Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Panther Books for a decision in respect of the book Sick Friends by Ivan Gold, published by Panther Books, London.

Mr Heron, solicitor, appeared for the applicant and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS novel (originally published in the United States in 1969) is an account of the relationship between a New York writer and a young woman of Armenian descent; after a period of on-again off-again living together, they almost marry but in the end don't. The sexual side of their relationship is depicted with considerable frankness and detail, but it does not unduly dominate the book, which deals with their total relationship.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 16 years.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Female Homosexuality by Frank S. Caprio, M.D., published by Gold Star Publications (Australia) Pty. Ltd.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publishers and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS is a paperback reprint of a book originally published in 1954. It is a study of lesbianism in its historical and psychological aspects, with a good many case histories. It has a substantial bibliography. It appears to be a serious study, and as such should be generally available; because of the frankness of some of the case histories and the inappropriate cover, however, we consider it desirable to impose an age restriction.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 16 years.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the books Sex in Marriage, Vols. I and II, by Wendell M. Koble, M.D., and Richard Warren, published by Style Publicity Ltd., Surrey.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THESE 2 books purport to be marriage manuals but we have reason to doubt their honesty of purpose. They make fulsome and obviously false claims to be "the most comprehensive study ever undertaken of the effects of sex on the human body"; the scrappy text is made up of question-and-answer sequences that have little plan about them; the authors' use of language is inexact; the photographs have only sketchy relation to the text, are fatuous, unnecessary, naively captioned, and objectionable in that many show the erect penis about to enter the vagina without there being any discoverable justification for this particular type of picture—they are posed in a deliberate and therefore unrealistic way which brings them into the pornographic category. These photographs are the real reason for the publication and they do it no service.

The Tribunal classifies these 2 volumes as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for decisions in respect of the following books: Anal Delight by Barbara Stoner, Do It Again by Richard Blakely, High School Slut by Enoch Grove, In My Mother's Bedroom by L. S. Knudson, Sin After School by Ellen Stacey, The Thrill Seekers by Frank Upland, all published by E. I. Publishing Co. Inc., New York.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THESE 6 books have nothing in them except sexual exploits dwelt on in the crudest detail. They ask for the same direct, prurient response as the illustrations of pornographic magazines, which each of these books contains in an advertisement section, and which on their own are sufficient to justify rejection of the books.

The Tribunal classifies these books as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Exquisite Corpse by Alfred Chester, published by Sphere Books Ltd, London.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publishers and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS difficult novel has been described as striving to record "the implications of an obsession, to document the tyranny and anguish of compulsive fantasy, to chronicle the torments of the nightmare world that can grow out of idle daydreams". This account of the book's purpose makes clear that the sordid, fragmentary lives of the homosexual figures in the novel are presented as just that—sordid, fragmented, and tormented—and the book's impact on the reader is strong and complex. The casual reader will not get very far with the book; those who persevere will be shocked and moved by it.

The Tribunal concludes that the book has genuine literary interest and quality and that its treatment of the incidents it presents is neither so detailed nor so explicit as to require an age restriction.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Lovers by Tina Tranter, published by Charles Skilton Ltd, London.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publishers and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS book, which will cost about $12 in New Zealand, largely consists of photographic studies of various moments and moods in lovemaking. The preliminary text is slight and entirely overshadowed by the striking photographs. These are frankly erotic but avoid suggestiveness. The book will offend some who come across it, but it cannot be said to be indecent in terms of the Act. It can be allowed to find its normal limited market without restriction.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Marketing Services Ltd. for decisions in respect of the magazines Penthouse, Vol. 6, No. 3, published by Penthouse Publications Ltd, and Exclusive Man, Vol. 3, No. 9, published by New English Library, London.

Mr Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the applicant and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

Penthouse is a well-established international magazine for men. Earlier numbers were considered by the Tribunal in decisions No. 38 and 157. Decision No. 38 dealt with numbers 3, 4, and 5 and decision No. 157 dealt with Volume 4, No. 3, and in all cases the magazines were classified as indecent.

In decision No. 38 the Tribunal stated that the magazines aimed at no more than an appeal to sex to assist the sale of the publication. This cannot be said of the number we are now considering. This issue contains serious and informative articles some of which deal with subjects on sex and there are also articles and illustrations in lighter vein. Taking the issue as a whole and in spite of some features which some may consider offensive or in poor taste, the Tribunal has decided to classify it as not indecent.

Exclusive Man, on the other hand, is not in the same class as the Penthouse magazine. The articles and the stories deal with sex in a manner that cause us to classify it as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Secretary for Justice for a decision in respect of the book Sexual Harmony by Louisa Rowett, published by Fitzwilliam Publishing Co., and in the matter of applications by the Comptroller of Customs for decisions in respect of the following books: Ways of Loving (fourth reprint) anonymous, Love Love Love In Action by W. F. Robie, M.D., both published by Gadoline Ltd., Surrey, Intercourse (tenth printing), anonymous, published by Gold Star Publications (Australia) Pty Ltd.

