WHEREAS, by section 6 (4) (b) of the Visiting Forces Act 1939 (New Zealand), it is provided that when a home force and another force are acting in combination, an officer of the other force duly appointed to command the combined force, or any part thereof, shall be treated as if he shall have over members of the home force the like power of command and punishment, and may be invested with the like authority to convene and confirm the findings and sentences of Courts Martial as if he were an officer of the home force of relative rank and holding the same command.

And whereas, by the New Zealand Army Regular Force (Visiting Forces) Order 1955, issued pursuant to section 5 (5) of the aforesaid Act, it was declared that the portion of the New Zealand Army Regular Force that is for the time being serving as part of the Far East Land Forces is serving together and acting in combination with the portions of the military forces of Her Majesty, other than those raised in New Zealand, to which section 6 of the Visiting Forces Act 1939 applies, and with which the same portion of the New Zealand Army Regular Force is for the time being serving as part of the Far East Land Forces:

And whereas the aforesaid order remains in full force and effect:

And whereas you have been for the time being appointed to command that part of the Far East Land Forces being the 28 Commonwealth Infantry Brigade:

And I do hereby authorise and empower you to confirm the findings and sentences of district Courts Martial, but not the power to confirm the findings and sentences of general Courts Martial, nor to confirm any sentence of discharge with ignominy from Her Majesty's service, and imprisonment or detention exceeding twelve months, or any greater punishment:

And I do hereby further authorise and empower you to delegate to any officer under your command or jurisdiction not below the rank of field officer a general authority to convene general Courts Martial for the trial of such persons subject to military law as members of the aforesaid portion of the New Zealand Army Regular Force as are for the time being under or within the territorial limits of his command, whether the offences shall have been committed before or after such officer shall have taken upon him his command, but not the power to confirm the findings and sentences of such Courts Martial:

I direct that the proceedings of every general Court Martial, or of every district Court Martial where power to confirm is restricted by the terms of this Warrant, convened by you or by that last-mentioned officer, shall be reserved for confirmation by the Commander, or officer for the time being Commanding Far East Land Forces, or by the Adjutant General of the New Zealand Army, in accordance with this Warrant:

And, for executing the several powers, matters, and things herein expressed, this Warrant shall be to you, and to other whom it may concern, a sufficient Warrant and authority:

And I declare that this Warrant shall, without ratification, extend to and invest with the aforesaid authorities and powers your successors and any officer for the time being appointed as Acting Commander, 28 Commonwealth Infantry Brigade.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR SEPTEMBER 1966

General: There was an unusually high frequency of north-easterly winds in September, especially in the North Island. The month was marked by exceptionally dry weather in parts of Canterbury and Otago; and in parts of Otago feed was reported to be scarce. On the other hand it was much wetter than usual in Northland, and too wet for many farmers. Elsewhere it was a variable month for farming, with some complaints about growth being slow, particularly in the North Island.

Rainfall: Canterbury, Otago, and Southland received less than half the average rainfall; and it was particularly dry in South Canterbury, inland North Otago, and parts of Central Otago, with less than a tenth of the average value. Lake Waitaki received no rain at all. Parts of Otago have had rainfall below average every month from February. Musselburgh, Dunedin, received only 11.74 in. during this eight months, the lowest for many years.

For the greater part of the remainder of the country rainfall was also somewhat below average. However, it was wetter than usual in most northern and western districts of the North Island (except for western Waikato) and also in parts of Nelson and Marlborough. Rainfall was more than double the average value in two areas. The first extended from Whangarei nearly to Bay of Islands; and in this district some stations received 11 in. in the three days 4-6 September. The other was part of the area between Rotorua and Tauranga, where some places received 10 in. in the week 16-22 September, with local flooding.

Temperatures: Temperatures were close to average, except in Gisborne and parts of Hawkes Bay, where they were a degree below. The coldest spells were 10-11th; and, in the South Island, also 23-24th, with snow to low levels in Otago and Southland.

Sunshine: Sunshine was below average by up to 60 hours in eastern districts from Marlborough northward, also in the whole of Northland and in Nelson. Elsewhere it was close to average.

Weather Sequence: For the first three days of the month the weather was mainly fair during the passage of an anticyclone across the country and to the east. However, a few showers were reported, mainly in Northland and Auckland.

From the 4th to the 6th pressures remained high to the east, while a depression west of the North Island moved south-westward and a second centre, which formed to the north-east of Northland, moved slowly southward. The moist north-easterlies brought rain to northern districts of the North Island, also at times to North Taranaki and eastern districts as far south as Christchurch. Some heavy falls were reported in Northland, with flooding. There was a temporary improvement in most districts on the 7th, under the influence of a weak ridge of high pressure. However, conditions soon deteriorated again, with fairly general rain during the 8th and 9th as the depression which had been over the Tasman Sea passed through Cook Strait. The rain was heavy at times in North Taranaki.

As the depression moved away to the east on the 10th, winds changed to the south, with a few showers in eastern districts and about Cook Strait and the Southland coast. Settled weather soon prevailed for two days as an anticyclone moved on to the country from the Tasman Sea. However, from the 13th to the 17th, with the anticyclone centred to the east and pressures low again to the north, a second spell of easterly to north-easterly winds brought rain at times to eastern and northern districts of the North Island and to the West Coast.

The week from the 18th to the 24th was the most generally unsettled period of the month. A small depression crossed the North Island from the Tasman Sea, with its associated trough affecting most of the country; and a second trough associated with a depression far to the south soon followed. Rain was fairly general, except in eastern districts of the South Island south of Christchurch. During the 23rd and 24th, yet another trough crossed the country, with rain, except in Hawke's Bay. Snow was reported to low levels in Otago and Southland.

For the last six days of the month a large anticyclone moved slowly across the country. However, pressures remained low to the north, so that for northern districts there was a third spell of easterly to north-easterly winds, with frequent rain in Northland, extending at times also to Auckland and Gisborne.
