We are not disposed to make any restriction on the sale of either edition. But one member of the Tribunal—Professor Gordon—is of the opinion that since the paper-back edition would be readily available to young people it might incite or stimulate sexual activities prematurely and that there should be an age restriction on its sale. The other members of the Tribunal (which was without the services of Mrs Cochran who had left for England) do not support this view. Accordingly the decision of the Tribunal is that neither book is indecent in terms of the Indecent Publications Act.

K. M. GRESSON, Chairman.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of The Indecent Publications Act 1963 and in the matter of an application by Paul's Book Arcade, of Auckland, in respect of two books—The Perfumed Garden, by Sir Richard Burton—one a hard-back edition, the other a paper-back edition each having an introduction by Alan Hull Walton.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THE Tribunal sat to consider an application by Paul's Book Arcade, of Auckland—made with the consent of the Minister of Justice—in respect of two books, The Perfumed Garden in a hard-back edition and the same book in a paperback edition. Each is the translation made by Sir Richard Burton of the Arabian treatise known as the Perfumed Garden; and each edition has an introduction by Alan Hull Walton detailing the history of the work, its extensive bibliography, its background, and its sociological importance.

No submissions were made on behalf of the Secretary for Justice and there was no appearance on behalf of the applicant.

The hard-back edition is to be retailed at 51s. 6d., the paper-back at 9s. 9d.

We have considered the two editions of the book. It has been termed a panegyric of love describing in detail sexual behaviour and erotic techniques. Notwithstanding the realistic presentation of numerous aspects of sex we regard it as a serious work. It is a translation of sex practices written in Arabic by one Shaykh Nefzawi. The work is undoubtedly one of literary interest and has value as such. In our opinion it should not be condemned as pornographic or indecent. It is in short a treatise on sexual relations with emphasis on technique as promoting the happiness of the individuals concerned.