There was no appearance of the applicants nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand of Sexual Harmony. Mr MacNeill, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the intended importer of Ways of Loving and Love Love Love In Action and made submissions. Mr Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publisher's representative in New Zealand of Intercourse and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THE Tribunal has now considered 10 publications which consist of photographs of sexual intercourse with a varying amount of text. Although in principle this form of information has been judged acceptable, there are distinctions to be drawn and it may be useful to attempt a statement of these.

So far the books fall into 3 categories:

- (a) Those which—
  - (1) Are serious in intention;
  - (2) Are natural and restrained in presentation;
  - (3) Are accompanied by straightforward text;
  - (4) Deal with the basic variations of normal intercourse; and
  - (5) Carry an assumption explicit, or implied, of the more complex relationship of love.

These are classified as indecent in the hands of persons under 16 years unless being instructed by parent or other proper adviser (decisions 85, 200, 367, and 368).

(b) Those similar to ones in group (a) but including more advanced techniques (e.g. oral sex).

These are classified as indecent in the hands of persons under 18 years (decisions 305 and 382).

- (c) Those which—
  - (1) Are suspect in intention;
  - (2) Are exaggerated, tasteless, or insensitive in presentation;
  - (3) Deal with perverted or illegal forms of sexual activity;
  - (4) Include a text which is irrelevant to the photographs or debasing in tone; and
  - (5) Make no allowance for any elements in the relationship other than the acrobatics.

These are classified as indecent (decisions 222 and 223).

Applying the principles enunciated above, the Tribunal classifies the magazines which are the subject of this application as follows:

Ways of Loving as (a), namely: indecent in the hands of persons under 16 years unless being instructed by parents or other proper adviser.

Sexual Harmony as (b), namely: indecent in the hands of persons under 18 years.

Intercourse as (b), namely: indecent in the hands of persons under 18 years.

Love Love Love In Action as (c), namely: indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for decisions in respect of the books Nest of Vixens by Marcus Van Heller and Big Man in the Saddle by Mullin Garr, both published by Ophelia Press Inc., New York.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THE stories related in these 2 paperback books are purely vehicles for the description of crude, vulgar, perverted, sexual activities. They are indecent and do not merit description.

The Tribunal classifies them both as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Sexual Side of Life by Don James, published by Gold Star Publications (Australia) Pty Ltd.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publisher's representative in New Zealand and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS paperback book describes and discusses a series of composite case histories dealing mainly with sexual deviations. The author does not lay claim to any special qualifications and it is questionable whether the book can be regarded as a serious study. The main part of the book dwells in considerable detail on the case histories of the abnormalities.

Taking into consideration section 11 of the Act, the Tribunal is of the view that it is neither necessary nor desirable that this particular material should be available to younger people.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Hidden Pleasures of Love by W. F. Robie, M.D., published by Gold Star Publications (Australia) Pty Ltd.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publisher's representative in New Zealand and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS rather long paperback book claims to be the complete and unexpurgated edition of the book originally titled Sex Histories. It is a series of case histories and of letters of advice written by Dr Robie to his patients and dealing with almost every conceivable problem associated with sex. It becomes tedious.

In the opinion of the Tribunal the book is not indecent but because of the frankness of the writing the Tribunal feels that the book should not be readily available to young persons.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publishers and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THE Indecent Publications Act provides that "indecent" includes describing, depicting, expressing, or otherwise dealing with matters of sex, horror, crime, cruelty, or violence in a manner that is injurious to the public good.

These 4 international spy ring stories feature Eve Drum—the sexiest spy in the world—an expert in everything—karate, lock-picking, blunt instruments, sharp knives, ballistics, bloody mayhem, shooting, strangling, killing and last but not least, sex. These stories glamorise cruelty, violence and sexual exploitation.

The Tribunal classifies these books as indecent.

No. 446-8

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of a reference to the Tribunal under section 12 (1) of the said Act by the Magistrate's Court at Palmerston North for a decision and report in terms of the said section in respect of the magazines Girlie Fun, No. 12 and 14 and under section 18 (2) of Girlie Fun, No. 13.

DECISION AND REPORT OF THE TRIBUNAL

THE police at Palmerston North laid an information against Wilfred J. Lynch Ltd. for the possession of indecent documents in its bookshop, namely the magazines Girlie Fun, No. 12 and 14. At the hearing in the Magistrate's Court at Palmerston North on 15 November 1971, His Worship, the presiding magistrate, referred the magazines to the Tribunal for a decision under section 12 (1) and also the magazine Girlie Fun, No. 13 for a decision under section 18 (2).

