(b) For spray irrigation—$20.00 a year for each litre per second continuous supply.

Season After Water is made Available	Basic Charge ($/ha)	Availability Charge

5. Restrictions on water use—Withdrawals from the Waiau River will be reduced in times of low river flow in accordance with a management plan to be approved by the National Water and Soil Conservation Authority.

6. Adjustments to water charges—After the seventh season of water availability, both basic and availability charges may be adjusted annually to take account of variations between estimated and actual construction costs, variations between estimated and actual costs for operation, maintenance and renewals, changes in interest rates with Rural Banking and Finance Corporation, and variations in quantity of water used or subject to availability agreements.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS book is written in the first person and tells the story of a young Swedish woman's sexual adventures with a varied succession of men.

It lacks any social or literary merit and the explicitness with which the young lady recounts her sexual trysts renders the book crude and offensive.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963 and in the matter of an application by Seven Seas Publishing Pty. Ltd. for a decision in respect of the following publication: Oragenitalism by G. Legman published by Causeway Books, New York.

Mr. Murray made representations on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs.

No appearance by either applicant or distributors, but written submissions were made by the applicant.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS is a hardback edition of a book which has already been circulating in New Zealand in a paperback edition. It appears that the paperback edition was not submitted to the Tribunal. The applicant for the hardback edition notified us that it was no longer interested in the book and would not be distributing it.

The book itself is a manual or study of oral sexual techniques written by a man who is alleged to be an authority on the subject. It is without illustrations but has a detailed and explicit text on what are described as advanced sexual techniques. It is suggested that its price in New Zealand will be $15.00.

The Tribunal has on a number of previous occasions dealt with manuals of sexual techniques, but in all these cases there have been illustrations or photographs with accompanying text. In decisions 432 to 435 (New Zealand Gazette, 23 March 1972) the Tribunal laid down 3 categories of such publications comprising text and photographs and declared those which included oral sex as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years provided that they were also serious in intention, natural and restrained in presentation, accompanied by straightforward text, deal with the basic variations of normal intercourse, and carry an assumption of the more complex relationship of love. Underlying these principles is the distinction between straight enlightenment and pornography (where people are being got at).

Oragenitalism (and its paper back edition) differ from previous manuals in that it is directed solely to oral sexual techniques and has no photographs or other illustrations.

It is clearly serious in intent and is presented in a straightforward and restrained way. There is no suggestion of pornography in the sense mentioned above. It therefore falls within the general principles mentioned above.

The Tribunal believes that this book should be available to adults but because it is concerned solely with oral sex should be restricted to adults.

The Tribunal classifies Oragenitalism as indecent in the hands of persons under 18 years of age.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of a reference by the Magistrate's Court, Auckland, for a decision in respect of the following publication: I, Susanne by Susanne Holm, published by Granada Publishing Ltd. (Mayflower Books Ltd.)

Mr J. O. Upton appeared on behalf of the Police and made submissions. No appearance was made by the distributors or publishers.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Waverley Publishing Co., for a decision in respect of the following publication: Soixante Neuf by Donald H. Gilmore, published by Monogram Books (California).

No appearance by either applicant or distributors, but written submissions were made by the applicant.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS is a soft cover book described as a study of oral-genital sex and consisting for the most part of alleged case studies with comments. There are a few illustrations throughout the book.

The style and content of the case histories are salacious and leave the Tribunal with doubts as to the integrity of the author of the book.

This is not a serious or restrained study of oral sex and does not fall within permissible limits set in previous decisions of the Tribunal.

The Tribunal classifies Soixante Neuf as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Waverley Publishing Co., for a decision in respect of the following publication: The Intimate Embrace by David O. Cauldwell, published by Monogram Books, California.

No appearance by either applicant or distributors, but written submissions were made by the applicant.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

The Intimate Embrace was published in 1969 by Monogram Publications Inc., California, U.S.A.; its author is a doctor whose declared intention is to educate and reassure married couples. The intimate embrace, he writes in the introduction, is "often the least intimate of all acts having a relation to the status of spousehood", and this state of affairs is largely the result of ignorance.

Sexual ethics, sexual taboos, sterility, transvestism, are among aspects of the subject which the author examines. The text is followed by a folio of coital drawings, included to aid married couples in "familiarising themselves with the diverse postures used around the world".

Information given appears to be sound and the tone of discussion is direct and open, if, as quoted lines suggest, a little ponderous in manner; indications are that the author is sincere in his purpose. However, in view of the explicitness of the drawings, and the fact that the book's chief value is as a manual for couples interested in sexual experiment, the Tribunal considers it should be restricted to adult readers or those likely to have embarked on mature sexual relationships.

