NOTES FORMING PART OF THESE ACCOUNTS

1. The market value of Government and local authority securities at 30 September 1973 was $87,177,000 (1972 $74,342,000).

2. There is a contingent liability for subsidies on home lay-by accounts.

3. The result for the year has been affected by changes in the basis of accounting. The treatment of fixed interest securities purchased at a discount is now consistent with the treatment of fixed interest securities purchased at a premium. The book amounts of both these classes of securities are now amortised to attain redemption value at maturity. Profits and losses on realisation of fixed interest securities, adjusted by amortisation, are being taken to profit and loss account in equal instalments over five years commencing with the year of realisation.

Tax allocation procedures have been introduced for the changes mentioned, also for differences between the accounting and taxation treatment of income from fixed interest securities, and for provisions for diminution in the value of assets. A transfer has been made from Contingencies Reserve to Provision for Doubtful Debts, and adjustments have been made through Contingencies Reserve for fixed interest securities previously held at a discount, and to adjust the spread of profits and losses on realisation for the years 1969/72, and to introduce the tax allocation procedures. The net effect of these adjustments has been to increase Contingencies Reserve by $6,000.

The effect of the changes in the basis of accounting has been to increase the profit for 1973, after providing for taxation, by approximately $49,000 compared with the previous basis of accounting.
