Notice to Make Returns of Income Under the Land and Income Tax Act 1954

PURSUANT to the Land and Income Tax Act 1954, the Commissioner of Inland Revenue gives notice as follows:

1. Returns of income for the year ended 31 March 1972 (or other approved balance date) are required from:

- (a) All companies, all partnerships, all persons in business (including farming) or in a profession, all persons in partnership, and all trustees, executors, and administrators, notwithstanding that by reason of a loss being incurred for the year or carried forward from a previous year, no taxation is payable.
- (b) Every person whose total income from employment exceeded $2,600.
- (c) Every person who derived interest and/or investment or building society dividends over $100 in the aggregate and whose total income (after deducting $100 of that interest and/or investment or building society dividends) exceeded $275.
- (d) Every person who derived assessable income other than income from employment and whose total income exceeded $275. Except that no return is required where the total income did not exceed $1,070 and consisted exclusively of Universal Superannuation and/or company dividends.

- (e) Every person who paid provisional tax in respect of income for the year ended 31 March 1972.
- (f) Every person to whom section 104 of the Land and Income Tax Act 1954 applies. Section 104 relates to aggregate assessments of husbands and wives and in general terms now applies only where—
- (i) Income is derived by one spouse under a transfer or settlement of income by the other spouse and the assets producing the income are retained by or can revert to the other spouse.
 - (ii) Income is diverted from one to the other by permitting the use of assets or by the performance of services.
- (g) Every person who received withholding payments. Note, however, that a return is not required where a person does not come within any of the classes referred to in (a) to (f) above inclusive and the only withholding payments received were—
- (i) Juror's or witness's fees, and/or
 - (ii) Not in excess of $24 in the aggregate and consisting of one or more of the following classes:
 - Honoraria; fees for contributions to newspapers, journals, etc., or for radio or stage presentations; modelling or demonstrating goods or appliances; theatre, stage concert, and radio performances; payments for election-day services.
- (h) Every unincorporated body which derived assessable income.
- (i) Every absentee who derived income from New Zealand.
- (j) Trustees of superannuation funds.

2. Returns are required to be furnished by posting or delivering the same to the office of the Inland Revenue Department nearest to the place of residence of the taxpayer, or if the taxpayer's records are held in another office of the Department, then to the latter office.

3. Returns are due on:

- (a) 7 June 1972 when income was derived from salary, wages, superannuation (not Universal), pensions, taxable allowances, etc., and—
- (i) No other income whatsoever was derived, or
 - (ii) The other income derived consisted exclusively of not more than $200 in total from dividends, net rents, interest (after $100 exemption).
- (b) 7 August 1972 in all other cases or within 2 months of balance date, whichever is the later. No action for failure to furnish a return due on 7 August 1972 will be taken if it is furnished by 7 September 1972.

The return to be used is IR 5 (green print) in the case of paragraph 3 (a) above, and the IR 3 (black print) in the case of 3 (b) above.

In addition to return IR 3, farmers are to complete supplementary return IR 3F and persons in business or in a profession are to complete supplementary return IR 3B. (The supplementary returns are not required if a copy of the annual accounts is furnished with the return.) Companies are to use IR 4, estates and trusts IR 5A, and superannuation funds IR 44. Each form indicates the classes of taxpayers who are to use that form and, where applicable, the due dates for payment of provisional tax. Generally, the first instalment of provisional tax must accompany the return when furnished and is due on 7 August 1972. It must be paid on or before 7 September 1972 in order to avoid the 10 percent additional tax for late payment. The second instalment is, in general, due on 7 February 1973 with a 10 percent additional tax if not paid by 7 March 1973. In some cases a third instalment is, in general, due on 7 May 1973 with a 10 percent additional tax if not paid by 7 June 1973.

4. All return forms are available at district offices of the Inland Revenue Department, and at post offices. Company returns are available at post offices in urban areas with a population of 5,000 or more not having an Inland Revenue District Office.

5. Any person or company failing to furnish a return within the prescribed time is liable to a fine not exceeding $200 and not less than $4.

6. Any person who is not required under paragraph 1 to furnish a return and who has derived income from employment may elect to furnish a return using IR 5 if he requires an adjustment:

- (a) Because he paid life insurance premiums.
- (b) Because he considers that tax deductions made from his income were excessive.
- (c) Because he was entitled to exemptions which were not included in his tax code during the year.
- (d) Because he is entitled to deductions from income.

7. Any person furnishing a return of income who derived income taxed at time of payment should securely attach all tax deduction certificates (IR 12, IR 13, or IR 55) to the return form.

