Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Surrogate Wife by Valerie X. Scott and Herbert d'H. Lee, published by W. H. Allen and Co. Ltd., London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS book is stated to be the experiences of a girl working as a part-time "therapist" at the famed Masters and Johnson sex clinic in St. Louis, her role being to play the wife (or mistress) to men in sexual difficulties with their wives or girl friends. Her therapeutic role was a very practical one, and the book gives her stories of the nine cases she had during her time working (part-time) with the foundation. There is a good deal of frank sexual detail in the book, and it is impossible to establish the truth or otherwise of her claims to have been a part of the Masters Johnson set-up. Credibility is not strengthened by the fictionlike retelling of the various encounters. In view of the general theme of the book and the explicitness of some of the descriptions, we consider an age restriction should be placed on this book.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Run by Peter Cave, published by New English Library Ltd., London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

NOVELS dealing with the "Hell's Angels" motor bicycle gangs are almost becoming a genre in themselves, and a number have been before the Tribunal at different times. The Run is stated to be the third in a series which began with Chopper and Mama. While one expects to find a certain degree of violence in a novel on this theme, this series seems to be degenerating into violence for its own sake. The theme—conflict between rival American and British versions of Hell's Angels—is but a peg on which to string together a series of violent episodes recounted in sickening detail, occasionally spiced with the associated themes of sex and drugs.

Unlike some of the other novels with motor bicycle gangs which have been before us, no attempt is made to deal with the social background of the gangs or to try to explain some of their motivating influences. The exclusive concern with violence and the way it is presented differentiate this novel from others of its kind, and even from its predecessors in this series.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Other Woman by Jessica Simmons, published by Sphere Books Ltd., London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS is the second book by Jessica Simmons to be submitted to the Tribunal. The first, Women Without Men, was, in decision No. 353, classified with an age restriction. The present book is very similar in theme and, as was said of Women Without Men, the specific descriptions of lesbian activities make it unsuitable for young readers. The story is an unpleasant one, but in the judgment of the Tribunal would not be corrupting or degrading to mature people. The alienation of a young wife's affections by her husband's ineffectual and ignorant sexual behaviour may be less uncommon than his gradual supplantment by a lesbian partner, but this theme, in the manner in which it is handled in the book, does not provide grounds for total prohibition.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

SCHEDULE A

It should be noted that in addition to the items included in the list of goods proposed for exemption from import licensing (referred to in paragraph 1 of this notice) certain other paper items of Tariff headings 48.06 and 48.07 are included in the following Schedule. The additional items were referred to the Board in a letter from the Minister of Customs dated 25 September 1972. The attention of interested parties is drawn to the fact that the Board has already held a public hearing on 1 August 1972 affecting certain coated papers of Tariff item 48.07.059. That inquiry arose from a request that certain coated papers be determined under Tariff item 48.07.051. It will not be necessary for parties who presented evidence at the hearing on 1 August 1972 to resubmit evidence at the public hearing notified in paragraph 2 above. Parties may, however, tender supplementary evidence affecting coated papers at the forthcoming hearing.

1. In an exchange of letters associated with the New Zealand - Australia Free Trade Agreement the New Zealand Government expressed the intention of eliminating the margins by which the rates of duty applicable to certain goods imported from Australia exceed those applicable to goods imported under the same Tariff item from other countries.

2. The Minister of Overseas Trade has requested the Tariff and Development Board to make recommendations from time to time on the progressive implementation of this policy and in this regard the Board now intends to consider other articles of cutlery (excluding secateurs, butchers' cleavers and choppers) classified in the Customs Tariff as follows:

Number	Description	BP	Rates of Duty		GEN
			MFN
82.13	Other articles of cutlery (for example, secateurs, hair clippers, butchers' cleavers, paper knives); manicure and chiropody sets and appliances (including nail files):
82.13.009	Other .. .. .	22½% Aul } Can } 32½%	50%	60%

3. If no representations are received to the contrary the Board proposes to recommend that, in respect of these goods, the rate of duty applicable to imports from Australia be reduced to the level of the present British Preferential Tariff rate. Any person or firm desiring to make representations regarding the above-mentioned Tariff item should send to the under-named, not later than 1 February 1973, 14 copies of public evidence and 12 copies of any confidential evidence in the form in which it would be intended to submit under oath at a public hearing and in this connection the "Notes for Information and Guidance of Interested Parties" prepared by the Board may be of assistance. Copies of these notes may be obtained from the Board's office.

4. If public inquiries are found to be necessary in respect of this item notice to this effect will be given.

Dated at Wellington this 21st day of November 1972.

