No. 742

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Super Star, by Viva, published by Lancer Books, New York.

Mr Bathgate appeared on behalf of the applicant but did not make submissions. Mr Taylor, the New Zealand distributor appeared and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

Super Star is a fact-fiction autobiographical account of a young American girl's rise to stardom in the underground movie world and of her introduction to the associated life-style of drug taking and easy sex. While Viva accommodates herself to the hip pop-culture, she does not fully accept the values. Toward the end of the book she is accused of sounding like the typical American housewife, when she cross-examines her husband about his infidelities.

Viva's early life is recounted in a manner which suggests drug-induced hallucinations and her experiences in the underground movie world in the style of verbatim recording of conversations between people. The style of writing is extremely disconcerting and in some parts, the book is extremely difficult to read. In order to follow the story a great deal of concentration is required and this is likely to limit its appeal.

There is an emphasis upon sexual activities and these are described in language likely to be considered offensive by some. Nevertheless, the book does offer a glimpse of a particular life-style and the Tribunal is not disposed to reject it completely.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

25 October 1973.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

No. 743-744

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of a reference to the Tribunal under section 12 (1) of the said Act by the Magistrate's Court at Wellington for a decision and report in terms of the said section in respect of the publications Sexual Freedom, Issue 10, published by the San Francisco Sexual Freedom League, and Kiss, Vol. 4, No. 6, published by Far Out Enterprises, New York.

Mr Taylor, a party to the Court proceedings appeared and made submissions.

DECISION AND REPORT

These two publications are in newspaper format but come within the definition of "book" under the Indecent Publications Act, and therefore are within the Tribunal's jurisdiction.

Both are published in the United States and are frankly pornographic. The illustrations, the articles, and the advertisements are, almost without exception, indecent within the meaning of the Act.

The Tribunal classifies them as indecent.

25 October 1973.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

Nos. 745-747

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the magazines OUI, Vol. 2, Nos. 5, 6, and 7, May, June, and July, published by Playboy Publications Inc., U.S.A.

Mr Howley appeared on behalf of the applicant and made submissions. Mr Heron, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the New Zealand distributors and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

This comparatively new magazine has close commercial links with Playboy and comparison with both Playboy and Penthouse is an obvious approach in assessing these issues. In considering several issues of those well-known international magazines for men the Tribunal has had to weigh the purpose and effect of a variety of material and judge each issue as a whole. The same considerations apply with OUI.

In these three issues, aggressive treatment of sexual matters is accompanied by articles and features on other subjects. These go some way—but not very far—towards justifying the claim in the publisher's statement supplied to the Tribunal that OUI appeals to the new generation of college-educated young American man "intensely interested in the world around him". The interest in contemporary affairs shown in the magazine is very limited and lightweight. The dominant concern, in the cartoons, the text (including some of the letters and the snippets about bizarre sexual phenomena), and the illustrations, is with presenting sex for entertainment and amusement. The explicitness of some of this material, and the indulgent tone with which extreme and perverted manifestations of sexual interest are allowed for, make these issues clearly unsuitable for younger readers and marginal for adults.

The May and June issues, taken as a whole in each case, may be allowed to circulate among adult readers. The July issue, however, has an 11-page section in which sexual perversions are presented and opportunities for their practice publicised. This material is so blatant in its glamorising of this behaviour that the issue as a whole is carried beyond what we judge to be acceptable in this community.

The Tribunal classifies the May 1973 and June 1973 issues of OUI as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

The Tribunal classifies the July 1973 issue of OUI as indecent.

25 October 1973.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

No. 748

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Sultan Savagery, Anonymous, published by Kanon Publishing, Australia.

Mr Bathgate appeared on behalf of the applicant and made submissions. Mr Henderson, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the New Zealand distributors and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

This book consists entirely of full-page photographs of what the cover describes as the life of a sultan and his seraglio. In the hands of most readers the book would provoke only ridicule of the tawdriness of its attempt to exploit sex. Because there may be readers, especially younger ones, for whom the artificiality and banality of the scenes might not displace any prurient effect, an age restriction is called for.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

25 October 1973.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

No. 749

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by D. S. G. Deacon, Esq., for a decision in respect of the sound recording The "R" Certificate Song Book, produced by Brendon Hanley.

Mr Deacon the applicant appeared and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

This recording was described by Dr L. Cleveland, senior lecturer at Victoria University of Wellington and a member of New Zealand Folk-lore Society, who gave evidence for the applicant, as containing much well-known material from the repertoire of bawdy ballads chiefly associated with the revelries of sporting and service groups. His view was that the comic gusto of the presentation of sex in the songs was not likely to be injurious the vigorous but sophisticated style of the songs being coupled with a toning down of the language, and some changes in the musical arrangements from the versions most familiar to those for whom this oral literature has been part of life.

