical storm passed to the east. In parts of the Bay of Plenty and Gisborne districts two-day falls of 7 to 13 inches were reported. Flooding was particularly serious around Whakatane and on the Rangitaiki Plains.

Temperatures: Temperatures were mainly 1-2 degrees cooler than average. In some districts exposed to south-westerlies, notably most of Southland and the West Coast and parts of Manawatu and Waikato, departures exceeded 2 degrees. On the other hand, about Cook Strait and on the South Canterbury - North Otago coast temperatures were about average.

Snow fell on the North Island mountains on the 14th.

Sunshine: Sunshine was mainly 10-30 hours below average, highest departures being in Manawatu. In most inland areas of the South Island, about Cook Strait, and in Taupo, Hawke's Bay, and Gisborne it was about average.

Weather Sequence: At the beginning of the month the depression which had caused heavy rain over the Auckland Province at the end of January was moving away to the east. Some light rain was still reported in many districts.

From the 2nd to the 8th pressures were high over the Tasman Sea and low near the Chatham Islands. This was a period of southwesterly winds, causing rather unsettled conditions on the Southland coast and at times on the West Coast. Some rain spread to western districts of the North Island with the passage of a trough of low pressure on the 5th; and on the 8th rain spread to Otago and Canterbury as a trough associated with a small depression off the Canterbury coast crossed the South Island.

An anticyclone centred over the North Island brought fair or fine weather generally on the 9th. However, on the following day conditions deteriorated over the Auckland Province and South Westland as a tropical storm east of Noumea moved southward and a trough of low pressure approached New Zealand from the Tasman Sea. During the 11th and 12th the tropical storm passed to the east of Auckland, while the trough crossed the country with the formation of a depression east of the South Island. Rain was general, with particularly heavy falls in the Auckland Province, especially Bay of Plenty and Gisborne. The worst flooding was reported in and around Whakatane, where some families had to be evacuated; but many other areas also suffered.

The 13th to the 20th was another period of predominantly south-westerly weather, with pressures high over the north Tasman Sea and low to the south-east and south of New Zealand. The 13th was a day of clearing weather, but with still some rain or showers in many districts. A trough of low pressure which crossed the country during the 17th and 18th also brought fairly general showers; but throughout the remainder of this 8-day period showers were mainly restricted to the West Coast and the Southland coast.

On the 21st a depression formed east of the South Island on a trough which was crossing the country, and winds turned to southerly. The weather cleared on the West Coast, but most other districts received some rain. During the next three days an anticyclone was passing to the north, while a trough of low pressure moved slowly northward over New Zealand. The belt of rain associated with the trough affected all areas, except for parts of Bay of Plenty, Gisborne, and Hawke's Bay. The 25th and 26th were dominated by an anticyclone which eventually covered the whole country; however, some rain was reported on the Southland coast. During the last two days of the month a trough of low pressure brought rain to western and southern districts of the South Island.