At the hearing before the Tribunal, Wilfred J. Lynch Ltd. was represented by Mr H. Williams and the police by Mr P. Neazor.

The magazine Girlie Fun, No. 13 had been the subject of a composite decision of the Tribunal on 24 March 1971, New Zealand Gazette 15 April 1971, No. 27, p. 669, decisions numbered 265 to 280. The Tribunal classified this magazine as indecent.

We will deal with No. 12 and 14. Mr Williams submitted that these magazines were not indecent in the sense described in section 2 of the Act in that they do not depict or deal with matters of sex in a manner which is injurious to the public good and that the "unrelieved sexuality of the magazines is boring rather than indecent". On the other hand, Mr Neazor referred the Tribunal to the decisions No. 93 to 103, generally known as the Waverley decisions, and the principles enumerated therein and stressed that in considering these magazines the Tribunal should have regard to contemporary community standards, which standards, he suggested, were to a considerable degree established by the decisions of the Tribunal. He submitted that the magazines should be classified as indecent as they offended against community standards.

The Tribunal does not agree with the submission of Mr Williams. The magazines do not have any literary or artistic merit and are orientated towards sexual matters. This treatment of sex is suggestive enough to require that they should not be freely available and displayed to young persons.

The Tribunal classifies the magazines Girlie Fun, No. 12 and 14 as indecent in the hands of persons under 16 years of age.

Girlie Fun No. 13 was referred back to the Tribunal under section 18 (2) which provides that where any person is charged with an offence against the Indecent Publications Act or any other Act, he may challenge any decision upon any book made in any proceedings to which he was not a party, and in such event the Court shall refer the decision to the Tribunal for reconsideration. Wilfred J. Lynch Ltd. was not a party to the decision of the Tribunal in respect of Girlie Fun, No. 13 and we agreed with the submission that the decision of the Tribunal on this magazine (being a book within the meaning of the Act) having been challenged, must be reconsidered by the Tribunal.

In our decision on Girlie Fun, No. 13 a group of magazines was dealt with and placed in categories based on the criteria established in the decisions known as the Waverley decisions (No. 93-103). It was placed in the third category the description of which was "of photographs, often very skillfully produced by celebrated photographers, which appear to be deliberately unnatural or artificial, and occasionally ugly, grotesque, or contrived". It can be seen that this description does not fit the contents of Girlie Fun, No. 13, which is an entirely different type of publication from those generally dealt with in the Waverley decisions. The Tribunal is of the opinion it was wrong to try and fit Girlie Fun, No. 13 into the straitjacket of the Waverley decisions. It is not in any material way different from No. 12 and 14.

The Tribunal classifies the magazine Girlie Fun, No. 13 as indecent in the hands of persons under 16 years of age.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Lure of Incest by Lana Preston, published by Bilife Publications Inc., Delaware.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS paperback book is a study on the subject of incest. It traces the history of incest through the ages and then briefly describes the laws relating to incest and prohibited marriages in the various states of the U.S.A. Case histories are given as well as excerpts of the proceedings in the Courts. The author does not claim any special qualifications in the subject although Dr W. R. Lamb who wrote an introduction describes her as an earnest, enlightened, and conscientious writer on many sociological and sexual themes.

Features of the book such as the cover with its emphasis on the more lurid contents, the imbalance between the sensational case histories and the historical aspect of the subject, and the long introduction which deliberately describes the sexual side of sordid case histories in unnecessary detail, lead us to restrict the book.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of applications by the Comptroller of Customs for decisions in respect of the following books: The Pleasure Principle by Jesse Taylor, Pretty Thing by Robert Turner, Screen by Barry N. Malzberg, Soho Whore by Sheila Foster, All-Night Visitors by Clarence Major, Oracle of the Thousand Hands by Barry N. Malzberg, and Eleanore by Alex Austin, all published by Olympia Press, New York.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publisher's representative and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THESE 7 books fell into 3 groups. The first 4 lay unrelieved stress on sexual activity at the expense of any development of plot or character. The Pleasure Principle can only be said to revel in detailed sexual description and to take delight in several sadistic episodes. Pretty Thing is a badly written story of the daughter of a southern state Governor who succeeds him when he cannot succeed himself, and devotes more time to sex in a variety of forms than to the cares of office. Screen has an unusual theme—an imagined series of sexual encounters between its narrator and a number of well-known female film stars. Soho Whore is supposed to be the memoirs of a London prostitute during and after the war; its concentration on the details of sexual encounter are at the expense of any claim to credibility. Not one of these four books can be considered either to have any literary or social merit or to have been written with any honesty of purpose.

