Tariff and Development Board Notice No. 339—Inquiry Concerning Protection for the New Zealand Industry Producing the Chlorotriazine Chemicals, Simazine, Atrazine, and Propazine (Ex Tariff Item 29.35.009)

1. Following the receipt by the Minister of Customs of a report from the Emergency Protection Authority, the Minister advised the Board that, while Government has decided not to accept the Authority's recommendation to impose a temporary additional duty equal to five-sixths of the amount by which the f.o.b. value is less than $1.65 per lb on imports of atrazine and simazine from all sources except Australia, it will, pending inquiry and report by the Board, protect the local manufacture of simazine, atrazine, and propazine by the temporary re-imposition of import licensing with a "C" allocation. However, as the goods are included in Schedule A of the NAFTA they will remain exempt licensing when of Australian origin. In accordance with the provisions of the Tariff and Development Board Act, the Minister of Customs has asked the Board to undertake an inquiry and report on the form of permanent protection, if any, it considers necessary to protect New Zealand industry in relation to the importation of the chlorotriazine chemicals simazine, atrazine, and propazine in their "technical material" form, as classified within Tariff item 29.35.009.

2. The Board has already given notice in Tariff and Development Board Notice No. 328 (New Zealand Gazette, dated Thursday, 1 February 1973) of its intention to conduct a public hearing on Monday, 14 May 1973, to hear evidence on the question of protection affecting certain agricultural chemicals including all the chemicals of Tariff item 29.35.009.

3. The purpose of this notice is to inform all interested parties that evidence concerning protection affecting simazine, atrazine, and propazine will be taken at the public hearing set down for 14 May 1973.

No. 617

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Boys are Boys Again II published by Book Adventures, England.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Campbell appeared on behalf of the publishers' representative in New Zealand and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS is a book of photographs taken by the well-known youth leader Hajo Ortil. The book would retail in New Zealand at approximately $12 and is a hardback. The pictures are of nude German boys who, according to Ortil, take nudity as a matter of course, whether in the open air, in a studio, or in the gymnasium. There is an introduction to the book but no other text. The book is similar to Sons of the Sun which the Tribunal classified as not indecent in decision No. 188. The Tribunal feels that the poses of the boys in many cases are contrived, which tends to bring into question the honesty of the purpose of the book, but there is nothing harmfully suggestive in the book and the Tribunal can see no reason for the imposition of a restriction.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

No. 618-620

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the magazines Boys International, 1, 2, and 3, published by S. and H. Publications, England.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Campbell appeared on behalf of the publishers' representative in New Zealand and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THESE magazines are described as journals for nudist youth. The author and photographer is Hajo Ortil. The content of each magazine is a short story, a semi-serious article, and photographs both coloured and black-and-white of nude boys of all shapes and sizes. Most of the photographs, and there are many, are taken front on so that the emphasis, and perhaps an over-emphasis, is on the display of the penis. On the whole the photographs are naturally posed and there is no suggestion of indecent postures. In Volume 1 the semi-serious article is entitled "That myth of black sexual power", in Volume 2, "Love Life in the Pacific", in Volume 3, "Phallic Cults". The title of these magazines implies that they are designed for the younger reader and one questions the integrity of the author when he includes such articles in a magazine of this kind.

However, considering the magazines as a whole it cannot be said that they are indecent within the meaning of the Act and it is questionable whether a restriction is necessary or would be of any advantage.

The Tribunal classifies these magazines as not indecent.

No. 621

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Fanny Hill's Cook Book by L. H. Braun and William Adams, published by the Odyssey Press, London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publishers' representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS is an attractively produced book of 138 pages and 70 recipes. It is obviously intended to excite and provoke the satisfaction of appetites that are not exclusively alimentary. The idea it uses is not new and it is not the culinary art that is its central theme. In fact it seems more appropriate for the bedroom shelf than the kitchen.

The recipes are named, introduced, and, in some cases, prescribed, with varying degrees of suggestiveness. The line drawings intended to illustrate the text are almost all of the nude female figure in a variety of poses and while many are provocative they could not be classed as pornographic.

Although the double-talk in the recipes is sophisticated, sometimes amusing, and often coarse and vulgar, it is not, in our judgment, likely to corrupt. The recipes themselves appear genuine and we see no grounds for restricting the availability of this book to mature readers. While it is not a book which one would deliberately wish to place in the hands of young adolescents, we cannot see it doing harm to those of an age to understand it.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

No. 622

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Sex Book by Martin Goldstein and E. J. Haebrle, published by Herder and Herder Inc., New York.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Campbell appeared on behalf of the publishers' representative in New Zealand and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS publication, which we were told would retail in New Zealand at around $11, has been described as a show-and-tell encyclopaedia of sex. The text is objective and explicit. It does of course identify and define terms relating to sexual activities which are not socially or legally acceptable in New Zealand, but it does so in an informative, unemotional, and restrained manner which makes it comprehensive without any suggestion of obscenity.

The emphasis of a few of the illustrations, however, may, in the New Zealand setting, appear to go beyond the purpose of the book. These few illustrations, looked at out of the context in which they appear, might be judged indecent, and if set out on public display would undoubtedly offend. This factor led us to consider whether some age restriction was desirable, but we have decided against this. Similar illustrations can be seen in some medical works, and looked at as a whole the book cannot be judged as likely to corrupt.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.