The emphasis placed by Mr Deacon in his submissions on the appeal of the recording to older people, particularly those with a nostalgic or objective interest in the material, might have led the Tribunal to allow the recording to circulate without restriction and so find its natural audience. The title and the warning about sale on the jacket, however, draw attention to the songs in a way that can only appeal to younger listeners to seek in them occasion for suggestive self-expression. The Tribunal has had to reckon with this emphasis as well as that argued by Mr Deacon and has concluded that an age restriction is the appropriate classification.

The Tribunal classifies this recording as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

25 October 1973.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

Nos. 750-755

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of a reference to the Tribunal under section 12 (1) of the said Act, by the Magistrate's Court at Auckland for a decision and report in terms of the said section in respect of the following books: Adultery in America Today, by Linda Norton; Early Sex Experiences, Anonymous; The Seductive Female, by David A. Tembley, all published by Cameo Library Inc., California; The City, The Family and the Sexual Web, by Andrew MacInnes; Marriage and the Sexual Kiss, by Adrian Y. Meadows, both published by Brandon Books, California; and Women and Their Boys, by Sue Felton, published by Copley Square Press, California.

Mr Neazor, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the Commissioner of Police and made submissions. There was no appearance on behalf of the defendant in the Court proceedings.

DECISION AND REPORT

Adultery In America TodayEarly Sex ExperiencesThe Seductive Female

In decisions Nos. 596-8 the Tribunal classified as indecent three other books published in the Cameo Sex Reality and Sex Behaviour series to which these three now before the Tribunal belong. The analysis made in those decisions of the offensive character of those casebooks applies with equal force to these further examples of the two series. They show no honesty of purpose. The books are simply compilations of sexual experiences offered for titillation, with a superficial claim to be studying the material that in no way offsets the emphasis on the material reported.

The Tribunal classifies these three books as indecent.

The City, The Family and the Sexual WebMarriage and the Sexual Kiss

These books are case histories of sexual experiences to which the remarks made in decisions Nos. 514-6 on closely comparable works from the same publisher can be applied.

The books are gross attempts to exploit debased interest in sexual behaviour.

The Tribunal classifies these two books as indecent.

Women and Their Boys

As well as the usual recital of sexual exploits with some trivial commentary this book of case histories has a section of advertisements for other texts from the same publisher which emphasise the blatantly pornographic nature of the publication. It is particularly coarse in its language and altogether indecent.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

Poultry Entitlement Levy—Determination of Nature and Incidence (No. 590 Ag. 20210)

PURSUANT to regulation 75B of the Egg Marketing Authority Regulations 1953, as added by regulation 15 of the Egg Marketing Authority Regulations 1953, Amendment No. 11, the Egg Marketing Authority gives notice of the nature and incidence of the entitlement levy which it has determined, as follows:

Assessment of levy—

- (a) A fixed levy of 30c per annum in respect of each laying bird authorised to be kept pursuant to an entitlement licence during the year ended on 30 June 1973 and during each succeeding year; provided that in respect of each laying bird authorised to be kept for any period of less than any such year the levy shall be reduced in proportion to that period.
- (b) A variable levy, commencing on 30 October 1972, in respect of each laying bird authorised to be kept pursuant to an entitlement licence during any statistical period when levies on eggs ("floor downpayments"), approved under regulation 65 (2) of the Egg Marketing Authority Regulations 1953, are being deducted from the proceeds of eggs consigned to licensed distributors for sale; the rate of variable levy for any statistical period being 15 times the rate of "floor downpayment" per dozen eggs for that period divided by 12; for this purpose "statistical period" means any one of 12 periods, each of either 4 or 5 weeks, into which each year is divided by the Authority for statistical and accounting purposes; provided that in respect of each laying bird authorised to be kept during part of any statistical period the rate of variable levy shall be reduced in proportion to that part.
- (c) The fixed levy (a) and the variable levy (b) shall both apply in respect of 80 percent only of the maximum number of laying birds which any person is authorised by an entitlement licence to keep during the periods in respect of which the levies are payable.
- (d) Levies assessed and payable under (a), (b), and (c) in relation to each laying bird authorised to be kept during the year ended 30 June 1973 shall not exceed 52.56c.
- (e) The manner of assessing levies payable set out in (a), (b), and (c) above shall have continuing effect until any variation thereof shall have been determined and approved in the manner prescribed by regulation 75B (2), provided that the total amount of fixed and variable levies imposed in any year ending on 30 June shall not exceed $1 in relation to each bird authorised to be kept under an entitlement licence.