The Tribunal therefore classifies The Intimate Embrace as indecent in the hands of persons under 16.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Secretary for Justice for a decision in respect of the following publication: Laff Time published by Crestwood Publishing Co., New York.

Mr D. J. Turley made representations on behalf of the publisher.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS book is a cheaply bound collection of cartoons, jokes, and advertisements devoted entirely to sex.

Its treatment of this subject is trivial and tasteless and in places, crude, and offensive. This publication is devoid of artistic, social, or literary merit and is indecent within the meaning of the Act.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963 and in the matter of an application by Houghton Hughes Ltd., for a decision in respect of the following sound recordings: The Perfumed Garden and Fanny Hill by Marion Reed published by Arrowtaps Recordings, London.

Mr. Murray, as an interested party, appeared and produced written submissions on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs.

No appearance was made by either the applicant or distributors.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THESE two items are sound recordings (in disc or tape form) based on the eighteenth-century novel Fanny Hill by John Cleland, and on the Arabic classic of the sixteenth century, The Perfumed Garden. In their printed form, both works have been before the Tribunal: decision No. 13 restricted Fanny Hill to those 18 years and over (New Zealand Gazette, 20 May 1965), while decision No. 24 found The Perfumed Garden to be not indecent (New Zealand Gazette, 24 February 1966). It should be noted, however, that the translation used on the sound recording is not that of Sir Richard Burton, the translator of the printed version.

It was submitted for the Customs Department that the literary worth of both books had been lost in the sound recordings for a variety of reasons, including abridgment and the use of sound effects to exploit their sexual content. With this view we disagree. While it is true that neither is a complete transcription of the original written work, the episodes covered are given in reasonable fullness, and do not concentrate solely on the sexual episodes involved. We did not find the sound effects used to be intrusive or tasteless, indeed they are quite restrained. We felt that the literary and period flavour of the original in each case had been preserved, and this is the principal test we consider should be applied.

While the Tribunal gave different decisions about the two books involved in 1965 and 1966, we cannot see any reason to discriminate between the two sound recordings now before us. The decisions on the books were among the earliest given in the life of the Tribunal, and judging these recordings in 1975 we do not believe that they deal with sex in a manner injurious to the public good. We find Fanny Hill and The Perfumed Garden to be not indecent.

KILN SCHEDULES FOR NEW ZEALAND TIMBERS

By J. A. KININMONTH and D. H. WILLIAMS

New Zealand Forest Service Information Series No. 69

This 16-page booklet outlines the selection of suitable kiln schedules. The interrelationships of the variables involved in drying timber are set out, along with the requirements to be taken into consideration, such as grade, thickness, width, and end use of a particular species. Both low- and high-temperature drying are discussed and also special kiln treatments such as preliminary steaming, intermediate high-humidity treatment, equalising, and final conditioning.

The kiln schedules are presented in tabular form giving wet and dry bulb temperatures and final conditioning times for various species and moisture contents. Comments are attached to these schedules regarding characteristic features of the kilning of the species and the expected range of drying times.

MACHINE STRESS GRADING

(An alternative to visual grading of timber for strength)

By I. D. WHITESIDE

This book outlines the need for commercial machine stress grading in New Zealand.

Stress grading studies carried out by the writer in 1967 on radiata pine from Kaingaroa Forest showed that machine stress grading gave better grade recoveries over visual grading hence raised the value of a considerable proportion of the sawn output in framing sizes.

The writer firmly believes that the introduction of machine grading will help overcome the present lack of stress grades in New Zealand. This lack of availability is thought to have been a major cause of timber not being much more widely used as a structural material in competition with concrete and steel.

An informative book for builders, building inspectors, and specifiers to prepare them for the introduction of machine stress graded timber.

THE MAORI AS HE WAS

By ELSDON BEST

Fifty years of public demand since this book was first published resulted in the need for reprints in 1934 and 1952.

The text has been reproduced unchanged but the originals of some of the figures could not be traced and these have been replaced with similar illustrations.

There have been many advances in our knowledge of Maori life since this book first appeared. The work of numerous ethnologists, and more recently archaeologists, has critically examined many of the earlier concepts, confirming some, disproving others, and altering others to varying degrees. No one has yet produced a synthesis of the results of all this scholarship and there is still nothing as comprehensive as this book of Best's to give a general account of the Maori.

This book was first published when Best was 68 and thus represents the accumulated knowledge of a lifetime. It has now become a classic introduction to Maori life. Its continued availability should help the reader to obtain a basic background to old-time Maori life which can be extended by further reading.
