Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the comics XYZ Comics by Rand Holmes and Jim Jones, published by Georgia Straight, Vancouver, and White Lunch Comix No. 1 by R. Crumb, published by Krupp Comic Works, Wisconsin.

Mr Fligg appeared on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs and made submissions. Mr Suggate, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the importer and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

DECISIONS No. 767-786, N.Z. Gazette of 10 January 1974, p. 19 deal with several comics which are similar in format and content to the two comics which are the subject of this decision.

Section 11 (3) of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, which was cited in those decisions, but wrongly printed as section 2 (3), bears repetition:

"When the Tribunal decides that any picture story book likely to be read by children is indecent in the hands of children under a specified age that picture story book shall be deemed to be indecent in the hands of all persons."

The comic White Lunch states on the cover "sale to minors strictly verboten." We agree with this self-imposed classification. Both comics, in the opinion of the Tribunal, are likely to have a damaging and corrupting influence upon children.

Accordingly the Tribunal is required by the Act to classify these two comic books as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Waverley Publishing Co. Ltd. for a decision in respect of the magazine QQ Magazine, Vol. 3, No. 2, April 1971, published by QQ Publishing Co. Ltd., New York.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of a representative in New Zealand of the publisher. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

QQ is a magazine for homosexuals, the basic character of which is summed up in the caption—"For Gay Guys who have no hangups"—which appears in bold print on the cover.

Comprising a series of articles, book reviews, cartoon strips, photographs and advertisements, this magazine provides information and advice on a variety of matters of interest almost exclusively to the homosexual fraternity. Overtones of sexuality prevail throughout.

Two of the articles are no more than tour guides, dwelling upon and highlighting homosexual meeting places etc., and an article ostensibly about the theatre presents a highly glamourised description of the male ballet-dancer in tones which are overtly sexual. Certain well-known personalities are cited as belonging to the homosexual fraternity. In the context of this magazine, the photographs of nude and semi-nude males are designed to titillate the reader while a two page cartoon strip is similar in nature to the comics which the Tribunal declared indecent in decisions 767-786.

This magazine is without any literary or social merit, the dominant effect being the presentation of homosexuality in a manner injurious to the public good.

The Tribunal classifies this magazine as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Waverley Publishing Co. Ltd. for decisions in respect of the publications Rally Girl, No. 1, 2, and 3, published by Reed Publishing Co. Ltd., California.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of a representative in New Zealand of the publisher. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THESE three issues of a "Girlie" type magazine endeavour to exploit to quite absurd lengths the association between the allure of the female form and the lines of sleek fast cars which has come to be a characteristic of the Earl's Court Motor Show in London. The photographs are of little (if any) artistic merit and the nude poses are contrived to a degree that becomes tedious.

The Tribunal has in a number of decisions drawn attention to the inherent difficulties in applying consistent standards of classification to publications devoted to the portrayal of the naked human form. The first major attempt at defining standards for classifying publications of this kind was made on 15 July 1968 in what has come to be known as the "Waverley decisions", since numbered 93-103.

In its decision on that occasion, the Tribunal said:

"Nude photographs may no doubt be used in an attempt to corrupt young people. But so may Old Masters or pictures of famous statuary or even Holy Writ. We question whether some of the photographs which have come under our notice provide the would be seducer with very much assistance. It is the spot lighting of the unfamiliar nude form that gives reproductions of photographs any special attraction they may have for the curious. If pleasant and un-retouched nude pictures were as common in the community as it appears they are in the nudist clubs, then it is likely that their production would be greeted with no more unseemly excitement than it is there."

That was said six years ago and since then the classifications into three categories depending on the degree of naturalness on the one hand or continued artificiality or provocativeness on the other, has been adopted in a number of decisions. Reference is made to examples in decisions No. 157, 158, 265-280, 373, 387-389, 397-405, 446-448, 568, 592, 639-641, and 728. A study of the publications covered by these decisions shows, it is submitted, that there is now fairly general agreement in our society that nakedness per se is not necessarily obscene. And there is evidence of a healthier and more wholesome attitude developing as the portrayal of the naked form becomes less subject to social taboos, and more acceptable.

In 1968, the three magazines, the subject of the present reference to the Tribunal, would probably have been classified in the second category of the Waverley decisions. Many of the photographs are posed, unnatural, and contrived. And in that category an age restriction would have been imposed.

But the question the Tribunal must try to find the answer to is whether, in 1974, the free circulation of these magazines will tend to corrupt. News stands throughout the country display magazines containing photographs that are as revealing as any of these. And there is no evidence that corrupting influences have any greater potency from this than they had in communities where women were kept in purdah or where female ankles had to be kept concealed in voluminous skirts.