Payment of Levy—

- (f) Levies assessed and payable as above shall be debited in the books of the Authority to the accounts of the entitlement holders concerned.
- (g) Debits for the fixed levy charged to each account during the 2 years ending 30 June 1974 shall be totalled; amounts of chick levy charged to the entitlement holder concerned, pursuant to regulation 16 of the Egg Marketing Authority Regulations 1953, for the same period shall also be totalled, and if the total charged for chick levy equals or exceeds the total charged for fixed levy no fixed levy shall be due; the amount by which the total of fixed levy exceeds the total of chick levy shall be paid to the Authority by the entitlement holder not later than 30 September 1974; the same procedure shall apply in respect of the 2 years ending 30 June in 1976 and every second year thereafter; provided that on the revocation of an entitlement licence any balance of fixed levy payable by the holder shall be determined as at the date of revocation in accordance with the above procedure and such balance shall be paid to the Authority not later than 3 months thereafter.

- (h) Debits for the variable levy charged to each account during the period from 30 October 1972 to 30 June 1973 shall be totalled; amounts of "floor downpayments" deducted from the proceeds of eggs consigned during that period by the entitlement holder concerned to a licensed distributor for sale shall also be totalled, and if the total of such "floor downpayments" equals or exceeds the total charged for variable levy no variable levy shall be due; the amount by which the total of variable levy exceeds the total of "floor downpayments" shall be paid to the Authority by the entitlement holder not later than 30 November 1973; the same procedure shall apply in respect of the year ending 30 June in 1974 and every year thereafter, except that the balance of variable levy due at 30 June shall be paid to the Authority not later than 30 September next following; provided that on the revocation of an entitlement licence any balance of variable levy payable by the holder shall be determined as at the date of the revocation in accordance with the above procedure and such balance shall be paid to the Authority not later than 3 months thereafter.

The "normal" refers to the present site of the instruments. Standard periods for normals are: Temperature 1931-60, Rainfall 1941-70, Sunshine 1935-60. No normals are available for stations with only short records. This is the first month for which rainfall normals for the period 1941-70 have been used.

*Indicates that the sunshine recorder is not located at the station but is in the near vicinity.

A rain day is a day with rainfall equal to or greater than 0.1 mm.

Where the extremes of temperature and rainfall have occurred more than once during the month, the date of the first occurrence is given.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR SEPTEMBER 1973

General—September was warmer than usual. Farmers found the mild weather to their liking; and in many areas growth was reported to be good. However, in the North Island more sun would have been appreciated for the health of animals, while in parts of Canterbury more rain was needed.

Rainfall—In the North Island rainfall was mainly above normal. In Coromandel and parts of Bay of Plenty and Central Hawke's Bay it was more than double the normal value. The heaviest rain over the North Island was from the 16th to the 18th, causing flooding in Ohura, King Country.

In the South Island rainfall was mainly below normal. Over the greater part of Canterbury with parts of Marlborough and Otago it was less than half the normal value.

Temperatures—Temperatures were above normal, mainly by 1° to 1.5°C. The warmest period was the last 5 days of the month; and the coldest period was from the 6th to the 9th, with snow on the ranges and parts of the South Island high country.

Sunshine—Sunshine was 20-60 hours below normal in northern and some western districts of the North Island and about Wellington, with particularly low values in the Rotorua-Taupo area. Elsewhere it was mainly about normal, but parts of the West Coast with the Alps and the Southern Lakes district were favoured with 20 hours above normal.

Weather Sequence—At the beginning of September a depression centred off the South Canterbury coast was moving north-eastward while pressures were high to the north. Rain affected mainly northern districts of the North Island besides Wellington and Canterbury, but there were light falls in many other areas. Conditions improved on the 2nd but showers were still reported, especially in eastern districts. On the following 2 days a deep depression south of Macquarie Island moved eastward and the associated trough of low pressure crossed New Zealand. Rain affected most of the North Island and western districts of the South Island. During the 5th and 6th another very deep depression was passing far to the south while a smaller disturbance crossed Northland. Rain was still reported in northern and western districts of the North Island and in western districts of the South Island, also in Southland. A change to southerlies on the following day brought fairly general rain, except in parts of Canterbury, Otago, and Fiordland. Temperatures became colder with snow on the ranges of both islands. Cold south-westerly conditions prevailed on the 8th and 9th with showers in some districts, especially around Auckland.

During the 10th and 11th a depression passed to the south and its associated trough crossed the South Island. Rain was reported on the West Coast with showers in western districts of the North Island and in Otago and Southland. On the following day an anticyclone was centred close to Northland and the weather was fair apart from a few showers in the south-westerlies. There was another period of westerlies from the 13th to the 15th with a belt of high pressure to the north of the country and depressions passing to the south, while their associated troughs moved over New Zealand. Some rain was reported west of the ranges from Hamilton southward and temperatures were warm, especially in eastern districts.