Dated at Wellington this 27th day of April 1972.

D. A. STEVENS, Commissioner of Inland Revenue.

No. 471

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Sexual Anatomy of Woman, by W. Francis Benedict, M.D., published by Polybooks Ltd., London.

There was no appearance by the applicant. Mr P. J. Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publishers and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS "pictorial manual" is suspect and unconvincing. Most of the text is plain enough but the inclusion of, and treatment given to, such topics as female masturbation and sex aids, as well as the use made of photographs to illustrate points sufficiently made already in the text, do not square with the statement on the cover that the book is intended "for responsible, intelligent adults who have a medical interest in the intimate parts of woman". The separate section of full-colour photographs clearly caters for a prurient interest in the details they emphasise. Taken as a whole this book treats sex in a way that offends against the Act.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

17 April 1972.

No. 472

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Living is Loving by Inge and Sten Hegeler, published by Neville Spearman, London.

There was no appearance by the applicant. Mr P. J. Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publishers and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THE Tribunal agrees with Mr Downey's submission that this book is closely comparable to The XYZ of Love by the same authors, which the Tribunal restricted in decision No. 286. It is, like that earlier book, explicit, sophisticated, and not suitable for younger readers.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

17 April 1972.

No. 473

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Darling—You are a Devil by Stano Kochan, published by Universal Tandem Publishing Co. Ltd., 1971, London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representatives in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS "picture book for athletic lovers" offers a comic perspective on the acrobatics which have of late figured prominently in guides to sexual intercourse. It wittily mocks the solemnity with which some of these guides recommend positions requiring extraordinary dedication to the cause. Some will not be amused, but there is a place in this aspect of life for laughter that is open and direct, and this book cannot be said to aim at the sniggering, suggestive response which is associated with many, if not most, humorous treatment of sex in picture books.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

17 April 1972.

No. 474

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Soho Story by Sheila Foster, published by Olympia Press Ltd., London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representatives in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS paperback book is the same as Soho Whore dealt with in decision No. 453. Although one is printed in the United States and one in Great Britain the contents are identical. The Tribunal reiterates its previous decision in finding that Soho Story is indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

17 April 1972.

No. 475

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Seven Erotic Minutes, anonymous, published by Olympia Press Ltd., London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representatives in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THE best-selling novelist Irving Wallace wrote a book called The Seven Minutes in 1969; this centred on the trial of a book-seller in California for selling pornography in the form of a book called The Seven Minutes. The paperback entitled The Seven Erotic Minutes is an attempt to capitalise on the Wallace novel by providing what purports to be the unwritten book of the trial. It is an unrelieved account of one sexual incident after another, with no claim to literary merit or honesty of purpose.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

17 April 1972.

No. 476

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Organization by Harriet Daimler, published by Olympia Press Ltd., London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representatives in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

The Organization is described as "a group of sexual conspirators, who, with an apparent scientific detachment investigate and enact all known sexual activities". The accounts of episodes of sexual depravity and cruelty are built around the initiation into the organisation of a young girl of 15, and the contrived vocabulary adds to the unwholesome and degrading character of the book. This book deals with matters of sex in a manner that is injurious to the public good. It has no redeeming features.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

17 April 1972.

No. 477

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Agro by Nick Fury, published by Sphere Books Ltd., London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representatives in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS is a novel featuring motor-bike gangs of young people carrying on gang warfare in London and its environs. There is violence, thuggery, and toughness aplenty. The book gives an insight into group behaviour and activities of these rebels against society. There is a great deal of sex activity that is of a depraved, brutal, and sordid nature, and this treatment of sex and the portrayal of violence in the Tribunal's view would be injurious to the public good.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

17 April 1972

No. 478

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Lesbos, anonymous, published by Riverhaven Ltd., London.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr P. J. Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publishers and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS is a sentimental treatment of lesbianism by way of photographs and brief quotations. It seems no more than an excuse for double-takes of female nudity in sexual poses and serves no useful purpose whatever and can be intended only for prurient use.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

17 April 1972.

No. 479

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Beate Uhse Sexual Atlas für Erwachsene by Gunther Hunold, published by Chausen and Bosse, Germany.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr P. J. Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publishers and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS is a well-produced hardback of reputable authorship covering "all anyone needs to know about sex", and fully illustrated in somewhat glorious technicolour. The text is in German but we were supplied with an English translation. The Tribunal was informed that if the German edition were cleared by the Tribunal an English language edition would be published in New Zealand. Judging from the translation supplied, the book is serious and neutral in tone, factual in content, and makes on the whole a favourable impression.

