The "normal" refers to the present site of the instruments. Standard periods for normals are: Temperature 1931-60, Rainfall 1941-70, Sunshine 1935-60. No normals are available for stations with only short records.

*Indicates that the sunshine recorder is not located at the station but is in the near vicinity.

A rain day is a day with rainfall equal to or greater than 0.1 mm.

Where the extremes of temperature and rainfall have occurred more than once during the month, the date of the first occurrence is given.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR FEBRUARY 1974

General—There was an unusually high frequency of north-easterlies in February. It was a very warm month, especially in the north, besides being very cloudy in Canterbury and Otago. The dry weather of January continued into the first half of February, with drought conditions developing in some areas. Good rains in the second half brought some relief to most districts but they were inadequate in parts of the North Island, where drought persisted in places. In the south it was a good month for growth but rather poor for harvesting and haymaking.

Rainfall—Rainfall was above normal over nearly the whole of the South Island, also around the Bay of Islands and in most of Bay of Plenty. These two areas received heavy rain from the 22nd to the 24th, causing some flooding. Kaikohe's rainfall for the 22nd was 125 mm and for the 23rd 114 mm. Over the greater part of the North Island rainfall was below normal by 30-70 percent.

Temperatures—Temperatures were above normal by 2 to 4 degrees C in the North Island and by 1 to 2 degrees in the South Island. Over the northern half of the North Island west of the main ranges it was the warmest of any month in up to a century of observations. In this area the previous warmest month was generally February 1955.

Sunshine—In the South Island sunshine was below normal by 20-80 hours, with the greatest deficiencies in Canterbury and Otago. The totals of 112 hours at Christchurch, 104 hours at Ashburton, and 96 hours at Dunedin were all record low values for February. In the North Island sunshine was mainly close to normal.

Weather Sequence—During the first two days of February an anticyclone moved eastward across the country with settled weather. From the 3rd to the 5th a shallow depression crossed the South Island while the associated trough of low pressure moved over the country. The weather was warm with light to moderate rain, fairly general about as far north as Hamilton. On the 6th the weather was fine again during the passage of a small anticyclone across the South Island.

From the 7th to the 9th a depression over the Tasman Sea which had originated as a tropical cyclone crossed the South Island. Rain was reported mainly on the West Coast and in Otago and Southland. During the next three days an anticyclone moved eastward over the South Island. The weather was mainly fine apart from some rain in Hawke's Bay on the 11th.

From the 13th to the 18th a trough of low pressure moved slowly north-eastward over the country accompanied by considerable welcome rain in most districts south of Hamilton. There was also a change from warm to cooler temperatures on the 15th and 16th. On the 19th the weather was mainly fine under the influence of a ridge of high pressure.

From the 20th to the 22nd a depression was almost stationary over the Tasman Sea while an associated warm front moved southward over the South Island. Rain affected especially Canterbury and Westland with scattered light falls elsewhere. During the next two days the main trough of low pressure associated with the depression moved eastward across the North Island, with considerable rain there and scattered falls still in the south.

On the 25th and 26th an anticyclone over the South Tasman Sea moved on to the country and the weather was mainly fine. However, during the last two days of the month pressures were low to the east and a cold front crossed New Zealand bringing rain to most of the South Island besides Wellington, Wairarapa and Manawatu.

THE WRIGHTSON NMA LIMITED (TRANSFER OF INCORPORATION) BILL

NOTICE OF PRIVATE BILL

WRIGHTSON NMA LIMITED (hereinafter referred to as "the Company") hereby gives notice that it intends to apply for leave to bring in the above-mentioned Private Bill during the current session of Parliament.

The object of the Bill is to enable the Company to become a company deemed to be incorporated in New Zealand under the Companies Act 1955.

The Company was incorporated in the United Kingdom on 3 May 1877, under the Companies Act 1862 of the United Kingdom, by the name of National Mortgage and Agency Company of New Zealand Limited, and the name of the Company was changed to that which it now bears, on 1 July 1972.

The Company is now a wholly-owned subsidiary company of Challenge Corporation Limited, a limited liability company incorporated in New Zealand under the name of Wright Stephenson and Co. Limited, having its registered office at Challenge House, 105-109 The Terrace, Wellington.

Having regard to the fact that the Company is now a wholly-owned subsidiary of a New Zealand company and having regard to the fact that the area of operation of the Company is wholly in New Zealand, it is considered expedient and advantageous to the Company and its holding company if the Company were deemed to be incorporated under the laws of New Zealand instead of the laws of England. As no procedure exists whereby the registration of a company which has been incorporated in the United Kingdom can be transferred to New Zealand such transfer can only be accomplished by simultaneous and mutually supplemental legislation in the Parliaments of the United Kingdom and New Zealand respectively.

A Bill has been introduced into the Parliament of the United Kingdom for the purpose of enabling the Company to transfer its registered office from England to New Zealand and for the cesser of application to the Company of provisions of the Companies Acts 1948 to 1967 of the United Kingdom.

The Bill now being promoted is designed to enable the Company to become a company deemed to be incorporated in New Zealand, under the Companies Act 1955, and for other purposes incidental thereto.