The Tribunal classifies these three magazines as not indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the books Health and Efficiency, No. 895, 896, 897 and Health and Efficiency, Winter Number 1973, published by Plant News Ltd., London.

Mr Murray appeared on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs and made submissions. Mr Heron appeared on behalf of the importer and New Zealand distributor and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THESE four magazines are very similar in content to Vol. 2, No. 18 of the same magazine which was classified as not indecent by the Tribunal in decision No. 728 of 25 September 1973. The comments which the Tribunal has made on the three issues of Rally Girl in decisions No. 791-793 apply to these publications also and no grounds are seen for imposing an age restriction.

The Tribunal classifies these magazines as not indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Fisk Publishing Co. Ltd. for a decision in respect of the book Mayfair Magazine, Vol. 8, No. 10, published by Fisk Publishing Co. Ltd., London.

Mr Heron appeared on behalf of the applicant, Fisk Publishing Co. Ltd., and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

IN October 1972, Vol. 7, No. 5 and 6 of this magazine were declared indecent in decisions No. 574-5. The Tribunal found sufficient difference, in the balance and tone of the contents and the photographic treatment, between those issues and the issues of other magazines it had allowed to circulate, to justify a classification of indecent.

Particular features of this issue which are objectionable are the interviews and letters retelling sexual experiences. These are clearly prurient in intention. Taking the issue as a whole the Tribunal considers it to be very similar to the earlier issues and to go beyond what is acceptable within the provisions and criteria of the Act.

The Tribunal classifies this issue of Mayfair as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Oui, Vol. 3, No. 2, published by Playboy Publications Inc., U.S.A.

Mr Murray appeared on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs and made submissions. Mr Heron appeared on behalf of the distributors and publishers and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

IN decisions No. 745-7 the Tribunal dealt with three earlier issues of this magazine. It said that the treatment of sexual matters made all three clearly unsuitable for younger readers and marginal for adults. Two were allowed restricted circulation and the third declared indecent.

The applicant in the present proceedings submitted that Vol. 3, No. 2 contained material similar to that which the Tribunal identified as the principal reason for its declaring Vol. 2, No. 7 indecent. The material in Vol 3, No. 2 is not, in the view of the Tribunal, as significant within the issue as a whole, nor as injurious in its effect, as that objected to in Vol. 2, No. 7. This present issue is rather to be grouped with the two which the Tribunal, emphasising their marginal character, found tolerable for adult readers.

The Tribunal classifies this issue of Oui as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Collins Publishers Ltd. for a decision in respect of the book Last Tango in Paris, by Robert Alley, published by Pan Books Ltd., London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publishers' representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS book is described as "based on the film". It is not the film script as such, but is written in the form of a novel, thus reversing the more usual sequence, novel into film. It is illustrated with a few quite unexceptional stills from the film.

The story tells of a casual affair between a middle-aged American expatriate and a young Frenchwoman who meet by chance in a vacant apartment, and keep returning to it to engage in a fairly frenzied series of sexual encounters. Intertwined with these are their respective lives away from each other; hers trying to decide whether to marry her film-maker fiancé, his trying to exorcise from his mind his wife who has recently committed suicide.

In itself the novel is unremarkable, and the sexual episodes are not given disproportionate treatment. The Tribunal is required to deal only with the book before it, and in terms of its own Act. Its decision is on the merits of the book alone. As the Tribunal has previously stated in its decisions 363-365 (New Zealand Gazette, 21 October 1971) this implies no judgment on the merits or otherwise of the film on which the novel has been based.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Waverley Publishing Co. Ltd. for decisions in respect of the books All About Swinging, published by Melrose Square Publishing Co., a division of Holloway House Publishing Co., California. Sexual Marathon, by Martin Shepard and Marjorie Lee, published by Pinnacle Books, New York. Inside Linda Lovelace, by Linda Lovelace, Published by Oceana Press.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publishers' representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

(No. 801) All About Swinging

Swinging is a cult of American origin in which men and women whether married or engaged suspend by mutual agreement the exclusive right to sexual intercourse with one another.

D

The book describes the operations of a select swinging club and also group sex, perversions and other forms of sexual relationships. It is explicit in the descriptive passages of sexual behaviour and its treatment of sex is brutalising and debasing.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

(No. 802) Sexual Marathon

This book is a report on the group sexual behaviour of eight men and women.

It is unpleasant and depraved and has no redeeming features or honesty of purpose.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

(No. 803) Inside Linda Lovelace

This paperback is the intimate story of the sexual development and philosophy of Linda Lovelace as related by herself.

The book is written in a manner that offends against the standards of decency the Tribunal must apply. It is a story of degenerate conduct and appears to be written solely for the purpose of inciting prurient interest.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.
