No. 623-625

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for decisions in respect of the following books: Adequate Male by Rick Spencer, published by Spartan Line Novels, U.S.A., Her Lust Ambitions by Peter Frisley, published by Royal Line Novels, U.S.A., Lend a Lover by Owen Mallen, published by Compass Line Novels, U.S.A.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Downey, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publishers' representative in New Zealand and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THESE three paperback novels use a very thin story-line to retail what amounts to a repetitious series of sexual encounters, told in explicit detail, with the principal emphasis on mate-swapping. There is no development of the "characters", the books possess no literary merit or social significance, nor is there any evidence of honesty of purpose.

The Tribunal classifies these three books as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

No. 626-627

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Waverley Publishing Co., for decisions in respect of the following books: Oral—The Intimate Kiss by Adina Yurana, published by Howard Publications, Sydney, The Permissive Society, anonymous, published by Howard Publications, Sydney.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THESE two picture books have brief preliminary texts aimed at whetting the appetite for the sequences of photographs of sexual activity which follow. Both books appeal to prurient lingering on sexual behaviour and have nothing else to offer, despite the gestures towards informative purposes contained in the texts.

The Tribunal classifies these books as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

No. 628

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Sensuous Child by "P", published by Lyle Stuart Incorporated, New York.

Mr Bathgate appeared on behalf of the applicant. There was no appearance of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. No submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

LYLE STUART INCORPORATED of New York is responsible for the publishing of The Sensuous Woman by "J" classified by the Tribunal in decision No. 221 as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. This was followed by The Sensuous Man by "M" classified in like manner by decision No. 392. And now "P", who claims to be a young boy, writes about The Sensuous Child for the edifications of his contemporaries. The book is written in a flippant and supercilious style and has no sex educational value. Its content is slight and one has doubts as to the honesty of purpose of the book. In the view of the Tribunal the book has no literary merit or social purpose and taking into consideration the matters referred to in section 11 (1) of the Act, the Tribunal is of the opinion that it would be injurious to the public good to allow this book to be freely available.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

No. 629

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Room by Hubert Selby Jr., published by Calder and Boyars Ltd., London.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Culliford appeared on behalf of the publisher's representative in New Zealand and made submissions. A written submission was made by Wytan Curnow.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS is a complex and difficult novel about a prisoner's ordeal as he awaits trial on some unspecified charge. He peoples his cell with figures of authority on whom to vent his rage and hatred in imaginings of fierce violence. In places these imaginings are as repulsive as some of the material in Selby's earlier novel Last Exit to Brooklyn. The Tribunal considers that the restriction placed on that book in decision No. 281 is also an appropriate classification for this book in this edition. The Tribunal noted in that earlier decision that Selby's work was being accorded serious attention in contemporary literature, and reviews of this later book in such journals as The Times Literary Supplement confirm this. The Tribunal considers that adults should be able to read the novel.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

1. Following receipt by the Minister of Customs of a report from the Emergency Protection Authority in which the Authority recommended that a temporary additional duty of $10 per 100 lb be imposed on imports of fish preparations of Tariff item 16.04.009 from all sources except Australia and South Africa, and that a temporary additional duty of $10 per 100 lb be imposed on the goods of Tariff item 16.04.019 when imported from all sources except Australia, South Africa, and developing countries, Government has decided to impose the additional duty recommended in both cases on imports of the goods from all sources except Australia. The temporary additional duties were imposed on the fish preparations of Tariff item 16.04.009 with effect from 6 October 1972 and on the goods of Tariff item 16.04.019 with effect from 2 February 1973. In accordance with the provisions of the Tariff and Development Board Act, the Minister of Customs has asked the Board to undertake an inquiry and report on the nature and degree of protection, if any, it considers necessary to protect the New Zealand industry against imports of fish preparations classified in Tariff item 16.04.009 and fish preserved in airtight containers classified in Tariff item 16.04.019. In addition, and acting on a suggestion by the Emergency Protection Authority, the Minister has also asked the Board to include preparations of crustaceans and molluscs of Tariff item 16.05.009 in the terms of reference for the inquiry.

2. In terms of the above reference the Board will, in accordance with its normal procedures, conduct a public hearing for the purpose of taking evidence, commencing at 10.30 a.m., on Tuesday, 21 August 1973, in the Hearing Room, Eighth Floor, Cumberland House, Upper Willis Street, Wellington. Full details of the goods included in the inquiry are set out in Schedule to this notice.