The "normal" refers to the present site of the instruments. The standard periods for normals are: for temperature 1931-60, for rainfall 1921-50, and for sunshine 1935-60. No normals are available for stations with only short records.

*The sunshine recorder is not located at the station but in the near vicinity.

A rain day is a day with rainfall equal to or greater than 0.1 mm.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR OCTOBER 1972

General—October, like September, was marked by a somewhat greater frequency of winds from a westerly quarter than usual; and it was a very windy month in many parts of the South Island. It was also a warm month, and was particularly warm and sunny in Gisborne and Hawke's Bay. In these two districts especially and in some other parts of the North Island more rain was needed. However, good rains relieved comparatively dry conditions in Northland and Canterbury. Stock were in good condition apart from some reports of bloat.

Rainfall—Rainfall was mainly above normal over the South Island and also in Northland and parts of Auckland. On the Canterbury Plains, around Christchurch, and in inland Central and North Canterbury and Buller it was above normal by more than 50 percent.

Rainfall was below normal over the remainder of the North Island and over the greater part of Otago, with some of Southland. Bay of Plenty, Gisborne, and most of Hawke's Bay had less than three-quarters of the normal value.

By far the wettest period was from the 6th to the 9th, during the passage of a slow-moving trough with associated small depressions. The rainfall at Otira for the 6th and 7th was 341 mm and for the 6th, 7th, and 8th 412 mm. Some flooding was reported especially on the West Coast and in parts of Canterbury.

Temperatures—Temperatures were mainly above normal and the departures amounted to more than 1°C in Gisborne with most of Hawke's Bay and parts of Bay of Plenty, also in parts of Marlborough and Nelson. Gisborne had its warmest October in 36 years of observation.

Sunshine—Sunshine was close to normal over the greater part of the country. However, there were some wide variations from normal. While Gisborne and Hawke's Bay besides Marlborough were favoured with 50-85 hours above normal, the West Coast with parts of Manawatu had 30-55 hours below normal. Gisborne had 285 hours but Levin had only 104 hours.

Weather Sequence—On the first day of October an anticyclone covered the eastern Tasman Sea and the North Island, with settled weather apart from some rain in South Westland and Fiordland. A trough of low pressure crossed the South Island during the 2nd and 3rd, causing rain to spread to the remainder of the West Coast, with some light falls also in some western districts of the North Island and on the Southland coast. On the following day the front crossed the North Island, bringing some light rain in the west, while the weather cleared over the South Island.

On the 5th the weather deteriorated again in the west and far south of the South Island with the approach of a slow-moving trough of low pressure from the south-west, while rain persisted in western districts of the North Island. As this trough slowly advanced over the country small depressions formed on it, and the period from the 6th to the 9th was by far the wettest of the whole month. At first the heaviest falls were in Westland, Canterbury, and Nelson with some flooding, especially on the West Coast. However, the rain was particularly welcome in Canterbury. On the 9th there were considerable falls in parts of the North Island with Northland especially benefiting. As the depression moved away to the south-east on the 10th the weather cleared over the South Island, but light rain persisted in the north.

On the 11th a very deep depression was centred near Macquarie Island and the associated trough of low pressure moved on to the South Island with rain once again on the West Coast and light falls still in the west of the North Island. During the north-eastward passage of this trough a deep depression developed east of the South Island. Rain again became general on the 12th and 13th though rather light on the east coast of the South Island. Strong gales were reported in Canterbury and Wairarapa. On the following day light rain persisted over the North Island and on the West Coast with the passage of another trough. On the 15th and 16th pressures were high to the north of the North Island and over the South Tasman Sea. Yet another trough of low pressure brought fairly general rain during its northward passage over the country. As the anticyclone over the South Tasman Sea moved slowly north-eastward the weather improved during the next 2 days but some scattered light rain was still reported. However, from the 19th to the 21st the weather was fine as the anticyclone moved slowly across the North Island.

On the 22nd a depression was centred over the South Tasman Sea and on the following day it moved on to Southland. On these days rain affected the west and south of the South Island with some light falls also in the west of the North Island. It was at this time too that "Hurricane Bebe" devastated Funafuti in the Ellice Islands. Conditions remained somewhat similar during the next two days with north-westerlies over the South Island and another trough approaching. At this time "Hurricane Bebe" devastated Fiji. General rain was reported on the 26th with the passage of yet another trough of low pressure. However, fine weather prevailed during the next 3 days as an anticyclone moved from the Tasman Sea on to the North Island.

During the last 2 days of the month pressures remained high to the north while depressions passed far to the south, and westerlies prevailed, with considerable rain in the west and far south of the South Island.