The Tribunal classifies these 4 books as indecent.

In the next 2 books there is still a fairly heavy concentration on the sexual element, but they each have a much more developed story-line and characterisation. All-Night Visitors tells of a Vietnam veteran working as a desk clerk in a sleazy New York hotel used principally by prostitutes of both sexes. Oracle of the Thousand Hands is apparently the retelling by a man of the (mainly sexual) adventures of his friend D'Arcy; towards the end it seems apparent that it is in fact D'Arcy writing the book himself and that he is in a mental asylum. The writing in both books is on a level superior to the first 4 above, but we consider the explicit sexual detail requires an age restriction.

The Tribunal classifies these 2 books as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

The last book, Eleanore, is in quite a different category. Here the sexual element, still fairly strong, seems to take its natural place in the story, which concerns a middle-aged woman who comes to a Mediterranean island as a refuge from the complexities of her past life. The novel tells of her involvement with some of the island people and we learn a good deal about their past lives. The sexual involvement is not given an unduly prominent place, the principal characters are developed in some depth, and the writing has considerable merit.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and, in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for decisions in respect of the following books: The Whip Angels by Selena Warfield, Frost by Richard Amory, Mind Blower by Marco Vassi, A Sea of Thighs by Ray Kainen, Sextet by J. Hume Parkinson, Of Sheep and Girls by Robert Duffy, Love on a Trampoline by Sybah Darrick. All published by Olympia Press Inc., New York.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publisher and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THESE 7 novels from the Olympia Press are items from the Traveller's Companion Series and, except for Frost, have what the editor calls "deceptively plain sober green covers", labelled "for adult readers".

The first 5 books on the list exploit morbid interest in cruelty and perversion. They describe at length with unrelieved salacity and exaggeration a seemingly endless succession of bouts of sexual activity of the grossest kind. They all have the stamp of commercial pornography and no feature of context, style, or intention that might outweigh or justify their indecency.

The Tribunal classifies these 5 books as indecent.

In the 2 last-named books, though the general style is comparable, there is some irony, some humour, some attempt at a story and at a more balanced view of human beings.

The Tribunal classifies these 2 books as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Adam and Eve by Marcus Van Heller, published by Collectors Publications, California.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS paperback novel purports to recount the struggles of a young couple from a small English town to obtain recognition and achieve success in their chosen fields of the Arts in London. In fact this theme is merely camouflage for a succession of descriptions of sexual indecencies and perversions which are recounted in gross detail. The book has no literary merit and the Tribunal can conceive of no one benefiting from it.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Bawdy Tales of Firenzuola by Agnola Firenzuola, published by Collectors Publications, California.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

AGNOLA Firenzuola, an Italian author of the Sixteenth Century, after practising law in Rome, joined the Benedictine Order of monks at Vallambrosa and later became Abbot of Prato. He has been accorded some reputation as a writer, though not the fame of his great predecessor, Boccaccio, or of his friend and contemporary, Pietro Aretino.

The translation of his Romances (claimed as "the first in modern colloquial English") is marred by crudeness and has little literary merit. But it cannot be classed as likely to corrupt.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

ACCORDING to the preface of this book, its purpose is to "examine the effects of sex advertising on the sex life of the country" (U.S.A.). The name of the author is nowhere disclosed, but he claims that over a period of one year he was "able to appraise the impact of sex advertising upon contemporary American sex life". The book is however clearly one to which section 11 (f) applies, and its design is merely to provide a vehicle in which the author may purvey prurience and stories of sexual perversion.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book La Libre, anonymous, published by International Rakes Ltd., U.S.A.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS book is quite devoid of any standards of decency in text or illustrations. It acknowledges no author and the format, binding, and production are the cheapest possible. The stories—there are three of them with no indication of where they begin or end—are grossly told accounts of sexual episodes and perversions with no pretence of plot or character. The illustrations have no relevance to the text.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Demi Vierges, Volume 1, anonymous, published by Victorian Classics Inc., U.S.A.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THE introduction to this novel is a quotation from the works of Havelock Ellis dealing with the relationship of pain and love in sexual psychology. This is a cover for a sadistic story exploiting masochism, cruelty, and sexual perversion as its main themes. The book, in the view of the Tribunal, has no redeeming features and deals with sex and violence in a manner which clearly violates the Act.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the magazine Playboy, Vol. 19, No. 1, January 1972.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Heron, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publishers and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

WE have considered earlier copies of Playboy and we repeat what we said in decision No. 254 that the issue now before us does not seem to be substantially different in content or presentation from those issues already exonerated by the Tribunal.

We find it difficult to understand why the Customs Department should submit this magazine to us without making a submission as to how this particular copy differs from those previously exonerated.

The Tribunal classifies this magazine as not indecent.