A trough of low pressure became stationary over the North Island with the formation of a small depression on the 16th, while an anticyclone moved on to the South Island. From this date to the 19th was the wettest period of the month in the North Island with some considerable amounts of rain causing serious flooding in Ohura, King Country. Northern districts of the South Island also received some rain at times. During the next 3 days two small depressions moved across the country. Rain became fairly general, except in eastern districts of the North Island, but lighter.

From the 23rd to the 25th an anticyclone, centred to the east, extended over and to the west of the South Island, while a small depression crossed Northland and moved across the coast of the Bay of Plenty. Rain affected northern and some eastern districts of the North Island. On the 26th fine weather was fairly general temporarily, but during the next 3 days another depression passed to the north-east of Auckland, bringing rain to most northern districts of the North Island, besides Gisborne and most of Hawke's Bay. Temperatures became much warmer from the 26th. On the last day of the month a deep depression passed far to the south and the associated trough of low pressure was approaching New Zealand from the west. Rain was reported on the West Coast besides Southland and coastal Otago, while temperatures remained warm.

Copies of these statements can be obtained from the undersigned. In a letter dated 6 April 1973 the Minister of Trade and Industry indicated that, while Government had asked the Board to consider the question of a single tariff rate, for trade policy reasons the Board's recommendations on this aspect would not necessarily be made public for the time being.

4. The attention of interested parties is drawn to the fact that the Board may find it appropriate to comment upon and compare the relative merits of protection by means of tariff rates and import licensing when used jointly or separately.

Tariff and Development Board Notice No. 381—Inquiry Concerning Protection for New Zealand Industry Producing Continuous Filament Polyester Yarn—Public Hearing

1. In a letter of 6 September 1972, the Minister of Customs informed the Board that Government had accepted the Board's recommendations in its Report No. 189 and the Tariff provisions set out in the Schedule to this notice became effective on 8 September 1972. The Board had also recommended that a further inquiry be undertaken in 1974 and the Minister agreed, in view of the Board's comments regarding the current world market and marketing conditions, that a further inquiry should be held at that time. Accordingly, the Minister requested the Board to undertake in 1974 an inquiry and report as to the nature and extent of the protection, if any, it considers necessary for the New Zealand industry manufacturing continuous filament polyester yarn not bulked, stretch or texturised classified in Tariff items 51.01.033, 51.01.035, 51.01.036, and 51.01.038, the Tariff provisions for which are set out in the Schedule to this notice.

2. For the purpose of taking evidence the Board will hold a public hearing in the Hearing Room, Eighth Floor, Cumberland House, Upper Willis Street, Wellington, on Tuesday, 9 July 1974, commencing at 10.30 a.m.

3. Parties intending to make representations or requests about appropriate rates of customs duty are asked to take into account the statement of 7 May 1973 by the Minister of Overseas Trade on the phasing out of British preferences from the New Zealand Tariff, the statement of 7 May 1973 by the Minister of Trade and Industry on the interim New Zealand - Australia Trade Agreement 1973 and the statement of 27 July 1973 by the Minister of Overseas Trade on the New Zealand - Canada Trade Agreement 1973. Copies of these statements can be obtained from the undersigned. In a letter dated 6 April 1973 the Minister of Trade and Industry indicated that, while Government had asked the Board to consider the question of a single tariff rate, for trade policy reasons the Board's recommendations on this aspect would not necessarily be made public for the time being.

4. Any person who intends to tender evidence should lodge, in typewritten form, 14 copies of public evidence and 12 copies of confidential evidence, to be presented under oath at the public hearing, at the Board's office no later than Monday, 10 June 1974. In preparing this evidence the "Notes for Information and Guidance of Interested Parties" prepared by the Board may be of assistance. Copies of these notes may be obtained from the Board's office.

5. In any instance where no evidence is received in respect of any goods classified within a particular Tariff item the Board may recommend that no protective rates of duty be applied to those goods.

Dated at Wellington this 30th day of October 1973.

NOTES TO THE ACCOUNTS

1. Book values of New Zealand Government and local authority securities which were purchased at a discount or a premium, are being amortised annually so as to attain their redemption values by maturity date.

2. The New Zealand Government and local authority securities are all redeemable at par at fixed dates. Whilst in the ordinary course of business, some realisation of the bank's investment in these securities may prove advantageous at prices less than book values shown, it is the opinion of the directors that existing reserves would be more than adequate to cover any contingency that may arise.

3. Commencing with the year ended 30 June 1973 the difference between the book value and proceeds on realisation of New Zealand Government and local authority securities is taken to Profit and Loss Account in equal annual instalments over a period of 5 years commencing with the year in which they arise.