3. Parties intending to make representations or requests about appropriate rates of customs duty are asked to take into account the statement by the Minister of Overseas Trade, of 6 September 1972, about changes in the New Zealand Customs Tariff. Copies of this statement can be obtained from the undersigned. Parties intending to make representations or requests about the exemption from import licensing of goods at present not so exempt are asked to take into account the statement in the 1972 Financial Statement (page 19) that "the Government has also decided that where the industry is to be exempted from import licensing there should be provision in appropriate cases for a phase-out period which in general will be for up to three years."

4. Any person who intends to tender evidence should lodge, in typewritten form, 14 copies of public evidence and 12 copies of confidential evidence, to be presented under oath at the public hearing at the Board's office no later than Tuesday, 31 July 1973. In preparing this evidence the "Notes for Information and Guidance of Interested Parties" prepared by the Board may be of assistance. Copies of these notes may be obtained from the Board's office.

The 'normal' refers to the present site of the instruments. Standard periods for normals are: Temperature 1931-60, Rainfall 1921-50, Sunshine 1935-60. No normals are available for stations with only short records.

*Indicates that the sunshine recorder is not located at the station but is in the near vicinity.

A rain day is a day with rainfall equal to or greater than 0.1 mm.

Where the extremes of temperature and rainfall have occurred more than once during the month, the date of the first occurrence is given.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR FEBRUARY 1973

General—Pressures were unusually high over New Zealand in February, and this was one of the driest months on record, besides being sunny and warm with some exceptionally high temperatures. January had also been dry, and the greater part of the country made little pasture growth during February. Drought conditions became fairly general.

Rainfall—Over the whole country rainfall was only a quarter of the normal value. Negligible amounts of less than a tenth of the normal were recorded over about half the North Island, mainly in western districts; also in many inland districts of the South Island, in Nelson and most of Marlborough, and in coastal North Otago.

In the North Island this month was not as dry as January 1908.

The only areas with rainfall about normal were Fiordland, with Stewart Island and parts of South Westland, where nearly all the rain fell in the first 10 days; and also some of Gisborne and Northern Hawke's Bay.

Temperatures—Temperatures were mainly above normal by up to 3°C, with highest departures over inland South Island districts and the Canterbury Plains. It was very warm east of the ranges from the 4th to the 7th. Until this time the record high temperature for New Zealand was 38°C. However, on the 7th most stations in Canterbury exceeded this value, and a new record of 42°C was established at Christchurch, Rangiora, and Jordan, in the Awatere Valley of Marlborough. New station records were also established in parts of Marlborough, Nelson, and Hawke's Bay.

Sunshine—Sunshine was mainly 30-70 hours above normal. Records were broken at Auckland with 267 hours and Nelson with 281 hours. However, sunshine was only about normal in eastern Bay of Plenty with Gisborne and Hawke's Bay, and also in parts of Otago and Southland.

Weather Sequence—The first 10 days of February were marked by westerly weather with considerable rain in Fiordland and south Westland, and some rain also at times in Southland, the remainder of the West Coast, and Manawatu. This period was also marked by warm temperatures in eastern districts. During the first 2 days an anticyclone was centred near the Chatham Islands and a depression south of Macquarie Island, while a trough of low pressure crossed the South Island. Conditions remained very similar on the 3rd and 4th except that a small centre of high pressure was now also situated just west of Northland.

During the next 3 days another depression near Macquarie Island moved eastward and further troughs crossed the South Island. The 7th was marked by exceptionally high temperatures east of the ranges. On the following day a trough brought southerlies and cooler temperatures with showers in the Gisborne ranges. By the 9th an anticyclone covered the North Island and extended well to the east, and pressures were still low near Macquarie Island. On this and the following day a few showers extended to Bay of Plenty.

During the 11th and 12th a trough of low pressure brought a southerly change with rain in most eastern districts. For the remaining 16 days of the month pressures were unusually high over New Zealand and the weather was for the most part sunny and dry. However, Gisborne and parts of Hawke's Bay benefited from appreciable rain at times in the south-easterlies, especially on the 16th, 17th, 22nd, and 26th. A small depression brought rain to most of Northland on the 22nd.