It would seem, however, to be geared to a society which differs from ours in some ways, a society where, for instance, group sex activity, pedophilia, zoophilia, male and female homosexuality, are accepted not only with charity but with approval. Many of the illustrations are unnecessarily explicit and repetitive; some by their excellence as photographs tend to glamorise the deviations mentioned as well as the activities of the voyeur, the sadist, the exhibitionist, the fetishist, and the prostitute. While these aspects of sex are dealt with in the text in an objective and eminently reasonable way, we do not consider their inclusion in this pictorial "atlas" to be appropriate to the prevailing opinion and law in this country at present.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

The "normal" refers to the present site of the instruments. The standard periods for normals are: for temperature 1931-60, for rainfall 1921-50, and for sunshine 1935-60. No normals are available for stations with only short records.

*The sunshine recorder is not located at the station but is in the near vicinity.

A "rain day" is equal to or greater than 0.1 mm.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR MARCH 1972

General—This was the wettest March for at least 50 years over the North Island. It was also generally warm and cloudy. South of Auckland winds from a westerly quarter were more frequent than usual. The warm wet weather was generally appreciated by farmers after the dry weather of February, and good growth was reported. However, in Bay of Plenty, the persistent rain reduced dairy production at times; while in Canterbury conditions remained very dry with stock short of feed in some areas.

Rainfall—Over the North Island rainfall was two-and-a-half times the normal value. Bay of Plenty and most of Waikato and Auckland had more than three times. Greatest excesses were recorded between Tauranga and Whakatane; near the tip of the Coromandel Peninsula; and on the east coast, north of Auckland from Warkworth to Waipu. In these areas the totals of 300-700 mm were the highest ever for March.

In the South Island rainfall was mainly above normal, being more than double in Fiordland, parts of Southland, and parts of Nelson. However, it was below normal in Canterbury, being less than one-half in some inland areas.

In northern districts of the North Island 90 percent of the rain fell in one week, from the 4th to the 10th, with a trough of low pressure stationary from west to east over the area. Stony Bay on Coromandel Peninsula received a total of 661 mm for the month, of which 605 mm fell during this week. The worst flooding reported was in Bay of Plenty, on the Rangitaiki Plains.

Temperatures—Temperatures were above normal by 1-2°C with highest departures in the east from Canterbury to Southern Hawke's Bay.

Sunshine—Sunshine was below normal by 30-50 hours west of the main ranges and over most of Southland. Greatest deficiencies were recorded in Northland and Auckland. The only area favoured with sunshine appreciably above normal was the Kaikoura coast with part of coastal Canterbury.

Weather Sequence—On the first 2 days of the month a large anticyclone extended across New Zealand with centres to the west of the South Island and to the north-east of the North Island, and the weather was fine.

On the 3rd a complex trough of low pressure moved on to the country associated with a depression to the west of Southland. Rain commenced in Northland and Auckland and on the West Coast. The period from the 4th to the 10th was one of particularly persistent rain over northern and eastern districts of the North Island as the northern part of the trough became stationary through Auckland to East Cape owing to the presence of a depression to the south-west of Noumea, which moved slowly towards Southland. The trough itself also eventually moved southward. Rain extended to many other districts on the 4th and 9th, and to the whole country on the 10th. Flooding was reported in Bay of Plenty, Northland, and Coromandel.

The period from the 11th to the 23rd was one of westerlies. From the 11th to the 14th pressures were high to the north. The depression over Southland deepened and moved southward. Later a second very deep depression moved towards Campbell Island. Rain affected mainly the West Coast and the Alps but extended at times to Southland and Central Otago with some light falls further to the east. Gales were reported on the 11th. Conditions deteriorated over northern districts of the North Island with rain there on the 15th and 16th as a depression passed to the north, while the westerlies still persisted in the south. From the 17th to the 23rd an anticyclone crossed the North Island while a series of deep depressions continued to pass far to the south. The distribution of rainfall was similar to that of the 11th to 14th, but there was only a little light rain in parts of the West Coast on the 19th and 20th. Gales were reported on the 17th in Manawatu and Wellington, and on the West Coast.

From the 24th to the 29th the anticyclone was centred to the east while a depression was almost stationary over the South Tasman Sea, finally crossing Southland. During this time there was some rain over all of the South Island, with light falls extending at times to Wellington, Manawatu, and Taranaki. On the 30th a small depression and its associated trough brought rain to northern districts of the North Island. On the last day of the month a ridge of high pressure extended over the country and the weather was mainly fine.
